THE ROLL CALL

VALENTINE ALLES

It is again our sad privilege to pay tribute to one of our old friends and neighbors in the person of Mr. Valentine Alles, who passed peacefully away on Friday afternoon Oct. 25th.

Born in the township of Egremont 71 years ago last July 21st, of the farm adjoining that upon which he spent the remainder of his life, pioneer hardships were not unknown to him. In reminiscing his boyhood days mention of a team of oxen never failed to recall fond memories. Despite the terrible handicap through accident some 36 years ago of the loss of the use of his right arm, he proved himself always a zealous worker and was never happier than when planning together with his equally zealous helpmate, improvements to the place they loved and which stands today undisputed as a fine landmark to their untiring industry.

Left to mourn the passing of a kind and faithful husband and father are his ever devoted life partner whose maiden name was Mary Drimmie; four daughters and two sons, namely: Mary, Mrs W. A. Renton, Dromore; Georgina, Mrs W. J. MacEachern, and Bessie, Mrs A. J. Scott Toronto; Ethel, Mrs J. G. Leith of Dromore; John C. on the 14th con. and Huber at home. Their youngest son, David Alexander, died 7 years ago. Also surviving are three sisters Mrs H. Reid, Holstein; Mrs C. G. McLellan, Montreal; Mrs Wm. Starling, Hamilton; and one brother, Geo. on the homestead.

The funeral which was held on the 28th from his residence was conducted by the Rev. Robertson Miller of Mount Forest assisted by Rev. Robt. Honeymann, Dromore. It was largely attended by old friends and neighbors.

The pallbearers were Alexander Ross, David Eccles, George Drimmie, Alexander Merchant, Arthur Eccles and Earl Reid.

The beautiful floral tributes received from relatives and friends were borne by Wilbert Schenk, Kenneth Alles, Campbell Watson and Frank Eccles.

Friends and relatives were present from Toronto, Montreal, Hamilton, Palmerston, Mount Forest, Hanover and Durham. Interment took place in the family plot, Reid's cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs Valentine Alles and family desire to express sincere thanks to friends and neighbors for kindness and sympathy, also for floral tributes extended to them in their sad bereavement.

NORTH EGREMONT

Miss Kathleen Smith, teacher at No. 13 held a Halloween party in the school last Wednesday evening Oct. 30. The night being fine there was a large attendance. Miss Muriel Watson, chairlady, had a program of recitations, dialogues, songs, etc. Mr and Mrs Reg. Ramage also sang a couple of numbers, followed by games, lunch and candy.

Mr. Clarence Moore who has been threshing since August with Roy Lawrence, finished up last week and is at home again.

Halloween was celebrated as usual in this burg with earthquake thrown in for good measure.

Miss Hazel Moore visited the past two weeks with friends in Brampton. Mr. Geo. McKelvie has been bedfast since last Saturday with pneumonia with Dr. Sneath in attendance.

Mr and Mrs Smith of Tara, also Miss Kathleen Smith, teacher at No. 13, visited with Mr and Mrs David Hooper last Friday evening. They were there in time to sit in a good supper with roast goose.

Mr. John Nicholson of Yeovil has moved in to Mr Dan Boake's house last week.

Earthquake Comedy

SOME UNIQUE EXPERIENCES ARE RECORDED BY RESIDENTS

Last Thursday night's earthquake across eastern Canada not only created a lot of fear among those who felt the tremors but also aroused a lot of talk afterwards among residents. It provided an entirely new thrill, produced a variety of reactions and gave a new subject to talk about. Everybody had a different reaction to the quake and added color was given because it happened on Halloween night, when spirits and spooks are at play.

Comedy was also produced and in this article are some incidents heard about.

A Glenelg farmer's wife felt the bed shake and woke her husband to tell him that a man was under the bed. The 14-year old son shouted from the next room, he also felt shaky. The husband investigated but only found his own boots under the bed.

A lady returned from a bridge party at midnight and left the prize she won, a cup and saucer, on the edge of the table. The earthquake sent it crashing to the floor, which awoke her. "It was the first prize I ever won," she moaned, "and probably my last."

A widow in town felt her house shaking and decided it was boys playing halloween pranks. Another couple waking from their sleep diagnosed the trouble correctly and because they vote differently, he declared, "Serve 'em right for turning Bennett out."

Two brothers fast asleep woke up. "Quit shaking the bed," said one. "Quit it yourself," he blamed the other. The morning newspaper solved their dispute.

The most amusing one heard was a bachelor who permits his collie dog to sleep in his room. The animal at times drums his head with his paw for fleas, real hard. The tremors woke him and he blamed the dog's habit for the disturbance. He shoved it outside the door and decided to give it a bath next day.
