Hospital for Sick Children

67 COLLEGE ST., TORONTO 2 (Country Branch, Thistletown)

December, 1932. The prolonged period of hard times has created a most difficult problem for Ontario's world-famous Hospital for Sick Children, which only the henevolent public can solve. Here it

The Hospital has nursed in its cots this year 7,694 small sufferers, an increase of 687 over the total of the previous year. In addition 84,202 treatments were given in the great Out-Patient Department, an increase were recorded. In the previous year there was a similar growth in the demand for the merciful ministrations of the Hospital. While all this has been going on the amounts of the donations from the kind-hearted have decreased by many thousands of dollars, creating the situation of far more to be done and far less to do it with. The statutory grants obtained by the Hospital fall much short of being sufficient to pay for the actual cost of maintenance of the little patients and each additional patient means an added deficit. The task of bridging the gap between the cost of operation and operating income has usually been accomplished by contributions from the benevolent. While the Hospital has retained the majority of its friends who kindly donate to its work yearly, and is continually adding new ones, donations diminished to a somewhat alarming extent in the response to last year's appeal for funds and there has been little improvement in that respect through-out the year. It is unthinkable that any child needing the humane service provided by the Hospital should be refused. The Trustees are anxious and can only hope that the kind-hearted people of the province will see them through the difficulty by a most generous response to the Public benevolence has built the Hospital for Sick Children to the proud eminence of being the finest institution of its kind in the world Its country branch at Thistletown is terested in child welfare come from all parts of the globe to inspect it. Any child in the Province of Ontario, deformed or diseased, is eligible for admittance to this wonderful institution, where the very finest treatment known to medical and surgical science is at once available. There very best that any Hospital can give is placed within easy reach of the

Now, more urgently than ever before, is the Hospital in need of contributions and no amount would be considered too small. Please ask to help. Tell them that the story of the Hospital, covering 57 years, is and ward to ward It is the story of battle constantly waged against disease and deformity, with all the advancing resources of the medical and surgical sciences. It is a story demands which have ever exceeded the financial resources, but which have always been met by generous response to appeals for aid. But for this generosity the Hospital would many times have been bankrupt. Ask your readers, please, to prevent it from becoming so now.

> Faitnfully yours. DOUGLAS S. ROBERTSON,

Frank Fedy, aged 22, son of Mr and Mrs Alex Fedy, Mildmay,, will be a world figure if scientfic authorities confirm his claim to an invention which makes possible the transmission of electricity without the use of wires. The practical working out of Mr Fedy's theory is attracting widespread attention. In Toronto certain engineers placed their stamp of aproval on his invention. What he claims to have actually put in practice would result in the revolution of modern power and industrial systems, the scrapping of millions of dollars of equipment and a new era for districts too isolated for ordinary distribution.
