PRICEVILLE AND VICINITY

PRICEVILLE

A very pleasing pancake party was held on Tuesday evening, the 15th inst., in St. Columba United Church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, when a splendid program was given by a quartette from Flesherston in fine, blended harmony, the personnel of which were Geo Cairns, Rev. Scott, Dr Murray and J. Robertson. Mrs Blackburn accompanied on the piano an opening number, followed by a solo by Mrs Wm Armstrong of Markdale, in costume of "Long, Long Ago." She was accompanied by Prof. Dundas, as was also Miss Verduin Kidd in fine vocal solos. Dr John McArthur of the same town, gave a reminiscence address of old days in Priceville, finishing up with Burns' "A man's a man for a' That" in fine diction. In the encore which followed, he finished up with a verse (or maybe there was two), of a Gaelic song.

Mrs H. B. McLean, our own sweet singer, and W. W. Ramage in duet, "Life's Dream is Over" with Mrs J. C. Harrison accompanying, and the same two in solos. Every selection given by all was apparently appreciated and genuinely enjoyed.

We have purposely withheld the best wine to the last, as that of Miss Dorothy Foster's instrumentals on the piano, fully entitled her to the name of "Queen of Melody." Her manipulation of the keyboard was really remarkably clever.

Rev J. W. Scott gave a fine congratulatory address on the acquisition of Rev Mr Moir and our standing as a church. The foregoing program was twice contributed to, in addition to the encore given.

Rev Mr Bennett, the minister in charge, acted as chairman in a jovial, sunny manner and kept all in good humor. Votes of thanks to performers, to chairman and to ladies, were duly honored. "God Save the King and the benediction by Rev. Scott, closed a fine pleasurable and successful social. The ladies (bless them) are over $30 richer. They deserve it. A visit to the kitchen with four stoves going,—well, we have been in cooler places, but the pan-cakes, "eems" were scrumptious.

They couldn't help but be with the smiling cooks on hand. In comparison to the fowl supper lately given, it compares well in reaching a man's heart through his stomach, with less work and waste entailed and no greasy jobs.

The congregation of St Columba at the evening service were favored by old time friends, Mr and Mrs Geo. Cairns, from near Flesherston, with a fine duet in good harmony. Pleasure was expressed by Rev Mr Bennett, for the kind voluntary given.

The slippery roads were accountable for the bad fall sustained by Mr Wm Aldcorn, resulting in a very sore shoulder.

Mr D. L. McArthur recently returned from a trip to Haliburton, with his truck, where he disposed of 44 barrels of apples off same. His uncle, Mr Angus McArthur accompanied him.

Work on the roofing of the new church has unfortunately been stopped with the covering of snow, making it very "sklent" and dangerous.

The W.M.S. and Willing Helpers met Tuesday in the Hall, with 17 ladies present. Mrs Sutherland, president, presided. A number of ladies ordered 'Glad Tidings' and the 'Home Helpers' and were asked to send in their contributions. Mrs Sutherland then read "Miss Whatling's work in India." This lady delivered a splendid address here a few weeks ago.

Mrs W. Watson presided over the W. H. meeting and opened with singing. Mrs Melvor led in prayer, and the creed was repeated in unison. Miss Mae Stewart gave a reading, "Tale Bearing" and Mrs Sutherland a reading, "The Twilight Hour." Mrs Dan Campbell also gave a humorous reading, "Preserving and Pickling" and were all much enjoyed. It was decided to change the date of Dec. meeting to Friday, 16th, and it was also decided to have Parish Socials for the winter months. Mrs Melvor kindly offered her home for the first one to be held Jan. 6, '33. A program composed of Mrs Dan Campbell, Mrs Boice, Mrs W. Watson, Mrs McBride were to look after the program. Next meeting will be the annual one and each member is supposed to bring someone else along. A novelty lunch will be served. After the National Anthem, Mrs A. Hooper and Mr. Kate McArthur served a bountiful lunch.

Next Sabbath, Rev Dr Melvor's morning subject will be "Signs of these times" and in the evening, "How about the empty pews?" A large crowd is looked for.

Miss Mary Macdonald who has spent the past six weeks at A. L. Hinks' returned Sunday to her home in Praton.

Mrs Marks returned to Ottawa after spending the summer months with her daughter, Mrs Wm McBride at the Station.

Mr John Stohart motored to Toronto Monday.

Mrs Art Richardson and children, Swinton Park, spent a couple of days at Alex Carson's.

Cameron Smellie accompanied Wm Nichol to Toronto Monday with a load of stock.

SWINTON PARK

We are having reasonable weather in the Park, enough snow for good sleighing at present. Still the cars and trucks are running, buggies, cutters, sleighs and wagons and an odd man will go by on foot. But the main thing the general health is good. Farmers are kept busy attending to the stock and getting them used to winter quarters. Women and men are busy killing off the fowl and getting them to market. Prices are low and there are many markets being tried. Some go to Owen Sound and others to Toronto, Grand Valley, Arthur and Orangeville. And we think when trouble and expense is summed up, Swinton Park is about as good as any of them.

Howard Watson came home from his hunting trip last week bringing his deer with him and feeling fine after his trip to the bush.

John Lane spent last week with his brother in Toronto.

Quite a number of the boys are trying trapping and hunting for a pastime—also a moneymaker.

The W.M.S. are busy these days preparing their donation for the needy Indian schools in the west. The managers of S. Park church purpose next week making an every member canvass of the congregation, both for home maintenance and for missions.

Dr Melvor last Sunday, gave a splendid talk on the stewardship of money.

We noticed in the press last week where some hoodlums had stolen $20,000 worth of tobacco from freight trains en route. Those men we think should belong to the preferred class of prisoners as tobacco is simply waste. A man bites off a piece, chews it a bit and spits the bad taste out of his mouth, or another will put in a pipe and smoke it. He also will spit it out and then he has noticed them make a rush to the bar and buy something to take the taste away. Only waste! If this money could be used to lift the depression and help the needy, how much would be saved.

HOPEVILLE

Dr F. T. Brown, Supt of Missions, preached at the services of the United Church Sunday morning and dispensed communion.

A little daughter arrived at the home of Mr and Mrs Allan Stewart, on Sunday last.

News seems scarce since the cold, snowy weather. Folks are quite content to stay by their own fireside.

"FRESH" is being wound up on Tuesday. Mr C. Haw finished at Mr Geo. H. Gilkes' barn.

Mr Nell McEachnie and family visited relatives in Durham a day last week.

Miss Tena Christie visited Mrs. J. Stephen, Cedarville, this week.

The young people of the United Church are practising a play.

Rev Dr Robert Moore returned to Guelph Monday after conducting a two weeks' evangelistic campaign at Bethany chapel.

He presented the gospel message in a very convincing manner.

Mrs J. Hancock visited a couple of weeks with her parents, Mr and Mrs S. Crawford and left for her home in Rochester, N. Y., Wednesday.

Mr Ainsworth McPhail is enjoying a radio installed for him by his three nieces, Miss Agnes Macphail, M.P., Mrs H. Bailey and Mrs Ransley. The voices on the air are certainly a great source of cheer to those coming thru a long trying illness.

"I was a Stranger and you took me in"

(E. A. D. in Wharton Echo)

Dinner was over. A rap came to the kitchen door. A young chap wanted "something to eat." Yes, come in, she says, dinner is just over but we can find something for you. There was still some soup in the pot, good wholesome vegetable soup a bowlful of which was enough for any man. Then there was some cold meat, some bread and tea, and there was a good sized helping of apple dumplings in the pudding bowl. We sent him off with his stomach full and he was appreciative. 24 years of age and during the last couple of years had only worked the odd day wherever he was lucky enough to find it. Last night he slept in the town lock up: to-night he will sleep "God only knows where." He said he was southbound, just south, no particular destination. His folks were all dead and he had no home. For supper he will try the first homely looking door, and nice good chances out of ten he will meet with a friendly, charitable response to his enquiry for a "bite to eat." He is a bum, a victim of the depression.

His daily diary is something like this. Breakfast in the kitchen of a likely looking farm house. Then on for a few hours on the road by foot. Repeat for dinner, then on to supper. Likewise supper. For bed, in the lockup if it happens to be near at hand, if not in the hay mow of a barn.

And so his time goes, day after day. No home, no friends, no job, no money. A foster on whom the police look with suspicion and see that he is kept moving onwards to anywhere so long as it is out of town, out of sight.

As it happens, I have just finished reading "Les Miserables" by Victor Hugo, for the third time and in this man I see the prototype of Jean Valjean. It was a crime to be poor, to be out of work, no particular place of habitation and society shunned such and persecuted him. But to-day, Canada and United States have just such floaters by the thousands going about. Yes, in a census of the citizens of the country made to-day, many to-day, many, many honest willing men would be listed in that column allowing for occupation as "going about" daily from nowhere to nowhere.

And as we respond to their knocks at our kitchen doors, let us be sure and meet them in the spirit of Him who said "As ye have done it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

"SCOTLAND THIS NIGHT"

A Scotch Poem in honor of the patron saint of Scotland, St Andrew, the anniversary of whose birth is Celebrated by Scotchmen the world over, each 30th November (Words by the late James Watson of Normandy, who passed away last week. The song was also set to music by Mr Watson and published in sheet music form.

Auld Scotland this night, to thee we will rally,
The cup in mem'ry and the song in praise;
This night o'er sea in every land
and clime,
On festive board thy honored name
shall shine.

This night retrance,—our steps in fancy roam,
O'er hieghland hills, by lowland cottage home,
And then to thee, in accents forth shall ring,
In patriotic glees this song we'll sing.

Chorus:
Then here's to thee, Scotland, the
land that we love,
The land of the brave and the free:
Long may she stand, with banner in hand,
Britannia united to thee.

Auld Scotland this night, to honor
thy name,
A song of tribute to auld Scotia's
fame;
A song in praises of her mountain
glens,
Where native Pibroch thrills and clarion bends.

The land whose hills our noblest
names can claim,
Her sons in science, arms and art
maintain,
A name and place upon historic page,
And lyric bards have sung to ev'ry
age.

Let god will this night flow freely
to all,
St. Patrick and St. George's name
we call
To join with us in social song and glee,
Our sympathies unite and brothers
be.

Again in loyal song repeat the theme of England's glory and of Scotland's
fame,
May the Thistle, Rose and Sham-
rock entwine,
Emblems of unity, peace ever thine.

IN DAYS OF YORE

25 YEARS AGO

From Review file, Nov. 1, 1907

A number of the more serious damage claims against the C.P.R., arising out of the Caledon wreck, in September, was settled during the past week. Some of the claims so settled, with the amounts we understand:

David Madill, Ceylon, $2700
Mrs Wright, Fiesherston, $3100
M. K. Richardson, Fiesherston, $2700.

Mr Brander Priceville, $3000
Mrs Goff, Markdale, $1700
Born, in Durham, on the 15th inst.

To Mr and Mrs Frank Hind, a son, Mrs Gregg (nee Alla Patterson), was a guest of relatives in Bunnessan for a few days and left Monday, in company with her aunt, Mrs Heartwell, for her home in Michigan.

Sunday, Nov. 17th, St. Paul's Church in Egremont, was dedicated to the worship of Almighty God by the Right Reverend, the Lord Bishop of Huron.

Dr Groves, Pergus, was up last week and performed operations upon Wm Smiley, Jr. and Mrs A. Robertson. Mrs Geo Finney went to Stratford hospital last week for an operation and at last accounts was holding her own.

Intense sympathy was felt over town when it was learned that Mr Geo. Spurling had been prostrated by an illness of an apoplectic nature.

Mr Walpole has sold his bus and dray business to Mr Arnold Noble, who is having a sale and moving to town.

Chesley carried a by-law to spend $38,000 on a waterworks system.

Fine weather prevailed on Sunday for the Presbyterian Anniversary services, with Rev. J. M. Glassford of Guelph as special speaker. Miss Jean Brown handled the solo part of the anthem in the morning. Mr J. P. Telford contributed a solo in morning and Miss Margaret Hunter in the evening.

15 YEARS AGO

From Review file, Nov 22, 1917

Mr and Mrs David Allan recently heard from their son Johnstone, to the effect that he has been given the Corporal's rank. He is still in Seaforth, England, and is on the staff of the Canadian Pioneer School instructing in trench digging and barb-wiring. He expects a few days leave at Christmas to visit Ireland and wishes to thank the ladies of No 9 Glenelg, for a box which he much appreciated.

Through energetic campaign work it is confidently expected the amount set to be subscribed for Grey Co. for the victory loan to be $1,500,000, and this to be easily reached this month. Durham town. A. H. Jackson, the district chairman informs us, has already subscribed about $75,000, and the estimate for the district $175,000, will likely be surpassed.

Mr Stewart McArthur took seriously ill while at a party at Arthur Edgely's and next day was operated upon successfully for appendicitis by Dr. Groves.

2nd con. Bentiack North: Mr Colin Ray demonstrated the superiority of man's inventions over brute force, when in three days with his stoning machine, he lifted and carried off six huge boulders from Thos Hill's fields.

Mr and Mrs Thos Tucker of South Glenelg, have lately installed a fine piano in their home.
