GLENELG CENTRE B. M. C.
The annual meeting of the Gleneleg Centre Baptist Mission Circle, was held at home of Mrs. R. J. MacGillivray on May 15th. Election of officers resulted in Mrs. Henry Beaton being re-elected president and Mrs. Jas. Brown, vice-president, for the coming year. A solo "The Victory May Depend on You" was sung by Mrs. Jas. Brown. Mrs. A. M. Beaton read an interesting story of our Western Missionaries in Sask. Mrs. Wm. Ritchie read a paper on "The Poverty of Jesus". A solo, "Over the Way" was rendered by Mrs. J. T. Priest. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Priest. A tasty lunch was then served by Mrs. R. J. MacGillivray.

QUEEN STREET LADIES AID
The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held in the schoolroom of the church, Tuesday evening, May 7th with Mrs. Glass and Mrs. McLean as hostesses. The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. McCrae. During the evening we were favoured with a patriotic reading by Mrs. C. Wolfe, and a piano solo by Mrs. Thomas. Arrangements were made to hold a sale of homemade baking and afternoon tea, also a pantry shower in the near future. The meeting closed by all repeating the mizpah benediction. The hostesses served light refreshments and an enjoyable social hour was spent by all.

THE ADVANCES OF MEDICAL SCIENCE

The recent death of Ontario's famous surgeon, Dr. Abraham Groves and the also recent, miracle in Owen Sound where a young child was restored to life, marks the passing of time in a somewhat strange manner. Dr. Groves' work was done, and in his years of activity he gave much assistance to the advances of medical science. He was the first surgeon in Ontario to operate and with crude tools, saw the successful accomplishment of his operation. Sterilization of instruments was an entirely new thing until Doctor Groves drove home the necessity of such and this is now the first essential in every operation. Now we have a fresh advance in modern medical science, when Dr. Laird drove a needle into a little child's heart with such telling results. This latest development, it is anticipated, will prove of unestimable value in drowning cases, where resuscitation methods are being used. The laboratories and clinics of our medical institutions are to-day seeking the whys and wherefores of disease as never before, leading to such revelations as we have recently read.

WILL BENNETT SEEK RE-ELECTION?

With the return home to Canada of Premier R. B. Bennett from royal festivities in England, and the taking up once more of parliamentary reins, the curious public are once more conjecturing many things that carry an interrogation point at the end. Some of these are: Will Bennett go to the country this fall as the captain or will some other Conservative leader take his place? If he does so, will he be strong enough to stand a contest? Will he conduct his campaign personally up and down the country, or by radio speeches? If Bennett resigns as Leader, will Hon. H. H. Stevens be the popular choice as leader? If there is to be a free choice of a new leader, Mr Stevens is in the driver's seat. From the Atlantic to the Pacific he gets full credit for putting the spurs to Mr. Bennett, which brought forth at New Year the violent conversion in support of reform. The advanced legislation which has been brought down and that which is to come is all hooked up in the public mind with the crusading Stevens and while the die-hards choke at the thought of him as leader, there are influential interests behind them who believe that it would be better to swallow Stevens now than to be confronted with a Tim Buck two or three years hence.

A POLITICAL NAME

With Denton Massey speaking in Durham, Wednesday of this week, as Dominion Conservative organizer and his full cousin, Hon. Vincent Massey as a prominent exponent of Liberal principles, it would seem that a family name does not stand for much in party policies or traditions. Hon. Vincent Massey was Canada's envoy to United States under Liberal rule. He was but nicely appointed when the overthrow of the Liberal dynasty threw him out, and gave way to Hon. W. D. Herridge, brother-in-law of Premier Bennett, to secure this political plum. Now rumors are rife, that Hon. Howard Ferguson will retire from his High Commissioner position in England in lieu of the Bennett government's defeat! Which, of course, it is predicted would be taken by our friend, Hon. Vincent.

What are the policies borne by each side of the House, that cousins should see things different it is hard to say. Both men are leaders in their respective lines and it would be interesting to know the causes and effects of seeing not eye to eye in party government.

HEPBURN'S NEW PROVINCIAL INCOME TAX

As a means of raising more funds to meet provincial expenditure, Premier Mitchell Hepburn is instituting a new provincial income tax. He is staying awake at nights, planning some new device and method whereby the citizens of Ontario have to pony up more money to make ends meet. Premier Hepburn is also provincial treasurer and his own minister of finance and he is, we think, justified in believing that in facing the imperative need for greater revenues the income tax is the tax with which to get these revenues from those capable of paying more than they are doing. The man who has no income that can be taxed is an unpromising prospect for the yielding of new revenues. A point raised should be considered by Premier Hepburn when the details of the new income tax are being drawn up: It does seem that a citizen who has paid an income tax to one government should be entitled to enter that amount as an exemption in paying income tax to another of his governments. It was income in the sense that it came to him, but it was never his. To pay a tax on a tax is surely a bit thick and it is hoped Queen's Park will look into this.

INSPECTORS HAVE WIDER POWER

It is the intention of the Department of Education to place much greater responsibilities upon inspectors for the teachers under their jurisdiction, giving inspectors the privilege of "virtually exercising the right of veto" over the granting of permanent certificates, Duncan McArthur, Deputy Minister of Education, told the inspectors' section of the Ontario Educational Association last week. Other forthcoming changes forecast were frequent interchanges of normal school teachers and inspectors, longer periods of practical training in normal and mental and physical examinations of candidates entering normal schools.

Placing Relief Labor on the Land

Toronto, May 15. Since announcement was made in the press two weeks ago that the Department of Welfare would endeavour to find jobs for unemployed men on farms of the province, literally hundreds of letters have been pouring into the offices of Honourable David Croft from men seeking farm work and from farmers seeking men. Realizing that farmers are often faced with the problem of finding suitable help, the department has set up an agency for the handling of such matters and considerable success has attended its efforts. Approximately 65 per cent of the requests from farmers have been satisfactorily looked after, and many men to-day are working for the first time in years instead of being on the relief lists. The Welfare Department has set the minimum wage at $20.00 per month and a surprisingly large number of farmers appear willing to pay this sum to the proper kind of help. Relief inspectors play an important part in the arrangements. When a letter from a farmer is received, the information is sent to the relief officer in the town nearest the farm, and he is asked to find a suitable man. Very little trouble is experienced in this regard. If a man who has had farm experience refuses to accept a job on the land, he is told that he runs the risk of being cut off the relief rolls. The Welfare Department is determined to give the unemployed a fair deal but shirkers are not going to be allowed to live on public bounty when there is work available, especially when that work is the kind they have done before. The majority of unemployed men, however, do not hesitate when there is a chance to work. Many jobless men have written to the department asking for farm jobs and every effort has been made to get them placed. In this way, the Department of Welfare is working steadily towards the important objective of getting men off relief and making them wage-earners again.

WILLIAM J. CLARK DIED AT PICKERING

William James Clark, who died on Friday at his residence in Pickering Ont., in his seventy-first year, was formerly owner of the Pickering News, which he ran in partnership with his brother, Joseph T. After buying his brother's interest in the paper in 1890, he later sold out and became successively a Justice of the Peace, Police Magistrate and Judge of the Juvenile Court, holding the latter position for many years. He was a member of United church, an independent in politics, and a highly esteemed citizen. Mr. Clark is survived by his widow, Annie Allan Clark; two sons, Allan of Lakefield, Ont., and J. H. of Oshawa; and five daughters, Mrs. F. Balseon, Burford; Mrs. I. Boyce, Pickering; Mrs. Lloyd Wright Stetler, Alta.; and the Misses Jean and Norah Clark, Toronto. MULOCK

The B.Y.P.U. banquet, given by the Whites in honor of the Reds, was a huge success. At 6.30 the winning group sat down to a well loaded and decorated table. A welcome was offered by Erma Mighton, the leader of the Whites, to which Ulva MacDonald, leader of the Reds, responded. The president, Lolita Mighton, congratulated the young people on the enthusiasm shown by them during the past year and also extended to Mr and Mrs Homer, a hearty vote of thanks for the use of their home on this occasion. Everyone received a colored table napkin through which their fortune was told by Alma Anderson. With jokes and jesting the time passed all too soon. After the banquet, games were played in the parsonage until 8, when a large crowd gathered in the church for a musical evening. The program was put on entirely by Mr. Barrington, who sang solos and recited; Mr. Pitt who sang choruses and played several different instruments; Mrs. Homer and Mr. Stephens sang solos; Messrs Homer, Pitt and Barrington rendered a trio. Everyone reported an enjoyable evening. The Ladies' Aid of Mulock Baptist church staged a pretty event at the home of Mrs. Archie MacLean of Aberdeen, a tulip tea, on Tuesday of last week. The president Mrs. Homer and hostess, Mrs Archie MacLean received the guests at entrance while at the tea table pouring tea, sat Mrs. H. MacLean and Mrs. A. C. MacDonald, Misses Ulva MacDonald, Florence MacLean, Lolita and Erma Mighton were attentive waitresses during the afternoon. Songs, readings and musical numbers were given. The president Mrs Homer extended a welcome to the many guests. Next meeting, will be held at the home of Mr and Mrs Fred Torry, hostess providing sandwiches and Mrs. Wm. Anderson and Mrs. Ben Coutts, cake. Roll call to be answered with a scripture verse on prayer. Sincere and heartfelt sympathy is extended from many friends here to Mr and Mrs W. H. Dargavel and two daughters, Mr and Mrs John Lowe and two sons, attended the weiner roast at Mr. Elmer Hatton's in Sullivan. All had a nice time and enjoyed a country weiner roast. FARMER-LABOR CANDIDATE TO CONTEST BRUCE RIDING

A three-cornered contest in the riding of Bruce at the next Dominion election, to be held in all probability next September, is now assured. A representative of the Farmer-Labor party, the Tara Leader a few days ago, that a convention will be held at Tara, Friday, May 17, to select a candidate. The choice of the candidate rests between Mr. Nicholson of Bruce Township and Mr. Arthur Burgess ex-Reeve of Arran, but the general opinion seems to be that Mr. Nicholson will receive the nomination. Miss Macphail is also slated to address a meeting in the evening. The entry of a third candidate in this riding will complicate matters considerably, says the Leader, for Labor candidate will receive a large vote. What the platform of the party will be has not yet been announced. They may link up with the C.C., but we doubt such a move as the direction of Mrs. (Rev.)

VICKERS

Mr and Mrs John Mighton and little son were guests of Mr and Mrs George Mighton on Sunday last. Miss Jean Coutts of Toronto is holidaying at her parental home. Mr. George Reay and daughter, Grace, Mr. John Reay and Miss Bernice Wise are this week visiting relatives in Toronto. Mrs. Grat Wise is feeling somewhat indisposed with an attack of the flu. We hope she is feeling better.
