KNOX CORNERS

Mr and Mrs Elgin Wilton visited on Sunday with Mr and Mrs Earl Mead of Egremont.

A good congregation on Sunday. Our pastor in his sermon, compared God to the dew. In the Old Testament we find the promise "I will be as the dew unto Israel." As the dew comes to refresh the thirsty lands so the spirit of the living God will cheer the hearts of men when He is allowed to enter. The dew comes in the quiet hours of night and so the Holy Spirit often comes in our hours of sorrow and darkness to give us new hope and gladness. There was a large Bible class with Mrs John Marshall as teacher for the summer.

Mr and Mrs Jno. Marshall Jr. and Miss Annie Marshall, visited on Sunday with Mrs Schrieber of Arthur. The latter returned with them for a visit with her sister.

Mr and Mrs A. Noble and children of Bentinck, visited on Sunday with Mr and Mrs Dawson Marshall.

THE ROLL CALL

MRS EARL REID

Death again visited this community on Wednesday, May 17, when Mrs Earl Reid passed away in Louise Marshall Hospital, Mount Forest. Although Mrs Reid had been in poor health for several months, her death was very unexpected.

Deceased was a faithful member of the Women's Missionary Church and of the Women's Missionary Society. But her greatest work was in her home, and there the loss will be most keenly felt. She was possessed of a lovable and self-sacrificing disposition, and the nieces and nephew whom she mothered, feel the loss as keenly as her own. While we wonder why a mother was taken, we remember it is not given us to understand God's ways. Her pastor, Rev. Mr Aitken, who conducted the funeral service, left a comforting message in the words, "The Lord needed her for a higher service."

Mrs Reid was a daughter of the late Douglas and Janet McMillan and was born in Egremont Township, on May 18, 1890. Thirteen years ago she was wedded to Earl Reid.

Surviving are her husband and three young girls: Blanche, Earlima and Luella; a sister, Mrs Herminston and a brother, George, of Normanby, Tom and John in Egremont and James in the West.

The funeral was held Friday from her late residence and was largely attended. The following neighbors acted as pall bearers: Robt Aitken, John Main, James Smith, Geo Alles, Thos. Ellis, Arthur Eccles.

BANK OF MONTREAL

CROP REPORT

GENERAL

Owing to a backward Spring, agricultural conditions throughout the Dominion have been delayed.

One to three weeks later than usual, but conditions in other respects especially in regard to moisture are generally favorable. In the Prairie provinces the seed bed generally is in good condition and moisture conditions are better than for the past few years but warm weather is needed to promote growth. Pastures in most parts of the Dominion have wintered well, but in Southern Sask. and Manitoba it is reported that growth so far has been negligible. Orchards in Ontario, British Columbia and the Maritime Provinces have also wintered satisfactorily. In Quebec province seeding will not be general for another two weeks. In Ontario, Fall wheat fields are looking exceptionally promising and wheat, alfalfa and clover have come through the winter better than was anticipated. In the Maritime Provinces little work has been done on the land except in the southern part of Nova Scotia where an early Spring is reported. In British Columbia seeding is now general although this season is two or three weeks later than usual.

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO

Seeding operations which were delayed by cold damp weather has now become fairly general except in the Eastern section of the Province, where the season is about ten days late. Orchards have wintered without any apparent damage, so far, and early indications are favorable. Tobacco plants in greenhouses are well advanced and in Norfolk Co. the planting of a slightly increased acreage over that of last year is indicated.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr Earl Reid and family wish through the columns of the Review, to sincerely thank neighbors and friends for their kindness to Mrs Reid during her illness and for their expressions of sympathy and floral tributes in his sad bereavement.

Restoring of Titles to Canada not a Popular Move

Miss Macphail's Weekly Letter

A few years ago the members of the House of Commons repeatedly urged that Parliament be called in the Fall and continued after the Christmas holidays until the early Spring, but this sad experiment which that sort of session will bring it should think, any member urging it again. We sat during October and November; we were back again before January was out and are still here. Redistribution is the snag this time. The Government is anxious that the fight should not be carried on to the floor of the House, where it would be sure to be long and bitter. To prevent this, a committee of five elder statesmen, as the Prime Minister calls them, headed by Sir George Perley, and having on it also the Hon. Ernest Lapointe and Mr Robt. Gardiner, leader of the U.F.A. group, have been endeavoring for the last three days to reconcile the opposing factions. On Friday night in the House, Sir George reported "we are making some progress," a comment which Mr King remarked would be "good news for the members of the House."

Since population in Canada is moving from the country to the cities, and from eastern to western Canada, the task of redistributing seats will become more and more difficult. Either it must be taken out of the hands of the party in power and handed by the chief electoral officer and his staff, or, better still, we must abandon the single-member constituency in thickly settled communities like southern Ontario and make full use of proportional representation in many-member constituencies. There can be no doubt that such a system would more accurately reflect the opinion of the people as expressed at the polls. The Irish Free State at its last elections used proportional representation, giving the following result:

Contested Seats, Election 1933
Parties	Votes	Seats	Obtained seat
De Valera & Labor	768,889	82	9,276
Cosgrave, Centre	613,666	64	9,588
On the other hand, Gt Britain at the last general election used a method of single-member constituencies without the transferable vote, which resulted in many minority candidates being elected as the following table proves:

Great Britain and N. Ireland Election 1931
Parties	Votes	Seats	Obtained seat
Cons., Libs. & Nat. Labs.	14,519,014	491	29,000
Labour	6,649,630	46	144,900

How can the opinion of the people be reflected accurately in Parliament when it required 144,900 labour votes to elect one member while 29,000 votes elected a National government candidate.

At the moment it seems certain that the new constituency of Grey-Bruce will consist of South-East Grey as it was less Holland and Osgrey, with the Bruce Townships of Elderslie, Brant and Carriac added. However no one can be sure of anything until the bill has been finally passed by the House and it has not been introduced yet.

For the first time in the history of the House of Commons, a deep voice from the public gallery warned all and sundry to flee from wrath to come and to seek forgiveness because of the imminence of the day of judgment. Two members of the police force hustled the man out of the gallery and he reluctantly left waving the Bible at the members of the House, as he was taken away.

An item in police court news told how the same man had repeatedly interrupted church services by preaching on the street outside.

The following statement was made by the Prime Minister in the House of Commons on Wednesday, May 17: "The promotion of Rt. Hon Sir Geo. Halsey Perley K.C.M.G., to be an ordinary member of the first class or Knights Grand Cross of the most Distinguished Order of St Michael and St. George, was made in conformity with established constitutional practice, it being the considered view of His Majesty's government in Canada that the motion, with respect to honours, adopted on the 22nd day of May, 1919, by a majority vote of the members of the Commons only of the thirteenth parliament (which was dissolved on the 4th day of October 1921) is not binding upon His Majesty or His Majesty's government in Canada, or the seventeenth parliament of Canada."

Great significance is being attached to this statement particularly that part of it which says that the resolution passed by the Commons in 1919 is not binding upon His Majesty or upon His Majesty's government in Canada or the seventeenth parliament of Canada. Rumors are abroad that the Prime Minister is to get a title. In 1918, Mr W. F. Nickle, M. P., for Kingston, introduced a resolution asking that titles be abolished. In the debate on the resolution Hon. Colonel and Honourables' and 'Right Honourables' waxed eloquent against titles and Sir Wilfrid Laurier declared that he was quite prepared if it could be done without disrespect to the Crown, to bring 'our' titles to the market place and make a bonfire of them. On this occasion however, the Nickle resolution was amended by the government and the amendment was carried by a vote of 104 to 71. The following year Mr Nickle again introduced his resolution which, after some weeks work, returned his verdict against titles to the House and after a protracted debate it was carried by a vote of 96 to 43.

The shipping bill has been the chief concern of Parliament this week. The farmers are against the bill because it confers a monopoly on the Canadian shipping interests by making it impossible for Americans to compete in Canadian waters. They had previously been able to haul wheat to Buffalo and from Buffalo to Montreal; they can no longer do so.
