

CONSPIRACY CLAIMED IN BURNING OF AUTO

A young man from Bentinck and a companion from Sullivan are facing court action as the result of the destruction of a car owned by the Sullivan youth.

Constable Meyer of Hanover received a phone call early last Sunday morning from Constable Lavery of Chesley, reporting the disappearance of a big Buick sedan, formerly owned by Ernie Sandford of Hanover, but now in the possession of Wendell Holmes, a farm employee of Sullivan.

It is alleged that Holmes and an accomplice, Roy Hagey, of Bentinck, conspired to burn up the car for the sake of the insurance money, and that it was arranged between them that Holmes was to leave the car parked at a certain point in Chesley last Saturday night, that Hagey would take it to some secluded spot and burn it. Police allege that this was done, and that Hagey took the car through Hanover to Durham and thence to a little-used road about five miles east of the latter town, where it is said the gas tank was emptied and poured over the inside rear of the car, a match lit to the machine and then it was pushed down a hill, where later found.

The car it is said was dealt in by the Hanover man to a Chesley dealer and later re-sold to Holmes. It was not entirely paid for by the latter, and the dealer is said to have been pressing for payment on threat of repossessing the car. As there was insurance on the machine, it is claimed Holmes and Hagey conspired to set it on fire and it is claimed Hagey was to get a certain amount of money for doing the job. He has been in court before on various charges, one of them laid in Hanover, and it is said he walked back to his home near Chesley after setting the car on fire and leaving it east of Durham. Both of them are on remand in the Bruce county jail at Walkerton.

PRICEVILLE AND VICINITY

PRICEVILLE

The concert in connection with the fair passed off most successfully with a good attendance. The "Night-Owl" orchestra from Midway gave a splendid music between acts of the "Morie Bann" play put on by talent from Owen Sound. Mollie was impersonated most cleverly by Miss Irene McIver a smart dapper little Miss. Ross Cameron a commercial traveller acted the part of the rich crusty old Grandfather and also gave a couple of dramatic readings between acts. Mrs John McKay was the descriptive announcer of the play and told a funny story.

The pianist of the orchestra, Miss Florence Sauer, accompanied them throughout. Miss M. Bradley a pretty little damsel of 16 summers or so, gave two fine selections on the violin for a solo and played collectively with the two saxophones and a tapper on a drum. One of the players sang "Trumpet or what tune are you playing" in a good voice. On the whole a fine night's entertainment was enjoyed. President McBride expressed his pleasure with the success of the day and thanked all for their kindly assistance and promised willing help in the future in whatever capacity he may fill.

Mr Emerson Shantz and his lovely young bride (Doris McLean), home from their honeymoon trip received the usual congratulations from a host of friends.

The dance following the concert proved an enjoyable profitable affair placing the directors fairly well on easy street.

A shower was tendered on Wednesday evening to Mr and Mrs Emerson Shantz by the young people of the village when a pleasant time was spent in community singing and other amusements.

Mr and Mrs Stanley Williams and family together with Mr and Mrs C. McDougall and little son Lyle visited at the home of the latter's parents, Mr and Mrs W. W. Ramage on the occasion of the former's 81st birthday on Sept. 23rd. Many were the congratulations extended at Church. The minister Rev. Finlayson made kindly reference to the fact and requested the singing of "Praise God from Whom all blessings flow" as a fitting finale to the day.

The Rev. J. W. Johnston being invited to take the anniversary services at Proton Station Sunday, his pulpit here was filled by the minister from there, Rev. Mr Finlayson who preached a very acceptable sermon to an attentive congregation.

The house lately occupied by the late J. J. McRae has been renovated with new siding all around, new doors flooring, etc., and looks fine.

The fox fur men of the province are holding a convention here on Wednesday of this week, the ladies of the United church catering for their wants if allowed admission I may be able to report more fully next week on the deliberations.

Mr W. W. Ramage spent a week at the old homestead erecting, sheeting and shingling a hen house for the large flock of chickens to be seen.

Rev J. W. Johnston will hold a service at the Ebenezer church, town line Egrement and Glenelg, on Friday evening and will start a Sunday School on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock rally day and every Sunday thereafter.

The house and barn of Mrs D. G. McLean were again struck by lightning, though not much damage was done luckily, as compared with the electric storm of September 12th.

We were pleased to have Mr Alkie McInnis with his fine voice in the choir Sunday, upover the week end from his school near Alliston.

We congratulate our young people of the Section in doing so well at the school fair held at Fiesherton. Miss Anna McVicar took first prize for public speaking which shows that dancing is not her only accomplishment, and Kenneth Nichol first for solo singing. The former also took the highest number of points we are told.

The big event of the week is the Fall Fair. The exhibits are not only up to former years, but surpassing in many respects those of former years. Thanks to our most energetic President, Mr. W. G. McBride, new side tables and centre tables have been erected, displaying the many fine exhibits to the best advantage without crowding them. President McBride and his good wife have spent much time in decorating the hall and succeeded in instilling enthusiasm in the Directors with his persuasive eloquence. The roots, grain and vegetables of a wonderful quality for the year, were judged by Mr. Wm. Grant of Mount Forest, his wife judging the ladies' work, while the cooking was taken care of by Miss Baltzer of Orangeville, a Gov't judge, assisting later in the ladies' work.

Miss Margie Everist has returned to Toronto after spending several weeks at her home.

Mr Donald Ross, Mrs M. Rudd, Mrs J. Parker, Miss Mabel Everist, Mr Dick Handy, all of Toronto, were recent visitors at Mrs Ed. Everist's.

Mr and Mrs Walter Nuhn and Berly, are spending a week in Toronto with friends.

SWINTON PARK

During the last few days we have all passed on from Summer to Autumn. The weather still is warm and balmy but the leaves are quickly changing and quietly falling down. We notice changes in the people also. We, who only a few years ago were strong and vigorous, are gradually slipping down the brae, and will soon be like the leaves, falling by the wayside. It is good there are others to fill up the ranks and press on to better things.

It has brought to my mind the changing times. One evening last week a young man of good repute called at our home and made a request we were unable to grant. He told us there was to be a Liberal convention of Grey-Bruce riding to select a candidate to contest this riding early next month, for the coming election, and he wished us to suggest names of some Liberals in this polling division, No. 3, Proton. These were to be appointed delegates to said convention. We were sorry to say the last Liberal in this division had passed on some years ago; that now there were only U.F.O. and Conservatives, and the latter slowly growing scarcer.

We thought away back politically and remembered walking with father and neighbors to the home of Duncan McMillan, where Neil McMillan now lives, to hear the Hon. Edward Blake speak, I think about 1867. There were only Grits and Tories then. About 10 years after that, but before we had a vote, I gathered with the electors of Proton in Scarlett's hotel in Hopeville one election night. There were neither phones or radios to bring in the returns, but from each poll there came a man driving a good horse; also from Dundalk about midnight came the late John McMurdo with the latest news of the day. We have often thought since of the happenings that evening. In the beginning there were two parties: they had worked against each other bitterly all day, but prohibition was not strictly enforced at that time, and gradually the Grits and Tories, like good Scotch and Irish, began to mix with each other, and in the end, cared not which party won the day.

Then along came the Patrons of Industry, David McNicol as candidate. Mr McNicol held a meeting in the school here. He appointed one of his best friends to act as scrutineer. He put in a faithful day at the poll, in the interest of McNicol but when the votes were counted, not even the scrutineer had voted for Mr McNicol—all Grits and Tories.

But time made changes. With the coming of the Farmers' Party, there grew up in this locality, two young people, Miss Agnes Macphail and F. R. Oliver, thoroughly grounded and interested in all farm movements. They offered themselves as candidates, were elected, and have proven themselves capable and efficient members. Why should we wish to bring out a Grit or Tory? With Bobby Burns, we believe the independent commoner is "the man for a' that".

The fall fairs which came off last week, enjoyed splendid weather and from all reports, drew large crowds and had splendid exhibits. Both Priceville and Mt. Forest will go ahead with hope for next year. We wish Durham, Holstein and Dundalk the same good luck.

Born: On Thursday, Sept. 20, to Mr and Mrs Fred Full, a son. Also, on Thursday, Sept. 20, to Mr. and Mrs Joseph Watson, a son.

Sorry to learn that Mrs Wm Haw is not enjoying very good health. We hope there will soon be improvement.

Anniversary services in Swinton Park church next Sunday, Sept. 30, at 2.30 and 7.30 p.m. Rev. David Gowdy of Durham will conduct both services. A male quartet from Mt. Forest will assist with the music. Thank-offering accepted at each service. On Monday Oct. 1, the Dramatic Club will present their play "My Irish Rose." Admission 25c and 15c.

Mr Chas. and Miss Kennedy of Glenelg spent Sunday at Neil McQueen's and attended church in the Park. Also Mr and Mrs W. Brown of Bunesman, and Miss McCuaig of Top Cliff, were callers at Neil McMillan's and attended church here last Sunday.

Theft Charge was Dismissed

(Flesherton Advance)

A case against Alex. S. Muir of Ceylon for the theft of a steer from George Campbell of Glenelg Township was tried before Magistrate Sperman of Owen Sound at Markdale on Friday last. The case against Mr. Muir was discharged by the Magistrate, who stated that under no stretch of imagination could the charge be considered as theft and should not have been brought as a criminal action, but under the jurisdiction of a civil court. Under the evidence presented the Magistrate said he had no other course than to decide that the animal was Muir's, as several witnesses stated that the beast, taken by the defendant had been clipped, while those of the plaintiff were not sure, the trimming corresponding to that on Muir's other cattle.

On August 3rd Mr. Muir and his hired man, Sterling Whyte, took the former's steer from amongst Mr. Geo. Campbell's herd, after it had escaped from Mr. D. Stewart's pasture where it had been with Mr. Muir's cattle. Mr. Campbell claimed the beast was his, but could not describe it to the satisfaction of the court that the steer Mr. Muir took was the one that the plaintiff had lost. Both claimed that their animal had a peculiar ring around the right eye amid a white face but none of Campbell's witnesses could say whether or not the spot was broken with white, which was the case of the Muir animal.

Magistrate Sperman was very much impressed with the evidence of both Mr Muir and Mr. Whyte and as Mr Muir had been in communication with Mr Campbell about a lost steer and had made arrangements to visit the pasture farm, where the steer was located and taken home, so he could not see that Mr Muir had committed any act of theft. The Magistrate asked "why didn't Campbell say something to Muir about a similar animal of his being in the field, when Mr Muir enquired?" In order to save further litigation between the parties the Magistrate stated that he could not see anything but that the beast taken out of Campbell's field belonged to Muir.

The case caused a ripple of excitement in the Ceylon district, where the defendant is highly regarded and no one considered him guilty of theft including Mr. Campbell, although the charge had been preferred in that manner. Ten witnesses were called by the plaintiff, and thirteen by the defendant. The court room was crowded, many spectators using the open windows in an effort to hear the evidence.

Mr. F. G. McKay, Owen Sound, appeared for the defence, and W. D. Henry, K. C. acted as prosecutor.
