Friends of the Family

Look at the packages on your pantry or bathroom shelves and see what a multitude of brand names you recognize. Some of them have been familiar for years. You may have made the acquaintance of others only a few weeks ago. But even these are not suspected strangers. You have bought them confidently because they were advertised. And it is the same with your sheets and towels, your shoes and clothes, your electric appliances, the car in your garage—nearly everything you use Advertised products have a standing that commands respect. They are not nameless, but vouched for by responsible firms. The fact that they are advertised is in itself an indication that their standards of quality are strictly maintained, that they represent honest value.

As science and discovery go on, newly developed products are constantly being advertised—ready to help you save money and improve your standard of living. Every advertisement of such a product you read in your newspaper is a letter of introduction to a new and possibly useful friend.

It will pay you to read the advertisements in this paper. By so doing, you will meet many choice products—worthy to become friends of the family.

The House of Commons on Wednesday last, went on a patriotic jaunt, as to the merits or otherwise of Canada having a national flag of her own. The Union Jack as representing the Motherland has flown for the Canadians as well as Britishers since 1759, when Canada became an English possession. But now, it seems, Canada has achieved nationhood, and worthy of a flag all her own. To be fair to the faction wanting an individual flag, they don't want to suppress the Union Jack on the new flag, but also want it to carry some message characteristic of Canada.

Favoring a new Canadian flag had such bonnie fighters as Cameron McIntosh of North Battleford and Miss Agnes MacPhail of South Grey and opposed to it were equally bonnie fighters in J. R. MacNicol, Toronto-North-West and T. L. Church, Toronto-East. Really one would think Canada was in dire danger of becoming estranged from the Motherland if she by any chance had a flag of her own.

Miss MacPhail contended that the fact that we haven't one, indicated our lack of nationhood, that "we are still toddling, not walking."

Tommy Church says "Canada has only one flag as she has one National Anthem, namely "God Save the King." We have these two essentials to-day and I hope it will be a long time before they are changed; because after all the country does not belong to those who inhabit it to-day it is an inheritance from the past; it is a possession for the present and a trust for the future. I doubt whether some hon. gentlemen who are supporting the resolution to-day would be sitting in this house if they had advanced it in 1930."

Our personal opinion is that both sides of the House would be better engaged with real problems that confront Canada to-day and not waste precious time dealing with inconsequential such as this subject brings up. At any rate as Jim Hunter of Toronto Telegram fame says: "Figure it out for yourself."

DO SPORTS PAY IN SMALL TOWNS?

At this time of year, when winter sports are in the offing, those who follow the ins and outs of sport organizations may feel inclined to ask themselves if it pays to encourage sports in small towns. From the financial standpoint, of course, the answer is decidedly in the negative but there are other things to be taken into consideration.

In the first place, sports such as hockey, curling, skating, etc., in the winter; baseball, softball, lacrosse, etc., in summer provide an outlet for the surplus energy of young and older folks, while at the same time they prove a source of entertainment for large numbers of spectators. In small communities these events are often the principal form of recreation and if kept free of crooked practices are an asset to any community.

The old proverb to the effect that idleness breeds mischief, applies to the state, as well as the individual. The community that fails to provide means of pleasure and recreation is a fertile field for crime, and will find its standards of living reduced to a low level.

Aside from the recreational value of sports, they also have the effect of uniting a town and giving young and old a common interest.

Financially, sports find it difficult going in small towns, but they contribute to the life of the community much that is worth while.—Richard Hill Liberal.

GREATER PROTECTION FOR INVESTORS

Investigate before you invest is the sound advice of J. M. Godfrey, K.C., securities Commissioner of Ontario. "I intend to confine the brokerage business to honest people," stated Mr. Godfrey in a recent interview with a representative of the Review. "High Pressure salesmen and vendors of dishonest securities will do well to give Ontario a wide berth in the future," continued Mr. Godfrey. "We have laws with plenty of sharp teeth in them and I intend to enforce them. Ontario investors will have every protection that my department can give. To date we have put into force several measures that have made themselves felt, and we intend to persevere until every broker with shady business deals, decides to either turn honest or get out of business."

Mr. Godfrey is a big man physically, with a quiet unobtrusive manner, but with a forceful, dominant personality. Before his present appointment he was a prominent legal counsel, famous for his knowledge of criminal and business law. Since his appointment by the Hepburn Government, Mr. Godfrey has labored to put his department on a really efficient footing and from what it has accomplished to date it would appear that it has more than made its presence felt.

"Do you employ competent investigators?" Mr. Godfrey was asked. "We do" he replied, "and they are kept very busy. I can assure you, but they are handicapped at times by lack of the very thing we need most, viz. information. The need of active cooperation on the part of the general public in supplying information is vital to the success of the department, and thank heaven I have at last obtained the necessary means to get it. We now have the earnest cooperation of the Attorney General's department, and if the average citizen will only exercise this new privilege, we can drive every dishonest promoter and stock salesman out of the province and assure the average investor at least a run for his money."

The Hon. Arthur Roebuck, Attorney-General of Ontario has placed yet another weapon in the hands of the Security Commission that should prove effective. In the future investors who feel that fraudulent means have been used to obtain their money, or who are suspicious or aware of the fraudulence of the proposition submitted to them, have only to get in touch with the Crown Attorney of their town or city and the matter will have his preferred attention and in turn will be promptly reported to the Commissioner in Toronto, and an investigation made.

"We earnestly trust that the investigating public in Ontario will take full advantage of this new order," said Mr. Godfrey. "We try hard to keep posted on the activities of the stock and promotion crooks, but they are a mighty slippery crowd." If you feel you have had a raw deal or that one is about to be, has been submitted to you, get in touch with your Crown Attorney, and he will give you prompt and efficient action. "It is not possible for us to recover money invested in the past," concluded Mr. Godfrey, "that has mostly gone beyond recall, but now and in the future we will get the crook before he gets the money, that is providing we get the necessary information."

Letters have been forwarded to every Crown Attorney in Ontario, by the Attorney General advising them to cooperate with the Commissioner and instructing them to receive and take necessary action in complaints.

In addition an advertising campaign is being conducted through 200 Ontario dailies and weeklies, to acquaint the general public with the new order.

GOVERNMENT POSITION GOES TO W. F. DUNN OF REGINA

Durham friends will congratulate W. F. Dunn, K.C., now of Regina, Sask., on his recent honor of being appointed Solicitor to the Debt Adjustment Board of Saskatchewan.

This has necessitated Mr. Dunn leaving Moose Jaw, to reside in Regina the seat of the government. Since Mr. Dunn's removal to the West from Durham, now some years ago,—he has gradually stepped to the fore in legal circles, and being a prominent Liberal, his stepping into his recent coveted position, brings no surprise. He will, however, be a hard man to replace in Moose Jaw. He is a former mayor of that city, also a former police magistrate and has taken a prominent part in various enterprises. He was also prominently connected with St. Andrew's United church of that city and a member of the Board of Managers.

Proceedings of Grey County Council

The County Council has passed a by-law for the licensing of signs and gasoline pumps on the county highways. The regulations, similar to those in effect on provincial highways, will go into effect when approved by the department of Highways.

Reeve Wm. Jack voiced opposition but the majority favoured this regulation. Major H. A. McCauley, the chairman of the county roads com. declared, the object of the by-law was not to raise revenue, but to give the com. authority to prevent the erection of signs and gasoline pumps which, by obscuring the view of the road, form a menace to the travelling public.

The fees were set at $1 a year for all gasoline pumps within 68 feet of the centre of a county highway, $1 for all signs of less than 25 square feet, $5 a year for signs over 25 sq. feet and 25 feet or less in length, and $10 for signs over 25 feet in length.

In future all persons erecting gasoline pumps or signs will have to obtain a permit from the county roads committee.

W. J. Firth of Glenelg was appointed a trustee of Durham High School Board.

County Clerk, F. H. Rutherford will receive $150 a year for additional work involved in the change in the Old Age Pensions administration.

The Council approved in committee of the whole a by-law authorizing the purchase of $25,000 of the county's own bonds from funds available in the sinking fund. The authorization of the Ontario Municipal Board will be sought.

Reeves D. J. MacDonald, J. A. Davis, M. W. Ridley and R. Aitchison and Warden J. C. Mercer were proposed as a committee to consider the equalization of assessment, a problem which comes up every five years. They were to report at the June session, it was proposed.

Reeve W. H. Hunter suggested one man be named to travel throughout the county and compare the local assessments with the actual value. Although this method would cost more it would be more satisfactory.

A resolution was passed putting the council on record as strongly opposed to any change which would deprive the County Council of its present control over the road system.

W. S. Hunter, M. W. Ridley and D. J. MacDonald were re-appointed to act in conjunction with the county treasurer in the selling of bonds. Mr. Dawson Crabtree a chartered accountant was appointed for the year 1935 as auditor. There was a strenuous debate over his appointment. Reeve David Allan strived to have Messrs. A. C. Stewart and W. R. Cole re-appointed, but on a ballot Mr. Crabtree received a majority of the votes of the councillors. His salary will be $300.

Mr. J. F. F. Birnie, K. C., has offered to accept an annual salary of $1,100 in lieu of fees for his work as clerk of the peace.

Reeve Thos. Ramage of Sydenham, read the annual report of the manager of the House of Refuge, Mr. Alex. Smith. The total cost of the support of inmates during the year was $8,793.62, but the actual cost to the county was only $1,504.86. Pension money received from inmates totalled $4,148.47 and the deduction of other assets reduced the cost to the county still further to $1,504.86. The average number of inmates during the year was 67. At present there are 64 in the home. Last year at the same time there were 58 inmates. Products of the farm for the year were valued at $1,316.80, while produce to the value of 750.86 was sold during the year.

MULOCK

The B.Y.P.U. met in the parsonage on Tuesday evening, with the literature group in charge. The president led the opening exercises and then the group leader Mrs. Arthur Homer presided. The scripture was read by Elton Adlam; a reading, John 3:16 was given, followed by Bible questions and a sword drill. Mr. Homer gave us an introduction into the life of Robert Burns, the well-known Scottish author. The topic was taken by Gordon MacLean, who very ably presented one of Burns' most popular writings, "The Cotter's Saturday Night." The meeting closed with a hymn and prayer by Mr. Homer.

Miss Irma Mighton is spending some time with friends in Hanover. We are glad to report that Mr. R. B. Hopkins was well enough to return to the home of his daughter Mrs. Walter Bailey, after a couple of months in Durham hospital.

CRAWFORD

The C.Y.P.S. met at the home of the president Mrs. And. Hastie last Friday evening. The scripture was read by Edith Hastie and Miss I. Klages gave the explanation. Mrs. A. Hastie read a poem entitled "The Far Look." The topic "personality and the economic order" was given by Erle Anderson. As this was a joint meeting of the Citizenship and Mission groups, the Mission topic "Home Mission Dividends" was given by Eddie McDougall. Miss Alma Anderson gave a talk on "The Golden Rule" and a solo was by Florence MacDonald. After the close of the meeting a social time was spent in music and contests. The next meeting will be a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Campbell on Feb. 15th.

KEEPS TAB ON YOU THROUGH LIFE

"Perhaps you are lucky enough to have been born in a small town. If so, you had hardly let out your first yell on this terrestrial sphere before your local Editor ordered the fact of your arrival announced to a baby-loving world. When you reached the age of 3 or 4 and had your first real birthday party with invited guests, your friend, the editor, told all and sundry who was there and what a fuss they made over you. When you got on the honor roll at grade school he let all your admiring friends and neighbors know about it. If you got into any minor scrapes he apparently forgot about them as soon as he was told for he wanted to play up things which might make you great. All through your High School course he was keenly watching to see if you did anything worthy of note in athletics, letters or debate. And when you finally graduated he again seized upon the opportunity to put your name in print. If you decided to go to work then instead of going to college he heralded the fact in such a manner that any prospective employers realized that here was an ambitious lad who wasn't leaning unnecessarily on the folks. He wanted all whom it might concern to know that if work was to be done, here was a live-wire all set.

When the supreme object of your heart's delight was won your editor friend seemed to know about it as soon as the "lucky" girl and warned all other aspirants to her sole attention to lay off as he printed the announcement of your engagement. Once more you were the conquering hero, or thought so. The girl may have had other ideas on that subject. If after you had accomplished anything worthy of note the world was told in letters bold: "SMALL TOWN BOY MAKES GOOD!"

When those near and dear to you were called by death, taken out on "The Great Adventure" the Chief of the Columns apparently forgot their virtues, and proceeded to laud their fine family connections—including you. When illness overtook you he let all the neighbors know so that maybe the power of their prayers could be added to the forces of the medicine.

And someday (should he perchance out-live you as he did so many others) he, being kind and faithful unto the end, will once more use good paper and ink for you. He will probably tell mankind far and wide that one has passed who was a useful and worthwhile addition to the race, that you have gone to join the glorious company who have become the "guests of God."

Yes, from the cradle of birth to the casket of death, the small town editor is your friend. He puts you on the map.

Mr. Stewart McArthur is the new sec'y for U.S.S. No. 2, Bentinck and Glenelg.

Aberdeen W.I.

The Aberdeen W.I. held a very successful meeting on Tuesday Jan. 22nd, at home of Miss Sarah McCormick, with an attendance of 13 members and 4 visitors. The president Mrs. Davey opened the meeting with the ode; Mrs. Jas. Ewen read the scripture from the 73 psalm; in sympathy with the bereaved family in the community, the president asked that we all rise and sing "Sun of my Soul Thou Saviour Dear"; the roll call was answered by New Year's resolutions; Mrs. Stewart read an interesting poem; Mrs. Hopkins gave a short paper; The minutes were read and adopted; the treat, and Sunshine com. gave their reports; A letter of thanks was read from Miss Reba Vesie, for Christmas cheer remembrance; Miss A. C. Smith offered to take the scripture for Feb. meeting. Two quilts were started for relief work. One is to be put together and tied for the Feb. meeting. Mrs. Ewen offered her home for the work to be completed. The other quilt is to be finished later. Miss Isabel McQuarrie gave a well prepared sketch of her trip to the coast, this past summer and also showed snaps of the many places visited as described in her travel. Mrs. H. Hopkins conducted a guessing contest. Mrs. McQuarrie almost guessed the correct number and received a little bouquet for the table. The National Anthem closed a very enjoyable meeting. The Misses McCormick and assistants served a dainty lunch. A social half hour was then spent together. The next meeting will be held at home of Mrs. D. Lamb on Thursday, Feb. 21st.

It would seem as if Durham is hockey conscious. Two games a week in Durham rink and the third one in Walkerton was last week's record. It is good to play against a senior team, such as Oakville, if only show how the locals compare with senior calibre.
