"THE WAY HOME"

Mrs (Rev.) R. G. Stewart, formerly of Priceville, wants the readers of the Review, to share with her in the following beautiful poem, which she recently heard quoted by an elderly clergyman. Mrs Stewart, who now resides in Thorold, still carries much sentiment and kindly feelings for her husband's former charge at Priceville and is a reader of the Review each week. Years and years ago, when I was just a little lad, And after school hours used to help around the farm with dad; I used to get so very tired when even tide would come, That I'd get kind of fearsome like a boat on the journey home. But dad would always lead the way, and once in a while turn round and say 'So tender-like, so cheerin' - 'Come on my lad, we're nearly home: That always kind of helped me some, and so I followed father, home. I'm getting old and feeble now, and tremble at the knee, But life is just the same to-day as then it used to be; And I am very weary now that even-tide has come, And sometimes still get fearful-like, about the journey home. But still my father leads the way, and once in a while I hear him say 'So tender-like, so cheerin' - 'Come on my child, you're nearly home': And still that kind of helps me some, And so I'm following father, home.

ENGAGEMENTS Mr and Mrs John L. MacDonald of Ottawa, announce the engagement of their sister Janet, to Alex MacLean, of Priceville, the marriage to take place early in June.

PRICEVILLE AND VIC

PRICEVILLE Mr Ed. Hogg, Hamilton, former agent here, visited last week at the McMeekin home. Miss Mabel Nichol is visiting with Mrs Alex McDonald (Elizabeth McCuaig) of Strathmore, Sask., and her daughter Betty, are on a month's vacation to her many friends in this part. Mr Geo. McLellan, Niagara Falls, spent the week end at Mr D. Campbell's. His wife who spent the past week here, returned home with him. Her mother, Mrs Kate McArthur accompanied them back for a month's vacation. Inspector Wright paid his semi-annual visit to the school here and found everything satisfactory. Mr and Mrs Jack McMeekin and son Jackie, Mr Earl McLean and sister Alma, spent a couple of days in Toronto last week. Messrs Allie McLean and John McRae, Toronto, spent a couple of days visiting friends here. Mr and Mrs Henry Richardson and son Donald, Toronto, spent the week end at her mother's, Mrs D. G. McLean's. Miss Doris Wright, Collingwood, spent a few days with Miss Sarah McLean. Mrs Thos Nichol and daughter, Mrs Emerson Bennett, spent a few days visiting London friends. Miss Kathleen MacLean, teacher at Aberdeen school, spent the week end at her uncle's, Mr Dave Nichol's. Mr Alex McLean and sister, Mrs. John Macfarlane spent the week end at their parental home. Miss Victoria Jelly and friend, Toronto, spent the week end at her sister's, Mrs Ray McLean. Mrs Wilfrid Watson visited with Toronto friends last week. A number from here attended the Farm youth rally in Markdale Thursday night. Mr and Mrs A. L. Hincks and family celebrated their 9th wedding anniversary on June 4, at Proton Stn. Mr and Mrs Thos Hincks and family, Long Branch, Toronto, visited on Sunday at David Hincks' home. Last week the most severe electric storm of the season came and put telephones out of order for a while. Part of the steel roof on McCuaig's barn was taken off, along with sheeting and 16 rafters broken, also trees broken down near the house. Mr and Mrs Henry Tucker and family, Mrs Alex McDonald and Betty, visited Monday at A. L. Hincks'.

At the first match of the football League of the surrounding villages and towns held in the town of Flesherton, between their team and Priceville, the latter won out by a score of 4 to 1, on Friday, June 2. Rev. Dr McIvor acted as referee, with no sign of molestation or dissatisfaction by the fans. Good comradeship prevailed throughout. At a softball match held here on Thursday, June 1st, between the home team and Flesherton, the visiting team won by a score of 24 to 23. A fine score not attained by the professional clubs!

Mr Innis McLean was the imperial umpire on this occasion. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was held at St Columba United on Sunday last, a large congregation being in attendance, who listened to a fine service decorously conducted by Rev Mr Moir. A full complement of the session was present, as was also Mrs Chas McKinnon, at the age of 95, who was cordially greeted by a host of her old friends. Rev Mr Moir left Monday for Conference sessions at Toronto. The past two weeks or more has been a source of inspiration and admiration to many here, of the movements of the heavenly bodies as shown by the gradual approach of the planets Jupiter and Mars until Saturday and Sunday, when quite close together, suggesting the sentiment, 'Thro' the glory and the grace of the stars that veil Thy face' and 'Heaven and earth are praising Thee, O Lord most High.'

The recent storm of wind and rain last week caused considerable damage near here, unroofing a small portion of A. McCuaig's barn. A committee meeting is called for Wednesday of this week to further make arrangements for the garden party on 6th July. A fire in Mr Reley's blacksmith shop one morning last week, caused a little flutter of excitement thro' a spark from the anvil it is supposed, falling thro' a crack in the floor from the night before. Gardening operations is the chief item of the day, revealing many failures in the safe-keeping of dahlias and other bulbs. Mr and Mrs Thos McKeown were welcome visitors at Mr and Mrs J. P. McMillan's home for a few days, the latter remaining for a further visit among friends on the 2nd. Our one-time station agent, Mr E. Hogg, is on a visit to many old friends here, feeling fairly well in health, tho' hampered by rheumatics.

SWINTON PARK We have heard old and experienced men say they cannot remember of the grass ever being so good at this date in this locality. Truly there has been wonderful growth during the past 2 weeks which should help the World Conference to see better times ahead. We also hear of many speculators in wool these days, which goes to show you will have to pay more for your shirt next February. We were sorry to hear that Mrs. McMillan slipped on the cellar stairway one day last week and in the fall dislocated her shoulder, causing much pain. On Sunday last we had with us for Sunday School, also church, Mr and Mrs David Wiltshire of Bethel, and Mrs Wilfrid Black of Salem. Mr. Wiltshire is president of the Township Sunday School Association and is making official calls on the various schools these days giving encouragement and advice. We are sorry there are not as many children as might be, attending the Sunday School these days. Who is to blame, the children or the parents? Mrs Ed Haw and Mrs Garfield Anthony spent last week in Toronto, returning Saturday. Mrs Hardy, Sr. spent last week in Toronto. Mr and Mrs Jas Hardy motored down on Saturday to the marriage of Richard Hardy and Miss Tressider, at 3.30 p.m. Mr and Mrs Seymour Heard spent Sunday at the old home here, along with mother, brother and family. George Haw unfortunately lost a cow on Sunday. Many of the 'farmers in this locality have had losses of stock this spring. Horses, cattle and sheep have been dropping off, although lots of feed and animals in good condition. Mr Howard Watson one night last week while fishing with fly, got a surprise when two large trout grabbed on at once. Had his feet not been well planted, they gave sufficient pull to have slipped in. Being unable to land them he sent out an S.O.S. and Mr Flood with landing net helped land them. These fish weighed over 2 lb. But ask C. McLean about the big fish that got away.

PRICEVILLE AND VIC

HOPEVILLE (This Week's Budget) Mrs R. Heard, Salem, spent a few days with her niece, Mrs G. Glass. Mr and Mrs Thos Spence and son, visited at the Macphail home the first of the week. Mr A. E. Elliott spent the past week in Brantford. Mrs Elliott and children returned home with him on Friday. Mr and Mrs A. Campbell, Toronto, were recent visitors with Mr Mac McTaggart. Mrs S. Vanalstine, Chicago, spent last week with her niece, Mrs Chas. Wale. Miss Bernice McTaggart visited her grandmother, Mrs Geo Shand over the week end. Mr and Mrs Clark Toronto, were visitors with her parents, Mr and Mrs D. McInnis. Mr Young, student pastor of United Church, called on members of his congregation in this locality last Friday. Misses Laverne McEachnie, Bessie Wale, Bernice McTaggart, Messrs A. and Lloyd McEachnie, Geo Shand and Alex Sturrock, attended the Rural Youth banquet in Markdale last Thursday evening. Mr and Mrs Booth Wilson and family, Toronto, and Miss Lena Wilson, Ceylon, were early week visitors at Mr Geo Christie's and Mrs Mary Dezell's. Miss McQuarrie, Shrigley, is staying awhile with Mrs Jas. Wilson. Sorry to hear Miss Irma Dingwall has suffered a nervous breakdown this year. She has taken a heavy course of study at Dundalk High School and it seems too bad to be forced to give up her studies so near mid-summer exams. Mrs Laura Rose Stephen, the well-known pioneer institute worker, will speak to the ladies of this vicinity, on Monday, June 12, at Stewart's Hall, at 2.30. Miss A. M. Pettis and members of the McEachnie family, were in O. Sound Saturday. (Intended for last week) Misses Dell Scott and Ruth Hatton, are spending a while at the former's home. Business conditions of the Co., where Dell was employed as a stenographer, made it necessary to dismiss over 30 employees. Mrs Thos Keith, Holstein, visited her friend, Mrs Geo. Shand Monday. Mr and Mrs E. McEachnie and family, Buffalo, spent the week end at his parents, Mr and Mrs Arch McEachnie. Mr and Mrs Ed Scott and family, visited their aunt, Mrs M. Kinsman, who we are sorry to hear is getting weaker. Mrs Kinsman is over ninety and until recently took a great interest in her family and friends and was so bright and cheerful. The United W.M.S. will meet on Thursday at home of Mrs Jas. Mitchell. Mr W. Nicholson, Brantford, a talented violinist, was much enjoyed at Bethany chapel services Sunday. Miss Mary Plester, Markdale, was home for the week end.

Inspiring Services for Knox Anniversary (Continued from Page 1) you rest." These verses are exquisite in charm and loveliness. Jesus in using these words was fearless and positive: it was His way of announcing He was divine. Such words of rest, relief and peace are doubly welcome to-day. In seeking relief from our great social and economic problems to-day, we have forgotten Christ and the church. If there's a solitary hope for human happiness and well-being, it's the call back to the man of Nazareth as the Saviour of men and the nations. Jesus faced the facts of life with a splendid and invincible courage. There is nothing mystical about the way rest is to be bestowed: it's a simple process. "Learn of me" He says "and I will give you rest." We're all prospectors: all have our packs to carry; when properly adjusted we can carry it easily; but if we allow the drains of life to become putrid and poisoned, it makes our burdens heavy. We have learned out of these difficult times that none of us live to ourselves; our defeats should be regarded as a clarion call to new endeavor and purpose. Jesus faced facts with a tremendous faith in the eternal rightness of things: it's the way to find rest. God is not dead: love is upon the throne of the universe. When civilization is on the verge of collapse, a voice comes "Learn of Me." We should engrave the words "Heavenly Father" in our hearts. Vividly the speaker portrayed the insignificance of the sun, and of ourselves in the mighty universe. Jesus says "our Heavenly Father feedeth the birds, are we not better than they? This is the optimism we need to take us out of the depression. Do not yield to emotions of sorrow and despair. God is not dead: the best is yet to be. We should interpret life as a holy sacrament of service and self-denial—that's the way to get the best out of life. In closing, Rev. Mr Martin told how the Prince of Wales is cheering up those out of work and courage, and also of his visit to the "Altar of Remembrance" at Ottawa, containing the golden book with the names of Canada's 60,000 dead in the Great War. Rev. J. R. Morden In the evening, Rev J. R. Morden, of Wellington St Church, Mt Forest, preached to a good congregation, his message being the need of great convictions to deepen our spiritual life, such as the old prophets of Israel experienced. There's a great difference between opinion and conviction. Opinions have made more trouble than anything else, in the church, over creeds, dogmas, etc. He asked Christian people to replace shifting sands of opinion with convictions born of the spirit of God. Are we in touch with the right source of power? We need the redemptive saving passion of Jesus in our hearts. Salvation is not from the hills, but from Eternal God, who is our refuge and strength. Queen St. United Church kindly withdrew their evening service and the congregation worshipped with Knox brethren, the pastor, Rev. W. C. Almaack taking part in the service. At each service two beautiful anthems were rendered by the choir, "Come ye Blessed"; "Open our Eyes"; "Praise ye the Lord"; "Eye another Sabbath closes." Miss Margaret Hunter presided at the organ and as director.

C. C. F. Will Enter the Provincial Field Thirty-six delegates to the first all provincial gathering of the C.C.F. adjourned Monday after an all-night sitting, drawing up the constitution and by-laws and discussing matters of provincial politics. The meeting was originally called for Sunday morning, but was adjourned until midnight owing to objections to Sunday sessions. "Workers with religious convictions" see nothing inconsistent in holding meetings on Sunday which are devoted to the improvement of the social or economic order," said D. M. Le Bourdais, treasurer. "The people of rural Ontario however take a different view of what may be done on the Sabbath. It has often been said that the farmer and the worker cannot be brought to co-operate. However, here is a case where the city man, accustomed to his Sunday meetings is willing to postpone action to accommodate the scruples of his farmer associates. The farmer on the other hand, shows that though anxious to stick to his principles, he is not yet prepared to sit up all night to accommodate the worker who cannot afford to meet during the daytime." It was decided that while the major interest of the C. C. F. is in the federal field, it will place candidates in provincial ridings wherever organization is sufficiently advanced to permit their nomination. Officers elected were: president, A. C. Macphail; vice president, John Kitchener; secretary, D. Robinson, Toronto; treasurer, D. M. LeBourdais, Toronto; executive com. Elmore Phillpott, Toronto; Arthur Mould, London; Mrs E. Morton, Toronto; R. J. Scott, Belgrave; H. H. Hannam, Toronto.
