PRICEVILLE AND VICINITY

PRICEVILLE

The session of parliament held here by the erudite young people of St. Columba Y. P. S. was duly prorogued last Wednesday night, after an enlightening session on the benefits of a flat rate to farmers by the Hydro. These sessions have proved interesting, enlightening and instructive as well, necessitating reading up and asking information and getting used to the sound of their own voice in public speaking.

The play 'Civil Service' in the basement of the new church, came off very satisfactory on Tuesday evening last to a good-sized appreciative audience each one doing their part well and netting some $80.

Miss Jane Wright, an experienced teacher of many years, is not recovering as well as many would wish. Her niece, Miss Patton, is assisting her Aunt Jimima in nursing her just now.

The prevailing fine weather together with the increasing strength of Old Sol, is playing 'shov' with the flooring of the new rink. The boys are wishing for just another chance to display their embryo powers.

We regret to report the mishap that befel Mr. Colin A. McLean, in falling from a load of hay on Monday and as a consequence is confined to his room for a while.

Mrs J. A. Macfarlane (nee Anna Mary), his daughter, arrived home here on the Thursday previous and is a welcome visitor at this time to the home and her many friends of the neighborhood.

Friends of Mrs Wm McBride will extend to her their sympathy in the passing of their mother, Sara Darroch, widow of the late John Henry Marks. Mrs Marks passed away at the home of son George, at Burlington, Vermont, U.S.A. and spent most of the summer with her daughter here.

Mr Wm Nichol took a truck load of stock to Toronto Monday.

Mr and Mrs Henry Eckhardt spent a couple of days visiting Mr and Mrs Edgar Patterson.

Miss Mabel Nichol spent the last of her Friday night with the young people presented their play 'Civil Service' in the basement of the new church.

The night was ideal and the place was full to the doors. There was a fine cast of characters in the play, and was in three acts and humorous, portraying a series of wrong identities, each player doing his or her part in a very realistic manner. The characters were Misses Donalds, Nichol, Erma McLean, Nellie McLean, Olive McMeeken, Monica Lambert, Mrs Elmer Watson, Messrs Robt Whitaker, Ray McLean, Wm McBride, John McMeekin, Brady Irwin.

Miss Johnston gave some fine instrumental music between acts, also Master Kenneth Nichol sang "Drink to me only with thine Eyes" and accompanied on piano by sister Jessie. Program consisted of a humorous reading "The cow" by Gordon McGillivray; a Scotch reading by Pat McMillen; 'The auction sale' by Freddie Arnett and 'the old barnyard' by Donalds Nichol. Walter Renwick sang several good songs to his own guitar accompaniment. Community singing and music by orchestra was enjoyed by all. Mr Nichol treated the Club to a very fine solo with Miss Jessie at piano. Mr and Mrs Nell Macfarlane invited the club to meet at their home on Mar 6th. A humorous Gazette was read by Bill McKechnie. Refreshments were served and a social time spent.

At the Willing Helpers' meeting, on Tuesday, it was decided to have a St Patrick's Supper and social on March 16th.

Mrs J B Dobson, Toronto, attended the funeral of her aunt, Mrs Flora McDonald, who died at the home of Mr and Mrs Donald McLean.

IN MEMORIAM

SWINTON PARK
While we in the Park have had a great variety of weather during the month of February, yet it has not been extreme, —but we think very trying on the health. Many are suffering from colds.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs Wm Kineman Sr. is at present confined to her bed and hope that with the coming brighter days, her strength may be renewed. Though in her 93rd year, she has been able to attend church many Sundays during the winter.

Jan Sturrock has had a severe attack of the flu but is making recovery. We also notice that many of the children are absent from school these days. We hear of none being seriously ill, but not feeling up to the mark.

On Wednesday, the marriage of Donald McCannell, son of Angus McCannell and Ethel Haw, daughter of Mrs Elizabeth Haw and the late Herbert Haw, is to be consummated, and a grand reception for the young couple is to be held at the Haw home that evening.

Then on Friday of this week the Orange Society are holding their At Home, when the Salem young people will present their play 'Mother Mine', after which there will be a dance and good social time.

Mr Neil McLeod was most of last week at Hanover, attending meetings of Grey and Bruce Ins. Co., also visiting friends.

Your humble scribe and lady have enjoyed some fine evenings out lately, through the kindness of good neighbors during the month.

ZION

COOK — McNALLY
The marriage took place Wednesday at the Queen St Parsonage, of Miss Alberta Pearl McNally, second daughter of the late Mr and Mrs Thos McNally and Mr Frederick George Cook. Rev W. C. Almack officiated. The bride looked charming in a white georgette crepe gown with radium lace trimmings and white shoes and hose.

The young couple left immediately after the ceremony for Schomberg, Toronto and other points, the bride travelling in a light navy dress and navy coat, trimmed with black seal with hat and other accessories to match. The groom's gift to the bride was a cabinet of flat silverware.

On their return they will begin home-making on the groom's farm in Glenelg.

Miss Gladys Firth returned home Monday, after attending the short course in Durham.

Mr and Mrs J. C. Cook visited a few days last week with the former's sister, Mrs W J McFadden, Orange Valley.

Mr Ray McClocklin was operated upon in Toronto last week for colic. He is doing as well as can be expected.

Miss Reta Glenelg, Cherry Grove spent the week end with her sister, Mrs Jas. Peart.

Mr and Mrs Henry Beaton and son Gordon, visited the first of week with Mr and Mrs Jas Peart.

Sun Life Assurance Co. Shows Steady Growth

In a year when business statements are on the whole, far from cheering the published experience of life insurance makes heartening reading.

While other investments have too often proved disappointing, every policy held in our life insurance companies is still worth one hundred cents on the dollar, with substantial additions in accumulating dividends.

The steady flow of insurance funds into productive industry is one of the greatest mainstays of business to-day. But few realize the extent of this financial support in the case of individuals. Payments to policy holders and their dependents during the year, for instance, by the Sun Life of Canada, climbed to over $108,000,000. A portion of this represents money that the assured could obtain only on the special exigencies of a distressing period.

These and other conditions during the past three and four years have subjected life insurance companies to a most exacting test. The war and the influenza epidemic by abnormally increasing mortalities, produced a situation against which human foresight could scarcely provide. The financial catastrophe by which they were so closely followed created conditions that only the strongest institutions could withstand.

Yet, during the three years in question, the business of the Sun Life Company increased by nearly five hundred million dollars and its assets by nearly three million dollars. The number of its policy holders increased, during that period, by over two hundred thousand and now amounts to nearly a million. This resiliency under abnormal strain is both amazing and reassuring to the man in the street.

One explanation of the ability of an insurance company to meet all its obligations under such trying conditions is that its obligations are so scientifically estimated that it is able to provide for all expenditures out of the ordinary revenue. This renders it unnecessary to dispose of assets during a period of depressed prices and makes the fluctuation of security prices a matter of no special concern.

The report of the Sun Life, refers to the fact that the total of its assurances in force—nearly three billion dollars—will be payable during the present generation. If to this huge sum be added the amount payable during the same period by other insurance companies the wholesome effect upon the economic and social situation in the coming years can scarcely be over-estimated.

IN DAYS OF YORE

15 YEARS AGO

From Review file Feb. 28, 1918

On Monday, Miss Jean Derby of S. Bentinck, left for Portage la Prairie, where she will commence duties as a missionary nurse at the Indian school there.

The dwelling of Messrs Chas. and Angus McCormack at the Rocky, about 3½ miles north of Durham, was burned to the ground in quick time on Sunday morning.

Daniel Knechtel, Hanover, President of the Knechtel Mfg Co., split 2½ cords of wood one day recently. Pretty fair for a young chap 74 years.

Pte Ewing Nichol, son of Rev. Peter Nichol, has received the King's Medal for bravery. He enlisted with the Machine Gun Section of the Western Ont. Battery, recruited at London.

A memorial service in honor of the late Earl Vollett, will be held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning next.

Messrs Edward and Wm Burt visited their brother James here on Monday, en route to Owen Sound, where they have profitable employment as moulders with the Corbett firm.

The compilation of the soldier vote has now been completed and has resulted in the turn-over of certain Liberal members who were elected by the civilian vote bringing the government's majority up to 60. The soldier vote went very strongly for the National Cons. government as was expected. Mr Ball's majority in South East Grey is now 1052.

Glenelg Centre: Mrs John O. Greenwood who last week took her little son Gordon to Toronto, to consult a hospital doctor regarding the child's ailment, met herself with an unfortunate accident, falling on the slippery ice there and breaking her leg. She was removed to the hospital.

Holstein: Mr Will Aitken's little girl, aged about a year and a half was operated upon by Dr Groves and Dr. Malr for pleurisy.

25 YEARS AGO

From Review file Feb. 27, 1908

The question of Armory site is not yet fixed. An option of part of the McKeechic 'Park', was obtained, —$1400.00. The council met Friday but we understand nothing was done. The building we believe has to be 40x50 ft. with space enough behind to add 50 ft more, if desired. Such a building placed on the present Market ground, green lawn and cannons in front, flag staff, etc, would have a commanding appearance and the street leading past, would render available two building lots in the rear, so we are assured on good authority, which would sell for a sum that would help to meet the cost of a site for a new Town Hall.

Mr and Mrs G. Ledingham and daughter Eula, Vancouver, who have been visiting relatives here for the past two months, left Saturday for their home. It is four years since Mr and Mrs Ledingham had the pleasure of a good sleigh ride, but after the recent snow storm we had, they were quite satisfied to return to their own moderate climate.

Miss Kate and Mr Jas. Cameron came home Saturday to visit their father in his final illness.

Miss Dick, Durham, has been visiting her brother and sister, J. Dick and Mrs S. Tait in Thornbury for the past few weeks.

Miss Robena Fletcher returned to her military position in Toronto, after a month's vacation at her home at Welbeck.

H. H. Miller M. P. has been notified by Deputy Post Master General that his request for a letter box at the G.T.R. Station at Durham has been acceded to and that it will be erected at once.
