The second session of Parliament, was held on Wednesday night last, when several embryo politicians aired their views on "unemployment and back to the land." The member for ing up and getting used to one's own p in a few appreciative words:

vo'ce in public speaking. Much sympathy is felt for Bertha James In her fall on slippery friendly mission, breaking her left arm at the wrist. She is now staying with her sister, Mrs Bowes, Markdale to be near treatment. The joke of "sinners standing in slippery places" could be applied here. "So it seems", said the fallen to the minister, who quoted it, "but I can't."

The young people of the village and surrounding country are nothing if not enthusiastic, with a stick-to-itiveness that is commendable in forming a fine skating rink, regulation size. There are in the neighborhood, 25 or more, available to lend zest to the sport and health of skating. They have erected a commodious, heated and lighted dressing room. Mattie McConkey is president: Mrs Boyce, Sec'y: F. Shackleton, Treas.

Challenges have been received and given and accepted. With severaal former experienced players in town, an enlivening season may be assurply the flooring.

Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights will be open to children from 4 to 6. on Saturday from 2 to 6: other nights for hockey practice, carnivals, matches etc.

"Burns' Nicht," unavoidably held on the Thursday night, instead of the 25th, passed off very successfully with a grand turn out and good program. The Haggis was duly piped in by Angus McCormick and marched around the tables, but owing to the mishandling of assistants, the with a bogus Haggis, fell off the showther of Mr McGillivray, obeying the law of gravitation of course, and went to smash. But never mind ye, it wasna' Friday, the 13th

The address by Burns to the rea Haggis, was given by Miss Weir in its first verse. The tables duly filled and given justice to, and attended by Priceville's fairest ladies and stalwart young men.

While the audience were gathering the young, newly-formed orchestra, with Mrs J C Harrison at plano, Mrs J. G. Whyte, Messrs S. Muir and D. Reiley on violins, Miss Mary McKinnon and Mr Mattie McConkey on guitars, provided some fine music of a Scotch flavor, the audience joining in

A junior choir of 13 young school girls under the training of Mrs J. C. Harrison, gave two fine Scotch selections: the 'Life of Robert Burns' by Mr Will McKechnie and read by Mr visit to places of interest in Scot-M. Williams and Mrs Peter Muir. "Ye Banks and Braes", the former also contributing 'Bonnie Mary of Argyle'. A recitation by Miss Frances Reiley in 'He was Scotch and so was she" took well. An address by Rev. Mr Moir gave experiences and pressions of his trip through Scotland -of his visiting Auld Alloway Kirk and the 'Brig o' Doon', where Tam O' Shanter's mare lost her ain grey clear voice.

Two Gaelic songs were given Mr Neil McLeod which, on show of hands asked for, quite a few understood. An address by Farguhar Oli ver. M.P.P., referred to the heartfelt sympathy of Burns in his poetry and its influence on humanity-an influence undying. Expressions of regret was given by the chairman on absence of Mrs H. B. McLean through indisposition. W. W. Ramage sang "Scotland Yet", and in reply gave four additional verses of the 'Address to the Haggis." Later he sang "Loch-na-gar." The choir, minus two of its good members, was assisted by Mrs Jos. McKee and Miss Catherine O'Neil in the ladies' section, while the male section was represented by two Lowlanders, Messrs T. Weir and W. Ramage and W. McKechnie and A. McCormick, H B McLean, A. Mc-Millan and J. McGillivray - Scotch enough to warble out 'Bonnie Bundee' 'Cameron Men' and 'A Hundred Pip ers an' a' and a' with some force and vim. The circle of unity and friendship was formed under great difficulties, in the crowded condition, and Auld Lang Syne sung as a parting salute.

Proceeds amounted to over $40.00. Rev. Dr McIvor while acknowledging the invitation to Burns night, expressed his inability to attend, owing to a prevous engagement elsewhere.

We had the pleasure of listening in on our young friend, Alex. Sim, of Holstein, on the radio, who, as Premier of the Older Boys' Parliament of Ontario, gave a fine address to the many various Tuxis and Trail Ranger groups. It was good and to the Congratulations.

The services at St Columba on Sunday last were well attended and the congregation listened appreciatively to the fine discourses Rev J A Moir, dealing with the temptations of Jesus. His being led into the wilderness for 40 days and being ministered unto by the angels. And tho' tempted like as we are, yet without sin, led there to plan and prepare for His work. If we only had the consciousness of God with us, we would be fortified against sin. To set up our will against God is our temptation: Christ overcame all temptation by taking His stand as God had revealed. The great aim of the temptation was to get Christ to fall in His faith in God and take the world's way, making this His will in opposition to God's. Jesus met the temp-McGillivray and supplemented by a ters with the Sword of the Spirit, the word of God. God had spoken and that settled the matter for Him. land.
