Life Saving Efforts

Fighting for the lives of men, women and children, is a never ceasing struggle at the Muskoka, Toronto and the Queen Mary Hospitals, where nearly a thousand patients are now being treated for tuberculosis.

Perhaps you do not fully realize the predicament of the unfortunate victims of this dreaded disease, the majority of whom came from the families of the very poor.

Living in cramped quarters, where sunshine and fresh air are often as scanty as nourishing food, is it any wonder that consumption finds them out.

Frail and weak and tired, their plight is pitiful, but a haven awaits, where, with your help, most of them may be restored to health.

Will you please send what you can to assist in this great work. Please address George A. Reid, Treasurer, 222 College Street, Toronto 2.

VARNEY

The Women's Association will meet next Wednesday at the home of Mrs Stanley Mountain.

The Craze For Old Names.

Over the radio recently a violinist who owns a $30,000 Guarnerius violin played a melody on it, then he repeated the melody with an ordinary violin or "fiddle" costing about $100. Then he asked radio listeners to write in and say which was the $30,000 instrument and which was the $100 one.

Eleven per cent. did not notice any difference, 54% guessed the $100 violin was the $30,000 one, and 35% gave the right answer. A few years ago a firm of violin makers in London named Hill invited a committee of experts to judge between a Stradivarius violin and one of their own make from stock. A skillful musician played on the two instruments behind a screen. The unanimous decision of the committee was that the Hill violin was a Stradivarius one and goes to show that this old master fetish is largely an affectation. The instrument does not matter so much as the "soul" that the player puts into the performance.

A soulful musician can make a homely violin or piano sound like a benediction from Heaven, whereas an ordinary player on a Stradivarius or a Steinway couldn't stir any emotion in a listener. The same goes for art. Pictures may hang in a private collection for years and not attract attention from the connoisseur, then suddenly somebody discovers upon it the name of a famous artist who has been dead a hundred years or more, and immediately it becomes of fabulous value. Nothing has been done to alter its appearance. It remains the same fine picture or the same bad one as before. Which suggests, to paraphrase Henry Ford on history, that "old masters" are "hunk."

To the christian death is the end of discipline, temptation and sorrow, and if we are God's children, we should be able to say with the apostle, Oh death where is thy sting? Oh grave where is thy victory? Blessed then are the dead who die in the Lord but not those who are not christians, for the scripture says that the wicked shall go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into life eternal.

FISH DIE BY HUNDREDS AT FORMOSA MILL POND

Sudden drying up of the Weiler mill pond, at Formosa, south of Walkerton, caused hundreds of large fish, and thousands of smaller ones, to die. So serious did the health authorities regard the situation, that workmen were called to gather up the dead fish and bury them. Continued dry weather was the cause for the drying up of most of the pond and the fish were thus left high and dry, most of them suckers and chub.

Sunny Katy Knits for Others

Katy was never a very strong girl and her work in laundry taxed her strength severely. In order to save as much as she could to help out at home, she used to walk long blocks to her rooming-house, and the atmosphere of the laundry to the cold of the outside was also harmful. At length she caught a bad cold which she could not shake off, and when the doctor was called he found that she had consumption.

She was sent to the Toronto Hospital for Consumptives, and although very downcast at first, she decided that she was fortunate indeed, for within a short time the wonderful treatment and care which she received began to have their effect. She has gained weight, turned and during her "working hours" she is able to knit bed jackets for other patients.

The doctors and nurses are hopeful that she will soon be well enough to return to work, but if it had not been for the Toronto Hospital her chance for recovery would have been small.

The hospital needs funds, however, to enable it to carry on its work. Will you help by sending a gift to G. A. Reid, 222 College St., Toronto 2.

THE ROLL CALL

MRS. ALEXANDER AITKEN

Like unto a sheaf of corn fully ripe and ready to be garnered, might the passing of Mrs. Aitken be likened. At the advanced age of 84 years, her tasks are laid aside to be taken up by the succeeding generation. The death took place on Thursday, 19th of July, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Andrew Hunter, Holstein, with whom she has made her home for the past few weeks. Death can not be attributed to any special disease, but rather a general breaking up of life's machinery.

Deceased was Emma Pinder, daughter of the late Wm and Mrs Pinder, and was the eldest of a family of five. She was born at Guelph and when a small child of 11, came with her parents, brother and sisters and settled on a farm near Orchard.

Her brother, Wm Pinder and sisters, Mrs Johnson (Jennie); Mrs. Caldwell (Eliza); Mrs W. Dodds, (Mary), have all predeceased her.

In 1871, she was wedded to the late Alexander Aitken and settled on lot 29 con 3, now owned by her son Alex, and endured all the hardships of the early pioneers at that time, but enjoyed wonderful health until about 5 years ago. Since the death of Mr Aitken four years ago, she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs Robt Sim and has been tenderly cared for. At time of death she was spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs And. Hunter.

To them were born seven children one of whom is deceased: Emma, Mrs. George Alles. The surviving members of the family are: Lizzie, Mrs. And. Hunter; Will; Alice, Mrs R. Sim; Robert; Alex. on homestead and George.

Seventeen grandchildren and eight grandchildren also mourn her death.

Deceased, in health, was a faithful member of Holstein Pres. Church and was a woman of high Christian character. Beyond the family circle, she was esteemed as neighbor and friend and her passing has come as that of the Psalmist,—full of years and honor.

The funeral to Maplewood cemetery, on the 21st inst, was largely attended. The service was conducted by her pastor, Rev Mr Melroy, who selected his text from Phil. 1; 21; "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." Mrs Melroy sang a beautiful solo, entitled "In the Morning." Six grandsons acted as pallbearers and four grand daughters as flower bearers.

DONALD MCARTHUR

On Thursday last, at the home of Thomas Brown, con 12, Egremont, death entered and robbed this home of one of its finest young men, Donald McArthur, at the age of 26 years.

For some years back, his life and work have been broken by sickness. Two years ago he underwent an operation at Durham hospital for appendicitis. This gave him relief for a time and he went to Saskatchewan where he was employed on a farm, near Regina. Here he again became acutely ill and his mother, Mrs Neil McArthur was sent for. This was no light experience for her, as the end trip was her first away from her home. Donald was removed to Regina hospital, on becoming ill, and here the worst nature of his illness was realized. He was not operated upon, but taken East to General Hospital, Toronto where the Toronto doctors in attendance, confirmed the word of the western medics. Deceased had been suffering from cancer of the kidney, and a short period of life was meted out for deceased. He was brought to his home in Egremont on Tuesday last and while he stood the trip well, death was in the cup and he passed away on Thursday.

Deceased is survived by his widowed mother, three brothers, Lochie of Fergus; Currie; Colin, at home, and Sophie, Mrs Thos. Brown, on the home farm.

Rev Jno. Little, who is supplying during vacation period at Woodland, preached a very comforting discourse to the mourners at funeral on Saturday, interment taking place to Woodland cemetery. Mr Little stated he was specially speaking to the large number of young men present, and trusted they had their house in order when Death might overtake them, as deceased had. Donald had selected his own hymns for the funeral service, the 23rd Psalm and "Safe in the arms of Jesus." He also selected his own pall-bearers, his friends and neighbors of the section.

Donald was the possessor of a cheerful and bright disposition, which stood him in good stead thru many a dark hour. Many old friends and neighbors mourn to-day with the bereaved family over the untimely demise.
