MULOCK

TORY-MEYER

The marriage of Miss Hazel Torry only daughter of the late Clark Torry and Mrs Torry of Mulock to Mr. Wilfred Meyer only son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Meyer of Allan Park, took place on Wednesday afternoon at the Anglican Rectory, Hanover, Rev. W. C. Allison officiated. The witnesses were Miss W. Bailey, cousin of the bride and Miss Norma Meyer, sister of the groom. The bride wore a graceful gown of white silk crepe and white accessories, her travelling suit being a navy blue swaggar suit and matching accessories. After a short honeymoon the happy couple will take up residence on the groom's farm in Holland.

Services will be held in the church here Sunday morning and North Glenelg in afternoon, but no service on Sunday evening.

A most pleasant and profitable afternoon was spent on Thursday Sept. 13th, when Mrs Joe Reay entertained the Ladies' Aid of Mulock Baptist church, 14 members being present and 11 visitors. Mrs Dan McLean, pres., presided over the meeting. The minutes of previous meeting read and roll call answered with verse of scripture on 'hope', the Treasurer's report to date was read by Socy and approved. During business period, arrangements were made to get blocks ready for quilt and have quilting at next meeting, at home of Mrs Geo. Brown. The hostess served a delicious lunch at close.

THE CHALLENGE CUP
The interest this week is in the challenge race for the American Cup, being staged off Newport, in an arm of the Atlantic Ocean. The contestants are T. O. M. Sopwith, an Englishman, with lots of money, racing his "Endeavor" against Harold Van-built, also with lots of money, with his "Rainbow" yacht. Whoever wins the first four races out of seven, gets the cup and all the honor that goes with it. To date it is anybody's race, with the English yacht having the slight edge. The late Sir Thomas Lipton vainly tried in years past to bring the honor home to England with "Shamrock" and the English quality of "sticking-it-out" is planted just as strong in Sopwith.

A NEEDLESS MAGAZINE
The folly of governmental procedure was never brought closer home to Durhamites and surrounding district, than at the present. Durham is advertising a tax sale, to take place in December and the law says it must be advertised in issues of "The Ontario Gazette," Ontario's official magazine, authorized by the Provincial Government.

Who sees this magazine? Did you, reader, ever light your eyes on a single publication? Can you tell us the nature of its make-up, or in fact the sum and substance of it? Is it a

PREDICTS SWING TO LIBERALISM

The official nominations are over for five Dominion by-elections in Ontario next Monday, Sept. 24th. Premier Bennett is not even in the country to assist his candidates, though some of his cabinet are assisting his would-be representatives in the fray. Three of these by-elections are brought on through death and two through the seats made vacant by the resignations of Premier Mitchell Hepburn in West Elgin and Hon. P. Heenan in Kenora-Rainy River District, when he resigned to accept the portfolio of Minister of Lands and Forests in the Hepburn cabinet. Two of these by-elections will be three-cornered fights. The ridings and contestants are: Toronto Northwest - Conservative, T. L. Church; Liberal, Major H. P. Snelgrove; C. C. F., Graham Spry.

North York-Con., Captain Harold Brunel; Lib., W. P. Mulock.

Elgin West-Con., Henry Clyde Borbridge; Lib., Wilson H. Mills; Independent, Ronald W. MacDonald.

Kenora-Rainy River-Con., Joseph Derry; Lib.-Labor, Hugh McKin-non.

Frontenac-Addington-Con., W. R. Aylesworth; Lib., Colin Campbell.

Premier Mitchell Hepburn predicts that all five seats will go Liberal, but Monday will tell the tale. If they do it, it foreshadows the political funeral of Hon. R. B. Bennett at the Dominion election, come this fall or next year.

THE QUINTUPLET HOSPITAL AT CALLANDER
Interest which has never abated since the birth of the quintuplet children in Northern Ontario on May 28th last, received a new impetus when the new hospital for special education and benefit of the Dionne quintuplets was opened. All the dignitaries and pomp of officialdom were there: all in fact but the two most responsible for their being in this world—the father and mother. The press dispatch says "the father continued his work in the field and the mother did not show herself."

The fact that these children were born as a group of five—something exceedingly rare—is making them national rather than home figures. It is hardly likely these five girls, if they continue to thrive, will quarrel over whose turn it is to wash dishes or make the beds. Rather they will be watched and guarded as to the necessary number of vitamins and calories they are to daily absorb and live so long each day in the sunshine. As they grow to maturity the gnawing call of the public will still be heard at their doors, and eventually the "road" will find them, as a means of earning their livelihood. They will never have the care-free childhood of the ordinary child and will never lead the normal life. They are already beyond the control of the parents, and are being reared at the expense of the country.

Altogether are they not more to be pitied rather than envied?

ROGER BABSON AND THE CHURCH
Roger Babson, famous statistician, expert of many lines of human endeavour—and generally his findings are correct—is now entering upon a new line of thought, as to why the churches have failed to hold their interest and attendance.

Viewing the subject as an economist he says that "poor attendance" is at the bottom of church troubles. He suggests that the physical characteristics of churches be bettered, especially ventilation. He remarks, too, that the characters of the church members must be improved in a way that will "recommend them to non-church members." And he feels that records of attendance are highly important, more so than a record of the monies taken in.

If all the implications are taken into account these suggestions are important; but Mr Babson's really significant recommendation is this: "See that sermons are vitalized."

After all the success of the church depends upon its ability to make people believe they have immortal souls and that these souls are in peril and can be rescued through the plan of salvation offered from the pulpit.

If that idea can be put over, other matters become incidental. If it can't, the rest won't help much.

Mr. Babson's suggestions as to how the situation might be improved are interesting and worth setting down: Each church should develop a definite spiritual and intellectual goal and develop a clientele accordingly.

Should work for the economic well being of the people.

The physical characteristics of the church should be improved, especially the ventilation.

The character of the church members must be improved to commend the church to non-attendants.

Records of church attendance are very important and should be reported at annual meetings.

Insist on rigid standards for church membership.

See the sermons are vitalized.

The influence of the home must be for church attendance.

A very great deal might be said under each of these suggestions. What would you say if you were asked to discuss them?

THE ROLL CALL

Edge Hill community has lost a familiar figure from her district, in the passing of Harry Williams, at the age of 77 years. While not well for some time, the actual sickness was of two weeks' duration and he passed away Saturday morning last. ARCHIE McDUGALL

The death of above gentleman on Monday evening last, on 8th con. of Bentinck (Crawford) removes one of Bentinck township's well-known and respected citizens from scenes of activity. Indeed so long has he been part and parcel of Crawford life and activity, that it will be some time ere the neighborhood will realize that he is no more. Deceased was born over 78 years ago a few lots east of his present home, the son of the late Neil and Mrs McDougall. Of his family, one sister Eliza remains, Mrs. Kennedy, Hamilton. The last year Mr McDougall has been going down hill and not long ago, held an auction sale of farm stock and implements. Since the sale, he has done no heavy work, simply living on the home place.

He was married about 46 years ago to Maggie Cannington, who survives. There was no family, but two adopted children, will mourn with the wife, the loss of a kind and loving guardian. They are Edna, Mrs. D. A. McDonald, Crawford, and Harry McDougall, Durham.

Deceased was the essence of honor and integrity and as well a splendid neighbor and friend. He inherited a great love for the Presbyterian Church and all her traditions, and is being buried this Thursday under its auspices, by Rev. David Gowdy of Durham. Interment takes place in Durham cemetery.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

The Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church met for study in the home of Mrs J. M. Burgess. The papers given by Mrs. J. H. McDadyen and Mrs J. F. Grant were very interesting, as this was the 70th anniversary of the founding of the Women's Missionary Society in Canada, this taking place in Quebec in 1864. The first paper was looking backward over the realization of the dream of the years. The second paper was looking forward with the motto "The World for Christ." There was an impressive moment when silent prayer was asked "that we in the work who have taken the torch from our mothers may hold it high." Mrs. Lauder and Mrs. Geddes contributed a duet and the key for roll call was "hope." Mrs R. Edge read the lesson from scripture. A generous birthday offering was received. Mrs Burgess and Mrs Keller planned a social hour and served refreshments.

The W.M.S. of Knox United Ch. met in the schoolroom on Wednesday Sept. 12th. Mrs Mather presided and opened the meeting with hymn 383 and the Lord's prayer. After the minutes were read, other business matters being discussed, among them being plans for the Mission Band Rally to be held Sat. in Knox Church and for the Thankoffering to be held in Oct. Brown and Mrs. Allan offered prayer after which the last chapters of the study book "Living Issues in China" was taken by Mrs McFarlane. The topic being the Mission home at Grand Ligne, papers were given by Mrs. Ewing, Mrs J. McGillivray, Mrs A. Beaton, Jean McGillivray. Mrs. Priest gave a talk on Grand Ligne, and an appropriate solo by Mrs Jas Browne was enjoyed. Mrs. Priest closed the meeting with prayer.

Mr Will Dargavel is spending a couple of weeks with his mother.

On this Monday morning it has the appearance of fall. The leaves are turning red and quietly coming down yet the grass is greener than during the past month. We had some fine rains last week, which helped very much, both with the water supply, and the pasture.

FIRE INJURIES FATAL TO JOHN E. RUSSELL

John E. Russell, Wyehwood Park, former president of the Russell Construction Co., and director of half a dozen other paving and building concerns, died early today in St. Michael's hospital as the result of injuries in the explosion on the oil barge Enarce, July 23.

Only Mr. Russell's unusual physique had enabled him to live so long doctors state. On Friday morning his condition became very grave and it was expected he would not live until 4 o'clock.

Up until last spring Mr. Russell was president of the Russell construction Co. but the pressure of his other interests caused him to give up this post. He was president of the Standard Paving and Material Co., Ltd., president of the Consolidated Sand and Gravel Co., of Standard Paving Ltd., and of United Distributors, Ltd., also a director of Standard Paving (Maritimes), Ltd., and of Kilmer Harbour, Ltd. Mr Russell was also vice-president of Sin-Mac Lines, Ltd., at one time.

Born in Toronto, Mr Russell was early identified with the Toronto Shipbuilding Co. Soon afterwards he went into the contracting business becoming a specialist in the paving line. He soon rose to be one of the most important paving men in Ontario, obtaining very large contracts from the city and the province. Latterly he had invested considerably in shipping and at the time of the oil disaster owned over 200 boats.

Business associates speak very highly of his integrity and indefatigable industry. John Jennings, K. C., of the law firm of Jennings & Clute, stated that Mr Russell could work 17 hours a day without apparent affect on him.

"Banks would loan him $50,000," without questioning his credit," he said. "One banker told me that in 30 years of business dealings with Mr Russell he had never found him to default in payment."

Besides his widow he is survived by five sons: Joseph, Patrick, Kenneth, Frederick and John; and two daughters Mrs R. W. Boyden and one at home.
