Jury Gave Verdict of Accidental Death

At the inquest held last Friday, afternoon in Durham town hall, re the death of Mrs Gertrude Maynard, the jury brought in a verdict, through their foreman, J. B. Duffield, stating she died from injuries received while an occupant of her husband's automobile, when struck by a train at Smellie's level crossing, 3 miles west of Priceville. The jury added a recommendation that greater protection than already exists should be placed at this point to safeguard the travelling public.

Dr. D. B. Jamieson, coroner, was in charge, and in all, seventeen witnesses were heard. All evidence heard absolved the C.P.R. train crew from responsibility for the accident, as it was proven that whistles had been sounded for both crossings and all possible precautions taken.

Closest Guess Was 16 out of 100 in Review Contest

Now that the official majority for Miss Macphail over Dr. Hall in Grey-Bruce has been declared as 1484, the Review can announce the winners of the guessing contest.

First place goes to R. L. Saunders local merchant, whose guess was the even 1500 majority for Macphail over Hall. Bob first placed his guess at 150, but a few days before the close, he said, "I want to change my guess. I was out in Elderlie near Paisley, and find that the farmers out there are all voting Macphail, while down near Mount Forest, things are pretty much the same. Make it 1500 majority instead." It was a shrewd guess, only 16 above the actual figure.

Second prize was won by Reeve A. S. MacArthur of Glenelg, whose guess was 1340 majority for Macphail over Hall. He wins the Review for 6 months and a $2. cash prize for having sub. paid in advance.

The wide-spread interest taken in the contest was manifested by the scores of guesses received from all over South Grey, Toronto and other points. Most of the estimates gave majorities from 3 up to 100, then thinned out up to 500 and 900. Only ten or a dozen of the entrants placed the majority over 1,000 and all picked Macphail except one.

Of the numerous guesses received, 87% picked Miss Macphail as the victor; 48% of these placed Campbell in second place and 39% put Hall second. 8% chose Campbell as winner over Macphail and 4% Hall winner over Macphail. Had we received entries from the Bruce section of riding, doubtless most there would have picked Hall as the victor. Only 1% left Miss Macphail out in the cold, by giving Hall a majority over Campbell, or Campbell over Hall.

Brantford Man Killed as Car Crashes Steam Tractor

When his speeding motor car crashed head on into a steam traction engine, owned and driven by Robert Mortley, of Dornoch, Gordon Wheeler of Brantford was instantly killed and his car, a 1934 Ford V8 coach, totally wrecked. So great was the impact that the car broke off both front wheels and axle of the engine, allowing the boiler to crush its way through to the back seat of car, squeezing the unfortunate driver back there to his death.

The accident occurred Saturday night on Prov. Highway No. 6, eight miles north of Durham, about 50 yards south of Crutchley's corner, and a mile from Dornoch. It was just at the foot of the long down grade from Morley's rate, and Robt. Mortley, with his helper, Alvin Caswell of Durham, was driving his steam traction engine home, hauling the threshing separator, after his week's work. At Dornoch corner they had lit the lanterns, attaching one to front of engine and the other to the rear of separator, and it was just a few minutes after 7.00 o'clock when the collision occurred. Mortley was driving his engine well along the west, or right side of the road, when the doomed car speeding north appeared at the top of grade on its left or wrong side of road. In a flash it was upon them, Wheeler apparently never noticing the light or if he did, too late to avoid the crash. Mortley had no time or opportunity to dodge the oncoming car, and the terrific impact, heard two miles away, forced the car below the boiler of tractor and punched a hole in boiler, allowing 150 lbs. of steam to escape. This alone would have finished the doomed man below, but he was already dead from a broken neck, several fractures of arms and legs, and the broken steering wheel piercing his body.

Mr Mortley was plucked on the pavement in front of the separator wheels, while Alvin Caswell with him was jolted into the ditch on his right. Both were bruised but otherwise uninjured except that Caswell has a cut wrist. The severe jolt to tractor broke the tongue of separator attached to it, and one of tractor's heavy iron wheels was broken in several places, and lay in east ditch.

A large crowd was soon on the scene and on learning of the accident Highway Traffic Officer Orval Storey of Owen Sound with Prov. Constables Noble and Cook arrived and patrolled the highway in that vicinity to prevent further accidents. Coroner Dr. M. Phillips, Chatsworth took charge and directed operations.

Some of the men earliest to arrive after the accident tried to release the body of the dead man, which was wedged into the rear seat of his car by the front of the tractor. It was impossible to move it however, until Mr. W. J. Running of Dornoch, a house mover happened along and some jacks he had with him were placed under the boiler, jacking it up, so that the wrecked car and mangled body could be removed from under it. On the Coroner's instructions, the body was taken to South's undertaking parlors in Chatsworth, and the car to a Chatsworth garage, where hundreds viewed it on Sunday. The big wrecking car of the Owen Sound Motors towed the disabled traction engine to Mr Mortley's home close by.

The victim of the accident, Gordon Wheeler was 29 years old and a former resident of Owen Sound. His parents had moved to Owen Sound from Pictou nine years ago. Mr. Wheeler being in charge of the Canadian Canned Meat Co's. plant there. When it closed down 15 months ago, they moved to Brampton, where he was in charge of the National Canned Foods Ltd. The young man was en route to Owen Sound to visit friends there over the weekend, when his tragic death took place. His only sister's husband was killed in a motor car accident in Toronto several months ago.

Dr. Phillips of Chatsworth, Coroner, has ordered an inquest to be held.

Towns are Leaving Town

Citizens generally will regret to learn that Mr D. C. Town and family are to remove from Durham this fall. Mr Town has purchased a jewellery business in Orilla from Mr Frost, with whom he learned his trade over twenty-five years ago, the latter desiring to retire from business. Full possession will be given about Nov. 1st, and meanwhile D. C. will probably dispose of his jewellery and gift shop here. It is twenty-three years ago since Mr. Town commenced business here, and while he and Mrs Town and family keenly regret leaving they feel it an opening for a much larger business than is possible here. Both in civic and church life, Mr and Mrs Town have been valued citizens whom the town and community are loath to lose.
