The Last Rose of Summer.
After the severe frosts of last week, flowers still sending forth radiance, are rather scarce. However C. C. Elvidge has a rose bush in front of his residence that defies such things as frosts, and is blooming still for the edification of passers-by. The Elvidge's are not familiar with the name of this branch of the rose family, but it has been doing duty for several years and has been the admiration of many passers-by.

Rebekahs at Waterloo.
The degree team of Lady Grey Rebekah Lodge, Durham, along with several other members, paid a fraternal visit to Crystal Lodge, Waterloo on Monday night where they exemplified the degree before a Waterloo candidate. Nearly thirty were in the party, and a social hour was enjoyed at the close. At His Mother's 93rd Birthday Party
We were glad to hear from our old friend, Robert Pettigrew, of Victoria, B.C., recently. He was greatly interested in reading in the columns of the "Review" of the Old Home Week celebration and wished to be here at that time also. "He says, "We had David Fowler who was there visit us, and give a report of those he met, which pleased us very much. Also glad to see by the papers, crops are so good. I have been down to Saskatchewan by motor; some places crops fair, other places very bad with rust. Was at mother's 93rd birthday party, when she was hale and hearty. Have just returned to Victoria where the flowers are blooming and the grass is green. I was a very dry summer here, the farmers having to feed their cows most of the time. Mrs. David McCris is returning to Victoria tomorrow accompanied by her daughter Mrs. G. Marshall, who has not been well since the sudden death of her husband."

Minister Forecasts Mild Winter

Southerly Ontario is in for a mild winter, according to Rev. A. J. Bruce now regarded as Sudbury district's ideal weatherman because of his many correct weather predictions. Rev. Mr. Bruce made a study of the winds in his early youth and now watches the winds and clouds and the elements before giving a prophecy as to the future weather. Northern Ontario, he stated, will have a fairly mild winter, but there will be much snow. In Southern Ontario there will be considerable rain.

"You are going to see an exceptionally warm November," he predicted. "In fact, there will be flies and mosquitoes in November, it will be so warm. We are going to have a moderate October."

"In this Northern Hemisphere which includes all of Ontario, we have the autumnal equinox on Sept. 22," he pointed out. "The sun crosses the equator from north to south and at that time, the earth and the sun are in a direct line. At that time, air currents are influenced 100 miles on each side of the equator. It is in this space of time that the prevailing winds, or trade winds, blow because of the air currents."

"If these currents blow from the south or southeast for three days after the equinox, the prevailing wind for the following six months will be from that direction. This year they blew from the south and southwest, and have continued to blow from that direction. Of course, as usual, there will be north winds in the winter but the prevailing winds will be from the south and southwest bringing warmth."

"On the 22nd, 23rd, 24th and even to the 25th, we had prevailing high winds from the southwest and we can look for warm weather all during October and part of November. Toward the last of November there will be frequent rains."

"I also base my weather predictions upon cycles. This is the second year of the sun's cycle, and the sun's direct or indirect rays will be the governing or detrimental influence upon the weather. Thirty-three years ago there was a similar cycle of weather and records which I have, reveal not an overcloud winter at such a time, with plenty of moisture."

"It will come in the form of rain around the equator and southern part of the hemisphere, but it will come to us in the form of snow. I would advise people here to get old dobbin out and hitch him to a sleigh for the snow will be too deep for motorists to make much use of a car. California will have an extremely pleasant winter owing to that portion of the continent being favored by more direct rays of the sun."

Mr. Bruce took the limelight last year when he predicted snowstorms two and three weeks ahead of time, and had them fall on the day he said they would.

THE ROLL CALL

DR. JOHN MOORE, V. S.

On Oct. 3rd at his home at Wilson N.Y., Dr. John Moore, Veterinary Surgeon, passed away suddenly, while at his professional duties. He was 66 years of age.

Dr. Moore had a passion for his early home and friends, and in his visits to this section each year, he did not fail to call on his one-time teacher and friend. He was a large man physically and his heart was equally large and warm.

The funeral was held from his late residence at Wilson, on Sunday. Relatives attending from here were Mrs. Chas. Petty and son John, Miss M. Petty, R.N., Hanover; Mrs. Will Moore of Flesherton and Miss Agnes Petty, Toron o.

CECIL ALTON

There passing away in Markdale, Monday morning, Cecil Alton, village constable in his 59th year. For a number of years, deceased has been a victim of asthma, and a cold a few days previous to his death made it for him distressing, though not considered serious. Therefore his death came as a great shock.

The late Mr. Alton was a native of Yorkshire, England, but came to Canada as a little boy, since residing at Markdale. He was married to Miss Annie Staples, daughter of the late James and Mrs. Staples of Glenelg, and with the widow, there mourn four children, Cecil, Florence, Rourh and Frederick.

Besides filling the duties as constable, Mr. Alton had been employed by Markdale council for the many little repair jobs to village property and had been an efficient and faithful public servant.

"House-Warming" at Manse

Friday last the Presbyterian Manse received its official opening when an afternoon tea was arranged by the Ladies' Aid of the church. Mrs. Gowdy had with her receiving, her mother, Mrs. Peters of Saskatoon and Mrs. Gilbert McKechnie, president of the society, assisted at the door by Mrs. J. McGowan, Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. McFayden and Mrs. J. Burgess. Attendants in drawing room were Misses Renwick and J. Weir, and Mrs. A. W. H. Lauder. The tea table was very attractive with lace cloth, yellow and rose candles and centre with silver basket filled with Shasta daisies. Mrs. Pickering was responsible for the dining room decorations. Mrs. George Sharp and Mrs. Wm. Smith poured tea. Mrs. C. H. Moffat, Mrs. W. Gray, Mrs. C. Howell, Mrs. W. McGowan, Mrs. W. J. McFadden, Mrs. J. F. Grant, Mrs. Tobin and Mrs. Blair served refreshments. Mrs. Harding presided at the piano in her usual delightful manner.

Quiet Session of Council

Little business of importance was before Durham Council on Monday night. General accounts totalling $751.35 were passed; also relief accounts, $71.63 and medical $4.00; in all, $827.48.

Mr. Thos. Frost, Owen Sound, adjutant under the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act, was granted use of Town Hall for afternoon of Oct. 16. Chairman McGowan of the Board of Works, reported the culvert at corner of Queen and South streets completed, and a satisfactory job.

Council decided to make a charge of 50c per day, or part day, for the use of the road grader, and anyone securing it must bring it back in as good condition as when taken out.

Leamington Lady Killed in Level Crossing Crash

HUSBAND CRITICALLY INJURED WHEN TRAIN HITS CAR AT CROSSING EAST OF GLEN

When their car was struck by the noon C.P.R. train on Wednesday, Mrs. Douglas Maynard of Leamington, Ont., was almost instantly killed and Mr. Maynard the driver, is now in Durham hospital.

The sad fatality occurred about 12:05 noon. They were the only occupants of their car, a 1934 Chevrolet, and were enroute to Markdale to visit the bank of Montreal manager there, Mr. Alex Robertson, and Mrs. Robertson. Their son had accompanied them as far as Guelph and he motored up early in afternoon upon learning the shocking tidings of his mother's death.

The scene of the accident was at the level crossing six miles east of Durham on Prov. Highway No. 4, at east end of the Glen. It is impossible to see the train until a few yards from the crossing and while it was the regular daily westbound train, Mr. Maynard had probably never heard the whistle, or thought of its coming. It was not travelling fast, but the engine struck front side of the car, and hurled it against the fence, past the cattle guards, crushing in the entire front of the motor and left it lying on side beside the track. A scantling from top of fence was jammed through the windshield and side window and this doublet struck Mrs. Maynard and she died only a minute or so after the crash. She was about 52 years of age, and the remains were taken to Kress' undertaking parlors, and later to Leamington for interment.

Mr. Maynard was extricated by the train crew, and found to have his knee fractured, and a gash in top of skull from front to back, besides lacerations and bruises in face and body. He was conveyed to Durham hospital and is in fair condition, though he will be a patient probably many weeks. He is a man of about 60 years of age and a well-to-do tobacco farmer on the outskirts of Leamington.

Coroner Dr. D. B. Jamieson empaneled a jury, who reviewed the remains and the scene of the accident, an hour or two after. Its personnel is: J. B. Duffield, foreman; E. McDonald, Geo. Ylirs, R. L. Saunders, C. Lauder, V. Noble, C. McGirr, M. H. Bailey, Jas. Smith, MacCallum.

An inquest is to be held at Town Hall here on Friday afternoon, Oct. 18th.

W. I. HEAR REPORTS OF TRAINING CLASS

The Durham branch of the W.I. held their September meeting on Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. F. Giles with Miss W. A. Blythe presiding. The leaders from the leaders' training class were present and brought to their hearers what they had studied in the class on vegetables.

Mrs. W. A. Glass spoke on the divisions in food and showed that much of the qualities in these are found in vegetables. The methods of cooking were quite fully discussed and the fact stressed that no vegetables should stand a long time in water before cooking. Recipes learned at class were given and a vegetable chowder was prepared and served at lunch.

Miss Blythe led in a discussion of vegetables, referring particularly to those not in common use.

Mrs. B. Stonehouse and Mrs. C. McGirr sang two duets. Mrs. W. D. Erwin read a story from Nina Moore Jamieson's book. In the business period the question came up about buying a piano for the reception room in the town hall, and the proposition was turned down. A committee was appointed to bring in a report at next meeting on a suggested avenue of work. Miss A. Renwick's group provided lunch.

Reliable man, with car, needed immediately for established local Watkins route. Farm experience preferred. Credit extended. Write, Rural Sales Dept., The J. R. Watkins Co., Montreal, Quebec. (38-3)
