PRICEVILLE

The W.M.S. and Willing Workers held their monthly meeting Tuesday in the Hall. The Pres., Mrs. Sutherland, was in the chair. The minutes were read by the Secy, Miss Erma McLean. It was decided to get material and make two quilts for the male. Mrs. McBride offered to donate the top for one quilt, Mrs. A. B. MacArthur donating the lining, which was much appreciated. Print will be bought for the other one and quilted later by the Society. It was decided to have our Thankoffering services in Sept. this year. Miss Erma McLean gave a splendid reading on the annual report Auxiliary, which proved interesting. Mrs. Stuart Boice gave a reading on Home Helpers and Mission Band work. Considerable other business was transacted. It was decided to appoint a com. to arrange for the program for the Women's World Day of Prayer next year. Mrs. McBride and Mrs. Boice were chosen, and Mrs. Fred Kater and Miss E. E. James were appointed by the Pres. from the United Church.

At its close, the W. H. meeting took place, with the Pres., Mrs. W. Watson in chair. Mrs. A. L. Hincks acted as Secy pro tem. Four new members were enrolled. A letter was read by the Pres. from the Secy's Treas., Mrs. McMillan, who for a number of years has held that office. Mrs. McMillan, who for a number of years has held that office, has, owing to ill health, tendered her resignation. All regret her retirement as she has been a very faithful and a winning member of the Society. It was voted that Mrs. McBride succeed her.

It was decided to have a 'Copper Contest' Mrs. Dan Campbell and Mrs. Wilfrid Watson being chosen as capt. tains. Mrs. Campbell chose the red side and Mrs. Watson the blue. Eight members were called for each side, and the aim is to see who can make the most money. The losers entertain the winners to a concert and supper later. The contest closes in April. Mrs. Boice gave a splendid paper on Paul's character and Mrs. Hincks a reading, 'Which are you—the lifter or the leaner.' Mrs. John McKeekin, Jr. was appointed to give the topic for next month.

Mr. C. E. Hincks, Clifford, motored home and spent the week end here. The social that was mentioned in last week's issue is cancelled. On Sunday night, considerable excitement was had at Mr. Ben McKenzie's, when Willie was going to take his car out. He took out his lantern and set it 15 ft. from the car, thinking it would be safe. His car beklined. Neighbor's car was in the top and age and it set it on fire. The same upholstery and the two hind tires were burnt. It caught onto the roof, but fortunately was put out before further damage was done. Neighbors were soon on the scene and Wm. Hincks took his fire extinguisher and sprayed the roof to make sure there were no sparks left.

Mrs. McBride of the Station journeyed to Toronto last week for a few days' visit with friends. Mrs. Jas Weir, we are glad to know, is able to take a walk in company with her sister-in-law, Miss Belle Weir, late of Montreal, and is progressing favorably. Mr. D. G. McLean is feeling much better at time of writing after his recent illness. Mr. Allan, attendance officer, paid a visit to Priceville school Tuesday. Mrs. Chas Braden, Shelburne, visited over the week end at her mother's, Mrs. D. McMillan, who we are glad to hear, is making good recovery. She returned home on Monday's train.

Mr. and Mrs. John Macfarlane (nee Anna Mary McLean) arrived on a belated visit to her parents here between 2 and 3 o'clock Sunday morning. The chance was offered them and accepted at 11:30 p.m. Saturday. Roads were good returning to Toronto at 9 p.m. same day. Mrs. A. B. McDonald, O. Sound, is at present on a visit to her father, who has been under the Dr's care for a week. Mr. Allie McLean, S. Line, has secured the service of a fine typical Scotchman who can speak the two talks fluently. He is lately out from the mountains and of the mountain and the flood," etc.

We are proud to report the success of Mr. Harold Karstedt, in the recent sale of furs in Montreal lately, where one at least of his fox pelts ranked the highest on the market among thousands. Receipts of the other 59 have not yet been announced. Congratulations.

BUNESSAN

The boys of the Superior Club of Bunessan held their meeting in the schoolhouse, Friday, Feb 19. The singing of 'O Canada' and 'Hall, Hall, the gang's all here' opened the program. The minutes of previous meeting were read by Mr. Jack McKeechie. Community songs were 'Carry me back to old Virginia' and 'Smile, smile, smile.' A reading was given by Freddie Arnett; a chorus, 'When the works all done in fall' sung by the boys; a humorous letter was read by Mr. Arch McArthur. More community singing, followed by a reading, 'How to make a million dollars' was read by Mr. Pat

McMillan. A good Gazette was prepared and read by Mr. Irwin Matthews. A Geography match and three contests, led by Fred Arnett, Irwin Matthews and Bill McKeechie were enjoyed by all. The boys served sandwiches, cake and tea. The next meeting will be held at the McKeechie members home with Misses Winnie Binnie and Jessie Nichol, Messrs Pat McMillan and Neil McArthur as the program com. The sympathy of this community is extended to Jas A Browne in the loss by death of his mother, Mrs. C. Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Jno A C Macfarlane, Toronto, visited Sunday afternoon at the former's home. Mr. Walter Ewing spent a day in Owen Sound this week.

There's a new plan out by which a person can lose a pound a day says the Walkerton Times. That's all right for some folk but when the winds blow from the east, it's rather nice to have a little something more than a suit of clothes draped around the frame work.

'Investigate' a Popular Word in Parliament

Miss Macphail's Weekly Letter

Parliament seems to be in an enquiring mood this year. They want to know things. "Investigate" expresses the activities so far better than "legislate." Due to the activity of Mr. Humphrey Mitchell, new member for Hamilton, a committee of the House of Commons is being set up to consider Beaurnois contributions to campaign funds and in the Senate a committee is enquiring into the conduct of the three Senators who were mixed up in Beaurnois. The Senate alone has the right to sit in judgment on its own chamber. Some little time ago, Mr G N Gordon, of Peterboro, accused the Hon. W. D. Herridge, Can. Minister at Washington, of ransging the price of his wedding trip out of the Gov't. A committee is going to give him a chance to prove his statement, not apparently because it reflects on the honor of Mr Herridge but because the Prime Minister believes it reflects on his own honor. If the hearings are made public, one would judge they would be well attended.

Possibly the most important investigation is one to be made of the Civil Service Commission branch of the public service. There has been some indication that the merit of the candidate as revealed in the examination papers was not the only factor in deciding on the candidate for the position. The Com. is to find out whether or not there has been discrimination.

We had a couple of days debate on the issue of wheat. A Western member thought it should be $1 an acre bonus. The members accused the government of having administered a partisan board and some of the members from Alberta and Manitoba were inclined to think that Sask had got more than its share of relief. But taking it by and large all western members were in favor of the bonus. Speaking for Ontario Agriculture, I said I doubted very much if agriculture could tax itself into prosperity. "On general principles I am opposed to the idea of a bonus, but speaking for Ontario farmers, if a bushel on wheat will keep the Western farmer growing wheat and keep him out of the mixed farming field, it might be worth that to the farmer for the Ontario farmer. Mixed farming products come from the West into the markets of Ontario, things are going to be even worse for the Ontario farmer. . . Mixed farming is Ontario and if the Prairie Provinces go in for mixed farming it will be disastrous for this province.

The Prime Minister considers a balanced budget essential. He believes that a non balanced budget injures the country's credit and the country's credit is his chief concern. To balance the budget he must spend less and receive more. Expenditures have been decreased and it is intimated that taxes will be increased when the budget comes down on the 10th of March. The summary of the estimated expenditure for this fiscal year ending March 31, 1932, makes interesting reading. Some big cuts have been made. Public Works is down six million and over a half. Soldier and general land settlement down 2 million: Agriculture three, mail subsidies and steamship subsidies one million and to my delight, National Defence down two and a half million. There are increases in two items in the estimates: interest on public debt, including sinking funds, has increased over thirteen million dollars and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police have an increase of 155,000.

The interest shows that our debt has greatly increased. As one member put it: "we have more debt to pay and the police are increased to see that we pay it."

There is no doubt that such large decreases in expenditure will cause unemployment: this is particularly true of Public Works and where it does cause unemployment will reduce the purchasing power of the people. The same can be said of increased taxation. The bulk of the taxes come out of the pockets of the working people. Their purchasing power is already seriously affected. They have a need amount of money to spend; if more of that money goes to pay for taxes, whether direct or indirect taxes, less is left them with which to buy goods. That being so, fewer goods will be sold and unemployment and general stagnation will increase. An increase in currency, to make it possible to move the goods from the producer to the consumer is our greatest need. In view of the fact, the two bills now before the United States Congress must be interesting to us. They provide for a degree of inflation; they are deliberately trying to thaw out frozen credit. The goods out of the machines that are now clogged with them. Accompanying inflation should be legislation that gets the bulk of the taxes from those who have the means and legislation which takes a way from the privileged groups the special rights they have enjoyed under the law. It seems that every country needs a carefully worked-out plan for the production and distribution of goods and a plan that realizes the great importance of the consumer. All this could have sounded like wild talk five years ago, but that is not so today.

I spent last week end in Philadelphia and Baltimore. On Saturday I attended a tea-meeting in the Bellevue Starford hotel, in Philadelphia. The subjects under discussion were the Disarmament Conference and the situation in the far East. There were many speakers, for the most part from the University of Pennsylvania, from Princeton and one outstanding one from Washington. The Women's International League and the League of Nations Association arranged the meeting. They are two of the organizations who worked valiantly to ensure a strong delegation from their country to the World Disarmament at Geneva. They felt they were in particularly successful. They seemed especially pleased with the woman delegate, Dr Woolley of Holyoake College. Several speakers thought that the critical condition in the far East might have the effect of spurring the delegates to the World's Conference to greater efforts. Others thought it would have the opposite effect. Dr Lin, a young Chinese from Princeton, presented the Chinese side of the question. It was a moving story. One on hearing the powers are not taking more positive action to ensure the integrity of China.

The peace groups in the United States are behind a bill which is fathered by Hamilton Fish of New York. The bill prohibits the exporting of arms or munitions of any sort, including nitrates, to nations at war. Mr Fish had asked the Women's International League to have witnesses come to Washington to give evidence in favor of the bill. They came and the committee room was filled and when the committee saw this, they suddenly withdrew for a private consultation which they said would only last a few minutes. They didn't reappear for nearly two hours and then a very angry Hamilton Fish came back to say that the committee would not give a hearing. Miss Dorothy Deter, the very able lobbyist for the national League, spent some time trying to find out why the committee would not allow the hearing to go on and she finally discovered that the State Department had forbidden it. Two days later she noticed in the press that American, English and German ships were carrying nitrates to the war zone in the Far East. The one encouraging feature of the meeting was the intense interest of the people.

Sunday in Baltimore was wholly enjoyable. I was the guest of Elizabeth Gilman, whose father was the first President of John Hopkins University. She lives in a delightful old house which has been finally occupied by the Gilmans for a hundred years and is furnished in colonial style. Maryland is the beginning of the South, so we had griddle cakes and sausage for breakfast. It is quite a pleasant change to have food served that is quite different from ours. At Miss Gilman's home I met Scett Neary, the intellectual outlaw of the United States. He was telling me he had trapped over Great Britain with a knap sack on his back, all through the general elections. In his opinion the leaders of the Labour party are the important thing. He claims that the masses are ahead of the leaders and any aggressive action taken has come about because they were pushed to it.
