The Arts Club of Holstein provided a musical treat for the community last Friday evening in the form of a Musicale held in the United Church. The following artists from took charge of the program: Miss Jessie T. Hill, pianist; Miss Clova Kitching, soloist; and Miss Jean Wolfe,

Miss Hill gave an address on "The Appreciation of Music" in which she showed that many of the sounds that we call music are to be found in the sounds and noises we hear day by day. She described the various types of music and gave examples to show tunes are built up as words are brought together to form sentences. When she touched on the Folk songs and their origin, Miss Clova Kitching sang a group of three numbers, a French Canadian, a German and an English folk song. Miss Hill played a series of folk songs and pointed out their similarity to compositions of the old masters. She also demonstrated to the audience the close resemblance between some modern songs and those of earlier composers and pointed out that in most cases these likenesses are accidental. Miss Hill enlightened the audience on the difference between Oratorio and Opera and to illustrate her remarks had Miss Kitching sing in English and German "Down in the forest something stirred" and Bachs Choral entitled "My Heart ever Joyful." The soloist also sang very effectively part of the Oratorio 'Samson and Delilah', Miss Jean Wolfe rendered a typical Sonata from Beethoven and later in the program played three dances to depict various moods of the composers A fine audience listened attentively throughout the program and greatly enjoyed this informal evening. "The quets in appreciataion of their efforts Prayer in unison. Scripture reading relation to goods and services. the National Anthem.

Mr Woodsworth claimed that under the Bank Act by means of charters, Canada has placed the financial system which is fundamental to the whole business life of the country. under the control of an irresponsible group of people,-a situation which, although it may be very good for the banks, is disastrous for the country.

The Prime Minister in his reply maintained his belief in sound money practices and expressed his faith in the impending World Economic Conference as the start of a crusade for world business recovery. The gov't had one fixed purpose during the last three years, said Mr Bennett,to maintain the integrity of Canadian institutions and this, he claimed, had been accomplished "as well if not better" than by any other country in
