Speaking of the depression, people didn't know it was prosperity they had until the depression came.

There is no wisdom like frankness.—Disraeli. Yes, and knowing when not to go in too strongly for it.

HIS CHOICE

"Now, Willie," said a generous father, as he and his little son were gazing into a tailor's shop window, "I am going to buy you a pair of trousers, and you shall choose them. Which pair do you want?"

After a moment's hesitation, the little boy said: "Please, father, may I have that pair marked 'Cannot be beaten'?"

An Arizona man went forth to his labors in early morning and said goodbye to wife and seven children. When he returned in the evening there were ten children, triplets having been born during his absence. The stork is often said to lack brains but in this case it knew enough to wait until the man of the house was away.

"Look here, my man," she said, "will you please inform me why you come begging at my door again? Why don't you try some of the other people on the road?"

"Can't," replied the tramp. "Doctors orders, ma'am."

"Yes, ma'am. My doctor told me that when I found the food that agreed with me I should continue with it."

AN OBSERVANT CHILD

A little girl was asked to go for a loaf of bread and was given the money.

"It that enough, mamma?" she asked.

"Yes, dear, that is exactly the right amount."

"Well, you'd better give me a little more, 'cause the bread may go up 'for I get there."

PREMIER REPUDIATES CONTRACTS FOR POWER

The biggest sensation in Provincial matters for many a day is the repudiation by Premier Hepburn and his Cabinet, of the contracts entered into with Quebec power companies—Gatineau, Ottawa Valley, MacLaren, Quebec and Beauharnois, by the late Conservative government.

Though when entered into, they were pronounced legal and fully binding, Mr. Hepburn declares them illegal, and disastrous to Ontario's financial welfare, claiming that excessive power was bought, and Ontario is squandering millions annually in paying for it.

Meanwhile thousands of investors who bought bonds in these companies believing them perfectly secure with hydro contracts backing them, have seen their bonds already depreciate 20 to 40% in value and all Ontario bonds have suffered.

It is to be hoped the Cabinet will make some compromise with these Companies to buy some of the cancelled power at a more moderate rate, sufficient at least to maintain the income for many innocent investors, who have seen millions of value wiped from their holdings, and the Province's credit shaken.

SHOULD RIDE AT THEIR OWN RISK

Some time ago the government arranged for an experimental charge of 50 cents to be added to automobile insurance to cover liability for injury to passengers whom the motorist may be transporting. This fee was found absurdly inadequate, and it was soon raised to $2. Now it is to be $4 in Toronto and $3 in most other sections of the province. The insurance companies have been losing money on this class of business. They think that part of the loss has been due to collusive claims.

To most people the whole system seems absurd. Why should a motorist, or the company which insures him, be financially responsible when injuries are sustained by people whom he is carrying for nothing? These people know the risks they are taking when they enter a motor car. They are not forced to ride in it, but do so because it is a convenience to themselves. Why, then, should the motorist who is doing them a favor be held responsible if they are hurt? Why should he have to pay an extra $4 in insurance every year to protect himself against the possible results of his own kindness?

The law should be changed. People accepting rides should do so at their own risk and should carry their own accident insurance.—Star.

Premier will take Definite Action

By The Watchman

Toronto: Into the maze of rumors surrounding the Quebec power contracts has come a new undertone and one that is likely to result in quick government action to settle the issue once and for all. With its ear to the ground the Hepburn administration has caught unmistakable signs that the private power interests, the big financial concerns behind the Hydro contracts, are busily engaged in carrying on a widespread propaganda campaign against any kind of government action.

Attempts to becloud the real issues at stake are being made and the government is understood to be determined to wait no longer in making public its plans. The Hepburn cabinet, in its desire to play the game with the private interests and not be unduly harsh with them, was prepared to negotiate in a friendly spirit of co-operation. But the Montreal power barons, with their backs to the wall, decided to throw all their influence against the government. With the object of undermining confidence in the administration, the private interests, working in the background, pulled the strings that caused dozens of individual bondholders to set up a hue and cry. It is reported that even Liberal members of the Legislature were approached and urged to press upon the premier and his colleagues the dangers of interfering with legal contracts. In numerous other ways they are said to be lobbying vigorously, all with one thought in mind, the preservation of a state of affairs that is reaping them huge profits at the expense of the power-users of the province.

By the time this article appears in print the premier may have made his all-important announcement. It is believed by competent observers that revision will be the channel through which the cabinet will achieve its objective. There may even be a resolution presented to the House and a vote taken on the course of action that has been decided upon.

All the propaganda in the world is not going to stop Premier Hepburn from carrying out his announced intention of putting a halt to the expenditures of millions of dollars for power that cannot be put to use. Convinced that he is right in his contention and with the united support of his cabinet and House followers, as well as most right-thinking citizens, irrespective of political affiliations he will undoubtedly mark a new era in the progress on Ontario.

POTATOES GRADED BY MACHINE

A machine that sorts, brushes and polishes potatoes has been put into operation in a grading station at Hillsburg. Revolving cylinders set with brushes take off the dirt. Another set puts polish on the cleaned tuber, while a mesh belt over which the potatoes travel to the bag, is so constructed that any less than two inches in diameter drop through. In Ontario, approximately 157,000 acres are developed to the production of potatoes, with a yield of approximately 150,000,000 bushels. Hillsburg is the centre of one of the largest growing districts. About 40 per cent will be eliminated by the grading process, which has increased the price paid by the farmer by a few cents a bag and has resulted in a much superior product being offered for sale to the public. J. T. Cassin, in charge of the potato marketing regulations, stated that much satisfaction has been expressed by both the growers and the consumers as a result of the inspection of potatoes and turnips.—Erin Advocate.

Canned peas have the size of the pea stated on the label of the can. No. 1 is a very small pea; No. 2 is larger; No. 3 still larger, and so on. The size of the peas in no way depends on the quality nor the quality on the size.

HOW THEY DO IT IN MT. FOREST

("Over the Teacups" in Daily Star)
Tragedy of a Mount Forest hostess...she planned a bridge party, four tables...she made sixteen parties, individual iced cakes, in fact practically everything was individual at that party and carried out for sixteen guests...she is one of those precise hostesses who prides herself on well thought out parties.

The night of the party, last Friday night, the guests started arriving and they kept on coming, sixteen, twenty, twenty-four...whatever was happening?...she rushed to her list...there were only sixteen names but she saw the trouble...she had put down the Smith's, the Brown's, the MacGregor's, all married couples and counted each only once...all told she had invited thirty-two guests. But her guests were resourceful...the undertaker, there with his wife, saved the day...he rushed over to the parlors and got chairs...others made raids on delicatessen and bakery...the party still was a success. But it will be long remembered in Mount Forest.

If the dispute is about a trifle, it is the duty of the greater soul to give way to the less.

Approximately 15,000,000 barrels of wheat flour are manufactured annually in Canada, besides many other kinds of flour, such as potato, corn, buckwheat, barley and rye. The consumption of flour in Canada averages one barrel per year per head of population. Canadian flour is exported to all parts of the world, principally to the British Isles.
