

WASAGA BEACH IN LATE AUGUST

A Review representative was at Wasaga Beach the other day and while this is no news for it is now suburban to Durham, this place still carries a charm that cannot be shaken off in a hurry. The beautiful beach yet furnishes bathing facilities for hundreds of people daily and we vent at no place in Ontario, do kiddies step in with more safety to themselves and parents. There is something in the care-free atmosphere of the place that lures you back year after year. If you want a certain excitement and thrill, simply walk up the cosmopolitan avenue of the tradesmen and hear the barkers advertise their wares. There is much enjoyment to be found in watching how the other fellow does it and then too, the vast and multi-colored beach pyramids as worn by the ladies, is a continual source of wonder. But if you want that peace and contentment that can be found in the many sidelines and excursions that Wasaga affords, it is also there for you. Wasaga still continues to grow and new subdivisions are being opened up each season. It would be hard to estimate the floating population of this resort for it is a moving mass of humanity. The Hydro system is extending its lines to all new sections and gradually as the colony warrants same, the Government establishes small post offices. Better class cottages are being erected and the real estate business is very active. Short of all the popular beach road which is lined with a continuous row of cottages and it is evident that Canada at play in summer garb, is well exemplified at Wasaga.

GOOD NEWS FOR RATE-PAYERS

There is good news for the rate-payers of Bentinck township in this week's report of the meeting of the township council, inasmuch as it contains the information that the township rate has been lowered by four mills. The comparative figures for this year and last year of the rates making up the total levy are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: 1933, 1932. Rows: County rate (12.0 vs 14.2), Township rate (4.5 vs 4.5), Debentures (1.4 vs 2.2), General School (4.8 vs 6.5), Charity (0.7 vs 0.9).

It will thus be seen that there was a drop of 2.2 mills in the county rate, made possible largely by the fact that no paving on provincial roads in the county. Grey itself also cut down quite a bit in its road expenditures.

One of Bentinck's debentures is being paid off this year and this means a saving of eight-tenths of a mill in this rate, and, with the 2.2 mill reduction in the county rate, made the figure three mills less. In addition, there was a reduction of 1.7 mills in the general school rate, the statutory levy, which is a reflex of the reduction made in the cost of education, the main item here being on teacher's salaries.

Thus, while there was a lowering of 4.7 mills in the three items above mentioned, the council felt it would not be wise to lower the rate beyond four mills. They therefore appropriated seven-tenths of a mill for charity, new item in the tax rate. Previously it had been met out of the township rate, but charity has become a factor in township finances. There were a number of people on relief in Bentinck during the past year, but the main expense for hospital treatment for indigent patients, and Bentinck has had a number of such cases which required considerable money. It is a feature with which nearly every municipality is faced, and this expense has shown a considerable increase in recent years.

The township rate remains the same at 4.5 mills. It was lowered half a mill last year, and the council had hoped that another half-mill could be lopped off this year, but after considering the matter thoroughly, they decided to play safe and not lower the rate. There is still about $1,000 of last year's taxes unpaid, and the probability is that many farmers will find it hard to raise tax money again this year. In addition, the new system of giving every ratepayer work on the roads in proportion to his assessment has thrown an additional burden on the township in fixing up the roads in the poorer sections where assessments are low and the amount of road-work done is correspondingly low. Unlike other townships, Bentinck has all the teaming on the roads done by ratepayers, instead of having the gravel hauled by trucks. If they adopted the latter course, they could lower the rate substantially.—Hanover Post.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

An editorial under the caption 'Back Home' in the Financial Post, carries a suggestion that might well be passed on to former residents of every town and village in Ontario, namely that they, if financially able, should make some tangible contribution to the progress of the community in which they spent their younger days. Many of the smaller places in Ontario are in need of improvements of one kind or another and would heartily welcome such gifts. The Post says: 'A Canadian citizen motored through a little Ontario village the other day and was struck by the natural beauty of the place. He thought to himself how attractive this community could be if intelligent planning were undertaken to ensure orderly, artistic growth. Then he bethought himself of the many boys and girls who must have grown up in this quiet village and gone out to the larger cities of the Dominion and the continent to achieve fame and fortune for themselves. Our citizen mused that it would be a fine thing for that little municipality—and for many hundreds of others like it—if some of the successful boys and girls would take thought for their childhood home and make tangible contribution for its future welfare and development. Of course there may be difficulties. Small communities are often unappreciative of gestures of goodwill from those who would and could assist them. Too often there is indifference, little thanks and much opposition and criticism. At any rate the experiment is worth trying. In return for the dividends of 'appreciation' and 'good work well done' the capital outlay will be small. Perhaps the home town you have in mind is the very place which started our citizen thinking.'

OBITUARY

BENJAMIN F. AHRENS

Mr. Benjamin F. Ahrens, one of Hanover's most prominent citizens and business men is dead. He passed away on Friday evening at his home there after an illness extending over a year's time, and while his death was not unexpected, it came as a decided shock to the entire community and there will be general and sincere regret in many homes. He had been continuously in the retail hardware trade in Hanover for more than 40 years. He was seventy years of age.

THE UPTREND OF PRICES AROUND US

Canada cannot help but be affected by the recent acts of President Roosevelt where, by the National Recovery Act, recently passed in the United States, all labor is given a boost in wages, as well as shorter time in the working day. Canada may be a colony of Old England, but geographical features place her where conditions affecting the United States, are more vital to her than those which concern Britain. Gasoline prices throughout Canada will in all probability, take a substantial jump upwards within the near future as a result of this Act. Just what price the President will set on U. S. Gasoline and what increase it will make in retail prices are so far matters of speculation, but any change will certainly be felt in Canada. Then the Canadian Postal Department don't seem to have a proper and suitable time to bestow costs to the newspaperman, as if they were not already high enough taxed—over in the postage Commencing September 1st, the newspaper postage rate will be increased by 50 per cent. Whereas they now pay to a pound, after Sept. 1st, the rate will be 1 and 1/2c.

Why not some form of a moratorium on taxes? The taxing system is so overworked, that to find something non-taxable will soon be as scarce as a snowball in July.

A change in the municipal election laws which should ease the worries of the clerk and prevent dissatisfaction on the part of the voters whose names have been omitted from the voters' list is provided this year by the addition of sub-section (8) to section 56, Municipal Act. By this amendment the clerk is authorized to issue a certificate to a deputy returning officer instructing him to enter the persons name on the voters' list, and permitting the person to vote where the person is entered on the last revised assessment roll and the clerk is satisfied that the person is entitled to vote and that his name has been omitted by error from the voters' list. A clerk must be strict in his duty in this regard, as the responsibility for seeing that such persons are properly qualified is cast upon him. Sections 21 and 58 have been made subject to this amendment and the names of persons may be added to the voters' list on the certificate of the clerk although the list has been certified by the Judge. The clerk is not authorized to make any changes in voters' list as revised, but to issue on application, a certificate to the returning officer or deputy returning officer of polling subdivision in which applicant has a right to vote. Hon. G. Howard Ferguson says there will be no provincial election in Ontario in 1933. The announcement was confirmed by the Nova Scotia elections.

Charlie Robertson, M. P. P. for North Huron, has been re-nominated for the new riding of Huron and Bruce. With 8 municipalities in Bruce added to his Huron riding, nearly all of them giving Liberal majorities, and with Goderich which gives a large Conservative majority added to South Huron, Charlie should be able to increase his last majority of over 1400 unless the C. C. F. butts in. The only municipality in the riding to give any considerable Conservative majority is the town of Wingham.—Chesley Enterprise.

At the nomination of Dr. W. D. Smith as Liberal-Progressive candidate for the Simcoe-Dufferin constituency at Alliston, Friday last, Hon. Duncan Marshall, was the chief speaker of the afternoon. He characterized the present Government officials as the greatest crowd of unrepentant political sinners he had ever known. It's a mighty good thing for the future happiness and welfare of these government benches that Hon. Duncan has not the final say of their future abode. It might go hard with them.

Hon. R. B. Bennett is expected to arrive in Canada on Saturday, after an extended stay in England—long enough to acquire the English accent. With Hon. Howard Ferguson also in Canada, there should be some heart-to-heart discussions when he returns, on the best ways and methods to pull the wool further over Canadian eyes.

Hon. George S. Henry, Premier of Ontario, opened the 55th National Exhibition at Toronto on Saturday last, and for the occasion was presented with first platinum medal to be struck in Canada. The Exhibition is a wonderful barometer of Canada's progress would see, or at least should see little years to judge by the Fair.
