Walkerton Times re Walkerton's masquerade bowling tourney: "Charlie Sandlos is the 8 ft. White Wyandotte rooster was the greatest of the feathered tribe present, but when it came to carrying off the prize for comic, Tom Henderson's Brown Leghorn pen from Durham was awarded the red ticket."

One of the actions entered in the recent court at Hanover, was that of A. J. Locksley against the Hanover Musical Society for a month's salary, at the rate of $1,000 a year. This was settled out of court when O. E. Klein for Mr. Locksley, offered to accept $50. This was acceptable to the Society, as they had previously offered a month's salary at the rate of $500 a year but it had been declined.

Taxes Down in Sullivan
In line with other rural municipalities the tax rate is lower in Sullivan this year than in 1931. Last year the county rate was 13.2 mills. This year it is 12.6 or a reduction of nearly three quarters of a mill. The township rate is exactly half a mill less than last year, making a lower tax rate of 1.2 mills or about $5 less on the average taxpayer of the township. In most sections the school rate is also lower than last year.

Leaving the Farm
Mr. George Turnbull, Sr. Bentinck, one of the township's councilmen, has not enjoyed good health the past summer and feels he has left his best working days behind him. His heart has been causing him trouble and though better than he was, knows that he has to take things easier. Accordingly he advertised his place on the Durham Road about three miles west of town, with the result that Mr. Seth Trafford of Durham, will be the new occupant. Mr. Turnbull taking his home on East Lambton St., here. We hope the change for both will be advantageous. We regret losing Mr. and Mrs. Trafford from Durham, on the other hand welcoming Mr. and Mrs. Turnbull and daughter, Miss Annie.

Figured in Accident
W. J. Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Marshall, Normanby, has been living in Mount Forest, but recently moved to Walkerton, where he has accepted a position as mechanic in Fisk's garage. "Jim" had his car badly smashed, when he hit the ditch just east of Hanover last Monday. It appears that Geo. Marwood came out of Mr. Robt. MacKay's place with a wagon and was crossing the road into his own farm when "Jim" came along with his Ford touring car. The car apparently passed the wagon safely, but a few feet farther on it hit the ditch, and was quite badly smashed up. As Mr. Marwood allegedly had no light on his vehicle, we understand he agreed to pay part of the damage.

OBITUARY

ALEX RUTHERFORD

At his home on south line Bentinck, just south of Durham, Alexander Rutherford died on Monday, shortly after 7 a.m. His death came as somewhat of a sad surprise to many citizens who were unaware he was so critically ill. He has not been in good health for a year or two, but moved around town and was able to do light work at his trade as carpenter. Monday evening of last week he was seized with pain and suffered more or less until his death a week later, his ailment being ulcer of the stomach and bowel trouble.

The deceased was in his 68th year and was born in Brampton, in infancy his mother died and his father moved to Hamilton, where he received his education. In young manhood he learned the carpentering trade, worked for some time in Orangeville and later in Toronto. Here over thirty years ago, he was wedded to Miss Janet Jack, who has been a devoted helpmate and survives him with their one son James, now employed with the C.P.R. in Saskatchewan.

About thirty years ago they removed to Durham, and lived a year with her sister, Mrs. N. McKechnie. During this time, he built their present home just outside the town limits, where they have since resided. While never a robust man, the late Mr. Rutherford was an excellent workman and many buildings in Durham and vicinity are the result of his handiwork.

The deceased's father, Mr. Jas Rutherford, visited here at times until his death 12 years ago. He leaves a half brother Fred and half sister Mrs. Sweet (Mabel), both resident in Hamilton.

The funeral will be held at 2.00 p.m. on Friday, awaiting the arrival on Thursday of their son James from the West, and will be in charge of his pastor, Rev. W. H. Smith. Interment will take place in Durham cemetery.

JOHN MACLEAN

There died on Saturday, Sept. 24, at his home on South Line, Glenora, a well known and respected resident of that community, John MacLean, in his 74th year. For two weeks past he had been ill with stomach flu, which so undermined his constitution and weakened his heart, that it left no resistance to fight the trouble.

Born on the south line, deceased has spent all his life in this community, his father, the late Hector MacLean being one of the early pioneers of the district. In 1906, deceased was married to Mary Snellett and to them were born three children, a son dying in youth. The surviving two are Elton, at home and Miss Katherine teacher at Aberdeen. No better or more-respected resident lived on the S. Line than did the late Mr. MacLean. His was the quiet and unassuming type yet when required, spoke his mind on any matter that came before the section. He was loved as husband and father and esteemed as neighbor and friend.

Of an original family of four sons and four daughters, the four sisters only remain, viz: Mrs. N. McCannel, Mrs. F. McPherson, Miss Maggie, all of Durham and Mrs. Jas Black, Oak River, Man.

The funeral was on Monday from his late residence, his pastor Rev. Dr. McIlvor of Priceville Presbyterian Ch. having charge of services at house and grave. He based his remarks on words found in Acts 13:36, "For David after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep and was laid into his fathers." Present from a distance at the funeral were Walter and Edgar Flowers and sister, Mrs. Hill, Miss Ada MacLean, all of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon MacLean, Aurora; Mr. Galvin, Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Muldoon and daughter, Hamilton as well as friends from Swinton Park, Aberdeen and South Eremont. The pall bearers were nephews of deceased: Archie and Hector MacDonald, Gordon McLean, Willie Nichol, Cameron Snellett and W. Flowers.

WILLIAM BOYD

About midnight on Wednesday last a life-long and highly respected resident of Lamash community, passed away, in the person of Wm Boyd. Deceased a few years ago suffered a paralytic stroke and since has not enjoyed good health. A few days ago he suffered two more strokes which hastened the end.

The late Wm Boyd for many years lived on con 8, Bentinck. With his sorrowing wife, he leaves two sons, Wm and James at home and daughter Margaret. Also there are a number of sisters and brothers.

Orpheus Chorus Fills Local Churches Beyond Capacity

This body of vocalists and Rev. W. J. Scott, Flesheron, as the special speaker, present strong attraction at Queen St. Anniversary.

Queen St. United church members felt well repaid for their efforts in putting over a successful Anniversary event Sunday last. In fact it was one of the most successful they have had and from it received much inspiration and encouragement. The morning service was held in their own church and the evening in Knox United, the session of latter church granting this privilege to session of Queen St. Church. At both services many were turned away. In the evening, Knox auditorium was more than well filled, standing room not even being granted.

The special speaker of day was Rev. W. J. Scott, Flesheron, who left a fine impression. As a basis for his morning text, Mr. Scott chose the verse "let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me." The evening service, Mr. Scott derived his theme from the prophecy of Isaiah: "O Lord, by these things men live, and in all these things is the life of my spirit: so wilt thou recover me and make me to live."

With all due respect to Rev. Mr. Scott, the main drawing card was the presence at these services of the Orpheus Male Chorus of Waterloo, comprising 27 voices. R. A. McGillivray, an old Aberdeen boy, is director of the chorus. The choir were all guests of various members of Queen St. church for the day. At the afternoon service at Rocky Saugeen appointment, they also rendered sacred numbers, much to the delight of the large congregation present. Mr. McGillivray, while there, took occasion to visit for a short time with his cousins, Mr. D. and Miss M. McLean. At both services at Queen St. and Knox, they contributed liberally with beautiful sacred numbers, and at close of regular service at Knox, gave a full hour song service. It was one of those musical treats that Durham seldom gets.

As a former Durham business man, H. G. Mistle was the centre of the personnel of the chorus. His solo at evening service, "There is a green hill far away" by Gounod, left little to be desired, as did also a duet, in which he shared the honors with Mr. Stener. They are a well-balanced chorus and their shading and expression in rendition of their numbers was very marked as also the enunciation. The organist, Prof. Heller was a very sympathetic accompanist and also gave an organ solo on Knox organ.

The vocalists enjoyed their day in Durham and their hosts equally enjoyed having them. They are a fine type of manhood and do much in their gifts and talents of song to further the cause of the Kingdom of Christ.

Nine Schools Had Exhibits at Glenelg School Fair

A somewhat smaller crowd than usual attended Glenelg Township School Fair at Edge Hill last Saturday. By some it is construed to be a sign of decreasing interest, while the new system of paying prizes, no distribution of seeds, and the fine day for farm work, all may have affected the interest shown.

The exhibits were scarcely as numerous either, but were of a high standard and keen competition was provided in many classes. No 9 and No. 3 (Edge Hill) supplied the most exhibits, but prizes were well distributed. The schools having students exhibiting were No 3, (Edge Hill) Miss D. Ritchie, teacher; Union No. 3, B. & G. (Latona) D. A. McIntosh, teacher; No 7: No 1. (Bussan) Miss Mary Moffat, teacher pro tem; No 4 (Waudby): No 5, Zion, P. O'Conner, teacher; No 8, Miss Jessie Nichol, teacher; No 10 (Top Cliff) Miss Anna McEachern, teacher.

Three schools competed in the parade and drill. No 9, No 3 and No 4, Oscar Moon, whose school was first prize winner at last year's County School fair was judge and in parade No. 3 was first, 1 point ahead of No 9, while for Strathcona Drill, it was reversed, No 9 winning by 1 point over No 3 (Edge Hill). Waudby came third in both.

No 9 took first for group singing, No 3 second. Thos. Firth of No 3, was the only soloist. In public speaking, first place was awarded to Catherine O'Neill of Sep. No. 7, second to Elsie Markle of Union No. 3, B. & G. and third to Margaret Edge of No. 3.

A feature of the day was the number of school teachers on the grounds, the Review scribe counting no less than sixteen of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Slack have been active workers in the various organizations and on the Board of Queen St. United Church, while he also the past year has been superintendent of the Sunday School. They will be greatly missed in the church and among many town friends, though Mrs. Slack and daughter yet occupy their home here.

AUTUMN TEA UNDER PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH AUSPICES

A pretty Autumn tea was held on Wednesday afternoon of this week, at the home of Mrs. John Alexander, College St., under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Alexander had her home prettily decorated with floral bloom, the dining room being carried out in rose. The table was very effective in rose-shaded asters and rose candles. On entering the hall the guests were greeted with an embankment of flowers and vases that carried a tropical effect. Mrs. Alexander was assisted in receiving by Mrs. (Rev.) Armstrong, while dining-room assistants were Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Howell, Mrs. Pickering, Mrs. T. M. McFadden, Miss L. McComb, Miss A. Renwick, Miss Weir, Mrs. Lauder. At the tea were Mrs. T. Milligan, Mrs. G. Sharpe, Mrs. A. McDonald, Mrs. Will McFadden, Mrs. H. J. McFayden. The door attendants were Mrs. Chas. Moffat, Miss Mable Sharp, Miss Kate McFayden. Lawrence, won first place in one race with "Lucky Lindy" and third in another event with "Todd." There were good exhibits in the hall and in cattle classes. Horses were well represented but lighter classes were not up to standard. Mr. Jas. Picken, Bentinck, captured six first prizes in horse classes and a cup for the best agricultural horse on grounds.

Won Easily from Southampton

Durham's box lacrosse exponents had too much experience and skill for Southampton's youthful stalwarts of the game here last Thursday night and doubled the score, 18 to 9. Had the occasion demanded, the locals might have tripled the score, or more, but they took it easy, and sometimes easier. Jack McGowan was along with the team and he claims that while Southampton are beginners in lacrosse, they're coming champions in baseball. And he's about right; for the lakeside town is now right in the O. B. A. Int. finals. Here's wishing them all success against North Bay for the championship!

The lacrosse teams were: Durham: Goal—E. McEachnie; defence—Wilson, D. Ries; rover—Dean; centre—

Southampton: Goal—Treford; defence—Gear, E. Stewart; rover—C. Stewart; centre—Strachan; home—Watt, C. Brown; subs—B. & R. Maxwell, Gibbons, R. Goar, Gray.

Referee: R. L. Saunders; Judge of play—Howard McDonald.
