Uncle Levi Zink say he's not just sure how it is going to sound when they speak of 1933 as the year they closed the banks and schools and opened the saloons.

GREY COUNTY MUSICAL FESTIVAL 1934

The first Musical Festival of Grey County was held in Meaford on June 6th, 1933, and it proved to be a very enjoyable and successful affair and it reflected great credit on the music teachers of the different centres taking part and on others who gave time and money to make the event a success.

The Syllabus which is now ready and which will be sent out in due time, comprises two divisions:—Part I and Part II. In Part I, all events are open to competitors from the counties, Bruce, Dufferin, Grey, Simcoe and Wellington. In these counties, centres of 20,000 population or over are excluded.

The Executive is planning for a big event and expects to handle all details with smoothness and precision. Much thought has been given to the selection of the test pieces and it is hoped that the Syllabus will give general satisfaction throughout the counties and that it will be a means of advancing musical education in this part of the Province.

Yours for success,
David Warner-Smith, President
Seikirk A. Morrison, Sec'y-Treas.

HARDBALL LIKELY IN DURHAM THIS SUMMER

With Hockey on the shelf for 1934 as far as Durham is concerned, the thoughts of some of the sport lovers are already drifting to summer pastimes. While softball has been the leading young men's sport the past few years, its popularity appears to be on the wane and a hardball club is already more than a probability this year.

The suggestion is that a team be organized and this year enter the Centre Grey League in a district with Kimberley, Markdale, Flesherton and Dundalk. In another year or two, after gaining some experience, entry could be made in the Grey County League, in competition with Hanover, Owen Sound, Meaford and Thornbury. If deemed desirable, Games would have to be played on Show Grounds, as no site closer in is available.

If hardball gets under way, the town softball league may be continued with a somewhat changed personnel, or may be dropped as was the case in Hanover last year. In any event Durham will play ball this summer, and probably more varieties of it, than in the past.

FLIRTING WITH THE ZERO MARK FOR TWO WEEKS BACK

The thermometer is not wanting to come down. For the last two weeks it has been hovering around the zero mark, only to make a new niche in zero weather records Thursday and Friday last, when the mercury went down to 44 below in Durham. It was cold and you felt it. The Indians in Canada's early history, wanted this country for themselves. A writer suggests to us that we give this country back to us; such weather as last week is only good for them. The sunshine fooled us all. As we stepped out, we appeared to be inhaling white smoke through nasal channels. It escaped hotly and returned in a sort of affronted frigidity.

It is hard enough to keep warm with the back yard full of wood and the coal bin full. But the condition is intensified among those who are short and have little of the wherewithal to fuel up. The plumpers of town have been doing a land-office business in working night and day, thawing out frozen pipes the past week. Cisterns and water pipes simply refused to function and some homes that were thought frost proof, fell under the sway of Old Man Winter. The roads have been kept wonderfully clear through the efforts of the Government snow plow, but the bizzard of Monday night has again checked traffic. The Arrow bus from Owen Sound has made practically daily trips, but to-day is off duty.

It is said that the man who predicted an open winter, is now planning an early spring and warm summer campaign. Once he gets into his cranium, how little the people henceforth believe in these prognostications, he will turn his mind to something else. Meantime it registered 10 degrees below zero this Tuesday morning, at 7 a. m. It is cold and you feel it.

FINE BOOK RE ONTARIO HOSPITALS

We have received a copy of "The Hospitals of Ontario", a splendid volume just issued by the Ontario Department of Health. After a short sketch of early hospital work in past centuries throughout the world and in Canada, a history of the various hospitals in Ontario follows, with pictures and sketches of each individual hospital.

The book is most informative as it contains, compiled in brief form, a synopsis of the origin, work and capacity of each of the 162 hospitals and sanitariums in the province and pays tribute to the public spirited citizens, who in many communities, have given of their means and loyal service, to secure these fine institutions, and keep them operating. Of special interest to the people of this district, is the short story and photos of the hospitals in Durham, Mount Forest, Hanover, Walkerton, etc.

Hon. J. M. Robb, Minister of Public Health for Ontario, in a foreword, says: "The average citizen who has to rush his wife or child to the local hospital seldom, if ever pauses to ask himself who he has to thank for the ever-ready services he finds there. A cynic once wrote that Man is a reasoning animal which seldom reasons" and this cannot be better exemplified than by the manner in which the man on the street accepts the fact of the existence of a hospital in his community without bothering to enquire who is responsible for its presence and operation.

"While many of us may vaguely recall the names of those who have been responsible for the inception of our local hospital, few of us ever like my other creditors is."

stop to consider and appreciate the driving power that keeps our hospitals in operation from day to day. Nor, I am afraid, do we fully appreciate the many substantial sums spontaneously contributed to our hospitals by so many charitable citizens. How many of us ever pause to think of the untiring and often poorly requited zeal of the medical profession and yet it is to that profession more than to any other agency that we owe our modern hospital organization. Neither should we forget their sister organization, the nursing profession. Only those who have been actually committed to their care can fully appreciate their never-failing devotion and estimate the real value of their services to the public weal."

TOO COLD FOR COMFORT IS OTTAWA'S PARLIAMENT

Ottawa's climate the past week has been fit only for fur-bearing animals and Eskimos. Miss Agnes MacPhail, M. P., has recently returned from Texas, where she went to convalesce and appeared in the Parliamentary restaurant at Ottawa in her fur coat. The Prime Minister, whose office is in the Parliament Buildings, gets the full force of a north wester, and sent an S.O.S. call for an electric heater. The temperature in his room was 58 above. Outside it was 24 below, official. In the railway committee room, the mercury refused to rise above 62, despite the best efforts of the government stokers in the central heating plant.

BROKERS BUSY PROMOTING STOCKS OF BEER FIRMS (Flesherton Advance)

There seems to be no reason for doubting that the Ontario Government intends to bring into the Legislature a new measure for the promotion of the sale of beer throughout the province, though up to the present time the declarations of Premier Henry that such was the intention of the Government have not been given effect. The brokers are already promoting stocks of corporations dealing in beer, and in their circulars have intimated that the gallonage of beer in the province is likely, under the new act, to be increased by many millions of gallons annually. How the drinking of so much extra beer can help to promote sobriety in the province and tend to curtail automobile accidents and reduce lawlessness are matters which, in view of past experience, may well receive the most earnest attention of the legislators, should the extension of the traffic be really proceeded with.

RELIEF FOR WINTER BIRDS

Our winter birds have their time of depression during the cold winter months when ice and snow cover up their natural food supply. Now that relief is the order of the day, let us also give a little relief to our winter birds. Careful observation has shown us how hard they must work for their winter food, and they too need relief, even as you and I. Take the crumbs and leavings from your table and place them out-of-doors where the birds can find them. Scatter grains and seeds on the window ledges and other suitable spots. A cabbage head hung somewhere out-doors will satisfy the birds' hunger for something green. If you live near or on a farm, a sheaf of grain placed on some accessible point will cause a commotion. Why not place a feeding-table for the birds in some sheltered nook near your home and watch your dinner guests. You will be surprised at the number of visitors you will have, and how hungry they are. Having fed once they will return day after day bringing more birds with them. Watch them carefully and you will note that they will not eat everything at once but will fly away with the larger pieces of food. These pieces are stored away for future use possibly in some shallow tree or underneath some loose bark. They, too, know the necessity of an extra food supply. These little winter birds add life and joy to dull winter days. Don't forget them when King Winter reigns—Animalsdom.

Order "Cry Havoc" for all Schools
Five thousand copies of a special abridged edition of "Cry Havoc", Beverly Nichols noted denunciation of war, are, it is learned, being purchased by the Ontario Department of Education for distribution among all the schools of the province.

The Prime Minister has taken a great personal interest in the book, it is said, and feels that by bringing it to the attention of the youth of the province in this manner it will go a long way toward building up for them a proper conception of war, and consequently creating within them a proper desire for peace.

The local church was making a drive for funds, and two colored sisters were bearing down hard on Uncle Rastus.

"I can't give you nothing," exclaimed the old Negro. "I owe nearly everybody in this here old town a ready."

"But," said one of the collectors. "Don't you think you owes de Lawd somethin' too?" "I does, sister, indeed," said the old man. "But He ain't pushin' me like my other creditors is."

ROCKY SAUGEEN

After a milder day on Sunday, the weather is again very stormy and cold. Mr and Mrs Stanley Reay spent the week end with Markdale friends. Mr Wm Hill is spending a few weeks with his sister, Mrs George A. Turnbull, S. Bentinck. Miss Helen Watson spent a couple of days at home of Mr and Mrs Archie Greenwood. Much sympathy is extended to Mr Greenwood, in the severe accident he met with in getting his leg badly broken. Mrs L. McLean spent Saturday with her sister, Mrs Jas Ledingham, in Durham. Mr and Mrs Jas Crutchley were in Markdale on Monday, Mrs Crutchley remaining over on account of the severe sickness and later death of their aunt, Miss Middleton. Mr Archie McArthur, Aberdeen, visited on Sunday with Mr Neil McLean. Mr and Mrs Artie McIntosh, Dorchester, were guests the first of week with her parents, Mr and Mrs L. McLean. Mrs Thos. Young spent a week with Owen Sound friends. Owing to the intense cold the Club meeting was postponed last week, and is expected will be held Friday of this week at Mrs M. McKechnie's. Mrs Duncan McQuarrie, Aberdeen, was a guest Thursday of Mrs L. McLean.

WELBECK

The unusual temperatures of last week form the principal topic of conversation in every group that gathers, the oldest inhabitant being unable to recall anything that equalled it in the past 60 years. We are sorry to say Mr Albert Stafford shows little improvement. Quite a number from here attended the shower for Mr and Mrs T. Casey, held at the home of the bride and which was a pleasant event. Congratulations. Mr and Mrs Neil McLean were guests of Mr and Mrs F. W. Heft, the first of week. Mr Joe Sullivan spent the week-end in town. A telephone call Monday summoned James Crutchley to the bedside of his aunt, Miss M. Middleton, of Markdale, who had been severely stricken with paralysis. Mr and Mrs Arch. Watson were Sunday visitors to the Goldsmith family. Miss Viola Stafford, Owen Sound, is with her parents at present.

CRAWFORD

The W. M. S. held their February meeting at home of Mrs David Hastie, presided over by the President, Miss Fisher. The scripture lesson was read by Mrs D. Hastie and Mrs Geo. Hastie read the Dev. leaflet. There was a discussion on raising money for the Supply Treasury. The topic, "The Home in China" was taken by Mrs Jas. McDougall and a solo by Miss Nancy Boyd was much enjoyed. The meeting closed with hymn and prayer by Miss Fisher. Lunch was served by the hostess. Mrs Andy Hastie Jr. and Grace, spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs Huber, Hanover. Mr. Howard Lamont, Brant, is spending a few days with his uncle, D. J. MacDonald. Congratulations to Mr Otto Kaufman and Miss Alma Fortune, who were united in marriage last Tuesday. Rev. Kressin officiated. The young couple will make their home on the groom's farm on the 10th cent of Bentinck. Coldwater Council has decided to purchase a wood lot to provide work for the unemployed. It is proposed to pay each man in cash for each cord of wood cut. The City of Stratford faces three damage suits, totalling $11,000, for injuries sustained in falls on city streets. Durham council acts wisely in having the leading streets sanded this winter when icy. St. John's United Church, Chesley, now has a membership of 440. For all purposes $7950 was raised during 1933, of which $2,404 was for Missions. $129.32 was raised through the use of the cent-a-meal boxes. Order your job printing from the Review - Letterheads, envelopes, statements, bill-heads, invoices, auction sale bills, dodgers and hand bills, wedding invitations and announcements, etc. Hanover's tax arrears at the end of 1933 were: for the current year, $28,087.52; for previous years, $17,824.58, a total of $45,912.10. This is increase of $6,580.57 over the arrears of a year ago. At their March meeting, the Hanover Town Council will engage a salaried tax collector to endeavor to materially reduce this amount.
