AN OLD HOME WEEK SUGGESTION

Durham is getting "Old Home Week" conscious, and anything that even smacks of those days, August 2nd to 7th, gets an important place on the map. The gap between the present and those favored days, is closing in and all that is required to make the event go over strong, is the good-will of the weather man. This article was started to suggest the idea that some Old Home Week committee arrange for a central room in the business section where there may be viewed old photos and groups of days past and zone. It has been a big thing in other places and should take equally well in Durham. All who have pictures of people or events of former days in Durham, would be sure, loan them out to a responsible committee, to frame the walls of this so-called exhibition room. There are plenty of such pictures in town and district and these should make a big feature of the attractions listed. Brush up your old photo groups, put your name on back of them and put them to service for this period.

REASON TO BE THANKFUL

Miss Ellen Priest, sister of Rev. J. T. Priest of the Baptist Church here, who has labored for 42 years as a missionary in India, addressed a Baptist Convention in Windsor recently. In her address she gave her impressions of how Canada lived as compared to India's rank and file, much to Canada's credit. What is wrong with us is that we are well-off and don't realize the fact. She says in part: "You think you have depression here, but you should get a glimpse of India, where hundreds of thousands consider themselves lucky if they get one good meal a year, year in and year out. Sometimes I get confused when I see all the stores loaded with good things to eat, and all the automobiles. These people in India would think we took them lies and would say that Canada had no depression if they could but see these things."
With all this country's losses, trials, problems, taxation and so forth, our national position is so fine, compared with some parts of the world, that we have indeed reason to be thankful.

OLD HOME WEEK JOTTINGS

BY OLD-TIMER
"If nothing happens I hope to be with the crowd that will throng into the old town on Old Home Week, and I hope to meet a lot of my old school chums from No. 1 Bunesan," writes Mrs. T. F. McGraw, Toronto.
Miss Margaret Harris, Hamilton, Ontario, is coming and wants to meet Mrs. J. K. R. Williams (nee Allie McCrae), Regina; W. S. Harris, Vernon, B.C., and Frank Harris of Wilmington, California.

THOSE MONDAY HOLIDAYS

The height of the holiday season is almost upon us and there are few citizens of Ontario who do not take advantage of at least one holiday weekend. It may be a simple tramp to a bush where an out-of-doors snack may be enjoyed,—but it is at least a change from the ordinary routine. The world and his wife are taking more out of Canada's summer time than in the pioneer years and the summer months of the present age, see that the holidays are well dotted over this period. The Sunday-Monday combination prove to be most popular weekend, though it undoubtedly plays havoc with Sunday attendance at churches.
This year, the King's Jubilee gave another weekend holiday to the public and this with the "24th," cuts a dent into the workman's pay envelope. Then June 3rd, is another Monday off, Dominion Day, Civic Holiday, Labor Day, and for October, Thanksgiving Day, which this year falls on October 7th.

The steam railroads get a small percentage of the holiday traffic and the highways these holidays in particular are heavy with the roll of motor cars. This makes the slogan of "stop, look and listen" more than ever a reliable one to observe.

W. J. Dunlop, of Toronto, an old Durham boy of years ago, is coming back, and is anxious to see the old to Mrs. Anthony R. Gendron, Charles C. Dunlop, R. T. Dunlop, and Miss Town again. He wants invitations sent to Marion Dunlop, who addresses her enclosed. The invitations have gone forward.

Mrs. C. J. Van Passel, Middletown, New York, writes she is coming, and wants to meet the following: Mrs. R. J. Lobinger, Brantford, Ont.; Mrs. H. Gidley, Vancouver, B.C.; Mrs. Wm. Russell, Langhead, Alta.; James A. Russell, address, and Mrs. D. Fraser, Toronto.
