Mrs Timothy Eaton, wife of the founder of the great metropolitan store, has passed away, but her many gracious acts and deeds to members of her late husband's staff, will always live. Kindness never die.

Dr Hugh McCormick, a graduate of the Walkerton Model School and a former teacher at S. S. No. 6, Brant, but now practising his profession in Wisconsin, was here over the week formerly, Agnes Brown, also came on a visit to his sister, Miss Kate McCormick, who continues in a serious condition at the home of her sister, Mrs H. A. Stephan, here.

Jig Saw Puzzle Social Knox Church Auxiliary held a Jig Saw Puzzle Social in the schoolroom of the church on March 16. There was a fairly good attendance. Miss Dorothy Pickering won the ladies' prize and Frank Goodchild the men's prize. A short program, consisting of a reading by Mrs Sparling and a solo by Miss Winnie Blyth followed. Light refreshments were served. Over $9 was realized.

Tax Inspectors Here Four inspectors from the Toronto Division, Income Tax Dept., of the Dominion Government, dropped in on the business places in town Tuesday, and also called on a few others to check up on income tax payments. It meant trouble for any who failed to make a return, or whose books revealed any glaring irregularities. Almost all passed satisfactory inspection but we learn one or two were "nipped."

Bunessan Superior Club Bunessan Superior Club met on March 6, at home of the Macfarlane members. There were 23 members and several visitors present. The roll call was answered by a Scotch joke. The program consisted of readings by Donalda Nichol, Jean McGillivray; singing by the orchestra and community singing by Mrs Annabelle McArthur gave a talk on the 'Short Courses' and Pat McMillan prepared and read a paper on 'National Money'. Both were interesting and instructive. Miss Margaret Lawrence treated the Club to some lovely singing. A humorous Gazette was prepared and read by Frank McArthur. The next meeting is to be held at Bunessan school on March 20. Refreshments were served and a social time spent.

Allan Park Bx Social Allan Park U.F.W.O. box social in Ebenezer school Friday last, March 17, was a marked success. In spite of the fact that side-walks were in rather bad condition, and there being neither good wheeling or sleighing, a goodly gathering was present. The program lasted for two and a half hours and was made up of readings, plays, skits, sketches and solos. There was also some fine musical numbers. Geo. McCulloch acted as chairman of meeting and extended an invitation to the young men to attend the next meeting of Junior Farmers', of which he is President. At close of program, W. G. McCulloch acted as auctioneer and quickly disposed of 25 or more boxes. The highest bid went for 9c and the lowest 2c. There were some pretty boxes and the ladies are to be congratulated on this most successful night. In spite of road conditions over $10 was made

Golden Wedding at Swinton Park

Mr and Mrs John Aldcorn, Swinton Park, mark the day at home of son-in-law, R. E. Heard.

Tuesday, 21st March, 1883, marked an important milestone in the lives of Mr and Mrs John Aldcorn, Swinton Park, for on that date, this highly esteemed couple took the vows that made them man and wife. Since that date, they have been respected residents of Proton Township, having been privileged to watch the progress of the community from a pioneer's district, to the present enviable position it holds today as one of the highest assessed townships of Grey County.

In all these years, Mr and Mrs Aldcorn have taken an active part in the life of the community and that their friendliness and public spiritedness has been appreciated, was evident by the many that came to wish them well on Tuesday. Both bride and groom were deeply touched by the many kind expressions extended, — expressions that were genuine and from the heart and the kind that impress on one, that despite her shortcomings, this old world is not such a bad place after all.

The family party sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner at 5 p.m. the day in question and in the evening open house was kept for neighbors and friends. The honored pair received a beautiful bouquet of yellow roses from a few intimate friends and many letters and some telegrams of congratulations from distant friends.

Mr Aldcorn was born at Valcartier, Quebec, — practically on the farm where the Canadian boys trained, previous to leaving for England.

When quite young, possibly three or four years old, he moved with his parents to lot 17, Proton Tp, his brother William still owning the home farm. Mrs Aldcorn, who was born on a farm near Valcartier, and later with her people, settled in Howick township, about eight miles west of Harrison. Fifty years ago they were married by a Rev. Mr Muir and settled at Boothville in Egremont Township.

After some time here, they moved to lot 2, on 17, Proton, where they farmed until fourteen years ago, when they sold out and moved to Swinton Park. The fifty year span represents many hours of laborious work and worry, but like the sun behind a cloud, the cares and worries are forgotten in the light of the sunny afternoon. Mr and Mrs Aldcorn are now enjoying.

To them were born eight children, five dying in infancy. The three surviving are Mrs W. J. McMillan, of Priceville; Mrs J. H. Kennedy, of Shelburne; Mrs R. E. Heard, Proton. There are ten grandchildren.

Mr and Mrs Aldcorn have been staunch pillars of Swinton Park Presbyterian Church and their influence for good in the community has radiated far beyond its confines. They are both in fair health and the Rev. Lewis is but echoing the wishes of many, when we wish for them many happy days to come.

Carnival Struck Wet Weather

Considering the weather conditions outside, when rain fell intermittently all afternoon and evening, the masquerade carnival in Durham rink on Monday night, was quite successful. It was held under the auspices of the D. D. D. girls' ball club, and a splendid sheet of ice was available.

It was deemed lacrosse on skates might cause injuries to players, so broomball was substituted. The married men apparently had more broom experience, for they trimmed the single chaps 2-0.

Mrs G. R. Padfield, J. N. Murdock and R. E. Saunders were the judges of the masqueraders and awarded the prizes as follows: Bride and Groom, Grace Becker, Ina McDonald.

Ladies' National, Marjorie Tucker Pat couple, Iva Sibbald, Vera Collinson.

Best original costume, Mrs J. Tobin Girls' comic, Alix Tobin Emily Pinkerton.

Boys' comic, Herb Renwick Boys' fancy, Harry Schenk Men's race, V. Goodchild; Ladies' race, Elsie Goodchild; Obstacle race, Victor Goodchild.

A moccasin dance on the ice followed, music being supplied by local musicians. The girls will realize a few dollars over expenses on the venture.

A musicale will be given in the Queen St. United Church, on Friday, April 21. Program will be announced later.

Interesting Talk on Roads and Roadmaking

W. R. Alder, Highways Superintendent, Addresses Royal Arch Masons.

At the regular convocation of Durham Chapter, Royal Arch Masons on Monday evening, the companions were treated to an enlightening story of roads and their development down to the present day, from one well qualified to narrate it. Ex. Com. W. R. Alder, Superintendent of Government Highways in this section of the province.

Man's first roads, said the speaker, were trails through the bush, but as man developed roads were found necessary, and ever since, good roads have been a big factor in any nation's development. About 4000 B. C. the Egyptians constructed the first roads we have record of to convey material for building the pyramids, about 1900 B. C. the Babylonians were road builders, then the Carthaginians around 1000-800 B. C., and the Romans about 600 B. C. These were all great powers and foremost in their day in road construction. The Roman Empire built 50,000 miles of road, one main highway running through France to English channel, then up through England to Scottish border.

It was the middle of the 18th century before the first movement to repair and have improved roads was made, when Telfer and MacAdam had the inspiration to lay down cobblestones and blocks of stone.

From then down to the present day is the second epoch in road building, and, continued Mr Alder, "We have achieved a development in the science of road building in Ontario today." It has come in four stages.

First was the old pioneer road, through the bush. Some of these, covered with earth. The second stage was when roads were widened to 16 or 20 feet and gravelled; these are mostly township roads now, and this era of main highways closed about 1890 to 1901. The townships found they were too small a unit to properly look after main roads, and the next step was when these were made county roads and widened to 26 feet. In 1901 the first Government subsidy was given.

In 1915, the Ontario Dept. of Highways was formed, when the Province took over the trunk roads and in 1925 the Gov't subsidy on these Provincial highways was increased to 80%.

In third stage of improved road-building, crushed stone was introduced, with smaller stone on top, then covering of stone dust and water, and rolled down. The advent of the motor car changed the complexion of things, however. It sucked up the dust from between the stones and a surface treatment to hold dust in was applied and these roads were called water-bound macadam. Trucks and more and faster speeded cars road, when bituminous material was forced between the stones. This road ended the third stage.

The fourth stage — our present main highways — demanded a higher type of road to withstand heavy traffic. Waterbound and penetration macadam have become obsolete, and the fourth stage — roads recently built, are of mixed macadam, of concrete, or of bituminous asphalt on concrete base, the latter two kinds being laid for Durham's pavements.

Costs of these roads are roughly; waterbound macadam $14000 per mile; penetration macadam $19000 per mile; mixed macadam, $18,700; concrete $17,600; and asphalt on concrete $28,000 per mile. This is much cheaper than in U. States. Closeness of material is a big factor in cost of road-building and the kind of road is usually governed by the local material on hand.

The past year saw several new improvements in pavement laying; expansion joints to prevent irregular cracking of the pavement by frost or heat; longer shoulders are being made, with a 3 inch drop first 5 feet, then a 6 inch drop next 5 feet, which puts the ditch now near the fence.

Grading is improved and stronger culverts obtained when the aggregate is washed concrete.

Canada has 425,000 miles of roads, of which 2% has reached stage 3, and 4. 155,000 miles are of stage 2, and 270,000 miles still in early stage. Ontario has 42,500 miles of township roads, 8,500 miles of County roads, of which 800 are paved. Our Provincial Highways total 2977 miles of which 2318 are paved, half of them being of concrete. From 1903 to 1931, the sum of $286,000,000 has been spent in Ontario in building and improving roads.

What are advantages of good roads? From a social standpoint they are a comfort to travel on, we visit further afield, and get to know each other better. Internationally, good roads play a leading part in promoting friendship and understanding between the peoples of different nations. By making easier and cheaper transport, they are a factor in reducing the cost of living.

Operating costs of a car are about 3c a mile; if in eliminating curves and straightening road, a mile can be saved, it means a saving of $15 a day for 500 cars traffic. It is worth an expenditure of $60,000 if a leading road can be shortened by 1 mile.

How much is saved by paving a road? Fuel costs of running a car on a gravel road are 1.43 cents per mile; on concrete, 1.09 cents; tires last much longer on pavements making their cost .52 cents a mile more on gravel. This totals .86 cents, or nearly 1c per mile saved motorists using pavements, which means a saving of $900 a mile saved to motorists and $440 a mile saved in maintenance in a season. With 1500 vehicles a day traffic, a paved road will pay for itself in 5 years.

A third advantage of paved roads, is to encourage tourists. In 1931, 215 million dollars was spent in Canada by tourists, 100 millions of it in Ontario. In 1932 the total was a little less. Ontario is a tourist's paradise and it behooves any town or village to cater to the requirements of tourists, and make the most of the natural beauty in and surrounding it.

Investiture of Boy Scouts on Wednesday Evening

Commander E. T. Jones visits the Group here and gives them some wholesome Advice.

Wednesday night, March 22, was a bad night for a press reporter to be out of his or her office, but the Boy Scout organization in town was being honored with a visit from their Dominion Field Secretary, Commander E. T. Jones, and the call was not to be resisted. The Commander is small in stature, but large in heart and the enthusiasm and energy that is displayed in his work, has done much for its success. He has been ten years in the service in Canada, but grew up with the work in England. The parents of Boy Scouts and I.O.D.E. members comprised the audience who were to witness the presencing of a large Union Jack to the Boy Scouts from Canadian Greys' Chapter, I.O.D.E. Miss Margaret L. Hunter, regent, did the honors, who in a neat speech, told of the interest the chapter have in the boys. Ronald Rudd, Troop leader, conveyed their thanks.

Rev. J. Billingsley, as leader of the movement in town, was chairman of the evening. On the platform with him were local members of the Boy Scout Group Com, viz; Messrs G. C. Webster, J. J. Smith, G. R. Padfield, Robt Burnet, Rev W. C. Almack, Mesdames Grant and Webster, Scout Master Reg. Sleds, also behind a big chair and with Troop Leader Ronald Rudd, did the honors of the night. Commander Jones gave an interesting talk on incidents from his experiences in Boy Scout life and Rev. Mr Almack also told of the benefits a Boy Scout derives.

The investiture of the boys' necessary to becoming a Boy Scout, was put through first by the Commander to Reg. Steed, who in turn invested the boys with the oath and pledge. Four patrol leaders were also invested with their authority, viz Robert Webster, Jas Sullivan, Lewis McComb and Gordon Grant. Three boys also receive second class badges, emblematic of certain feats, Robert Webster, Jas Sullivan and Lewis McComb.

The National Anthem closed an inspirational evening.

FIVE KNEW — BUT

When President Franklin Roosevelt took the press into his confidence and admitted that no one understood the gold standard, he aroused the indignation of a number of Torontonians.

Within four hours after the publication of the President's admission of ignorance, no fewer than five persons telephoned the Mail and Empire to explain just what the gold standard really means. Unfortunately for President Roosevelt, the information cannot be sent along to him.

Each of the five informers had a different explanation. — Mail and Empire, Toronto.

It is Spring by the calendar, but what have we instead?
