

"We can thank Long Distance for that cheque"

Old man Carrington was selling his farm and there were two fine teams for quick sale. Bill Smart didn't need them but he thought of a man he knew in the cartage business in town.

Bill called his man by Long Distance telephone that night and arranged to buy both teams for him next day on commission.

A few days later he had a nice cheque in the mail — and his telephone call cost him only 30 cents.

KNOX CORNERS

A number were out to the service Sunday. It was Rally day and Mr. Honeyman took charge of the program prepared. The subject was "Reverence," 1st for God's word, the Bible, which He has given for our guide; do we study it carefully? 2, reverence for the Sabbath, His day. How do we spend it: for His glory or for our own pleasure? If we are absent from His house on the Sabbath surely we should have a reason that we could offer to God: 3, Reverence for His house. Jesus gave an example of His zeal for His father's house when He drove out the money changers.

Miss Margaret Watson returned to London Monday, to take up the course awarded her at graduation. Mr and Mrs T. Wallace, Jr. visited Sunday with O. Sound friends. Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Cecil Barber who have returned from their honeymoon. We wish them a most happy and prosperous journey thru life.

Miss Eleanor Marshall, Shelburne, spent Sunday at home. Mr and Mrs S. Koenig and Miss T. E. Byers attended service in Knox Church in town Sunday evening and enjoyed the fine music of the male choir from Kitchener.

A happy event took place at the Caldwell home on Wednesday last, Sept. 21, when Mr and Mrs Wm. Caldwell celebrated the 40th anniversary of their wedding. There were about fifty present, mostly relatives, with a number who were guests at the wedding, namely, Dr. and Mrs. Wolfe, Mr and Mrs McGowan, Mrs. Moore of town; Mrs Robinson, Owen Sound and Mrs Wilson, Toronto. Relatives from a distance were Rev and Mrs H. Caldwell, Limestone; Mr and Mrs Clarence Buck Georgetown, also Dr Gordon Agnew, missionary on furlough from China. The celebration was planned as a surprise to Mr and Mrs Caldwell who spent the early part of the day with Mr and Mrs W. Carson in the neighborhood. Gladys Caldwell, a grand daughter, was flower girl and the table decorations were in hands of Miss Mainie Storey of town a niece. A beautiful four-story cake was the work of Mrs Norman Kerr, their only daughter. The evening was pleasantly spent in music and congratulatory speeches. We join in extending best wishes to Mr and Mrs Caldwell and may they be spared for many years together.

Mr and Mrs Alex Aberdein, Ailsa Craig, visited Sunday with her parents and also with Mr and Mrs James Marshall in Walkerton. Glad to have a card from Mrs Raymond, lately a guest in the Barber home, who visited at our home last week. It was written in Montreal, en route to her home at Washington, D. C.

The mission band and Y.W.A. will meet in church on Saturday at 2.30. Mrs H. Dean of town visited with Miss Byers Thursday last.

Miss Gussie McAllister, Toronto, spent over week end with her parents.

I wish to thank the young men very much, who kindly assisted me in acting honorary pall bearers in conveying the many floral tributes at the funeral of the late Mrs John R. MacNicol on Sunday, Sept. 25th. Bert Gibson, funeral director, Mount Forest.

Missionaries Home on Furlough on Way to Fame

Daughter of Rev. Harry Caldwell, with her husband, Dr Gordon Agnew, make new findings in medical science.

The spotlight of publicity has come to Dr and Mrs Gordon Agnew, missionaries in Canada, on furlough from China. Dr. Agnew is better known locally, as the husband of Mary Caldwell, who in turn is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs Harry Caldwell of Limestone, near Georgetown. Rev. Mr Caldwell was an old town. Rev. Mr Caldwell is an old town. Rev. Mr Caldwell is an old town. Rev. Mr Caldwell is an old town.

Ten years ago, Dr and Mrs Agnew were school sweethearts at Victoria College, Toronto. They went to far away China as newly married missionaries where side by side they taught and worked at science. They came to Toronto on furlough, with their two children, to put the finishing touches on years of dental research. Now they jump into fame as jointly responsible for an important study of the relation between food and the soundness of teeth. Recently they have reported their findings at dental meetings in Buffalo. They have no revolutionary methods of avo'ing holes in teeth but have invented the highest scientific authorities that diet is one of the chief factors governing the formation and soundness of teeth, a relation long suspected.

Three lines of evidence have converged in the work of Dr and Mrs. Agnew. They made an exhaustive study of what has been eaten by the Chinese for thousands of years and inquired as how sound their teeth have been. Certain deductions were in order. Then they went to work on animals in the laboratory, clinching their argument. Finally they have applied their work in actual practice by suggesting minor additions to the meals of a selected group of Toronto school children, whose teeth already show signs of improving.

"I want to make this plain," said Mrs Agnew. "Tooth decay cannot be prevented exclusively by dietary control. This is only one factor. The actual erosion is generally admitted to be bacterial. A correct diet ensures resistance against the ever-present bacteria of the mouth."

"We have received every possible assistance from the University of Toronto," said Mrs Agnew. "We are deeply indebted to Dr F. F. Tisdall, and to Dr A. Brown of the Department of Pediatrics. We would like to stay but China's challenge is too great to go unanswered. We are both enthusiastic about the future of the country."

A BOUQUET FROM TORONTO FOR HOLSTEIN CHAMPIONS

In his comments on sports column in last Friday's Mail and Empire, Eddie Allan, sporting editor, has the following tribute to Holstein's two champion teams: "History was made in the Western Football Association this year when Holstein, a village of some 300 population, won both the junior and intermediate championships. It is the first time that one club has won the two championships in the one year, but this was made possible because seven of the Holstein Juniors were good enough to catch a place on the intermediate team. Holstein is mighty proud of its champions and well they might be, for they eliminated teams from such larger places of Owen Sound, Kitchener, Guelph, Listowel, Tavistock, Milverton and other places. The Junior cup has been travelling since 1890, and was one year held by a team from Newark, N. J. Holstein Juniors were unbeaten in six games this season. We extend our congratulations to the Holstein Football Club and its players."

Prominent Normanby Lady Borne to Rest in Ayton

MRS JOHN R. MACNICOL A life that is much mourned in its passing, is that of Mrs John R. MacNicol, wife of the Dominion member of parliament for Toronto North-West. The death took place Thursday last at the home of deceased brother, Henry McKinnon, con 5, Normanby, on the farm taken up by her people in 1850, at that time an unbroken forest. For over a year, she had been in failing health, but until the past few weeks a fatal termination was unlooked for. She attended the ceremonies in connection with the opening of the House in February last, but was not well. She came to her brother's home in July, in the hope that her native air would restore her. For a time it did seem beneficial, but it was not to be and she has passed to a fairer world.

In 1915, Maisie McKinnon was married to John R. MacNicol, at that time a school teacher in her home section. In her years in Toronto she endeared herself to many new friends there, as she did in her home community, by her kindly and unassuming disposition. Three years ago a brother Duncan died and as immediate mourners to-day, there are her husband and one brother Henry.

The funeral on Sunday afternoon last from her brother's residence was largely attended by all walks of life. The service was conducted by Rev. Robertson Millar, pastor of Mt. Forest Presbyterian Church, who, in a brief service, eulogized the life of deceased, paying tribute to her loyalty to home, husband and brother. Telegrams expressing sympathy were read from Hon. R. B. Bennett and Hon. G. H. Ferguson, Canada's High Commissioner. Considering the large gathering outside the home, Mr MacNicol arranged for a local broadcast, whereby all heard the service readily. The remains were interred in Ayton cemetery and lie to-day under an avalanche of floral tributes. They included wreaths from the Corporation of the city of Toronto, public bodies and in private capacity, all testifying of sorrow for the dead and respect for the living.

"Going Up".

"The Hearts Content", gallant little Puss Moth plane that carried her courageous pilot, Captain J. A. Mollison, on the first East to West solo flight across the Atlantic, went up in new style at Wolfe's Cove, Quebec, recently. Obeying the orders of his physician and the request of his backer, Lord Wakefield, Captain Mollison decided to return to England in the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Britain". The monoplane went, too, and is seen being hoisted over the side of the liner. Inset is Captain Mollison waving a greeting to Montreal Light Aeroplane Club pilots who roared past the Empress of Britain in a flying farewell.
