Divorce Granted Mrs Howard Page (formerly Elizabeth Ball) was granted a decree of divorce on Jan. 25th. The disposal of the case was delayed by the judge until the matter of the domicile of the defendant was disposed of. W. S. Brewster, K.C., Brantford, represented Mrs Page.

Addressed the Trail Rangers Dr. D. B. Jamieson last Thursday evening, addressed the John Knox Trail Ranger Class of Knox United Church, on "First Aid in case of Accidents". The Doctor had wonderful attention from the boys, who are preparing to qualify for the health badge of the Trail Rangers.

Willard Miller, 18, Hanover, is in a serious condition in hospital, with a punctured lung, as the result of an attack, alleged to have been made on him by Leonard Martin with a large pair of scissors. Martin is held in Owen Sound jail. The two youths are employed in the same factory and the stabbing is said to have occurred following an argument.

Haplist Mission Circle Mission Circle met at the home of Mrs George Thompson, on Feb. 3rd, with Mrs Priest in chair. After roll call and minutes of last meeting roll call was responded to with a verse of scripture. The key-word was "Domination." A season of prayer was led by Mrs J. Browne; a solo by Mrs J. F. Giles "What will you do with Jesus"; a reading by Miss Grace Ritchie, called the "13th time". After singing and prayer, the Ladies Aid took charge of the business part.

Held Popular Dance Canadian Greys' Chapter, I.O.D.E., held one of their popular dances on Tuesday night in Town Hall. There were counter attractions the same night, but those that were there, had an enjoyable time. Music was furnished by Miss Elizabeth Harding at piano and J. D. McAuliffe on violin. Mr F. R. Montague, the recent speaker here on "Eskimo Land", with Mrs Montague, were in town for the day and attended the dance. $24 were the two receipts.

First of Two Socials The Ladies' Aid of Knox United Church, are arranging for two big congregational socials, the first of which will take place Monday evening next. For these socials the congregation are geographically divided into "East and West of Garafraxa" and on each respective night, the material, talent and eats, are to be supplied by the respective side. The 'Garafraxa West' will hold their Monday evening. A Scotch community and a gratis night go well together.

HOW BRUCE CO. KEEPS CHECK ON THEIR OLD AGE PENSIONERS In regard to Old Age Pensions a resolution was unanimously passed that no person be granted an Old Age pension by the Pension Board without the application being first submitted to the Reeve of the Municipality in which the proposed pensioner resides, in order that the local council may be given an opportunity to consider the merits of the case and express their views to the Pension Board. A list of all Pensioners in each municipality is also to be furnished the Council. There are about 400 Old Age Pensioners in Bruce and on the reading of their names cut by the secretary of the Board, Reeve Campbell Grant, many surprises and comments were made at certain of those on the list, who had children thought to be well able to support them. —Warkenton Telescope.

Nightly Entertaining at Town Castle

Chief Scott has had 39 "Knights of the Road" since early January.

True hospitality is what visting "Knights of the Road" find when they run up against Chief Harry Scott. Webster's dictionary defines the term "hospitable" as "receiving and entertaining strangers or guests generously and kindly." There it is in a nut shell and whether he receives as generous thanks for the use of the Town Castle and all its conveniences, is another matter.

On orders from Councillor Bert Stonehouse, Chairman of property committee in January last, Chief Scott was told to prepare the basement of the Town Hall suitable for transient guests who ask for shelter. This was accordingly done and to date, thirty nine have been entertained there. The majority of them are youthful, from 18 to 25 years, some well dressed and others not so prosperous looking. All of them appear to be simply filling in time and have no special objective ahead of them. The bread and milk rations are not too popular and as they go out among the citizens get a little more variety. No one has come back the 2nd night in succession but all move on to other points. Some seek work while others would dodge around a stone if he saw a man that wanted help. On the whole however, they are a decent orderly bunch and are not trouble makers.

One young chap came to the office of Hydro Clerk Elvidge last week-end, apparently exhausted as he had walked from Hanover. Mr Elvidge told him to stretch out which he gladly did. At 6 p.m. he had a large hamper of food brought to him from his home and while enough for two ordinary meals at least, it all went down at one eating. Feeling better, he told the Clerk a somewhat pathetic tale of his wanderings. Two years ago he was in Seattle. Wash. and came on to St. Paul, Minnesota to meet a pal. On reaching St. Paul, he found his pal was also down and out and together they hiked to Washington, D. C. where temporary work was secured. While here, they heard work was awaiting any person who sought same in Canada and he hit for the north. He soon found for himself that it was another mythical fairy-tale and has since been travelling from one place to another. He was a guest in the Town Castle over night and wanted to get to Owen Sound, where he hoped to find employment on the boats and eventually work his way back to the coast in the Spring. "My uncle has a fruit farm in the Okanagan Valley. I can at least get work there for my board" he told Mr Elvidge.

I. O. D. E. will Hold Oratorical Contest With the feeling that they can serve a two fold purpose, viz: help the scholar to achieve something worthwhile and at the same time, inspire the scholar to delve into studious topics, Canadian Greys' Chapter, I.O.D.E. have appointed a committee from their membership, Miss M. Hunter, Regent; Mrs J. H. Harding, Mrs J. F. Grant and Miss Alice Ramage, Miss J. M. Weir, B. A. to arrange suitable oratorical topics, in which the High School students may qualify. The School is divided by grouping Forms I and II for Junior Grouping and Forms III, IV and V for Senior Grouping. The topics cover a wide range of thought and study and are sufficiently varied to attract many of the pupils to enter. As to honorarium and date of hearing speakers the Chapter will further announce. They would like to see many of the pupils in each grouping enter the contest. Prizes will be given to first and second high in each group.

Senior Group

Early Durham Doctor Dead Dr William Philp, who was the oldest medical practitioner in Ontario, died Tuesday night at his home in Hamilton, aged 94 years. He graduated in Medicine from Victoria College in 1863, first practising in Durham, then in Waterdown and Hamilton. He retired ten years ago and enjoyed excellent health until a short time ago.

Warton Won First Play-off from Durham, 2-1

Somewhat of a surprise was sprung Tuesday night in Owen Sound, when the Warton Redmen beat Durham 2-1, in the first of home and home games of O.H.A. Intermediate playoffs.

Warton was given a bye, as they entered late, it being their first Int. team since their famous aggregation of about 10 years ago swept aside all opposition in these parts.

As Walkerton dropped out this year, Durham's two wins over Owen Sound gave them this half of the district, and it was the general opinion that Warton would be sturdy but not serious opposition. It was with the wrong dope, for Warton uncovered a much strengthened line-up to meet Durham. Gildner and A. Ashley, stars of their smooth-working old guard, did the come-back act, playing defence, and both put up a stiff game. Gildner starred both on attack and defence. Then McDonald and Totten, two good men, formerly with Palmerston, were brought out, and with Schwartz, a promising Junior, they were plenty good enough to give Durham a tight race.

At that Durham should have won, as they had the better of the play, but were lamentably weak around the nets. Several times McGirr, Murdock and others broke through the defence to miss the nets—a couple times when wide open. Murdock scored Durham's only goal in first period, which ended 1-1. Warton notched the winning counter in 2nd and in 3rd period, neither team could score. Shearer of Walkerton refereed a good game.

The second game in Durham is billed for Thursday night of this week, but owing to the very mild weather to-day, Wednesday, it is doubtful if ice will be in fit condition to stage a game. Goals count on the round and whether played Thursday or later, Durham must win by 2 goals to continue in the race.

Monday's Owen Sound Sun-Times has the following bouquet for Durham: "On Tuesday night the Warton Redmen (we presume they are still the Redmen) will be here to meet the popular Durham outfit in an intermediate fixture. This game, as remarked before should be a natural. The Durham Club has been playing together for some time now: they are husky and fast—and can score goals. Little more could be asked of any team. In past years Durham has never gone very far in the O.H.A. race, but we are inclined to believe they will go places this year. There isn't a really weak link on the team as far as we know and the subs and alternates are every bit as capable as the regulars. More so, in fact, at times."

THE ROLL CALL
MISS M. FARQUHARSON
We referred briefly last week to the death in Chatham last Wednesday of Miss Maggie Farquharson, only surviving sister of Rev. Dr. Wm. Farquharson, former pastor of Knox Church, Durham. Rev. Dr. Farquharson was pastor of this flock for 14 years and during this term, his sister went in and out of the congregation, cheering the sad visiting the sick, and in many other ways supported her brother's pastorate here. Her affection for him at all times was kindly, and many in Durham and district recall with pleasure her visitations among them. She was in her 75th year and a native of Aberdeenshire, Scotland. As well as Dr. William, of Toronto, two other brothers surviving are Alex. of Tilbury East and Donald R. of Chatham, with whom she made her home.

The funeral on Friday last was conducted by Rev. W. J. Preston of St. Andrews United Church, Chatham, and interment was made in Stewart cemetery, in Tilbury East Tp.

GEORGE HENRY
Mr George Henry, a former resident of Glenelg, for many years, passed away last week at his home near Lucknow. He was 81 years of age. He lived for many years in Glenelg, on the lot where Zion school now stands. He was married to Elizabeth Edge, a sister of Mrs R. T. Edwards of Zion, who predeceased him in 1919. He visited Glenelg four years ago.

Rev. E. Hayes Narrates His Overseas Trip

Upholds the Dole in Britain and denounces high tariffs.

Before a large gathering of his brethren of Durham Lodge, A. F. & A. M., on Tuesday evening, Rev. Ernest Hayes of Trinity Church, delivered a racy story of his visit last summer to England and Scotland. His mother's critical illness at his former home in north of England, was the immediate reason for his seventh "across the pond", and while there, he toured parts of England and Scotland he had not previously seen. An hour and a half passed all too quickly as he related trips, incidents and impressions formed, and described the scenery at various places.

Accompanying him over was Mr. Wm McKinley of Holland Centre. The speaker's advice was to pack your own bag before starting: he described the luxuriousness and comfort of the big ocean liners, such as the one on which he was a passenger, the "Montrose", 600 ft by 85 ft wide, containing 1000 rooms. It is a magnificent floating hotel. He was invited to preach on Sunday while on board and enjoyed the service. Practically all on board attend and the ship's orchestra accompany for the hymns.

They touched first at Greenock, the port of Glasgow, then crossed to Belfast in Ireland, thence to Liverpool and Macclesfield, England. There the countryside was very green and weather most changeable, from quite wet to brilliant sunshine an hour or so later. On this visit he noticed the country was now littered up with buses. You can get anywhere by bus. They took one to Edinburgh, stopping first at Keadell—the gateway to the English lake district—a place of great natural beauty. Then to Carlisle and Gretna Green, where so many marriages take place and thru the picturesque Scott and Burns country to Edinburgh.

Here he described Princess St., the famed monuments of Scott, Bruce, Wallace, etc., Edinburgh Castle, the dog cemetery there: St. Giles' Cathedral, full of Scottish memorials, Holyrood Castle, etc. He next visited Glasgow and took bus to Loch Lomond, travelling close to edge of this famed lake almost its entire length, thence to Loch Katrine and back through Trossachs. He was greatly impressed with the scenery and rugged beauty of the whole region.

The countryside of the whole British Isles is wondrously beautiful, with its ever changing scenery. The whole countryside is full of memorials, every mile or two there being something to mark some historical event there, perhaps as far back as the times of the Normans or Danes. The country seems to be littered with bridges, tunnels and viaducts: they don't go round a hill; they tunnel through it and bridge the smaller valleys.

It is impossible, said the speaker, to conceive of the power the lords of the land possess. An increase in taxes on their vast estates doesn't affect them: it is immediately placed on the farmers who have leased. The whole of Macclesfield is owned by three families.

He believed the dole in Britain to be the best system of relief in the world: it is essential in a country with so much unemployment, then perhaps suddenly unemployment in one line: it is wisely and strictly administered and the people pay for it. He found the people of England thinking more broadly than ever before. They are all well informed and feel they need take second place to none in the world. They are optimistic enough to believe that if tariff walls were removed, they can successfully compete in all world markets.

He had little use for tariffs: his viewpoint was that they were "legitimate robbery," and he felt that industries should be able to stand up on their own feet, giving the consumer the right to buy where the cheapest.

PERSONAL MENTION

KNOX Y. W. AUXILIARY

Knox Young Woman's Auxiliary held their regular study meeting on Feb. 8, the president, Miss Margaret Lennox in chair. After opening with devotional exercises, the roll call was answered by a scripture verse on "Service." The 3rd chap. of study book, "Korea, land of the Dawn-Hard Times" was given as follows:

How Korea became modernized in last 30 years, Myrtle Koch; Economic Distress, Mary Mather; Farm Problems, Mrs Morlock; Economics and Politics, Miss Walker; Poem, "Live and Help Live"; Mrs Stonehouse; The Government, Mrs Catton; The Church, Miss Gerrie; The Y.M.C.A., Mrs Graff.

It was decided that we have a contest program in March, the captains of the one side being Mrs Catton and Miss Lennox and of the other side, Mrs McGirr and Mrs McDonald. The meeting closed by repeating the class text and the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Do you want more of Old Sol? When you go to the top of the Empire State Building, New York City, the world's tallest man-made structure, you can see the sun rise a half hour earlier and set half an hour later than from the street level. That is the difference a height of 1,248 feet makes.

"A Night in the Orient"

Such was the topic of a fascinating address given in Queen St. United Church last Friday night by Rev. F. A. Robinson, M. A., of Toronto, and making it unique, it was illustrated by twenty of the choir and congregation of the church being arrayed in the quaint gorgeous costumes of Bible lands. Assisting Mr Robinson, was Miss C. B. Gruner of Chicago, who supplied vocal and instrumental numbers and read scripture passages to confirm the remarks and explanations of the speaker. Both have travelled widely in Eastern lands, and Mr Robinson's talk as in choice language, he described the rich costumes and the customs prevailing in Bible times and intensely interesting to a large audience, which nearly filled the church.

Miss Gruner is an accomplished pianist, rendering the hymns "Work for the Night is Coming" in variations and "The Ninety and Nine," interpreting the spirit of the latter throughout. Her solo "The Saviour of Galilee," was also enjoyed.

Mrs. Almack, on behalf of the Women's Missionary Society, voiced the thanks of the audience to the lecturer for his most illuminating address.
