Radium found at Great Bear Lake; Great Possibilities

Miss Macphail's Weekly Letter

The criticism of the budget was led off by Col Ralston, financial critic of the Liberal party. He spoke at great length covering the financial situation, the trade, the taxation and railway system in Canada. He twitted the Government over its return to the sales and nuisance taxes and quoted speeches made by Mr Cahan and the Prime Minister when they were in opposition. Col. Ralston claimed that the sales tax at the time the Liberal party went from power, would cost a family spending $750 a year, the sum of $7.50, whereas under the rate this year they would pay $45.

The trade, he said, of Canada, had fallen 100 per cent and charged that the extremely high tariff was at least in part the cause of this tremendous decline. In 1930 the average tariff was 24 per cent and this year with the 3 per cent excise tax added, it will be on an average of 35 per cent and over and above that, the Min. of National Revenue has power to value goods for customs purposes above their cost price, if he so desires.

He told the story of the importing of a radio. The importer would go down to customs officials and say "I have paid $42.75 for this radio." The official retorts "I don't care what you paid for it; the Governor-in-Council says the Min. of National Revenue is empowered to fix the price at $100, less 30 per cent—$70 is the value of that radio." "What duty have I to pay?" "You must pay 4 per cent sales tax, $3.57, a 1 per cent excise tax, 89c and you must pay as dumping duty the difference between $42.75 and $70, that is $27.25. So your radio is going to cost you $50.96 for duty and taxes although its invoice price is only $42.75." Col. Ralston pointed out that a duty of 120 per cent and taxes had to be paid on that article.

Some weeks ago the prime minister the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett had said that the Government worked 20 hrs a day. Col. Ralston thought it remarkable that they got any sleep at all since they required to know the value of sheets and iron and steel, fruits, vegetables, peas, livestock common and colorless window glass, bean-pork, fir doors, dried egg albumen, meats prepared or preserved, grapes, hats, hoods, shapes, bodies, capelines, radio receiving sets, wicker furniture, jute twines, cotton fabrics, artificial fabrics, wiping rags, wire pot cleaners, nursery stock and baby pants."

The decrease in exports was blamed on the tariff preventing imports, and the Government was criticized for not having included some British preference in the budget as a friendly gesture preceding the Imperial Conference. Col. Ralston concluded his speech with an amendment asking the House to condemn the excessive increases in tariff and the power to set duties for customs purposes by Order-in-Council.

The first speaker on the Government side of the general budget debate was the Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce. His speech was well constructed and his delivery excellent. After replying to the criticism of Mr. Ralston, he went on to make what was quite evidently a carefully prepared statement of the causes of to-day's difficulties. There were, he said, four disturbing factors: price levels, debt, interest and trade. Price levels are admittedly the most disturbing factor to-day, he said. Could we restore the price level of 1928 for wheat, copper, paper, lumber and fish, we would restore prosperity to Canada. "What is the cause of this drop in commodity prices?" he asked. "Prices are expressed in terms of currency, and in the leading countries of the world, the value of currency is attached to gold. If gold is scarce or being hoarded, it is in abnormal demand for debts, then inevitably commodity prices will fall simply because people will be anxious to dispose of their commodities in order to secure gold to meet their debts. We are confronted with this situation and it is admitted by everybody that gold is scarce. To my mind that is perhaps the underlying cause of most of our troubles to-day: we must now admit, and I think it will be admitted, that the value or purchasing power of money does vitally affect commodity prices."

The Minister of Trade and Commerce then went on to show that commodity prices have fluctuated violently in the last couple of years. He pointed out that while a ton of copper weighed 2000 lbs in 1928 and continued to weight the same number of pounds in 1931, the ton sold for $380 in 1928 as against $120 in 1931. He took as his second example, wheat, which of course remains at 60 lbs from year to year, but the value of it fell from $1.20 in 1928 to 60c in 1931. The Minister stated that the first and most important step was to stabilize the purchasing power of money.

Dealing with debt, Hon. H. H. Stevens, said: "The world is sunk in a veritable morass of debt." And he pointed out that the weight of debt in this as well as all other countries has been doubled, due to the drop in commodity prices. For this statement he got hearty applause from those who sit "angrily opposite."

We can all clearly see that a woman whose revenue came from eggs and who contracted a debt in 1930 when eggs were selling in the winter around 45c a doz., would have to have three times as many eggs to pay the debt in March of this year: that is her debt had trebled when measured in commodity prices.

In discussing interest the Min. of Trade and Commerce said: "No agriculturist, no industrialist and no merchant can afford to pay 10 per cent interest for the money he uses in his business: it simply cannot be done. Normal business will not permit of that rate of interest." Even though the amount of interest had not increased, all interest that had to be paid by the selling of commodities, had actually increased. On a farm loan of $2000, interest at 8 per cent would require $160. In 1928, 133 bushels of wheat would pay the interest, whereas in 1931, though the interest was still $160, it required 266 bushels of wheat to pay it.

In commenting upon Mr Stevens statement, Mr Gardiner, the leader of the Farm Group in the House, said it was impossible for a Western farmer to pay 5 per cent on his indebtedness as it was for him to pay 10 per cent, or in other words he could pay neither. Mr Gardiner advocated the taxing of incomes above $25,000 a year to a degree that would amount to practical conscription of income above that amount. He devoted most of his speech to a discussion of the need of a change in our financial system and at the conclusion moved a sub-amendment, the last paragraph of which read as follows: "Therefore he it resolved that in the opinion of this House, as a first step towards general economic reconstruction, our financial system should be nationalized and provision be made to issue immediately sufficient money to bring the value of the dollar as speedily as possible to that point at which the major portion of our debts were incurred during the war: stabilize the dollar at this point internally and thereafter manage credit and currency issue to secure and maintain a stable level within Canada."

It is now fairly generally recognized in the House of Commons that Canadian of all nations requires our currency to be on a level with the pound sterling, so that when the price we are paid in Liverpool is translated into Canadian currency it will be as much in our money as it was in English money.

In the Senate the other day a most interesting story of the discovery of radium in Canada at Great Bear Lake was related by General McRae. He was urging that the Gov't form a Radium Commission to take charge of the development of the radium field and the putting of this life-saving metal on the market at the lowest possible cost. Only 300 grammes of radium for medicinal purposes is available in the whole world. It is used in the treatment of cancer, 95 per cent of all radium is found in the Belgian Congo. The wholesale price of it is $50,000 a gramme, retail $70,000. General McRae gave some very interesting statistics in regard to cancer and its treatment by radium: he quoted a Philadelphia authority for the statement that 960 grammes of all the cancer cases there were to be treated with radium.

At Great Bear Lake there are three veins of radium running out 1400 feet and a fourth vein is indicated. General McRae believes that a ton of the ore could be mined and should be the case, in a year the Great Bear Lake deposits could produce 1,880 grammes. The Dept. of Mines of the Federal Gov't estimate that it would cost $10,000 a gramme, but the General believes it could be done for a little in excess of $5,000.

GOD GIVE ME JOY

God give me joy in common things: In the dawn that lures, the eve that sings. In the new grass sparkling after rain, In the late wind's wild and weird refrain; In the springtime's spacious field of gold, In the precious light by winter doled. God give me joy in the love of friends In their dear home talk as summer ends; In the songs of children unrestrained, In the sober wisdom age has gained. God give me joy in the tasks that press, In the memories that burn and bless: In the thought that life has love to spend, In the faith that God at journey's end. God, give me hope for each day that springs, God, give me joy in the common things! —Thomas Curtis Clark

Canada shipped more than 5,000,000 pairs of rubber and rubber-soled boots and shoes valued at approximately $4,408,100 to more than 30 countries during 1931, according to information given out by the Dominion Department of Trade and Commerce.

HAMILTON — SPICER

On Monday, April 11, at 1:30 p.m., the marriage of Mr George Ernest Hamilton, son of Mr and Mrs Jas. Hamilton, 12th con., Egremont, to Miss Mary Christina Spicer, daughter of Mr and Mrs Jas Spicer, 10th con., Egremont, was solemnized at the Manse, Holstein, by Rev. A. J. McMullen, B. A. Owing to the bad condition of the roads the young couple were unattended. The bride was very tastefully gowned in Liberty blue silk and she wore one of the newest shades of hose, also black silk pumps. Her coat of blue-grey cloth, fur-trimmed; lovely silk scarf and very dainty spring hat completed one of the latest and most attractive spring ensembles. The young couple motored to Toronto for their honeymoon, after which they will reside on the 12th con., Egremont, about half a mile west of the bridegroom's old home-stead. The best wishes of the community go with the young people to their new home.

YEOVIL

"Life is not a goblet to be drained, but a measure to be filled." The maple syrup season is nearly over. Everyone has been very careful with the precious fluid this year, as Nature's sweets are about the only thing exempt from the all embracing taxes.

Some surprising citizen of Yeovil should organize a Hunt Club, as four deer were seen in the vicinity during the week. A large flock of wild geese have also been making the Saugen their rendezvous on their journey northward.

Things haven't reached the bottom yet, was what some motorists thought on the 14th con. last week.

The regular meeting of Yeovil Young People's Club, was held last Tuesday. The program of music, social, a dialogue, and an auction sale, was provided for by the 16th con. The next meeting, April 26, will take the form of a euchre party.

Congratulations to Mr Robt Aitken and Miss Annie Sinclair, who were married on April 13.

John Long has gone to Hamilton, where he has taken a position barbering.

Mr W. H. Rogers and son Cliff, attended the funeral of the late Hugh MacLean, Bentinck, last Thursday.

$40 profit from one Telephone Call

The local dealer had offered Jim Ross a price for his fat steers, but Jim was canny. He thought he ought to get a better price.

So he telephoned in to the stockyards — and found that beef had gone up two cents. He took his steers in that day and made $40 extra profit. The telephone call cost him 35 cents.

No wonder Jim said to his wife that night when he got home for a late supper: "It's lucky we've kept our telephone."
