DOCTOR TELLS SEX BEFORE THE CHILD IS BORN

Heart Beats Determine if it is a Girl or Boy, but Sex can't be Altered.

Hypodermics of the new extract, taken from the glands of bulls which foretells the sex of unborn children in advance by a pink spot of reaction on the mothers' arms in the case of a boy and no reaction in the case of a girl 82.3% successful for male children and 89.6 for female, has not yet come to Toronto from Boston University but Dr K. C. McIlwraith, Toronto obstetrician, can tell anyhow 60 per cent of the time, without any uncomfortable hypodermics.

He just listens to the heart-beats of the unborn children with his stethoscope.

"The right heart-beat is somewhat slower, if the child is going to be a boy," Dr McIlwraith explained. "The usual beat for a girl is 150 to the minute, while that of a boy is 120. "In between is the problem, it's a 50-50 chance between 150 and 120, whether it's to be a boy or girl.

"After all," commented the distinguished Toronto obstetrician "it is not a matter of very great importance anyhow whether you can tell if it's to be a boy or girl. Simply a matter of gratifying curiosity. For you can't alter it, hypodermic or not, can you?"

Premarriage Examination

In the ranks of physicians attending the Ontario Medical Convention, at Toronto, there was some private discussion among the doctors whether compulsory medical examination before marriage would be a move in the right direction. Medical examination of prospective bridegrooms and brides, would be a move in the right direction, in the opinion of Dr McIlwraith. "But it would be going pretty far to make it a law. Custom would be a far better thing. When you pass a law you excite opposition at once, and such would be the case here. More and more people are being examined before marriage, and in time, if doctors co-operate, it will be forced by custom."

WALKERTON TURNED A GOOD MAN DOWN

Commenting on the adverse majority against Campbell Grant in his home town, Walkerton, the "Herald Times" says: "The surprise of the campaign was the adverse majority against Mr. Campbell Grant of 194 in his home town of Walkerton. Considering the way that Mr Grant as Reeve and councillor of this town has worked in the past for the up-building of this municipality and the time he has given and the ability he has shown, in this respect, together with the splendid and successful efforts he has made to put Walkerton on the hockey map, all earned for him better treatment than he got at the hands of many in the recent election contest. Politics or no politics, it was not coming to Campbell Grant and those who conducted locally such an intensely bitter campaign against him, now that the smoke of battle has blown over, can hardly look back upon their performance and see in it any gesture of gratitude for what this able public servant has done for the County town of Bruce.

Mr. Grant conducted a clean campaign and although he went down to defeat, he has nothing to be ashamed of in anything he has said or done in the contest just closed."

NOTTAWASAGA'S CENTENNIAL A BIG THING

Canada's 67th birthday took place on Sunday last, though public recognition of the anniversary of Confederation was held the next day from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the day being a national holiday. While many Canadians formed large crowds in celebrating centres, other thousands sought the quiet of various resorts and beaches. The day was one of the warmest this season, a fine breeze making it ideal for a holiday.

In Ontario, the biggest celebration was held at Toronto, in connection with their Centennial program. Another centennial observance was held at Duntroon, to mark the age of Nottawasaga Township in Simcoe Co. Walkerton and Mount Forest were the nearest towns to Durham to stage public gatherings to which a number of our residents attended.

The celebration at Duntroon of the Nottawasaga Centennial, which township adjoins Grey County on the east and contains the towns of Collingwood, Stayner and Creemore, was a most unique one and attracted a crowd of about 5000. The little village was simply overrun by the visitors, and there was "something doing" all day. A "Review" reporter mingled a while in the throng, which strongly resembled an Old Boys' Reunion. A lot of the ex-atives crowded the school grounds and inspected the building where they were taught their "A. B. C's". The churches, stores, and in fact, every building in the place were well reviewed. A fine sports bill and lots of music aided materially in entertaining the folks.

A feature of the day was the exhibit of pioneer articles, including home-made household furniture and agricultural implements of a century ago. Bus and rail traffic was reported to be very heavy over the week end. On Saturday afternoon scores of cars passed through Durham to northern resorts, as signs of camp luggage or baggage were much in evidence.

ELECTION NOTES

Rixton Rafter, editor of the Enterprise News, of Arthur, is lamenting because he did not receive the one vote in the recent election that some one gave him in 1929. He was not a candidate either time, but in 1929 printed the ballots. That necessitated his name being printed on them a farmer saw the name, marked an "x" after it and let it go at that.

TO WORK OUT TAXES

British Columbia farmers, threatened with the loss of their property by tax sale, will be permitted to "work out" their taxes for one year provided it is impossible for them to pay their arrears otherwise. Premier T. D. Pattullo has announced. The plan has been approved by the cabinet and the department of finance has the handling of the plan under consideration, cooperating with the department of public works. The policy will apply for only one year. Farmers will be allowed enough work to cover the taxes for only one year so they may keep their properties out of the tax sale. They will not be permitted to work out their full arrears covering the three years. No fixed wage rate has been set but it was intimated prevailing rates for relief work in the area where the particular applicant may live will probably be paid.

PRINCIPAL CHAMNEY LEAVING

Mr S. K. Chamney has accepted the principalship of the Fergus Public School at a salary of $1500 an increase of $200 over the salary received here. A Collingwood teacher had accepted the position, but inducements were held out to keep him in Collingwood and he asked to be re-leased. Mr. Chamney, who was about equally acceptable to the Fergus Board, was then communicated with and engaged. Mount Forest will regret the loss of an excellent teacher and good citizen.

Speaking at Toronto recently before members of the International Building Owners and Managers Association, E. W. Beatty, K.C., chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, doubted the wisdom of "too elaborate planning" in national economies. Mr. Beatty did not think the present system of society was wrong except in the "way in which it is applied."
