

FACTS ABOUT HYDRO—No. 2 of a series of official announcements by the Ontario Municipal Electric Association, representing the Municipalities who own the Hydro-Electric System of Ontario.

What Hydro Has Saved Domestic Consumers

In 1932, the last year for which comparative figures are available, all the domestic consumers served by Hydro municipalities used an aggregate of 740,000,000 kilowatt-hours, for which they paid the aggregate sum of $11,676,000, or an average cost, inclusive of all charges, of only 1.57 cents per kilowatt-hour. According to United States census figures for 1932, the domestic consumers served by privately-owned utilities in that country paid an average of 5.60 cents per kilowatt-hour.

It is a simple matter to compute that, if Ontario Hydro domestic consumers had had to pay, for the 740,000,000 kilowatt-hours they used in 1932, as much per kilowatt-hour as United States consumers paid, their bills would have aggregated the vast sum of $41,490,000, or nearly $30,000,000 more than the amount their electricity actually cost them under Hydro service.

Comparative Cost of Domestic Lighting Service in Typical Canadian and United States Cities

MONTHLY NET BILL FOR THE SAME QUANTITY OF ELECTRICITY
UNDER HYDRO SYSTEM	UNDER PRIVATE OWNERSHIP
Toronto.....$1.44	Montreal.....$3.15
London.....1.74	Detroit.....4.35
Hamilton.....1.74	Buffalo.....4.14
Brantford.....1.74	New York.....6.60
Ottawa.....1.74	Boston.....5.30

NOTE—Hydro serves 56,000 rural consumers at an average cost, inclusive of all charges, of 4.37 cents per kilowatt-hour.

Hydro has saved the citizens of the associated Hydro municipalities tens of millions of dollars for electric service. And in addition, it has made possible the enjoyment of comfort-giving and labor-saving appliances on a scale that, but for low Hydro rates, would have been beyond the means of the average citizen. The facts about Hydro speak for themselves.

PREMIER HENRY PLAYS SAFE

Two things that entered largely into the discussions the past week, have been the defeat of Toronto Maple Leafs in hockey by the Detroit Red Wings, and the vote in the Provincial House of Parliament, which stated in no uncertain terms that we are to have the wine and beer with us once more. The former event is now past history however, while the latter is of coming import, and only but casting its shadows before us. What the shadows that fall after us regarding this new law, will be like, is difficult to say.

One thing stands out very clearly in the vote in the House on this question, the aptitude of Premier Henry to change his mind. It is a good thing for a leader to have a flexible mind, for as events occur, he can adapt himself to them readily. The Premier, it will be recalled, in the early days of this Parliament, was adamant re allowing his liquor friends to sway him over, in their desire for the freer promotion of wine and beer sales. Now the Premier—seeing eye to eye with them—wants it a non-political issue in the coming election, and to do this properly, it was essential that the Government should take the responsibility themselves and vote in a new measure. We are not saying anything regarding the merits or demerits of the bill itself, for we think everybody who reads the 'Review', knows our attitude on the matter.

The move on the part of Premier Henry, in acquiescing to his friends' privilege, has surely weakened him in the eyes of the Temperance citizens of Ontario, who understood him to be a man of his word. Imagine the late Sir J. P. Whitney giving in to pressure from his colleagues! But the new measure may also strengthen Premier Henry's voting power in Ontario. The urban centres that carry the preponderance of voting power, go with the wine and beer measure. Then too, the cutting off of 20 members in the Ontario House, was done very advantageously to benefit the anti-temperance sentiment and the temperance ridings left to register their disapproval of the new Act, are that many fewer in numbers.

About the only thing that can be done now, is to see in the nomination of candidates, their attitude regarding this new measure and support them accordingly. A rather strange impression or feeling is uppermost, that if a Conservative upholds the new bill,—well that is his pleasure. But if a Liberal, U.F.O., or whatever have you, vote that way, it is a deadly pill for him to swallow. Why this discrepancy in feeling?

The Temperance sentiment in Ontario have partly themselves to blame for this new measure coming on our statute books again. After the defeat of the Hearst Gov't in 1919, they have practically rested on their oars, and failed to keep alive the Temperance spark, that was such a factor in days past in holding down the enthusiasm of "wet" agitators. After the defeat of the O.T.A., they felt their cause lost and instead of going to new heights of endeavor, submitted to the inevitable. What is needed in their ranks today are a few more Gideons, who will lead in a Provincial wide sentiment against this new measure.

WHO ARE CANADA'S FAMOUS PARLIAMENTARIANS?

Wilfrid Eggleston, Ottawa Press correspondent, wants to know who are the ten most famous members of the Canadian House of Commons? Sport editors have been busy selecting all star hockey teams and Hollywood has been working on the "Best Performances of 1933." Parliament Hill has no gold medals or Distinguished Service awards, so Wilfrid has collected a symposium of opinion from members of the press and others. Here they are as they emerge from the popular vote:—

BENNETT—Whether or not you like his manners or his economics you have to acknowledge that he has brought to Parliament the most fluent tongue, the most amazing memory, the greatest skill as an advocate that this country has ever seen in some time.

MacKENZIE KING—A democrat and a Liberal, with a genius for toleration, conciliation and compromise. WOODSWORTH—He has always been willing to make personal sacrifices in the belief that the Kingdom of Heaven can still be brought down to earth.

BOURASSA—His sardonic and almost satanic laughter has mellowed in these later years to a magnanimous and philosophical smile though the volcano still emits fire at intervals.

MISS MacPHAIL—She won four elections in an old fashioned country which still believes women's place is the home. She taught Parliament that a brief witty speech is much better than a long one of any kind.

CAHAN—His colossal intellect makes light of the most intricate legal problems and he is the only man in the House who can "get away" with a word like "terrigeneration" in his addresses.

LAPINTE—He has all the charm of the French Canadian peasant with the culture of the French academy. His English diction and his command of English construction make him him probably the finest bilingual orator in the House.

THE SPEAKER—He brings back from the Yukon every winter some glimmer of the "Trail of '98" yet his residence at Dawson City didn't save him from ruling that to call a member of Parliament a "four-fusher" was not quite "Comme il faut."

RHODES—He retained his savvy and his popularity throughout a depression during which it was his ill-fortune to be tax assessor for the nation.

STEVENS—He gave a million people new hope by manifesting a acute concern over the welfare of the "forgotten man" just when the man had decided he wouldn't ever be remembered again.

CRAWFORD

The Louise and Crawford W. I. held their March meeting at home of Mrs. H. Wiermier, with a good attendance. The roll call was answered by telling your favorite Canadian author. The popular ladies were Nellie McCullough and L. M. Montgomery.

A general discussion on books and authors followed and the story of the song "Maggie" was given. An invitation is to be extended to Mrs. Mackenzie of Campbell's Corners, to address our April or May meeting.

The Sec'y was requested to write a letter to Mrs. Sutton, who is quite ill at present, and whose several visits to our Institute are remembered with pleasure. A very lively discussion on house-cleaning, Mrs. Fisher gave as a practical idea, a home-made bottle washer. Thanks were received from several for fruit when sick. Mrs. L. Rose Stephen's home-made soap recipe was read. A contest by Mrs. H. Wiermier, proved interesting and the National Anthem was sung. During lunch victrola music was enjoyed.

The C.Y.P.S. held their regular meeting on Friday week. Scripture lesson was read by Erle Anderson. Mrs. Jas. McDougal and Mrs. Anderson each gave well-prepared papers on the topic, "What if Jesus had His way with you?" There was a solo by Miss Florence McDonald and a quartet by Misses Irene Klages and L. Fisher and Messrs. John and Kurt Sherman.

Mrs. Hugh MacDonald and Miss L. Fletcher, Aberdeen, spent Friday at the former's sister, Mrs. H. Wiermier. Little Elsie Wiermier returned home with her aunt for a short time.

Mrs. Frank Twamley visited a day recently with her parents, Mr and Mrs. C. McClocklin, Gilmel.

Mr and Mrs D. J. MacDonald and Miss Florence: Mr and Mrs Doug. Hastie and Mrs. And. Hastie, attended the shower last Thursday evening at Mr. L. McLean's, Rocky Saugeen, in honor of Mr and Mrs Gordon McCracken.

Ronald MacDonald spent the week end with his friend, Gordon Krauter, of Louise.

Miss Ina Dolphin, Tara, was a week end guest of Mrs. Kline McCaslin.

Mrs. Robt McCaslin is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Reg. McLean, Toronto.

HAMPDEN

Miss Elvira Hickling, Walkerton, is spending the Easter vacation with her parents on the farm.

Miss Mae Fulton is assisting Mrs. Palmer Patterson of Varney, at present.

Mr. Will Ford has been busy the past week moving to Mr. John Cooper's farm, which he purchased recently. Mr. Cooper and sister are retiring from farming and are intending to take a trip West in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Hickling and sons Harry and Elmer, visited at the home of the former's brother James, and family, of Carriek.

Mr. R. Obenback, Hanover, has taken a position with Wm. Mearns for the summer.

The W.M.S. of the United Church are having an Easter Thankoffering, at their meeting Thursday.

March may have gone out with mild weather prevailing but we heard a noise as tho' it might be the lion roaring. The wind had a mournful sound.

Monday, April 2nd, our faithful mail man began his spring term in coming in afternoon, hence we will not be so rushed to get our budget away on the morning mail. Mr. Calvin Smith had the misfortune to break his arm Wednesday last.
