

REVIEW'S Name-the-Picture Contest a Popular One

If you missed clipping out the pictures and naming them, which appeared in last week's REVIEW, start now by asking or writing for the first four pictures. We will supply them to any subscriber, then you can go right ahead with this week's. They are all of men who are or have been more or less prominent in the public eye (locally, provincially, or nationally.) The pictures will be published without names being attached, and here is where the publishers invite "REVIEW" readers (old or new), to participate in this unique "Name-the-Picture" contest. Can you name the pictures? With correct initials and title (if any) of each man? Looks easy, you say! Maybe it will be! Maybe your answers to the various groups of pictures will win you the first cash prize of $7.00 being given for the best-arranged and correct solution. Second and third cash prizes of $4.00 and $2.00 are also being awarded. Prizes will be split among the entrants if "tied."

THERE IS ONLY ONE CONDITION to entering this unique contest. Just one. Entrant must qualify sometime during the contest, his or her entry with a cash subscription of $2.00 or more, (new or renewal) to "The REVIEW" office and before bringing in or mailing in, any set of pictures with names attached. (If subscription is already paid for 1934, this condition does not apply, and such subscriber is eligible to compete.) Any member of subscriber's family may qualify to name the pictures. Get started with this issue and test your picture knowledge of individuals who have been prominent, more or less, at one time or another, in the foregoing field of endeavor. YOUR solution may win one of the above cash prizes. The winter evenings are still with us—draw up a chair and start now!!!

FINAL GROUP of pictures will appear in 1st & 2nd issues. Readers of "The REVIEW" residing anywhere are invited to participate. YOU may win one of the prizes in this event! Join in—it costs you nothing extra to try! DO YOU KNOW THE NAMES OF THE FOUR MEN IN THIS ISSUE?

DRIVERS WHO TAKE A DRINK

(Toronto Star Weekly)
In Toronto police court a motorist who had been drinking was sentenced to seven days plus a fine of $25 and costs, or fourteen days for hitting a car and not stopping. Another motorist who "had been drinking but was not drunk" drove in zigzag fashion and hit a bridge. He was fined $50 and costs or thirty days and lost his driving permit for six months. Another "who had been drinking but could stand up," drove through two red lights at 40 miles an hour and was also fined $50 and costs or thirty days besides losing his permit for four months. A fourth man who had been drinking and drove erratically paid a similar fine and cannot drive for three months.

Every day the lesson is being taught that even a little liquor may affect a man's driving and that when it does, and an accident happens, the punishment is likely to be severe. So it should be. If a man is to take charge of a car, he should leave liquor alone.

PREMIER RAMSAY MACDONALD

Most of us know something of the history of Ramsay MacDonald's life—of how he rose from a poor Scottish lad, to the most powerful man in the British Empire. His wonderful success was not due to the power of wealth, as you will readily see. Nor was it due to a greater mental power than the average person. It was due to his moral excellence.

Two great qualities appear at the root of Mr. MacDonald's disposition, determination and good judgment. From these two come all the other moral traits such as industry, self-sacrifice, the sense of honor, honesty and frankness. To establish a noble character both determination and good judgment must be present. The former quality without the latter can be employed in an unworthy cause and good judgment without determination gets nowhere. Possessed of the one, we have a purpose in view, when the other is joined to it, this purpose becomes a worthy purpose. Ramsay MacDonald possesses real resolution of purpose which manifests itself not only in times of prosperity but also in times of discouragement. We're reminded of this by his conduct during the Great War. His strenuous opposition to it made him unpopular with the people. The Premier, however, considered his cause a worthy one and endured the people's resentment in his support of it.

Ramsay MacDonald impresses people with his open, honest nature. In dealing with a man of a frank, honest disposition, a person would be ashamed to employ underhand methods. In fact, if he has any conscience at all, he will feel a desire to reflect the same frankness and honesty in his connections with such a man.

It is unfortunate that this fine man has only one life to live, and of that life, only a few more years. What service the man could render to humanity if he had more time at his disposal! It is to be hoped that the career of the British premier will inspire in the young men and young women of today the desire to follow in his footsteps, to shape their characters after his, and to love to elevate mankind to a higher position, as he does.

In later generations the people will look back and bless the man who disregarded self in his efforts to place all mankind on a brotherly standing. There seems no better way to conclude than to refer to this eminent man in the words of Shakespeare: "His life was gentle and the elements so mix'd in him that nature might stand up and say to all the world, 'This is a man!'"

THE ROLL CALL

R. J. LANDELS McILVRIDE

There died on Monday, Feb. 19, in Calgary, Alta., at the home of his sister Annabel (Mrs. C. Richardson) Robert J. Landels McIlvrive, aged 34 years. Deceased was the son of the late William McIlvrive and Mrs. McIlvrive, of Innis fall, Alta., but formerly of Knox Corners, Normanby.

Robert has been a sufferer the past few years from a bad heart, resulting from inflammatory rheumatism, but it was not considered serious until the past winter. After the death of his father, Robert lived in Calgary for a few years, but the past three years along with his mother, Mrs. McIlvrive, at Innis fall, he had made his home with his sister, Mrs. Baldwin, at Rowley. In a letter to the Review, from Mrs Baldwin, she states "that Robert dropped just as he finished speaking. Mother noticed him first looking queer and in asking him what was the matter, his head began going forward and they caught him and laid him on the floor before he fell. He lasted four hours and the doctor said a tiny piece had broken off the valve of the heart and gone through the blood stream to the brain."

Deceased was born at Stayner, Ont. and leaves his mother, Mrs Janet McIlvrive; two sisters, Mrs C. H. Richardson, (Annabel), 1401 2nd St., N. W., Calgary; Mrs W. H. Baldwin (Jean), Rowley, Alta. and two brothers, Andrew of Calgary and Wm. of Victoria, B. C.

Many old and former friends of deceased's mother, who was formerly Janet Marshall, will mourn with her in the death of her son.

JOHN MUNRO SUTHERLAND

A death of a former Durham resident took place in Toronto, on Sunday when J. Munro Sutherland failed to rally from an operation. Munro was manager of the Birch Cliff Ave. branch of the Bank of Commerce, in Toronto. He died at Toronto Western hospital. Born and raised in Toronto, deceased was a frequent visitor to Durham, to the home of his late aunt, Mrs W. B. Vollett. He entered the bank at 16 years. Eventually he served for years as manager of the Vancouver, B. C. branch of the Bank of Commerce, later joining the headquarters staff at Toronto as relieving manager. He was predeceased by his wife last September. Surviving are one son, Douglas Sutherland of Toronto, and one brother, Robert Douglas Sutherland of Vancouver.

Silver Wedding in Dakota

(From County Formers' Press, Crosby, North Dakota)

(Both Mr. and Mrs. Hay were born in Bentinck, near Dornoch, Mrs. Hay being a sister of Mrs. R. J. Corlett.) The Presbyterian Church parlors were the scene of an interesting event on Saturday, Jan. 27th, when around 150 friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hay gathered, to tender them a surprise in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

A bounteous dinner was served at the noon hour, with a three-layer wedding cake gracing the table proving the true culinary talents of Mrs. Duncan Hay. Rev's Atkinson and Koenig greeted the bride and groom of twenty five years ago on behalf of friends present and presented them with a purse of silver, with response of appreciation from the honored guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Hay were former homesteaders in Frazier Township, prior to their removal three years ago to this city, where Mrs. Hay holds the office of registrar of deeds.

The large crowd in attendance foretold the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Hay and their family of three daughters are held in our community.

Before departing each guest wished them many happy returns of the day and expressed their desire to be present at their golden anniversary as well.

To our Friends;
We have had many evidences of your friendship during the 25 years of our residence among you, and now we wish to express our deep appreciation of your friendship again, in gathering with us on our anniversary, Jan. 27th and the presentation of the purse of silver. Memories of this event will enrich our lives forever.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hay

The Meaford papers are making a laugh on Oakville news published in the Toronto Daily Star, where they told the world that the Hydro draws frozen pipes, no matter where they are. The Meaford Public Utilities Commission, they claim, have been doing this for years and especially this winter, but unostentatiously hadn't thought of mentioning it in the local papers, much less the Toronto Star!

ROCKY SAUGEEN

After quite a thaw over the week end, Tuesday is cold and stormy.

Rocky and Durham congregations have extended a call to Rev. David Gowdy, which it is thought probably will be accepted. It is not definite when he will take charge.

Mrs Ed. Cook and small son Hugh, Owen Sound, were welcome visitors with Mr. and Mrs L. McLean recently.

Mr and Mrs Jack Braun visited this week with the latter's mother in Egremont.

The U.F.W.O. will hold their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs Jack Heift on Friday of this week.

Mr Thos. Lauder is spending a few days with his daughter and parents, Mr. and Mrs T. G. Lauder.

Miss Evelyn Ross was a week end visitor with Miss Catherine McLean.

CRAWFORD

Mr Frank Twamley is in Owen Sound this week attending the Assizes as a juror.

Miss Edna Bieman spent the week end with Neustadt friends.

Mr and Mrs Kline McCaslin spent a few days last week with the latter's parents, Mr and Mrs John Dolphin, near Tara.

Sorry to learn of the death of Alvin C., the six weeks' old son of Mr and Mrs John Peglo, (nee Martha Kaufman) of Elderslie Tp. Death was due to pneumonia. The sympathy of this community goes out to the parents in their sad bereavement.

There was a very large attendance of the Crawford—Louise W. L. gathered at the home of Mrs D. J. MacDonald, last Wednesday for their February meeting. Mrs Sherk presided. The meeting was opened by singing the Ode. Miss L. Fisher read the scripture lesson. Roll call was answered by cures for colds, poisons or bruises. Thanks for fruit sent to homes where there was illness, were received from Mrs. Geo. Fisher, Mrs Will Campbell and Mrs H. Weirmer. Mrs Will Anderson gave several good recipes for using left-overs from meals: Mrs Dave Hastie read a paper on "The seamy side of Western life". Community singing and a solo by Florence MacDonald finished the musical numbers. At close, lunch was served by Mrs MacDonald and daughter Florence. The March meeting will be held at Mrs Wiermier's home.

VICKERS

March came in like a lamb but this Tuesday morning it acts more like a lion.

The U.F.W.O. met on Friday at the home of Mrs George Reay, with a large attendance despite the rain. After singing of Ode and repeating creed, the roll call was answered by an Irish joke. A letter of thanks was read from Mr. Coutts for fruit sent when sick. It was decided to hold a progressive euchre social evening at the home of Mrs George Reay in the near future. A short program, in charge of Mrs Ben Coutts and Mrs. Harry Reay, followed consisting of community singing, readings by Miss Lavina Baker, Mrs George Alexander Mrs Ben Coutts, Mrs Joseph Porter. A contest "The Old Masters" was put on by Mrs George Reay, which caused much laughter. The meeting closed to meet at the home of Mrs Geo. Alexander on April 6th. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess and assistants.

Mr Will Vessie of Owen Sound, is visiting his sister, Mrs Earl Noble.

WELBECK

We are thankful for the thaw, which raised the water supply, even if the roads are bad. Oh well! perhaps they will be worse as sufficient snow to block all country roads has been forecast for this week.

We welcome Mr. and Mrs John Corlett who moved into the old home stead last week.

Mrs R. J. Corlett and daughters, Mrs. Norman McDonald of South Bentinck, and Mrs N. A. Proctor, were guests of Mrs F. W. Heift on Wednesday last.

Mr and Mrs Jas. Ledingham, son Stanley and daughter Jean of Glenelg; Mr. and Mrs Howard Lawrence and son Garry, Hutton Hill, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs P. Ledingham.

Mrs Geo. Miller, Williamsford, was the guest of her daughters, Mrs W. Hodgson and Mrs Gordon Goldsmith for a few days last week.

Mr Lorne Goldsmith, Massey, visited his brother Gordon the first of the week.

We were pleased to have a call from Miss Watson, evangelist, and her co-worker, Miss Johnston, who have been conducting a mission at Crawford and Lou's the past six months.

Mr. and Mrs Jas. Crutchley made a business trip to the County Capital recently.
