CAR LICENSE SALE
BEGINS NOVEMBER 1
 The new 1936 black and white automobile license plates are going to be on sale at Queen's Park after Nov. 1, officials stated yesterday. Purchasers of new cars, the officials expect, will be the first to take advantage of the early issue of the 1936 licenses. These purchasers will be able to procure the 1936 licenses after Nov. 1, and the plates will probably appear on the streets shortly afterward.

GREY-BRUCE RIDING IN LIMELIGHT

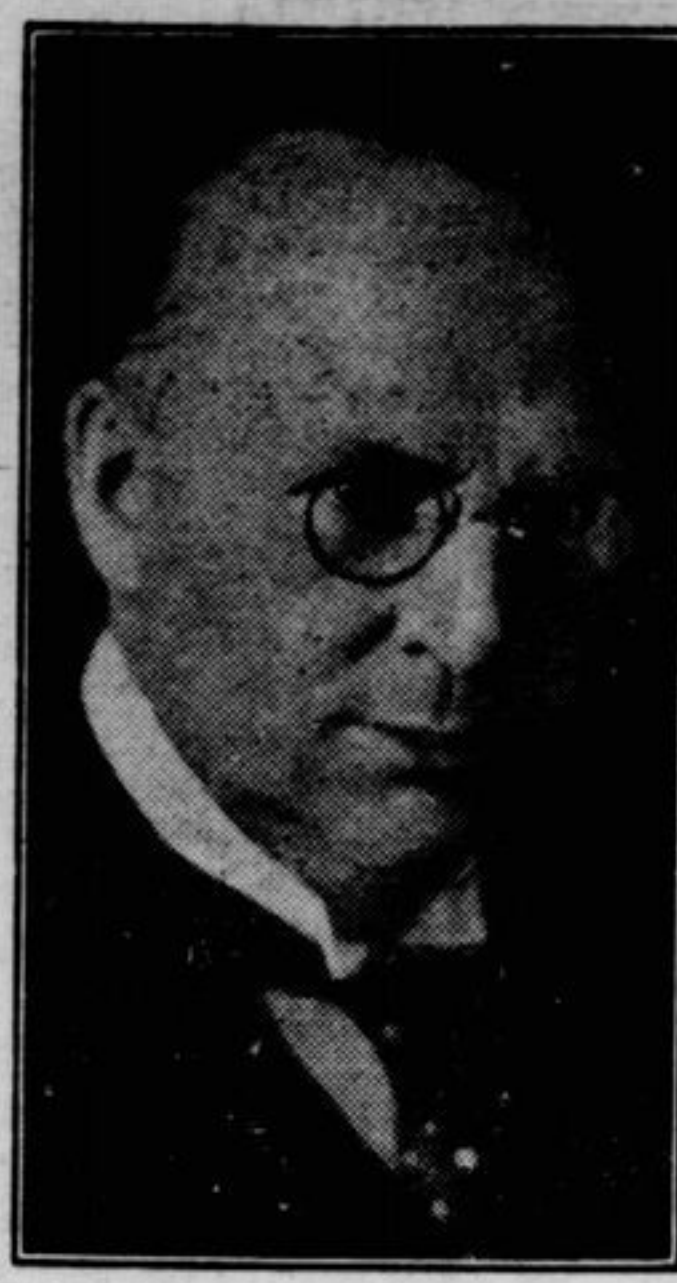

Whether the old Scotch song "The Campbells are Coming" found a place on the program in Agnes Macphail's election propaganda, we are not prepared to say, but it would be a very appropriate number for her executive to sing. Certainly Agnes Campbell Macphail went over strong in the election on Monday last, and her strongest opponents recognize in her organizing ability, a force to be considered. This is her fifth campaign, and her majority is still strong, taking into consideration there were three candidates in the field. Her first election was in 1921. Her opponents being the late R. J. Ball, the late Walter Hastie. Her majority was 2588:
 1925 election, majority was —1407
 1926 election, majority was —1728
 1926 election, majority was —243
 1935 election, majority was —1501

It will be noted she is not weakening, and while the Bruce end of the riding was a triumph for Dr. Hall, the Liberal, she, as was expected, ran second there.

While in practically every riding the Liberal and Conservative candidates were the serious contenders, Grey-Bruce turned these two old parties out and elected a U.F.O.-Labor candidate. The Review feels that the policies of the U.F.O.-Labor were forgotten in the personality of the candidate. Miss Macphail has won the confidence of a large part of her electorate, who stake their political "all" on her. Her fifteen years in parliament have made her a candidate who is respected by friend as well as foe. In fact her admirers number thousands outside of the riding, who watch and follow her career with greatest interest.

GREY BATTALION TO HOLD REUNION

Third reunion of the 147th Greys Battalion will be held in Owen Sound, the Battalion Headquarters announced today. Reunions have been held here every three years, with the last one in 1932. Men from all over the Dominion are expected to attend. Arthur Day of Owen Sound is in charge of arrangements. The reunion will consist of a service at the War Memorial, trooping to the regimental colors, and a banquet at night. The battalion had original strength of 1,100 but casualties over seas and deaths since the war have lessened the total to 700.

Golden Wedding of Mr and Mrs. Geo. Twamley

An occasion of much interest to their many friends in Victoria and Grey County, Ont., and Webb, Sask., took place on Oct. 7th at the home of Mr and Mrs George Twamley, 2827 Cedar Hill Road, when many friends gathered to extend their good wishes to the host and hostess on the occasion of their golden wedding. The former bride was the second daughter of the late Mr and Mrs W. Boyce, Bentinck, and was married to Mr Twamley on Oct. 7, 1885 by the Rev. George Hartley, Elmwood. The bridesmaid, a cousin of bride, now Mrs N. Anderson of Crawford, is still living. Mr Robert Twamley of Durham acted as groomsmen. Living in Glenelg township for twenty-three years, where they made their home their four sons and two daughters were born. Mr Twamley went West in 1906. He bought land and farmed at Kisbey, Sask. for four years, then proceeded west to Webb, Sask., where he and his sons took up land and farmed there for ten years. Mr and Mrs Twamley lived at Salmon Arm, a few years, returning in the summer to visit their sons at Webb. Three sons, Robert, Albert and Frank, still live at Webb, the youngest son, Cecil, being killed in a car accident in 1918. Their oldest daughter, Addie, Mrs Charles Hastings, resides in Victoria; youngest daughter, Alice, Mrs R. T. Turner, lives at Chesley; Seventeen grandchildren are living. Mr Twamley has only his brother living in Durham left; Mrs Twamley, two brothers, Richard and Edward Boyce, in Durham; and sisters, Mrs H. McDougall, Hamilton; Mrs Robert Twamley and Mrs Robert Ledingham, Durham; Mrs A. Turner who recently went to Victoria; Mrs. A. McMurray, Brampton, and Mrs. Robert McCaslin, Elmwood.

Both of the venerable pair have been great workers for the good of humanity. Mrs Twamley is a member of the W.C.T.U., ladies' aid, W.M.S., and Women's Guild, and both are members of the Metropolitan church, Victoria. Mr Twamley who has never tasted liquor or smoked, and vigorously upholds the temperance cause, will be seventy-nine next May, his wife, seventy next April.

The beautifully decorated table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake. Mrs A. Turner received the guests with her sister, Mrs E. Marks and Mrs Charles Hastings served a buffet luncheon, assisted by other attendants. They received many gifts from their children and friends, Mrs Twamley being presented with a lovely bouquet. Many good wishes were extended to them for a long wedded life from their eastern and Victoria friends.

Mr and Mrs R. T. Turner and family of Chesley, also Miss Elva Webb were in attendance.

In the afternoon and evening, anniversary services will be held at North Glenelg. Congratulations to Agnes C. Macphail on her substantial majority over Dr. Hall, Liberal and Dr. Campbell, Conservative, in Monday's election. Miss Macphail always has the interests of South Grey at heart, and is well worthy of the confidence the people repose in her.

Early Days in Dornoch

Dornoch comes the credit of two expert woodmen, the late Robt. Corlett, Sr., and Ed. Brennan, who chopped and cleaned the land where the market square is in Owen Sound. There were many others whose names are not mentioned who were worthy of a good write up, but space will not permit at present.

By Mrs. E. McIntosh
 (Concluded from last week.)

Dr. Smith came from Arthur to Dornoch in 1890 carrying his belongings in a homemade box with a handle and in it he had a few drugs. He boarded for two years with Wm. and Mary O'Mara and he was in the village for two weeks before he got his first call, because people in those days didn't send for doctors for every little pain and ache. After two weeks he was called to Dougall McFarlane's beside Latona school, and sorry to say he never got paid for his call. Dr. Smith lived in and built the house Mr. Walsh now owns, for nearly 30 years.

He proved his ability as a doctor, for he had a practice for 10 or 15 miles around and had to his credit nearly two thousand babies whom he helped bring into the world and never lost a mother at child birth. The practice got too large for him as he grew older so he moved to Durham in 1918. He was greatly missed by his people and also his place was badly missed in church, where he played a big part as an elder and a staunch supporter of the different needs of the church.

Mrs Belle Cummings kept store in Dornoch for a number of years. She first kept where Leonard Walsh has his garage. Then she bought and built a store and dwelling on the corner lot. It fell prey to flames so she and her daughters moved to Williamsford.

Dornoch had its times of fun and pleasure 50 or 60 years ago. Every third Monday of the month they had a fair. Every farmer who had cattle to sell drove them to the village. The road would be full of cattle; sometimes over a hundred head would be brought to the village. If they got the price they sold, if not the cattle were taken home and kept till the next fair, the buyers came from Guelph. They were Thomas Moran, Ed. Cocklan and Mr Hefferman. When all the cattle were ready they hired sometimes 50 cents to drive the cattle to Durham. When they reached Durham, other boys were got to go to the next town. Many of the cattle would run in the river Styx on the way and would sink in the mud to their ears. There the excitement started to get them out of the mud. Sometimes horses had to be hitched to a rope to draw them out. Others would get so tired before they reached Durham, they would lie down on the road. These things kept the boys hours longer in getting home and they had to walk the nine miles back to Dornoch. No chances of rides in those days.

Dornoch had its ball team and a senior and junior football team. The old "Flying Wedge" football team was used to compete with Massie, Bognor and Strathvon, and carried off many a winning game. These games often led to hard feelings between the different teams, but many a good time was had watching the playing.

Annual picnics used to be held in Wm. O'Mara's bush to be held in people. A large platform was built every year for dancing and it continued all afternoon and part of the night.

At the Presbyterian church they would hold solrees, when all young men were appointed to get a girl and wait on the people that it would fill the church to capacity. The cakes were put in paper bags and everyone got a bag with each in. Then here was the singing school conducted by Adam Cranston a blind man. He would for a dollar or two, hold these classes every week for a few months. This was where the youth and beauty of those days got their first vocal training.

At the joint meeting, current events were given by Gordon Krauter; a paper, "Odds and ends" by Emmerson Enke, and a reading by M. Krauter.
