Veterans' League To Meet Again

Lt.-Col. George A. Drew, K.C., Will Be Guest Speaker At Dinner November 10.

Toronto.—The second annual dinner of The University Veterans' League will be held in the Royal York Hotel here on Saturday, November 10th.

This year, Lieutenant Colonel George A. Drew, K.C., nationally known exponent of Great Britain's war achievement, and of Canada's, will be the guest speaker.

In spring of 1933 The University Veterans' League was formed. It aims to perpetuate the comradeship of the Great War, and to call forth again in the present crises of the nation and the Empire those qualities of leadership so superbly displayed by Canadian University men in that great crisis.

Specific applications of this purpose have been to study and endeavor to solve present-day problems; to assist veteran University men out of employment in getting re-established; to assist unemployed ex-service men in sustaining and recovering their morale which has been shaken by the depression and the exigencies of the relief system; to furnish constructive support and leadership which has been neglected by returned officers and men since the war; and to endeavor to assist in the creation of an atmosphere of international good-will.

Some months ago, in response to that inspiring message of the late Sir Arthur Currie, Lieutenant-Colonel T. R. Loudon, Chairman of the International Committee of The University Veterans' League, proceeded to Europe to interest college graduate ex-officers in the promotion of international good-will and was encouraged with the results of his mission. It was Colonel Loudon's belief that action to eliminate private profit on the manufacture of armaments would meet with the desired general support and that, if it were adopted, mutual international confidence would result.

Royal Poultry Show Outdoes Record

Once again the Royal Winter Fair breaks its own record in the Poultry division, Twenty-nine Specialty Clubs American and Canadian, will hold their Club shows and in some cases, their annual "meets" in conjunction with the Royal. This is an increase of three clubs over the previous record, and as secretaries in each case anticipate increased representation for their specialties a larger total exhibit is already assured for the Royal's Poultry Show at the Coliseum on November 21st-29th.

Individual enquiries at the Royal Winter Fair offices from smaller non-associated bird exhibitors show keen enthusiasm prevailing in the local "fancy." As the present fall season has been specially favourable for the birds being in good condition the prospects for a Poultry show of high standard are even brighter than they were at the corresponding period last year.

Pet stock exhibits which include rabbits, caviar, and other furred animals, as well as the sections for the ducks, geese, turkeys and game birds are equally promising.

A missionary in India was having an earnest talk with a Hindoo whom he hoped to convert to Christianity. "Come, now," said the missionary, with gentle persuasion, "wouldn't you like to go to heaven when you die?"

"I do not think," he said, "that heaven can be very good, or the British would have had it years ago."

A Law Every Mother Should Know and Observe

Never Give Your Child An Unknown Remedy without Asking Your Doctor First

According to any doctor you ask, the only safe way is never to give your child a remedy you don't know all about, without asking him first.

When it comes to "milk of magnesia," that you know everywhere, for over 60 years, doctors have said "PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia for your child."

So—always say Phillips' when you buy. And, for your own peace of mind, see that your child gets this; the finest men know. Made in Canada.

Have You Heard?

Women in Politics Mother, dear mother come home with me now. The afternoon's slipping by fast, You've been at the polls since early this morn, You don't have to stick to the last. Poor father came home for his dinner at noon. Not a mouthful to eat could he find, And the words he let out as he slammed the front door. Left a strong smell of brimstone behind.

It is cheaper to rent than to own a home, especially if you enjoy scratching matches on the wall and the like.

Miss—"You must have had some narrow escapes during the war." Sailor—"I did Miss."

Miss—"Did you get that scar during an engagement?" Sailor—"No miss, I got that when I broke an engagement."

Mrs. Newly-Rich—"What a horrid boarding house! It seems just like a prison." Amiable Landlady—"Well, mum, it is all a matter of what one is used to, isn't it?"

Blushing Billy, "Why do the leaves turn red in the autumn?" John—"I suppose they are blushing to think how green they've been all the summer."

Our Editor recently received from a young man a letter asking "Please tell me why it is that a girl always closes her eyes when a fellow kisses her."

The Editor sent back this reply: "If you will send me your picture we may be able to tell you the reason."

Judge—"How can you be so mean as to swindle people who put confidence in you?" Prisoner—"Well your Honor, they are the only ones you can swindle."

It is keeping a two carat stone on some girl's finger that keeps many a boy's nose on the grindstone.

Young man—"Er—sir—I—er—that is I came to say that your daughter tells me that she—er—she loves me."

Parent—"And I suppose you have come to ask permission to marry her?" Young Man—"No, sir, I came to ask you to make her behave herself."

Father says every time he gets a peek at a junk yard it makes him think of one of mother's sales.

One reason why romance lasted longer in the old days, was because the bride looked much the same after washing her face.

Wife (as her husband prepared to for the retire) — Dear is everything shut up for the night? Husband (muttering)—"That depend on you; everything else is."

If he remembers the bicycle built for two, he is old enough to be your grandfather.

Woman—"But didn't I give you a cake last week?" Tramp—"Yes, ma'am, Your cake gave me no trouble at all, I used to be a sword swallower."

Another thing that gives a man a pain in the neck, is this everlasting chant about hoodlums among thieves. What evidence is there that there is any more honour among thieves than among the rest of us?

Doctor—"Well, you are looking better today." Patient—"Yes, I followed the instructions on the bottle of medicine you gave me."

Doctor—"What were they?" Patient—"Keep the bottle well corked."

The blonde says a Baltimore investigator of racial types, is on the way out. Very well, hand us our hat."

More Hopeful Outlook

Municipal tax collections in Manitoba were considerably better last year than in the previous year, according to a report recently issued by Hon. D. L. McLeod, Provincial Secretary and Commissioner of Municipal Affairs. Tax collections in most municipalities will see a further improvement this year. In the city of Winnipeg, taxes are being paid considerably better than last year.

The loan companies are finding a marked improvement in collections now.

Mortgage loans on real estate are again being offered by one of the largest loan agencies, and it is expected that others will soon follow. This is likely to bring a revival of building activity.

FINANCIAL FLASHES Silver Continues to Hold Limelight

The steady advance in the price for Silver in both London and New York continues to hold the attention of the financial world. Buying by the United States government is still the main factor in the situation and has led to a protest being filed by the Chinese government against the U.S. policy. They export tobacco and in addition the deficiency which may exist between the theoretical parity of Chinese silver exchange with London and assumed that this step was taken to protect the silver reserves of the Chinese past to prevent a heavy drain on the gold reserves of their banks.

The pros and cons of the Chinese situation are too complicated to be the factors affecting the general silver market, which is of real interest to many readers. Many mining companies who have silver content in their particular interest, however, is the fact that, in the Great Bear Lake district, covered since the days of the Cobalt boom about 1904-1906. The higher of operators in this area. Work during the past four years has resulted in a total of 1935. That only a very small fraction of the favorable ground has been prospected is a well known fact, but with transportation facilities improving and costs showing a steady downward trend it seems certain that much more activity will be seen in the district during the next year. The writer has interviewed several engineers and geologists who have spent the past substantial profits have already been made by many on investments made in if all reports are anywhere near correct, it seems to be assured that they are relatively small to what can be anticipated for the future.
