A Few Words to You
About the C.N.R.

During 1934 the average number of persons employed by Canadian National Railways was 74,774, and the wages paid them came to almost one hundred million dollars. This represented, both as to number employed and amount of payroll, an advance over 1933, and practically the whole increase in personnel was due to re-employment of those whose services had previously been dispensed with owing to lack of business.

The average mileage of road operated in 1934 was 23,676 miles, making Canadian National Railways the largest single railway system in the Western Hemisphere.

In 1934 the total freight transported by Canadian National Railways amounted to 44,719,477 tons, an increase of eighteen per cent over the previous year. The average haul of freight was 326 miles. The value of this freight is not ascertainable, but it must run into many hundred millions of dollars, and, comprising all kinds of necessities and luxuries, contributed to the welfare and happiness of every man, woman and child in the Dominion.

Canadian National Railways carried over 10,000,000 passengers during 1934. This was also an increase over 1933. These paid in fares $16,331,299, or an average of $1.62 per passenger with an average journey of seventy-one and three-quarter miles.

These figures, without embellishment or amplification, show the vastness of the public services rendered by Canadian National Railways. The system is conducted on as economical a scale as is consistent with the highest standards of railway operation. The improvement in business in 1934 over the previous year enabled more people to be employed . . . more wages to be paid . . . more service to be rendered. Also, more money was available to be spent among Canadian producers and Canadian merchants.

A continuation of this improvement in our business will carry on and enlarge these good results . . . the whole country will benefit. This year Canadian National Railways is co-operating in an extensive way in the national movement to diminish unemployment and to restore industrial activity . . . to help banish the depression and bring better times for everyone.

Canadian National Railways feels justified in asking for your co-operation: A greater use by Canadian citizens of the facilities offered by this system — transportation, express, telegraphs, hotels — will materially help not only us, but all Canada . . . and you will receive full value for every dollar spent.

During the present Summer season the C.N.R. is providing special fares and excursions between points throughout Canada. These are exceptional travel bargains. The nearest C.N.R. agent will be glad to give full particulars.

Amos Church Anniversary
Draw Large Crowds

A FORMER POPULAR PASTOR, REV. D. L. CAMPBELL IN THE PULPIT

All roads led to Amos church, Dro-more, on Sunday last, for the anniversary services of this church. The weather was of the finest and sent forth as well great heat, and in a crowded church, it tests the patience of the audience. We are pleased to know it stood the test well and all present were able to enjoy the discourses of a former much-loved pastor, Rev. D. L. Campbell, now assistant pastor of Chalmers Church, Guelph. With Mrs Campbell, they were en route back to Guelph, after spending their vacation at Oliphant. They were greeted by many old friends and the years rolled backward as the message of the gospel was given with Mr Campbell's old-time force and sincerity. The floral decorations played a large part in the aesthetic end of the Anniversary and the artistic arrangements were much admired.

Special music was given by a Mt. Forest mixed quartet and a double quartet from Queen St. United church Durham. Miss Elizabeth Harding, of Durham, also favored the audience with a well-rendered solo. The Mt. Forest quartet comprised Messrs Groat and H. Ross, Mrs Maundrell and Miss A. McBride, and rendered "We'll never grow old," and "What did He do?"

Rev. Mr Campbell prefaced his remarks by referring to the early efforts of Mrs Amos in giving land for the church and work besides speaking of the value of church attendance and application of Christian principles.

The evening service was equally largely attended. The Queen St. quartet, rendered "Come to the church in the Vale" and the octette sang "Come Home." Mr Campbell took as the basis of his remarks, "And I press towards the mark". Mr Campbell stated that years ago, he always made it a point in preaching to say something that could be taken home. That faculty he still possesses to a degree.

The Monday event took the form of a supper on church lawns where a large crowd did ample justice to a fine spread. An amusing play, "The antics of Andy" followed in the church sheds. It was well acted, creating many a hearty laugh in amusing skits. The night was hot, the steel roof adding thereto. Much valuable time was lost in starting, fully an hour and a half before Reeve Hunter drew the curtain and gave the synopsis of the play. The cast was a large one and comprised Messrs Archie Clark, Frank Hopkins, A. Taylor, Russell Taylor, Allan Hastie, Lorne Henderson, Orval Eccles, L. McMurdo, Gordon Leith, Mrs W. Renwick, Misses Dorothy Taylor, Edith Hunter, Florence Patterson and Margaret Leith. Mrs Robert Taylor directed the play.

Drowned at Ayton

Unable to swim, Eckhart Wise, 18-year old Toronto youth, drowned before the eyes of three helpless companions when he became trapped in a hole in the Saugeen River, half a mile north of Ayton, while bathing Sunday afternoon.

Attempts at rescue were futile and the body of the boy remained visible to those on the shore as it sank into the deep hole. Several attempts to dive for it failed, and it was half an hour before it was recovered by means of a rail.

Dr. J. Easton, coroner for Grey County was on the scene when the body was recovered, and stated an inquest would not be held.

Eckhart had been working for the summer months on the farm of his cousin, Leo Pfeffer, a short distance west of Ayton. On Sunday afternoon he went bathing with three companions, Walter and Menno Rubenthal and Noah Brusso, all Ayton boys of his own age. None of the boys could swim and while wading in deep water Eckhart floundered in the hole which dropped many feet below his depth.
