Sixty Years Among the Farmers

MANY years ago it was decided that the fortunes of The Canadian Bank of Commerce would be largely dependent on the growth and development of agriculture.

For that reason it has always been the policy of this Bank to follow the farmer East and West,—to give him adequate banking service,—to support him to the fullest possible extent.

We wish the Editor, staff and readers all a Merry Christmas. On Wednesday, Dec 23rd, the Sunday School Christmas concert will be presented in the Hall. A good program is being prepared and Santa Claus will arrive and see all the children and distribute the gifts to each one.

And on Monday, Dec 21st, Santa Claus will be at Top Cliff school, when the scholars and their teacher Miss Jessie Nichol and others, will put on a good program.

Miss Effie McCannel, of Proton, spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Andrew Hinkes.

Mr and Mrs Wilfrid Watson spent last week with Toronto friends.

Mr and Mrs Lachie McKinnon visited Friday with Mr and Mrs H. R. McLean.

Mr Elmer Watson spent a few days in Toronto last week.

Keep in mind the S.S. entertainment in the St. Columba United Church on Friday, Dec 18, when a good program is being prepared.

Mr Henry Tucker has installed a radio for the pleasure of his family.

There are many in this neighborhood who will remember in her girlhood, Mary Watson, cousin of the late Mrs G. W. Tryon, whose obituary sent us of Mrs Mary Peck, is as enclosed:

"Mrs Peck was the widow of Geo. Peck, and resided at 2121 McGraw Ave. She was a native of Toronto but has lived in Detroit for some years. She was active in fraternal circles in this city and was a member of the White Shrine of Jerusalem No 20, the Fraternal Home Association and the True Kindred, in addition to her O.E.S. affiliations. Burial was made in Grand Lawn cemetery."

She was 77 years of age.

The W.M.S. held their annual Thanksgiving services on Wednesday evening last, when Mrs (Rev.) Scott of Fleshertown addressed the meeting, setting forth the many great objects, of accomplishments, and still further funds and solicited on the Society's behalf, donations as the Lord provided them. Mrs H. B. McLean contributed a fine solo, "The Home Land," an appetizing lunch was provided at close.

Mrs W. P. Watson, of North Egremont, is taking a month's restful holidays at her daughter's here, Mrs J. S. McDermid and progressing favorably.

This busy week, all agog with the coming Christmas Tree on Friday, the 18th. What with practicing of plays, amusing acts, choir practices, there is something doing all the time.

Rev. W. H. Bartlett took the services on Sunday being so far recovered from his nervous breakdown.

Latest word from Mrs McLeod, (nee Ruby Muir) is that she is progressing favorably from her recent operation in Toronto.

Robert Milne Passes Away Peacefully

his loss. He was devoted to his home and family and their interests were ever his. For 18 years he served Knox Church well as janitor. But he magnified the office for to-day the church bears many evidences of his workmanship. He retired only last New Year. Masonic work was also dear to him and under auspices of Durham lodge, the funeral on Monday, was largely attended. About 40 of the lodge brethren followed the remains to the burial plot where their ritual over the grave was performed. The pall bearers were six brother Masons, Messrs Chas. Moffat, R. E. Richardson, Walter Thompson, Peter Ramage, John Morrison, J. J. Smith.

The remains were conveyed to Knox Church, where on the pulpit were Rev. W. H. Smith, his pastor; Rev. W. C. Almaack of Queen St. Church; Rev. E. Hayes of Trinity Church. Rev. B. D. Armstrong was prevented through illness from being present. Suitable hymns were sung and the choir, by request of the family, rendered feelingly, "I am far frae ma' Hame." Rev Mr Hayes read the scripture lesson and Rev Mr Almaack offered prayer. In the course of his remarks, Rev W. H. Smith stated that as long as Knox Church stood, Mr Milne would live, for the many evidences of his workmanship therein. It would always stand as a monument to him. In his closing prayer, he sought Divine guidance for his family, for whom he worked and labored so faithfully and unselfishly.

The floral tributes were beautiful and apart from a pillow of roses by the family came from Mr and Mrs Alex Hay and son George; Masonic Lodge, Staff of Public Highways, Mr and Mrs P. Gagnon, Mr Graham and 4th Class, Officers and Directors of Durham Furniture Co., Employees of Durham Furniture Co., Choir of Queen St. Church, Col. and Mrs. Smith, Winona; Misses Nellie Marr, Effie Forrester, Mr Hamilton, Winona; Mr and Mrs Thos Henderson; Knox Church; Garage boys of E. D. Smith & Son, Winona.

BEING DAD ON CHRISTMAS EVE

They've hung their stockings up with care,
And I am in my old arm chair,
And Mother's busy dragging out
The parcels hidden all about.
Within a corner, gaunt to see,
There stands a barren Christmas tree
But soon upon its branches green
A burst of splendor will be seen.
And when the busy tongues grow
That now are wagging with a will
Above me as I sit and rest,
I shall be at my happiest.
The greatest joy man can conceive
Is being Dad on Christmas eve.

Socn I shall toll with tinsel bright:
Place here and there a colored light,
And whereso'er my fingers lie
To-morrow shall a youngster spy
Some wonder gift or magic toy.
To fill his little soul with joy.
The stockings on the mantle piece
I'll bulge with sweets till every crease
That marks them now is stretched away.
There will be drums and horns to play
And dolls to love. For it's my task
To get for them the joys they ask.
What greater charm can fortune weave
Than being Dad on Christmas eve?

With all their pomp, great monarchs miss
The happiness of scene like this.
Rich halls to-night are still and sad,
Because no little girl or lad
Shall wake upon the morn to find
The joys that love has left behind.
Oh, I have had my share of woe,
Known what it is to bear a blow—
Shed sorrow's tears and stood to care
When life seemed desolate and bare,
Yet here to-night I smile and say
Worth while was all that came my way.

Meeting Grey Co. People in Western Canada

Miss Macphail hob-nobs with noted Westerners.—Delightful Experiences

We have all read Nellie McClung's books. We have heard much of her wit, her warm heartedness, her fine human qualities. Often when someone has been greatly praised all our expectations are not fulfilled on meeting. But Nellie McClung was just what I wanted her to be. Her presence in the sun room of the Palliser Hotel made speaking easier. Her warm sympathy could not but help. I liked her immensely and oddly enough I felt I had known her all ways. She is a very understanding person.

The McClung humour flashed out, when in introducing me she alluded to the really very stormy and cold day, by saying she was sorry Calgary was treating me to such unusual weather, but she supposed in travelling about from place to place I encountered a good deal of "unusual" weather. This tickled my funny bone because I had met so much "unusual" weather. The Calgary meeting was distinguished by the number of Priceville people there. The able President of the Club, Mrs W. V. Dixon, was formerly Minnie McLaughlan of Priceville. The daughters of Rev. Mr McLeod, who for so many years, was pastor of Priceville Presbyterian Church: Mrs McArthur, mother of Dr John McArthur of Markdale and her daughter, Mrs Dr Dixon; Mrs Dr Alex Fettes and Mrs McKinnon, were all present to support me.

Dr and Mrs Alex Fettes entertained at tea on Sunday night when I again had the opportunity of meeting the Dixons, McClungs, and McKinnons, as well as Dr and Mrs Williams from Owen Sound; Senator and Mrs McEwen and several members of the Donald Campbell family of Swinton Park. I was so glad to have a talk with Mr McClung. We do not hear so much about him but he is worth hearing a good deal about. He does not look in the least like Dame Honour would have us think the would look. He is a man of substance, financially, mentally and physically. He is unique in that he is very proud of his wife's achievement.

No Member of the Commons could fail to know that Drumheller is a coal mining town, so on being asked what I wanted to see in that vicinity of that interesting town, I answered "a coal mine." In company with the owner and Mrs Henderson, wife of the President of the Canadian Club, we visited the A.B.C. mine. We were rigged out in heavy coats with a coal miner's safety lamp buckled around the waist, or rather the heavy battery carried on a belt, leaving our hands free for the light. The miner carries his fastened to his cap. We went down the 100 ft shaft and walked about a mile in the underground place where the actual mining operations were going on. There was a main road and then many roads branching off. A narrow gauge track was laid along each one. Going in we were continually meeting the horse-drawn carts drawing several cars of coal along the tracks. The driver sits on the front car and directs the horse by conversation since no reins are used. When the mine is extended back a great distance from the shaft, motor engines are used instead of horses.

The most interesting piece of machinery is the shearer. A powerful engine drives, revolving short, sharp knives into the face of the coal surface. The depth of the cut is 6 in and it is made down the centre of the exposed surface of the coal and the coal is blasted out. Everything possible is done to keep the pieces large. Westerners like their coal that way. The mine is ventilated by currents of air drawn from the surface and directed to the particular place wanted by curtains or walls. The horses stable is below ground. The summer but once they go into the mine they stay there until the summer unless unable to work.

A spirit of informal hospitality pervaded Drumheller. The women of the executive of the Canadian Club entertained me at luncheon. It was a co-operative luncheon. Each woman contributed her best. One was famed for salads, another for roast turkey to a turn, another for a table decoration, another for dessert. The result was the most artistic and wholly delightful meal of my party had all the excitement of it made the group of women friends.

Edmonton is very much a capital city. The Women's Canadian Club tea was honored by having as guests the wife of the Lieutenant Governor and the wife of the Prime Minister. The province, as well as a distinguished woman magistrate and writer, Judge Emily Murphy. While the delightful informality of Drumheller all its own. A second meeting was held in Convocation Hall on the campus of Alberta University, which University honored by his presence. Keewatin was an interesting and "different" town. It is beautifully situated on Lake of the Woods. It had fresh white snow to make it look like an animated Christmas card. My hostess there was Mrs Bob Mitchell—before her marriage Dora Davidson of Durham. We had a delightful walk through the woods, following well-padded Indian trails. Coming finally out on the highway we saw many trucks carrying supplies to the camps on the Federal highway. Though the men are just a few miles out of town they are not allowed to come in, except, I suppose, under exceptional circumstances.

IN MEMORIAM

McMEEKIN—in loving memory of our dear husband and father, John McMeeKin, who died very suddenly, Dec 17, 1930.

We travelled life's road together. Amid hope and faith and love, And conquered life's battles together. With strength and comfort from God. He often said we'd miss him. His words have proven too true; We lost the best and dearest friend, Dear Dad, when we lost you.

—Ever remembered by wife and family.
