REPAIRING A SPECIALTY

J. S. McILRAITH

IN DAYS OF YORE

25 YEARS AGO

From Review file Oct 18, 1896 Back in the far gone year of 1856, on 15th Oct, Mr Samuel Lawrence was wedded to Miss Parslow, and in the neighborhood they have since resided. The joys of youth were mingled with the hardships of the time, the passing years saw the family increasing and a fair share of this world's comfort as well. To them were born 13 children, ten of whom are still living, tho' widely separated now. But in thought they were no doubt there with the happy company of relatives and friends, who on Tuesday met to rejoice with them at the rare blessing of 50 years of happy married life.

Tuesday last a special train of 12 cars laden with the best Portland cement in the world, left the works here en route for some of the big requirements of McKenzie and Mann. The day previous 1600 barrels were shipped out and there is enough clinker on hand to pay another dividend.

Messrs Lenahan and McIntosh we announced lately had bought 24 ft. from the McKechnie firm near the bridge. The purchase had to be given up owing to certain rights and claims of the tenant, Miss Cochrane. They at once secured the McKenzie property next the residence, will have the old building down and will have a large new one under way in energetic style.

Mr Jno Cliff and family have moved to Ohio, where he has the position of day foreman in a large cement works.

Mr Ed Kress has bought the retail business, lately run by the Durham Furniture Co.

North Egremont: It was with more than ordinary expressions of welcome that Mr and Mrs Will Isaac, (nee Mary Scott, Dromore) were greeted by their friends at their old home on their return from Maple Creek, Sask., on their bridal tour.

The splendid weather is allowing wonderful progress to be made on the new C.P.R. right-of-way. Underbrushing, stumping and light grading is very well advanced and the big cuts prepared for the steam shovel operations during the winter. The cut at Hutton Hill is to be begun shortly and the discovery of it being gravel instead of hardpan as expected, is very gratifying. Mr Harris' work is now largely buying and arranging for road diversions.

15 YEARS AGO

From Review file, Oct 19, 1916 Mr Alf Redford last week sold his farm, immediately west of town, known as the H. Parker farm, to Mr Ernest Rosborough of Vickers.

The Red Cross Society of Durham, are entering on a big contract—no less than sending a capacious stocking to every soldier enlisted in Durham and vicinity, filled with all good things imaginable and in time for Christmas.

Pomona: Privates Wilfrid Campbell, Alex McVicar and Lauchie Dunbar, members of the 14th battalion, were home last week on their last leave.

Mr Wm Allan, freed from the services of his country by the new Prohibition Act, has entered a higher service and will supply the pulpits of the Presbyterian congregations of Aytan and Mildmay for the winter months at least. He has, it will be remembered, had experience of this work before and was quite successful.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Oct. 11, at home of Mrs Warmington, when her daughter Devena, became the bride of Mr Norman Boies, of Fergus.

Thos E. Blair of town, fireman on the Durham-Palmerston train, was mysteriously shot in the leg Monday, while attending regular duties in the cab part of the engine. The shooting occurred two miles north of Mount Frost, the bullet passing between the cab and the tender. None of the train crew saw the shot fired nor can throw any light on the affair.
