Lost.—On Sunday, Sept. 11th, between Knox Church and my home on Countess St., a white gold bracelet, with stones. Finder please return to owner, Mrs. Jas. McLachlan, or leave at store.

The A.O.T.S. Class of Queen St. Church, were entertained at Mrs. P. Gagnon's cottage at Wilders Lake, on Tuesday evening, when a thoroughly enjoyable time was spent by the forty or so present.

Mr. James Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Taylor, Toronto, and a grandson of the late R. J. Ball, ex-M. P., and Mrs. Ball, of Hanover, made an exceptionally fine showing this year at University School, Toronto, writing 14 subjects and taking 13 first class honors and one second class honor.

Injured in Runaway

While driving to town in his buggy last Saturday, Mr. Campbell Watson was approaching the railway crossing at T. C. McGirr's, just east of Durham, when his horse took fright at the jigger on the track and broke loose, smashing buggy and harness. The horse ran into town, entering the blacksmith shop. Mr. Watson was not seriously hurt and after having his wounds dressed at the hospital, he returned home next day.

Durham Takes the Cake

Walkerton had a masquerade bowling tournament on Monday night last when 22 rinks competed. There were some beautiful costumes as well as comic. Comic won the day, competing to Durham at that. Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Henderson, Miss Winnie Blyth and Mr. Alex Hay, the party, were all attired in chancier costume and made a decided hit with the judges. Their actions were so realistic, that they were awarded the first prize ticket. Flannelette blankets and pyjamas came their way. A rink comprising Messrs Sparling and Gagnon, Mrs. S. McIntyre and Mrs. McDonald, also came second in play and were awarded blankets and vases. The latter quartette of players were also winners in Carzell's week previous, when the gentlemen received electric heaters and the ladies casseroles.

Priceville Fair Favored With Fine Weather

Wednesday saw ideal weather for Priceville's annual fall fair, but the day was perhaps too fine for the busy farmers, as the crowd was a little smaller than last year. When the fairs were held in October, Priceville usually experienced wet or cold days, so the move to two weeks earlier has been a good one.

Exhibits in the Hall were of splendid quality, though not so numerous as usual. In roots and vegetables, W. J. McDougall, T. McDougall, H. Tucker and J. G. Whyte were the main exhibitors. Campbell Watson showed the most fruit, and Mrs. W. Clark, Durham, the most flowers. In Baking and Dairy classes, Mrs. Davis, Durham, and Mrs. D. Campbell were leading exhibitors, while in ladies' work the same two, along with Mrs. E. A. Ruttle, Mrs. Adams, Miss B. Ritchie and Mrs. J. Nichol, Durham, captured most of the prizes.

Horses and cattle exhibits were both plentiful and of high standing. Most heavy horses were shown, H. Eckhardt & Sons, J. B. Thibault and C. C. Arken, being prominent owners. D. Campbell, W. Mather, H. Karstedt and H. B. McLean exhibited most of the cattle. J. McGirr, was the chief sheep exhibitor and only 3 hogs were on display. Poultry classes were fairly well filled.

Hanover Band provided a liberal number of choice musical selections during the afternoon and gave the entire evening concert.

The prize list will appear in next week's issue.

LET'S GO TO BUNDALK FAIR

Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 27 and 28, $2,000.00 in prizes for exhibitors. Children in parade free. Horse races, three classes. Concert and big street dance, two good orchestras. Go with the crowd on Sept. 28th.

Hymeneal

HOOPER — ECKHARDT

The marriage was solemnized on Saturday, September 17th, at the United Church Parsonage, Durham, by the Rev. Walter C. Almack, of Martha Matilda, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Eckhardt, Glenelg, to Elmer Lerne, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Hooper, Glenelg.

The bride was becomingly attired in blue silk georgette with coat and hat to match. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome carving set.

After the ceremony, the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to Toronto and other points. Upon their return, they will take up residence on the groom's farm, Glenelg.

MORRISON — GRAHAM

The marriage took place on Thursday, Sept. 15, in Hillcrest Church of Christ, Bathurst St., Toronto, of Miss Adeline Isabel Graham, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Graham, Durham, to David Gordon Elmer Morrison, elder son of Mrs. Alice M. Morrison, and the late David Morrison, Forest Hill Road, Toronto. Rev. Rhodes Thompson, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by Rev. Hugh Kilgour.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and chose for her wedding robe, an angel skin lace, fitted model after Vionnet, with long court train of lace and plain tulle veil, arranged in cap fashion and caught at the side with orange blossoms. She wore the gift of the groom, a platinum dinner ring set with diamonds. The maid of honor, Miss Flora Lamonte, wore a claret chiffon velvet gown on long fitted lines and cape to match with ostrich feather trimming. Miss Ada Collins and Miss Jean Burgess, Sarnia, bridesmaids, were gowned alike in Danube blue chiffon velvet, after Patou, on moulded lines, with matching capes, trimmed with ostrich feathers and tied over one shoulder. Both maid of honor and bridesmaids wore hats to match their gowns with wide lace brims. The two little flower girls were June McDonald and Barbara Taylor in Kate Greenaway frocks of pink taffeta falling to the ground, high waist line and Bertha capes. They wore pale bonnets of the same material, with a darker shade streamer falling to the ground. Master Jack Gordon, cousin of the groom, was ring bearer.

Mr. Bruce D. Morrison, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were O. E. Harris, Paul F. Sayers, J. C. Law, R. A. Taylor, Dr. E. R. Westman, D. L. Graham, Saul Ste Marie, brother of bride. Mr. D. Howells was organist and Miss L. May Berber, soloist, sang 'O Promise Me' during the signing of the register and 'I love you truly' before the bride entered the church.

Chrysanthemums, pompons, gladioli, palms and ferns decorated the church for the ceremony. The bride carried Pierson red roses, the bridesmaid's Talsman roses, the maid of honor pale yellow chrysanthemums, the flower girls sweetheart nosegays.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the new home of the bride and groom, 415 Rosemary Road, Forest Hill Village, where the guests, numbering some 300, were received by Mrs. A. M. Morrison, mother of groom wearing a fitted gown of plum purple chiffon velvet, with short train, and matching jacket, trimmed with white fox at the sleeves. She wore a corsage bouquet of orchids and lily of the valley. Receiving with Mrs. Morrison in the old English paneled living-room of the home, was Mr. J. A. Graham, father of the bride. A buffet luncheon was served from marquees in the beautiful garden, where the brilliance of fall flowers matched the floral decorations in the house.

Following the reception, the bride and groom left by motor for Montreal and will sail on the S.S. New Northland, for a cruise of the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Labrador, Gaspe and Newfoundland. For going away, the bride chose a bestroot imported cloth suit and silver fox scarf with hat, shoes and purse of same material.

Hampden's Native Son Preaches at 75th Annivers'ry

Rev. E. O. Young, of Magnetewan, Addresses Crowded Congregations. Grand Reunion on Monday Evening.

A Night of Reminiscence

Sunday and Monday, Sept. 18th and 19th, will long live in the memory of the members and friends of Hampden Church. On these days, the 75th anniversary of the founding of the congregation was observed, and in response to invitations sent out by the present congregation, a great many of the former members and old friends came back for the occasion. Many were the hearty handshakes both days, those who had not seen each other, perhaps for several years, co-mingled and recalled former days.

No more fitting choice of Anniversary speaker could have been made, than that of Rev. E. O. Young, now pastor at Magnetewan, Parry Sound District. Mr. Young was born at Hampden, spent his early days there, and is the only minister to come from the membership of the congregation. To him, it was a delight to be back and among his fellow-pioneers in the congregation were greatly pleased to welcome him amongst them once more.

At morning service, Mr. Young preached a thoughtful sermon from Luke 12: 15: "Take heed and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things which he possesseth." This is an age of things, their number in our homes has grown wonderfully; the danger is we may covet what others have. Jesus tells us what life is not, what it is. There is mind in the making of all things; in all work. Life consists of reason also; this gift shows us we are made in God's image and through it we discover our relationship to God and understand Him better. Then imagination is the foundation of progress. Life has also brought to us memory, and without it, there can be no progress. God means we should enjoy these things He has given us in our natural life.

But we also have a soul or spirit life, and God intends it should bring us near Him. God holds us responsible for the development of our talents. Faith is a great gift, the ladder by which we climb to heaven: the gift of hope bears us up in the struggle of life, but Paul says the greatest gift is love. There are different kinds of love—that of the sexes, that of friends, and the Divine love, which is exemplified in the command love your enemies, do good to them that hate you. The Divine love loves all—it is the hope of the church and of a better world and is mankind's greatest need.

At the evening service, Rev. Mr. Young had an inspiring message, from Mark 16: 15: "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

A local choir of fourteen voices prepared special music for both services and the anthems and duets rendered were greatly enjoyed. Mr. Alex Cooper, Galt, lent valued aid in the bass section and in the training.

MONDAY'S SOCIAL TIME A NIGHT OF MEMORIES

On Monday evening, for the feast of body and soul, all the Sunday attendance was back. This was the night when "Reminiscence" (with a capital letter please) played such a large part in distinguishing this year from other anniversaries. It was in a sense, a quarter century's stock-taking and calling of the roll. The past twenty five years have made great inroads on Hampden's church membership: the little cemetery near by claims some and more have left the section for other points. But as one former member put it, "all those who have run away were back again" this night in question. It took the nature of an old-time reunion. And what was more: the program was entirely "home brew" with the possible exception of the Hanover Victoria Quartette and Mr. Barltrop. However they have been coming to Hampden for years and are locked upon as part of the family.

The tea-meeting part of the Anniversary, could be summed up as "eat and be merry" and the tempting tables were filled and refilled. Still they groaned with wonderful baking. At 8.15, the program in the auditorium commenced, with the pastor, Rev. W. H. Smith in the chair. From this on, the audience sat for three hours with very receptive ears to the numbers in speech and song. The night was extremely warm and if the talent were as uncomfortable as the audience, they were working under duress.

REV. E. O. YOUNG

Rev. E. O. Young, the preacher of Sunday, was there with wife and sons and in an exceedingly interesting resume, told of the church life as he knew it in its earlier years. He reminisced, paying a high tribute to the founders of Hampden Church. They were men of keen mentality, and the moral and religious welfare of the people ever before them. He well remembered the old log church, built in 1857, on the line north of the present church and the people who attended same. He recalls a certain old cedar log, which the pioneer woman used as a bench. They came in their bare feet to this certain point, but previous to entering the House of the Lord, they donned the shoes and stockings.

"The people of that day were dependent on no one for entertainment and amusements. They were a law unto themselves. The big days of the year were the church picnic, 24th May, Fall Show and Christmas. They were isolated from other centres and made their own good time. Mr. Young well remembers the singing of the earlier day. The majority of the men folk, through the coaching of a Mr. Proctor, a singing master, could sing by note and independent of an instrument. The old Psalms took on new meaning as the melody rose from their lips.

These were the days when the axe, the saw and the oxen played an important part in clearing the land and the men of that day worked with an objective, viz: making a community wherein the Kingdom of God should reign.

REV. A. L. BUDGE

Rev. A. L. Budge, Hagersville, and a pastor at Hampden for eleven years, was the other reminiscence speaker. As the audience sat drinking in every word, he rolled back to 1907—and to the membership of the church at the time of the Golden Jubilee. Mr. Budge gave a character study of the outstanding men and women in the congregation at that period and it lost nothing in effect as it came from his lips. He was glad he had good heels on his boots to enable him to stand squarely on every word he uttered. He would like once more to be present at one of the sessions of the Guild, the Session, a wedding, or travelling the old bypaths with "Yankee," the faithful horse, who knew the people as well as he. The present generation had much to live up to. His successor, Rev. Mr. McLean, found it impossible to get away and sent his regrets also to the people with Mr. Budge. Time had been gently with this former pastor and he yet carries that spirit or talisman that befriends him to all.

There was for music, a mixture of sacred and secular: it was a pleasure to hear from the senior members as well. Messrs John Milligan, James Mather and Alex Cooper, Galt, were before the audience in a trio, "The Tall Wife," Allan Gilmour, Burgessville, a rising vocalist, and a grandson of a pioneer of the section, contributed a solo, as did also his cousin, Miss Allan of Chesley; Mr. Jas. and Miss Helen Milligan gave a violin duet: there was a trio by Mrs. W. G. Henderson, Mrs. Ranton, Stratford, and their brother, James Park; solo, Wilfrid Anderson, Jas. Park; Organ solo "Land of Hope and Glory" by Allan Young, son of Rev. and Mr. Young; recitation, Harry Barltrop, Hanover.

Rev. Mr. Smith called on Alex Cooper and John Whitford, as former members to add their quota of greeting at this time.

Rev. Mr. Smith gathered up the fragments and made a wonderful liturgical closing speech, in which the keynote was the word "Remember." Memory gathers up the riches of the past—those who remember most are the richest. Out of the tall timbers the pioneers built for God and here (Continued on page 8.)

MORE LUX PRIZE

WINDOW DRESSERS

Last week we told our readers about a $5 honorarium that fell to Mr. R. Burnett, for the good taste and skill shown in dressing a window for the Lux people. It appears the half has never been told of the qualities of this soap, merely as an incentive to window dressing, for two more of Durham's business people have received a cheque for the same work, accompanied by such a letter as Mr. Burnett received and which appeared in print last week.

Mr. W. J. Vollett received an award of $7.50 and Mr. T. M. McFadden one of $5.00.

If the Lux people hand out prizes to all towns in Ontario in the same ratio as they have in Durham, money flows a little more freely in that corner of U. S. than it does in most places. It is a tribute to advertising and what it has done for this firm.

PERSONAL MENTION

After spending the summer months at Mr. John Morrison's summer cottage at Sauguen Park, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lauder, have returned to Buffalo, where Martin commences training for another season's hockey.

Mrs. Brown purposes putting her daughter through in a secretarial course in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. And. Derby of town, with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Derby, South Bentinck, and Mr. Geo. Smith, were in Paris Monday, attending the funeral of a cousin, the late Mrs. Scott Davidson.

Miss Marie Robinson, Toronto, arrived Saturday to visit her brother David, at Edge Hill and also was at Hampden's 75th Anniversary Service, as a one-time member.

Mrs. Marshall and daughter, of Hamilton, were week end guests of their cousin, Mrs. A. H. Jackson and Owen Sound friends.

Mrs. A. Tuck, Holstein, is spending this week with Mrs. Richard Barber of town.

Little Lois Sparks, a three-year-old child, from Flesherton, was operated upon Saturday in Durham Hospital, for a serious case of appendicitis. The little child is now making headway.

REV. J. H. CURTIS, MEAFORD, ANNIVERSARY SPEAKER

Glenelg Centre Baptist Church, Glenelg, was favored with splendid weather Sunday and Monday last, for their Anniversary services. They were also favored in having with them as special speaker, Rev. J. H. Curtis, B. A., Meaford, who pleased all with the splendid messages delivered. Durham Baptist Church released their services on Sunday and there was a united choir of both churches at the Centre. The choir rendered special anthems, morning and evening. By request, at the morning service, Misses Mary Beaton and Eva Redford rendered a duet, "The Old Rugged Cross" and at evening service there was a trio, comprising Messrs Allan Bell, Henry Beaton and Geo. Bell. Large congregations filled the church at both services.

Monday evening, with Rev. J. T. Priest, pastor, in the chair, a splendid literary and musical program was heard. Rev. Mr. Curtis' address on "Three Years in the West" was very vivid. He referred to the immense resources of the West and when properly harnessed, of its future wealth. The depression of that country also came in for special mention; in fact some of the parents are so poor that their children go to school in gunny sacks. Mr. Curtis' work was at Olds, Alta, and he told of the work of the Young People's Camp of his church at Poplar Lake.

Alta. It was a very enlightening address. Warden Allan Bell and Rev. Mr. Galloway, Mulock, also contributed brief addresses.

Misses Jean McGillivray and Anabel McArthur gave recitations: Mrs. Priest, a sonologue, "The Model Church"; Rev. and Mrs. Galloway, two duets; Miss Margaret Lawrence, Durham, solo, "Danny Boy"; Stephen Hughes, mouth organ solo.

A sumptuous lunch was served at close to all.

TRAVELOGUE IN KNOX CHURCH ON OLD WORLD SCENES

A unique evening was presented in Knox United Church Thursday last, when Stephen A. Haboush presented his travelogue, "The Seven Wonders of Jerusalem and Galilee." Madame Haboush, an accomplished musician, relieved him at intervals, and whether in singing or playing, she left little to be desired. The attendance was not as large as hoped for and the speaker had to take a financial reverse. The slides were beautifully clear and his comment upon same, revealed many new thoughts on Biblical lore and history.

Relating something of the history of Palestine, "The Cross Roads of the Empires of the East," he quickly sketched for his hearers an outline of the important events of history which have transpired there from the time of Abraham to the conquest by General Allenby in 1917 and the present conditions under the mandates of France and Gt. Britain, paying high tribute to the latter country for the handling of the situation in Palestine.
