Restocked his Streams
Hon. Dr. D. Jamieson last week deposited in the streams and small lakes of his Wilder's Lake sanctuary, 10,000 small fry for future edification of the hook, line and angler. They were secured from the Ontario Gov't, and in a few years the little streams restocked, should prove the means of a good day's sport.

Mrs Herbert Wilkinson (Sadie McFadden) passed away on 20th inst at her home in Edmonton, after several weeks' illness from heart trouble. Her husband died three years ago. The funeral was held Friday last from her late home, interment at Edmonton.

Now Adds "B. A." to her Name
The Review is pleased to acknowledge an invitation to the Commencement Exercises of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, on June 13. Graduating in the 1934 class is Miss Winnifred Brooker, a one-time Durham girl, who received her early impetus for study in Durham Public School. Like her elder sister, Miss Rosalie, she has a deeply literary turn of mind, and has found its outlet in Library work. Miss Brooker adds in a short letter: "This college is unique in the country because it gives a full university course at night,— also in the day hours,— for adults who care to work during the day and go to college at night. I have been taking a few subjects a year ever since 1925, the year the college was started. During boom years of 1929 and '30, there were 7000 students attending Cleveland College. This year there are only some 2000". Congratulations to Winnifred.

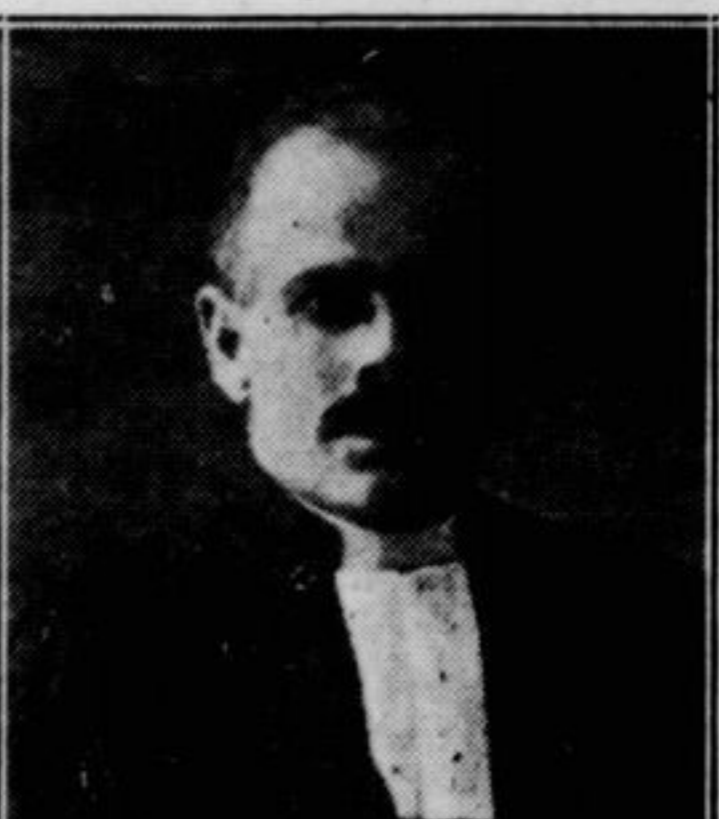

QUEEN ST. CHURCH "PEONY TEA PARTY"

Yesterday afternoon, many ladies wended their way to the Queen St. Church parlors, where the annual "Peony Tea", conducted by the Ladies' Aid was staged. The peonies, never more beautiful than this year, were everywhere it would appear, and completely transformed the lecture room. Upon entering, the visitors were received by Mrs. Gagnon, president; Mrs. G. Moore, Mrs. Robt. Noble and Miss Cosens. Tea was poured from a pretty table, by Mrs. Arthur McClocklin, Mrs Twamley, Mrs Aljoe and Mrs Almack, while looking after the comfort and placing of guests were Mrs Glass and Mrs Winters. The many ladies serving dainty refreshments were Mesdames Knechtel, M. Saunders, Geo. Ylirs, Steeds, Whitmore, R. Lawrence, Chateau, Robt Campbell, Bailey, Lloyd and Miss Wolfe.

Midway in afternoon a presentation was made to Mrs Almack, from the Society of a silver flower basket. The address was read by Mrs. Gagnon, Mrs Knechtel presenting the gift. To the kindly worded address, Mrs Almack gave a most fitting reply.

A delightful program was heard consisting of solos by Miss Winnifred Clarke, Hanover; violin solo, Mr Norman Weston, Chatham; duet, Mrs. Knechtel and Mrs B. Farrel; Mrs J. McCaslin and Mrs Shippam: piano solos, Miss Charlton, Mrs A. Stauffer, Mrs Shippam, Jean McGirr; piano duet, Mrs Thomas and daughter: trio—Lois Wilson, Evelyn Aljoe and Florence Greenwood.

$25.00 were receipts of tea. The young people of the church, met at G. R. Padfield's home on Monday night, and presented Rev. and Mrs Almack with a Barrymore chair.

REV. W. H. SMITH, B. A. Present Pastor of Knox United Church, Durham

Knox Church Favored with Fine Anniversary Weather

On Second Sunday, Rev. Dr. Wm. Farquharson and Rev. Jas. Binnie Delighted Large Congregations on Sunday.—Monday Evening a Social Time and Reunion.

Those who were fortunate enough to be present at the 75th anniversary services of Knox United Church, in Durham will long remember the occasion. It was a special blend of the past and present and was also a striking commentary on the part the church life plays in any community. In these 75 years the warp and woof of the life of a church is woven. The pattern evolved in this process has materialized into a rosy hue. What garner the future will weave is for the rising generation to decide.

But on this 75th anniversary all was bright and harmonious. The services on 24th inst, as well as those of the 17th, were well attended many friends of the congregation from adjacent churches, swelling the attendance. On Sunday morning Rev. B. D. Armstrong, former pastor of Presbyterian Church, worshipped with the Knox brethren and pronounced the benediction. The evening service of the Presbyterian Church was cancelled and the pastor, Rev. D. Gowdy, also gave the benediction at Knox. Both actions were appreciated by the sister church.

In these 75 years of church life, there have been seven pastors: Rev. Wm. Park Rev Wm Forest, Rev. R. McNair, Rev. A. G. Jansea, Rev. V. Farquharson, Rev. S. M. Whaley, Rev. W. H. Smith.

The morning speaker was Rev. Dr. Wm Farquharson, Toronto who was pastor of Knox from 1899 to 1913. The years are passing kindly over the popular Doctor, and as he stated he hopes to have sufficient "kick", to enjoy meetings of such a nature for many years to come. He based his sermon on John 11:40. "Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldst believe, thou shouldst see the glory of God." Dr Farquharson referred with feelings of gratitude and love, in looking back to his time in Durham.

Rev. James Binnie, Toronto, the first son of the congregation to enter the ministry and whose kin and kin are yet very actively connected with the church, was the speaker of the evening. More perhaps than any other man, is Mr Binnie qualified to speak of early congregational days. He was a student in Latin under the first minister of the church, Rev. William Park, and his kindly references to his life and worth, were received with great favor by the congregation.

Supper and Concert

On Monday evening, an Anniversary supper was held, and well attended. When $60 are receipts on a 25c admission, it is evident that the social side of an Anniversary is an important feature. The tables were attractively arranged with flowers of the season, and all partook of an excellent meal. The program upstairs was in the hands of chairman Rev. W. H. Smith and choir. Rev. J. T. Priest of the Baptist Church, spoke as behalf of other town churches, and conveyed their greetings. He stressed the important part fellowship with each other plays. Dr Farquharson was the first speaker. Continued on Page 4

THE ROLL CALL

J. W. CRAWFORD

For many years a leading citizen of Durham and Friday, James W. Crawford died on Friday morning last in Mount Forest hospital in his 88th year. After spending the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Skales in Mount Forest he with Mrs. Crawford had returned to their Durham home. In a fall seven weeks ago, he sustained a broken hip, and has since been a patient in Mount Forest hospital, his age preventing a permanent recovery.

He was born at Aberdeen, Scotland, and came to Canada with his parents at seven years of age, to Yeovil in Egremont tp. At that time in Mount Forest, there was only one building, a hotel in the north end. When 13 years old he went to Fergus with his brother Chas., and at 21, he bought the Aberdeen mill and founded the post office there, naming it after his Scottish birthplace. In 1889 he sold his Aberdeen business and built a lumber, sash and door mill in Durham, which he successfully operated until burned in 1906. Here he was a most public spirited citizen, being the moving spirit, along with the late J. Kelly, in establishing waterworks and with Kilmer and McIntyre, in bringing power from Aberdeen for electric lighting.

After the fire, Mr and Mrs. Crawford moved to his farm lands at Unity, Sask., later retiring to Eyebrow and Regina. Six years ago they returned to Durham to live, and have since been here and in Mount Forest.

Fifty-nine years ago next August, the deceased was wedded to Agnes Dargavel, who has been a true and loyal helpmate; and in falling health recently, more devoted to each other. She and a family of six children mourn: Mrs Mortimer (Margaret) of Winnipeg; Mrs J. D. Munro (Birdie) of Regina; Peter of Unity, Sask.; Mrs. H. Skales (Jean), Mt. Forest; Charles of Chicago; and Mrs. J. H. McCormack (Zell) of Winn.peg. All except Peter were home for the funeral. A son Alex. died in 1907, and daughter Vivian ten years ago. There are twelve grandchildren.

The late Mr. Crawford was for many years a magistrate in Durham. Though securing little schooling, he was a remarkably well-informed man and an assiduous reader of the best literature. Especially was he devoted to Scotland's famed poet, Burns, and could quote much of his works. In business life, in his day, he was energetic and absolutely dependable, and possessed of excellent Scotch judgment.

In 1878, when at Aberdeen, he joined Durham Masonic lodge and was buried under its auspices in Durham cemetery on Monday. The brethren accompanied the remains from his late residence to Knox United Church, where his pastor of 30 years ago, Rev. Dr Farquharson, conducted the service. Rev. W. H. Smith and Rev. B. D. Armstrong assisting. The pall bearers were Masonic brethren, J. J. Smith, Dr J. F. Grant, J. Morrison, C. H. Moffat, P. Ramage, Alex. Morton, Jas Dargavel, F. Collinson. Many beautiful floral tokens surrounded the casket.

JOHN McCOSKERY

On Friday last the death of a well-known Durham resident took place in the person of John McCoskery, at Durham hospital. But six weeks ago his wife passed away, and since that date he has been going down hill quickly. They were much together in life, in death not long divided. Deceased was 75 years of age. After the passing of his wife, he spent part of his time with his niece, Mrs. N. Whitmore, but the last week or two he has been in charge of trained help at Durham hospital.

Mr. McCoskery, was one of the most kindly and approachable of men. He was born on Con 2, Bentinck, one of eight children born to Mr and Mrs Francis McCoskery. Of this family, three now survive. The family later moved further north on 2nd con. and when a young man Mr. McCoskery and parents moved over to Glenelg, at Rob Roy. He was married 40 years ago to Christena Stewart and after their marriage, moved to Georgetown, where he was employed in the tannery there. Twenty years ago, they moved to Durham, where they have been respected residents. Mr. McCoskery finding employment with the Furniture Company. Two daughters were born to them, now both deceased: Miss Blanche dying at 18 years, and Florence, (Mrs. W. S. Hunter) passing 16 years ago. Mourning his demise are one brother Donald McCoskery of Toronto, and two sisters, Miss Esther McCoskery and Mrs. M. Melnes, (Mat. Ida), Glenelg. There is also one grand daughter, Miss Elsie Hunter.

The remains were laid to rest on Sunday in beautiful Durham cemetery, amid every evidence of respect. Beautiful floral donations rested on the casket from relatives and friends. Rev. Mr. Gowdy officiated at house and grave.

Col. Fraser Hunter, M.P.P. Receives Warm Reception

Col. F. Fraser Hunter, D.S.O., now Liberal M.P.P. for St. Patrick's, Toronto, paid a visit to his aged mother here last Saturday and at the same time was greeted at his old home, "The Hedges" by a large number of Durham and vicinity's prominent citizens, who gathered to congratulate him on his sensational and successful run last Tuesday. By an energetic, whirlwind campaign, he captured an almost impregnable Conservative seat in Tory Toronto by 70 majority.

For about fifteen or twenty minutes, Col. Hunter addressed his assembled friends. First thanking them for the warm welcome accorded him, he in racy style described his campaign. His opponent, Eddie Murphy at first said of him: "We've never heard of this fellow" but he was sure they had now. Mr Murphy said some weeks ago, "If I can't beat Hunter, I'll eat his hat." "That's why," said Col. Hunter, "I'm not wearing a hat this afternoon." 250 good Tories had nominated him and $600 had put him in.

He thanked South Grey Liberals for withdrawing a candidate and cited a few distinctions between a rural and city election. For a month he had not more than four hours a night sleep.

The whole world today is a planetary problem and Canada is perhaps the only country that can survive these critical times. The new premier, Mitchell Hepburn, has a monumental task ahead of him. He believed in Hepburn's youth and leadership, and the people of Ontario had endorsed his opinion. The new Government must do something to solve the unemployment problem, and in this, all must co-operate. In closing, he again thanked Durham citizens for their welcome on his home grounds, and asked the young people to organize to study and cope with present day problems.

ODDFELLOW and REBEKAH LODGES HOLD ANNUAL SERVICE

Grey Lodge No. 169 I.O.O.F. and Lady Grey Rebekah Lodge No. 310, again honored their departed brethren and sisters on Sunday afternoon, when the annual memorial service took place in Durham cemetery. There was a large attendance of the citizens and brethren, quite a number from Mt. Forest, Harrison and Hanover lodges being present.

An impressive address on "Memory" was delivered by Bro. Rev. W. H. Smith, P.D.D.G.M. Bro. Bert Stone gave the Oddfellows' address and Chaplain L. Whitmore the prayers. A male quartet Bros. Thos Bell, C. Lauder, Chas. Lang, and Bert Saunders sang "Rock of Ages" and Mr. Saunders also rendered a solo.

INDUCTION OF NEW QUEEN. ST. PASTOR FRIDAY NIGHT

Friday evening of this week, in Queen St. United Church, the service of inducting Rev. R. G. Halbert into the pastoral charges of Queen Street and Zion United Churches, will take place.

This Wednesday morning, Rev. W. C. and Mrs Almack leave for their new charge of Glenmount United Church, Toronto, where the induction service will take place that same evening in his new appointment. Mr and Mrs Almack have completed a successful pastorate here and regrets are many at their leaving Durham. At the same time a warm welcome is extended to the new incumbent.

OBITUARY

ARTHUR GRAY

In the prime of life, Arthur Gray, recently a partner proprietor of Durham Creamery, suffered a stroke of paralysis early Monday morning and died in a few hours. The news of his sudden demise was a shock to town and district, he having lived here since March 1931, when he and Mr Chateau established Durham Creamery and sold out only a couple of months ago. He was in his 40th year and was born at Atwood. His wife and three children, Gordon, Ralph and Donald survive him, also his father, a sister and a brother.

Deceased was a graduate of the Ont. Agricultural College and previous to coming here, worked in St. George, Harriston, Wallaceburg and Orangeville.

A brief service was held at his home at 11.30 Wednesday, by Rev. B. D. Armstrong and the cortege then proceeded to his old home at Atwood, where service took place at 2.30, followed by interment there.

The 15 month old child of Mr and Mrs M. Buhrow, Normanby Tp. died as a result of taking pills.
