THE PASSING DAYS

On Friday, June 21st, we are midway in the year, and the official summer season is with us. From this date on, the days shorten, due to the sun crossing the Equator on its southerly bound course. The lengthening days and growing moons are a delight—short-lived it is true, and there are few if any of Canada's provinces which can produce such a wealth of vernal foliage as Old Ontario in June.

The passing month naturally flies much too fast for the people of this northern clime. The steady four months of winter find the many older citizens yearning for the "good old summer time." There is no denying the fact that we belong to the non-horn zone, and the march of the seasons, give to Winter a generous share of her brand of weather. Why some summers should be so hot and dry and others so moist and cool, is a hard thing to puzzle out. To date we have had plenty of moisture and on the whole, cool weather. But the height of the summer season is upon us, so gather your roses while you may.

AGRICULTURAL ATTRACTIONS

The Directors of the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies, at a meeting a few days ago, discussed at length attractions for fall fairs.

It was agreed judging should be arranged to afford educational opportunities and be as attractive as possible. Suitable rings should be provided for all live stock and the names of winners should appear on all exhibits. Inter-community competitions were recommended, such as special prizes for Women's Institute displays. Juniors for classes have been found to arouse much interest and this year Agricultural Societies are sponsoring over 180 clubs for boys and girls. In addition to the usual attractions the following were suggested, having been tried by Societies and requiring little cash outlay—Antique displays. Oxen demonstrations. Hitching, driving and riding competitions. Milk Maid contests. Horse Drawing Competitions. Classes for jumping horses. Teams of horses, versus six or eight men. Horse back wrestling. Sheaf binding competitions. Log sawing. Log chopping. Pota'o races. Musical chairs—mounted. Band competitions; Old time fiddlers' contests, etc. Demonstrations of various kinds.

Lord Byng of Vimy will be remembered for his greatness in the Great War, when he won undying fame with Canadian boys at Vimy.—He was a soldier first and a statesman second.

The Grand River has been overflowing its banks as a result of the recent rains and farmers along the river banks around Elora find their fences washed away by floods. The rain is good for the strawberry crop but bad for some other things.

OLD HOME WEEK JOTTINGS

BY OLD-TIMER

There are two questions "Old Timer" has heard over and over again, and they are being asked more persistently as the Grand Old Re-union draws nearer and nearer, and here they are: "What can I do to help?" and "Where are you going to put them all when they come?" The Reception and Entertainment committees are working on the last problem and I think we can safely leave that to them. Durham's hospitality knows no bounds and the latch key will be out, and the spare room ready in every home in town. One of our leading citizens was heard to remark that he was willing to sleep in the cabbage patch while the Re-union was on. And her says the garage will be his bed. As far as Old Timer is concerned, he doesn't think he will need a bed, as there will be so much going on night and day that he will do his sleeping when the hectic days are past.

How can we help? Well, one way is to fall in with Secretary Willis' suggestion and send in the names of any old residents of town or country whom you think have not received an invitation to attend. Don't leave it off any longer. Then again if you have a spare room not going to be occupied during Old Home Week, tell the secretary about it. The Committee in charge of this wish to thank the many citizens who have already responded. Then help the Decoration committee by getting in your supply of flags or bunting for decorating purposes. These may be purchased shortly at a very reasonable price. The Committee in charge are going to see that our streets are properly arrayed. Let us see that our homes are also. The Boys and girls are coming by the hundreds. Let the town be fittingly arrayed. Our old friend, J. A. Black of Cheley, writes that he is coming. We knew the pipers would bring John if nothing else would.

Mrs J. C. McLean, Shelburne, says "I am coming and those whom I wish to meet will have received an invitation without a doubt." There are close on 3000 invitations already close out, so I guess you are correct, Mrs. McLean.

Wm. Martin, Oakville, Ont. writes "I will try to be there to represent my mother, Mary Stuart, wife of Thos. Martin." We remember your mother as an old Durham girl and we will be glad to welcome you, Mr. Martin, for her sake, as well as for your own.

Mr and Mrs F. W. Search say they want to meet everybody when they come.

Mrs J. Jamieson, Hespeler, Ont., says "Thanks for your invitation to Old Home Week in Durham. It is over the half century since I lived there so I cannot expect to meet many I know." You are indeed one of our real old-timers, Mrs. Jamieson and we are glad you are coming.

M. T. Moorby of Deloraine Avenue Toronto, can hardly wait to meet the Junior lacrosse boys of the 1913 runners-up. What a grand time that will be when these old time athletes get together at the great re-union! We sure envy you your anticipations M. T.

Esther Petty of Fort Frances, writes she expects to be here and will enjoy seeing the old pals again. We appreciate greatly her wishes for success, and are fully confident that no one will be disappointed over the rousing time they'll have this August.

Dr. and Mrs A. A. Backus, Hanover, are coming and want to meet Arthur Hutton of Toronto; Brock Grant of Welland; Mr and Mrs Fred Smith and Bird McNiece, Saskatoon and Mrs J. H. McCormack, Winnipeg. Miss May Robson of Toronto writes she is sorry she cannot promise definitely but will certainly be here if she can.

A Hamilton Old-timer, J. C. Wright says "There are old boys and girls (they are young to me) without number I would be glad to meet, particularly those attending Hutton Hill school away back in the eighties. Also E. H. Willis, sec'y of the Old Home Week Com." Glad you are coming J. C.—we know you'll enjoy it all to the full.

Mrs Ted Mills, Toronto, is anxious to see Mr and Mrs C. Rance of Goderich, Mrs Benson of Niagara Falls, Mrs B. Hazelton and Mr A. C. Lloyd of Toronto, Mrs Herz of Waterloo, and Mrs A. L. Biggar, Sarnia, Ont.

Mr and Mrs Jim Gray of Roanville Sask., write: "Sure will be delighted to meet all the old friends." As far as Old Timer are coming back to the home town for a joyous gathering in August.

Misses Rosalie and Winnifred Brook-er, of Cleveland, Ohio, want to meet Arthur and Edith Allan, Clara Aljoe Edith Grant, Sadie Kresse, Margaret Grant Muir, Ruby Knisley, Ruby Mills, and add "anyone else we ever knew." Hugh McLean, Galt, sends word that he is coming and particularly wants to see Alex Saunders, Orangeville; Doug. Munro, Regina; Donald McLean, Spokane, Wash.; Wm. McKay of St. Marys, and Frank McKay, Windsor. Well, Hugh, invitations have gone out to all these old boys, and it won't be our fault if they're not here. Geo. Arrowsmith, Ceylon, Ontario, writes: "Thank you, Best, for your kind invitation. Trust to meet you and many good old friends in Durham." Mr Arrowsmith picks out two of his old pals he wants to meet: Robert Hastie, Wright St., Toronto, and Alb. Arrowsmith, Niagara Falls, Port Byron, New York. Is the home of Mrs. Walt Thomson, and she wishes to see Mrs G. A. Robertson of Brooks, Alberta; Mr and Mrs Wm. Lester of Sperling, Man.; Mr. and Mrs Dave McKeene, Sault Ste Marie; Mrs J. A. Bryce, Sask.; and Harold Morrison., Port Byron, N. Y.
