TRY THIS!
Here's a tempting new meat dish by a famous food authority. This savory lamb chop grill is very nearly a meal in itself—and what an inviting one!

6 fresh shoulder lamb chops
6 stuffed onions, medium sized
6 or 12 half-inch slices of potato
6 peach halves, fresh or canned
6 whole cloves
6 slices of bacon
Parboil the onion. Meanwhile trim the fat from the lamb chops and sear under the broiler flame for about 6 minutes; or if you wish to save heat, sear in a frying pan. Remove the centres from the onions, dust with salt, fill with bits of Canadian cheese and cracker crumbs, place a bit of butter in the top, and sprinkle with sugar to glaze.

Place the seared chops in a large shallow pan; arrange the potatoes, the stuffed onions, and the peach halves, in each of which a clove has been stuck, around the chops. Salt the chops and potatoes. Place the bacon slices over the potatoes and bake 20 to 45 minutes at 350 degrees F.

Serve from the pan onto hot plates, giving each portion of all the foods and one or two slices of potato. Garnish with parsley or water-cress with a dash of paprika on the onions.

In the menu below you will find suggested just the right dishes to accompany the lamb chop grill. You'll notice it is really an oven meal, for the only other cooked dish is baked right in the oven with the grill: Fruit cup or tomato juice cocktail
Lamb chops, bacon curls, potato slices, Peach halves with cloves, stuffed onion. Salad greens, French dressing, Rice pudding with raisins, Coffee

"AUTUMN" SUPPER DISHES

Cool weather brings with it a natural appetite for warm food. Almost overnight restaurant proprietors change luncheon and supper menus to meet this seasonal desire of their patrons, and similarly the homemaker plans to serve nourishing, hot supper dishes which are sure to please and satisfy the family.

Creamed and scalloped dishes are exceptionally tasty, and no matter what foods are combined to make them, the fact that the foundation is a cream sauce assures high food value, and is enough to place them at the top of the "supper dish" list.

Scalloped Dishes

- 4 tablespoons butter
 - 4 tablespoons flour
 - 2 cups milk
 - 3 cups cooked fish, cut in pieces
 - Salt and pepper
- Melt butter. Blend in flour and sea-sonings. Add milk gradually and stir until mixture thickens. Cook for 3 minutes. Place alternate layers of cooked food and sauce in buttered baking dish. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a hot oven 400 degrees F. until crumbs are nicely browned.

Note: — ½ to ¾ cup grated cheese and a pinch of mustard may be added to sauce just before removing from the stove.

CANADIAN APPLE RECIPES

The apple without question is the king of fruits. Whether fresh, dried or evaporated or canned, it is a wholesome food, easily prepared, attractive and palatable at all times. As pointed out by the Dominion Department of Agriculture in the booklet, Canadian Grown Apples, in which 120 different recipes for the cooking of apples are fully explained, apples vary in flavour and texture. The sound, tart apples are the most suitable for preserving but care should be taken to use them in their proper season. When this is done, spices need not be added as their flavour cannot be improved.

Due to the large amount of pectin contained in apple juice, it may be used in other fruits to give a jelly consistency to jams and marmalades. There is no waste to a good apple; even the core and paring may be utilized for jelly. To store apples in the home, the atmosphere should be dry and the temperature low and cool. The following recipes are taken from the booklet, Canadian Grown Apples which may be had free on request.

Creamed Apples
Creamed mixture may be served on toast points, in crousades, in split tea biscuits, in patie shells or in rings of mashed potato. Chopped parsley, grated cheese or paprika makes a simple, but effective, application from the Publicity and Extension Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Apple Marmalade

Wash, quarter and cut into small pieces coarse-grained Canadian-grown apples. Add cold water and cook slowly until very soft. Rub through a strainer, and for each cup of apple pulp add ¼ cup sugar. Add graded lemon rind and lemon juice, allowing one-half lemon to every six cups of apple pulp. Cook slowly, stirring very frequently until thick. Put up in jars or glasses and cover with paraffin wax. When cold, the marmalade should cut like cheese or jelly. Preserved ginger cut fine may be added, using one tablespoon for every six cups of pulp.

Coddled Apples

2 cups boiling water
1 to 2 cups sugar
8 apples
Make a syrup of boiling sugar and boiling water five minutes. Core and pare Canadian-grown apples; cook slowly in syrup; cover closely and watch carefully. When the apples are tender lift them out and add a little lemon juice to syrup and pour over apples. The cavities may be filled with jelly or raisins.

Apple Porcupine

Stick coddled apples with pieces of almonds blanched and cut lengthwise in spikes.

Apple and Cheese Salad

Mix chopped pecans with twice their bulk of cream cheese adding a little thick cream to blend the mixture. Season with pepper and salt and make into tiny balls. Pare medium Canadian-grown apples, core and slice across in centre into rings about half an inch thick. Arrange rings on lettuce leaves and place several cheese balls in the centre. Serve with cream or salad dressing.

Flies Mystery Ship

Capt. Hubert Braod, ex-Schneider cup pilot, is seen in cockpit of tiny mystery plane he piloted in King's air races in England. Its capable of three miles a minute.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON II — October 13.
THE STORY OF JEREMIAH
Jeremiah 1: 6-10; 26: 8-15

GOLDEN TEXT — To whomsoever I shall send thee thou shalt go, and whatsoever I shall command thee thou shalt speak. Jeremiah 1:7.
THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING
TIME — Jeremiah received his call in the thirteenth year of the reign of Josiah, approximately 626 B.C., and he continued in his prophetic ministry for more than forty years, down to the last king of Judah.

PLACE — Practically all of the events of our lesson take place in the city of Jerusalem.
"Bue Jehovah said unto me, Say not, I am a child; for to whomsoever I shall send thee thou shalt go, and whatsoever I shall command thee thou shalt speak." His lack of experience will not unfit him for the prophetic office, for God will direct him, both as to the object and the contents of his message.

"Be not afraid because of them; for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith Jehovah." When God sends forth his servants, he goes with them.
"Then Jehovah put forth his hand, and touched my mouth; and Jehovah said unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth." The language of this verse, of course, is not to be taken literally. It was not an actual hand of God which touched the mouth of the prophet, though whoever touched the prophet was from God, and figuratively speaking, from God's hand.

"See, I have this day set thee over the nations and over thy kingdoms." The prophet is made a perfect or superintendent of the nations of the world. "To pluck up and to break down and to destroy and to overthrow, to build and to plant." All the words here used imply, from their sound, a certain amount of violence, in the process; in 31:23, it is God himself who is to perform the various acts which are elsewhere ascribed to the prophet.
"And it came to pass, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that Jehovah had commanded him to speak unto all the people, and all the priests and the prophets, and all the people laid hold on him, saying, Thou shalt surely die." The charge against Jeremiah was that he spoke without God's command, and having done so, that he should be put to death according to the Mosaic law (Deut. 18:20).
"Why hast thou prophesied in the name of Jehovah saying, This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate, without inhabitant? And all the people gathered unto Jeremiah in the house of Je-

HOME-MADE BEAUTY AIDS HELP BALANCE YOUR BUDGET

Oatmeal or Egg Masks Are Easily Prepared—Care of Hair Costs But Little.

"I can afford to buy only the necessary cosmetics, one cream and a lotion," writes a frank reader who apparently wants to be well turned out at a minimum of expense. "I can go to a beauty shop occasionally, but not regularly. What do you think I should buy and what homemade preparations do you think I ought to substitute for the ones I can't afford to get?"

This calls for reiteration of all the homemade concoctions and their value to a girl's beauty. The one cream had better be an all-purpose variety that can be used for cleansing either before or after soap and water and which will serve as a tissue cream as well. The benefit your skin gets from this depends on the amount you leave on while you sleep. Allow a thin film to remain at least one night a week. To eliminate lines around eyes and across forehead, leave a generous layer on these spots.

The lotion ought to be a skin tonic or a good hand softener. If you decide on the former, use olive oil or the all-purpose cream on hands three nights a week. If the latter, substitute ice water or cold, slightly diluted witch hazel for the skin tonic. Other items must include foundation, rouge powder, lipstick, and manicure accessories, of course.

Don't forget about hot oil treatments, daily brushing and lemon rinses that keep hair healthy, soft and shining. Learn to set waves and to make ringlet curls yourself. Save your allowance for visits to the hairdresser for special occasions when you want to look especially sleek.

"Let us not forget that, far from progress being at an end, it is going on at a more rapid rate than ever." — Julian Huxley.

"The educated man is a greater nuisance than the uneducated one." — George Bernard Shaw.
"The theatre is alive and kicking. It will not die until someone thinks up a superior form of entertainment." — Brock Pemberton.

"It is doubtless more difficult to make souls goose-step than legs." — Emil Ludwig.
"Of all indoor sports, one of the most popular and widespread is undoubtedly that of doing somebody else's job better than he does it himself." — Deems Taylor.

blood. It is a phrase common with Jeremiah (2:34; 7:6; 19:4; 22:3, 17). Of all the places in the world where innocent blood should never be shed, it would be the holy city of Jerusalem, yet it has been by religious institutions in holy places that the blood of some of the great saints of every age has been shed in times of bigoted persecution.

"If patriotism of nationalism leads to hatred of other countries, it has become an evil thing." — Viscount Cecil.

The use of travelling is to regulate imagination by reality, and instead of thinking how things may be, to see them as they are. — Dr. Johnson.
Temptations, like misfortunes, are sent to test our moral strength. — Marguerite de Valois.

It is easier to enrich ourselves with a thousand virtues than to correct ourselves of a single fault. — Bruyere.
Every life has its actual blanks, which the ideal must fill up, or which else remain bare and profitless forever. — Julia Ward Howe.

All men naturally hate one another. I hold it a fact, that if men knew exactly what one says of the other, there would not be four friends in the world. — Pascal.
If the day looks kinder gloomy And your chances kinder slim If the situation's puzzling And your prospects awful grim If perplexities keep pressing Till hope is almost gone Just bristle up and grit your teeth And keep on keepin' on. Frettin' never wins a fight And fumin' never pays There ain't no use in broodin' In these pessimistic days Smile, just kind of cheerfully Though hope is nearly gone And bristle up and grit your teeth And keep on keepin' on.

35-YEAR-OLD HOUSE MODERNIZED
A Few Basic Changes, a Little Bright Paint, New Curtains Can Work a Big Transformation.

A 35-year-old twelve-room house, which was built during one of the most dreadful periods of architecture and decoration, is rapidly being transformed into an ideal modern home with special emphasis on the needs of the children who will live in it. As a matter of fact, the children—three of them—and their father and mother have been living in the house all during its renovation.

COST WAS LOW
The idea was to prove that all homes that have fallen behind the needs of modern youngsters can be made over economically and satisfactorily. Plenty of light, sunshine and closet space are three essentials now supplied which were missing before.

The frame house was too tall and too narrow, so the top was slanted back to take away from the height and to give an illusion of increased width. The front porch was built up and arched in order to produce a modern appearance and also to insure additional safety for small children. An illuminated house number that never turns off is another improvement.

The original woodwork was old oak finished and heavy-looking. This was changed throughout to a cheerful ivory enamel. The lights were all high in the ceiling and inconvenient for reading or work. Lamps suitable for each room and the pursuits of the occupants have been installed. The staircase was modernized by changing the lower three steps, putting in new rails and repainting stairs and banisters.

MORE CLOSET SPACE
The old china closet in the dining room which projected into the space under the staircase has been torn out. This space was closed up and a door was added to make an attractive closet with low hooks for children's wraps and built-in boxes for their toys, balls and bats. The mother believes that this change will result in new orderliness among the younger members of the household.

Another change that the children hailed with joy was the transformation of a cluttered old-fashioned basement into a recreation room with a sectional bookcase that once was in the library, a reflector floor lamp for playing games at night and a studio couch, magazine rack and wall map. The old shelves and bins were taken away, fiber board was used to cover the walls, and aluminum paint was put on the pipes. Nothing was added. The place was simply cleared out and painted.
All the bedrooms have been redone American in a sturdy, decorative manner. Venetian blinds are used with simple curtaining. The closets have special shelves to provide plenty of room for possessions that once were stuffed away in inadequate corners. The boy's bedroom particularly had never had sufficient drawer space. It was full of hand-me-down furniture, heavy and dark-looking. The drawers were hard for a child to open. All that is changed by the addition of a spacious chest.
CLEAN AND DURABLE
The wallpapers are washable throughout and are in non-fading colors. The rugs are deep-textured but durable, and easy to clean so that the housekeeper need not spend time warning her family to be careful.
In the formerly formal living room, now gay and airy, the old style mantel was replaced by a modern fireplace of good design. Doorways have been lowered and arched. New lighting fixtures and new electrical outlets were put in. Venetian blinds and lace curtains are placed at the windows, and the heavy, old-fashioned, haphazardly-bought furniture was replaced with pieces in a lighter eighteenth-century style.
While you may not be able to afford architectural or new furniture, re-modelling you can do a great deal by the use of bright, clean paint, new cretonnes and fresh curtains, to make your house more attractive during dark winter days.

FU MANCHU

Her beauty was wholly intoxicating, but I thrust her away, and she sank pitifully to the floor.
"I will tell you all I can, all I dare, Dr. Petrie," she cried eagerly, tearfully. "If you only understood — you would not be so cruel..."

THE SEVERED FINGER—Beauty and Dr. Petrie.

"I am not free. What I do, I must, for I am Fu Manchu's slave. Ah, you are not a man if you can give me to the police—if you can forget I tried to save you once..."

I turned my back toward her. How could I give her up — perhaps to stand trial for murder? Certainly she had tried to save me from the awful danger of the Zayat Kiss...

Suddenly she raised herself to her knees, weeping. "It is not your work to hound a woman to death!" she cried. "Ah, I have no friend in all the world. Have mercy on me! Be my friend and save me—from Fu Manchu!"
