Girls sometimes wore cotton stockings and high, laced boots (you were not supposed to know it). Spectacles and eye-glasses were not common. People generally kept their tonsils. It seemed necessary to control hatpins by legislation. Children were not taught to swat the fly.

Would-be Employer—"Have you any references?"
Would-be Employee—"Sure," and he handed him the following letter: "To Whom It May Concern: John Jones worked for us one week and we are satisfied."

Sea—"I saw Mary at the beach."
Sparks—"What sort of bathing suit was she wearing?"
Sea—"Don't know; she was reading a book and I couldn't see it."

Laugh!
Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine.
Learn to attend strictly to your own business.

Learn to tell a story. A well-told story is as welcome as a sunbeam in a sick room.

Learn to avoid ill-natured remarks and everything likely to create friction.

Learn the art of saying kind and encouraging things.

Learn to keep your troubles to yourself. The world is too busy to care for your ills and sorrows.

Learn to hide your aches and pains under a pleasant smile.

Learn to stop grumbling. If you cannot see any good in the world, keep the bad to yourself.

The honeymoon is over when a husband realizes that his wife considers her compact her most valued possession.

A Paradoxical Truth. A lot of the talkers are dumb. Happy indeed is the person who can obtain pleasure from the simpler things of life. Sometimes the quest of a daughter's hand leads to the bestowal of the father's foot. The reason we sometimes suspect that riches do bring happiness is that we are dead sure poverty does not.

Constrain on Wall Street. Concentrate on Main Street. The woman a bachelor remembers most tenderly is the one who made him happy—by letting him slip through her fingers.

Be careful when you set out to make somebody toe the mark—you may turn out to be the mark. If it were not for man's faith in his fellow men there would be no such thing as the installment plan.

Who loses money, loses much;
Who loses friends, loses more;
Who loses hopes, loses all.

Say it with brevity "When you've got a thing to say say it, don't take half a day; life is short, a fleeting vapor, don't you fill the whole paper with a tale which, at a pinch, could be covered in an inch. Boli her down until she simmers—polish her until she glimmers. When you've got a thing to say, say it, don't take half a day."

A minister went up to the library the other day and asked for "The Kentucky Cardinal." He demurred when the librarian began to look under "Religious."

"This cardinal was a bird," protested the minister.
"I'm not interested in his personal habits," said the librarian.

Bank Clerk—"So you wish to open a joint account with your husband. What kind?"
Mrs. Bright—"Oh, just a deposit account for him—checking for me."

Searching reflections are seldom matted after cool reflection.

Unique Hard Bean Grown in Australia
Adelaide, S. Aust.—An Australian bean stalk that comes near emulating that raised by Jack, growing only in the little known interior of Australia, is described by Mr. Cecil T. Madigan of Adelaide University, who recently returned from an exploration trip to the MacDonnell Ranges.

Mr. Madigan says that although he has traveled extensively in central Australia, he has only seen this tree in any numbers in the Fairway Hart's Ranges.

He described the beans as bright scarlet in color, and almost as hard as a date stone. A bean, he said, may be carried in the mouth all day without softening enough to bite it. The beans, he said, look so attractive lying on the ground that one cannot resist getting off the camel and picking some up. Another interesting characteristic of the tree is the extreme lightness of the wood.

In Days of Old
In days of old,
When knights were bold
And sheet-iron trousers wore,
They lived in peace,
For then a cross
Would last ten days or more.
In those old days
They had the cross
For cast-iron shirts—and wore 'em!
And there was bliss
Enough in this:
The laundry never tore 'em.

How to play Bridge AUCTION and CONTRACT

by Wynne Ferguson
Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

ARTICLE No. 7
Very frequently in Auction and Contract a player has a suit which is strong enough to take all the tricks, but one, and the way or the time to lose that trick becomes a puzzling problem on this subject, but there are a certain few situations that come up so frequently that they should be thoroughly analyzed and understood. As a general proposition, the trick to lose is the first one. Suppose the dealer has bid one trump, you as second hand bid two hearts, third and fourth trump; what should you lead with the following hand:

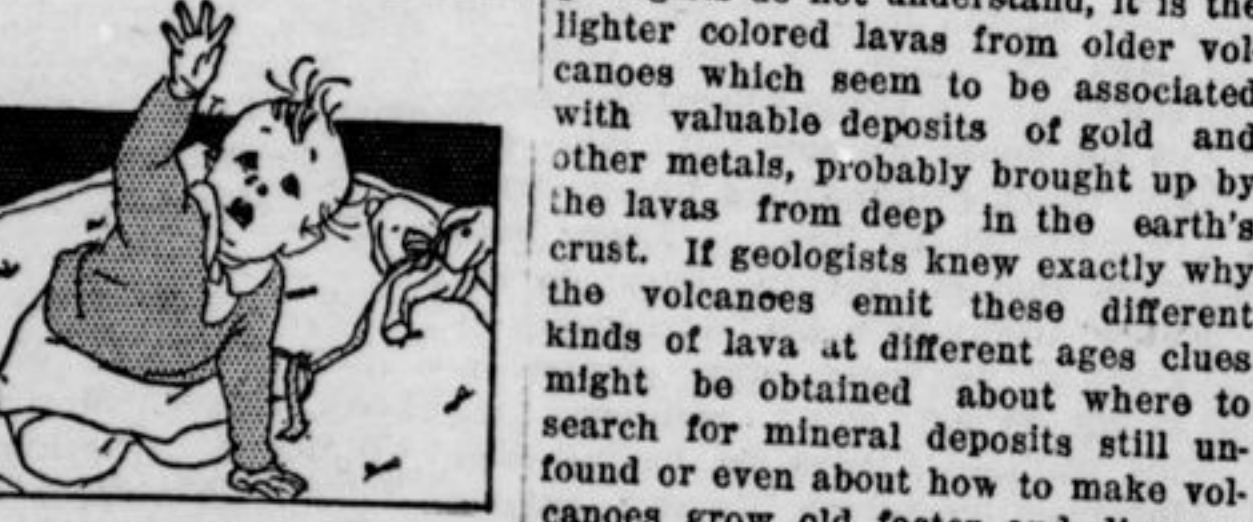

Hearts—A, Q, 10, 7, 6
Clubs—8, 5, 4, 3, 2
Diamonds—K, 7
Spades—10

The proper lead with this hand is the seven of hearts. The bidding indicates that the dealer has at least three hearts to the King or King Jack, so that if you lose the first trick and your partner later obtains the lead, a lead through the dealer's hand will enable him to win the balance of the heart tricks. Suppose, however, you decide to open the tray of clubs and your partner later obtains the lead. Even if he now leads the hearts to you, the declarer's hand is not enough and the chances are that your partner will not obtain the lead more than once. If you must lose one trick in your suit, let it be the first and not the second or third.

Almost the same proposition confronts the declarer when he is playing a no trump hand. Suppose his dummy has a suit such as A, K, 7, 6, 2 or A, K, 7, 6, 5, 2, only two in his own hand and no entry. If he wants to establish this suit, he must lose the first trick and hope for the drop on the next two

BABY FRETFUL, RESTLESS?

Look to this cause
When your baby fusses, tosses and seems unable to sleep restfully, look for one common cause, doctors say. Constipation. To get rid quickly of the accumulated wastes which cause restlessness and discomfort, give a cleansing dose of Castoria. Castoria, you know, is made especially for children's delicate needs. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. It is so mild and gentle you can give it to a young infant to relieve colic. Yet it is as effective for older children. Castoria's regulative help will bring relaxed comfort and restful sleep to your baby. Keep a bottle on hand. Genuine Castoria always has the name:

Retrenchment Is Necessary Municipally and Governmentally

Lieutenant-Colonel W. H. Price, Attorney-General for Ontario, in addressing a meeting of fifteen hundred business men in the city of Toronto, in the Royal York Hotel, enunciated the policy of the Ontario Government with reference to retrenchment in expenditure, and pointed out that retrenchment was necessary in Municipal Expenditures as well as Governmental Expenditures. He also stated that in the retrenchment being enacted by the Government, members of the Cabinet would reduce their salaries, while it was also suggested that the Legislative Members' indemnities be also reduced.

Colonel Price's speech came at a most opportune time, and he was warmly complimented, not only on his subject matter, but also on the clear, concise way in which he put his suggestions to his audience. Here are a few of the high-lights from Colonel Price's speech: "The great prosperity in Canada and in Ontario during the past thirty years has spurred us all to evolve and create, explore and develop. Not only has it been so federally and provincially, it has run through the whole warp of our industrial achievements. "While federally and provincially finances are in a sound position, where all interest payments and refunding calls have from time to time been met and will be kept on a proper basis, yet in a number of municipalities, especially those which have extended very rapidly, where the population has increased and so many improvements had to be made in a short period, difficulties have arisen often in collecting the taxes and in meeting the obligations.

"We are not asking the municipality to do something that the Province is not willing to try. In other words we will set an example. For some time past there has been a Committee of Council, composed of the Treasurer, Messrs. Finlayson, Macaulay and Price, going into the ordinary expenditure of the Province with the idea, if possible, of saving $5,000,000 off the ordinary expenditure for 1932. The aim of this Committee has been to cut down expenditure so as to not throw men out of employment but at the same time retrench. "The Government has had the approval of the Manufacturers Associa-

Wild Geese at Night

(From Voices)
The night was clouds and winds and rain,
Fingers tried the window pane.
The out-of-doors was wholly evil,
One might believe still in the Devil,
Machievous and purposeless,
The earth rocked with unholy stress
Suddenly, clear over all,
Came the reassuring call
Of mariners whose only chart
Is an aching, hungry heart
Whose only sails are grown so near
Their blood beats in them all the year.
The sailors with the necks so made
That they can use them like a blade
Were travelling without a light
Chaos and the lawless night.

Shelter

Here in the wood there is no snow—
Only the faint, gray wash of wind.
The crow's cry like the taste of bark:
Here in the wood I go,
Fleeting the gentle fow,
Of pine waves breaking endlessly
on air
With ticking of the twigs beneath
my feet.
Here in the brittle wood I go
Sheltered from snow—
Christy MacKaye, in "Wind in the Grass."

Veteran Railroader Gets Important Post

A railroad career that has seen many changes and covered much widely separated territory witnessed another movement in the transfer of Robert E. Larmour, general freight agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, from Montreal to Toronto, under an announcement dated January 1st.

Mr. Larmour has enjoyed a very wide Robert E. Larmour experience in railway freight matters. Entering the Canadian Pacific Railway as a clerk in the superintendent's office at Port William in November, 1898, he was promoted chief clerk the following year and in 1900 became acting agent at Port William, being transferred back to Port William as chief clerk in 1901. The same year he went as agent to Port Arthur and in 1903 was sent to Vancouver as assistant freight claims agent at Vancouver and in that year was appointed freight claims agent Pacific division of the railway at Vancouver.

In 1905 he was freight claims agent at Winnipeg; in 1906 city freight agent at Winnipeg and the same year was promoted general freight agent at Port William. He acted in the same capacity during 1907 and 1909 at Nelson, B.C., and Winnipeg. In 1911 he was divisional freight agent at Vancouver and in 1914 was assistant general freight agent at Vancouver. In 1915 he was transferred to New York as general agent and in 1919 became general freight agent eastern lines, stationed at Montreal. In 1921 he was appointed acting assistant freight traffic manager at Montreal and since 1922 has been general freight agent at Montreal. He is an enthusiastic yachtsman, hunter, and fisherman.

Thoughts on Chance

There is no doubt such a thing as chance, but I see no reason why Providence should not make use of it. W. G. Simms.

Chance is always powerful let your hook always be cast in a pool where you least expect it there will be a fish. To say a thing is chance or casual, as it relates to second causes, is not profane, but a great truth.—R. South.

CONSTIPATION

Banished for 20 Years
No one could have had more experience of constipation than this man. His method of correcting the trouble would surely put right anybody who suffers in a similar way.
I am now approaching my 49th birthday and have used Kruschen Salts for many years. As a boy and youth I suffered at frequent times agonies from constipation. This was, after a time, somewhat relieved by a special pill compounded to a prescription, but which, at times, had a weakening effect. On someone's recommendation I tried a bottle of Kruschen Salts, and since then—a matter of at least 20 years ago—have used nothing else. My daily dose I take in hot water at 7.45 a.m.—E. A. D.
The six salts in Kruschen are Nature's own prescription for keeping the organs of elimination working properly—gently but surely expelling all poisonous waste matter every day. Start on "The Little Daily Dose" of Kruschen to-morrow and so take the first step along the royal road to perfect health.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA
For Troubles due to ACID INDIGESTION ACID STOMACH HEARTBURN GASTRITIS GASTRO-NEURALGIA

When PAIN Comes

WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes the acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.
One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water neutralizes instantly many times that much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go, get a small bottle to try.
Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 50c a bottle—any drug store. (Made in Canada.)
