Over 5000 Celebrated in Dundalk on Monday

On a sweltering hot day, some 20 lodges and 6,000 people crowded Dundalk streets and park on Monday afternoon. Honeywood Band led the parade and Ernest Acheson, Co. Master, presided at the speaking in the Park. Speakers were Mrs Lillian Morgan, Grand Mistress of the L.O.B.A. and W. J. Miller of Bognor, Deputy Grand Master of Ontario West. Durham girls defeated Dundalk 11-7 in an excellent game of softball and Hornings Mills beat Honeywood in baseball. Cotton's Midway and a street dance at night were other attractions.

Won from Chesley 6-1

Durham girls' ball team won their second Tri-County League game here from Chesley Friday night, by 6-1. It was a well-played game and hits were few, Durham getting 6 and Chesley 4. Rowe and Thompson were Durham's leading batters. Chesley team shows a decided improvement over last year and in another season should make it interesting for any opposition.

BON VOYAGE TO THE DUFFIELDS

Today, Wednesday, Mr and Mrs J. B. Duffield and son Jim commence the first lap of their journey that takes them to that historic battle ground, Vimy Ridge, where they will witness on July 26th, the unveiling by King Edward VIII, of the magnificent war memorial, on Vimy's heights designed by the eminent Canadian sculptor Walter Allward. The memorial is the gift of the Canadian Government to mark an everlasting tribute of gratitude to the Canadian boys who did not return. It will be an impressive occasion and a great privilege it is to a returned man, as James B. is, to witness the unveiling.

From France they go to Scotland, to visit with James' uncle and other kith and kin there. They expect to return to Canada the middle of August. Bon voyage to the travellers.

HYMENEAL BRIGHAM—PETTY

A quiet wedding took place at the manse, Dromore, on Wednesday, July 15th when Esther Winnifred Petty daughter of Mr and Mrs James Petty became the bride of Herbert T. Newton Brigham, son of Mr and Mrs T. Brigham, Allan Park. Rev. Honeyman officiated. The bride was attired in an aqua blue silk crepe suit with white accessories and shoulder corsage of roses and sweet peas. She wore the gift of the groom, a topaz necklace and bracelet. Miss Margaret Petty, sister of the bride and Mr Earnest Brigham brother of the groom, were the attendants. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left by motor for Toronto and other points.

On their return Mr and Mrs Brigham will reside on the groom's farm in Bentinck.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Meadames Sexton, Sturdy, Linquist and Eeche were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of the former on Saturday evening in honour of Miss Esther Petty, bride-elect of next month.

Court whist was played with Mrs. Fred Morrish winning high honours. Mrs J. E. Jones held the lucky ticket for the travelling prize and Miss Petty was presented with the guest prize. Following a delightful luncheon, Marjorie Morrish, dressed as a farm-erette presented Miss Petty with a bouquet of wild roses. After a cunning poem entitled "To The Bride" was read by Miss Morrish, Freddy Sexton dressed as a farmer boy wheeled a wheelbarrow piled high with gifts.

The rooms were prettily decorated with wild honeysuckle, iris and daisies.

Miss Petty was also guest of honor in Fort Frances at a personal shower at the home of Mrs D. A. McLennan (nee Elsie Bierworth, formerly of Elmwood) and a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mr and Mrs Jas. Gadd.

SOCKETT—SMITH

A quiet wedding took place at 7.00 a.m. Friday, July 10th at the home of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs Robert Smith, Durham, when their youngest daughter, Wilma Marjorie, joined heart and hand with Mr Chas. Muir Sockett son of the late Wm. J. Sockett and Mrs W. B. Rogers of High River, Alta.

The ceremony was performed by her pastor, Rev. W. H. Smith, B.A. under a beautiful silver birch tree on the lawn, the bride's father giving her away. Only the immediate family were present. After the marriage, wedding breakfast and good wishes the happy couple left for Toronto by aeroplane, reaching there in one hour and five minutes after leaving Durham. From Toronto they went to Muskoka by car on a ten-day honeymoon. The groom is a licensed pilot with the Murray Aero Co., and a former Mount Forest boy. The Review extends all good wishes.

LATIMER—EDEN

At Union College Chapel, Vancouver, recently, the marriage of Edith Margaret, only daughter of Mrs Margaret Eden and the late Nelson Eden, and Rev. Wesley Latimer, B.A., only son of Mr and Mrs John Latimer, took place, Rev. J. G. Brown, D.D., officiating. The service was followed by the sacrament.

The bride who was unattended was given in marriage by her mother. Mr and Mrs Latimer left later for a honeymoon south. They will reside in Natal, where Mr. Latimer has been appointed to the United church.

22 RINKS COMPETED IN TWILIGHT TOURNAMENT

An interesting night of lawn bowling was staged on Durham green, Tuesday, when 22 rinks were entered in a Scotch Doubles tournament. D. Lamont of Mount Forest was the winner. A. Finlayson of Hanover 2nd; Thos. Henderson, Durham 3rd; W. R. Keyes a traveller, skipping a Mt. Forest rink 4th and A. Ries, of Durham 5th. All rinks received good prizes.

Orangemen's Service at Presbyterian Church

On Sunday July 12th, the brethren of Durham District L.O.L., about 80 in number, attended evening service in a body in the Presbyterian church. Scripture reading was taken from Judges 7, and a thought-compelling sermon was delivered by the pastor, Rev. David Gowdy on "The Challenge of Protestantism to Protestants."

From the very outset of the message, the speaker sought to exonerate himself from any charge of sectarianism by pointing out that there could be no blame attached to any man for examining the challenge of his own religion to himself.

Protestantism challenges every Protestant by asking "what do you mean by this term at all? No question is more salient and none will reveal the emptiness of the religion of so many."

To a great number of people the term is nothing more than a name, a convenient tag to go by. To others it is only the occasion of a protest against unsatisfactory conditions of life and religion.

But a Protestant is not only a dissembler in the denial of wrong; he is the affirmer of positive truth. The negative meaning is only incidental compared with the great weight of positive affirmations. A Protestant is a witness on behalf of some principle of life which he has seen and experienced, something which he must express and defend like Martin Luther who stood before the hierarchy of the Roman Church and exclaimed, "Here I stand, I can do no other, God help me." Such was the content of the term as it was first applied. The Reformers bore witness to the genius of the Christian religion which in their day was obscured and abused in the hands of a corrupt Church system. The genius of the Christian religion was first of all the acceptance of the Word of God as contained in the Holy Scriptures as the only basis for church organization, policy, doctrine and sacraments; the only rule for man's salvation and morality.

The Roman system had forbidden the free use of the vernacular. For daring to translate the scripture into the common people's tongue, Wycliff and others were tortured to the death by the Roman Catholic church. That church has never put supreme importance upon the Word of God. The word of a pope or a council or a body of fathers had almost an equal authority with the scripture. One of the first things that resulted for the Reformation was the free circulation of God's Word. The challenge to Protestants today is to use the open book and keep it open in the face of all ungodly and materialistic tendencies of the hour.

The second essential of Protestantism is that Jesus Christ is the only mediator between God and man, and that faith in Him brings immediate pardon to the sinner and gives him the right to all the privileges of God's grace. The New Testament reveals only one mediator but the Reformers had to push aside all kinds of mediators such as Peter and many and all the Saints. There is no ground for the worship of these in the Bible. They were only human beings like ourselves. Christ only was Divine and there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved.

The Reformers saw that Christian benefits were not to be dispensed by the whim and fancy of any system; that no church was the repository of grace; that no council or hierarchy could withhold or extend God's blessings independently to God Himself. They revolted from the commercialism of the Roman church where pardon and absolution could supposedly be bought by gold to fill the church's treasury made so empty through the outrageous extravagance of the court. They saw from the New Testament that God's grace is a free gift, that the just shall live by his faith. Hersin is the challenge to Protestants to support and attend their churches which preach this gospel of God's grace and seek to be His witnesses.

The third great essential of Protestantism is the right to private judgment. A bible which proclaims the value and responsibility of the individual in turn makes sacred the right of private judgment. For this the Reformers witnessed and some 1600 died in 40 years at the stake for no worse crime than doing their own thinking. In some parts of the world men are again in danger of losing even the right to think. Many in Italy thought that it was wrong to slaughter a defenceless people, but a dictator and a religious system kept them silent. It was a shame in the sight of God that a church and a pope with supposedly so much authority over the people, could sit silently and even give their blessings on the murderous use of poison gas on poor women and children.

It is no wonder that the challenge comes to Protestants again to preserve their heritage, to use their individuality, to exercise their franchise dictated not by a church, or a denomination or a political party, or by anyone, but dictated by a conscience that loves liberty and truth.

The preacher earnestly appealed for an unprejudiced approach to all religious and national issues and reminded the congregation that in meeting the challenge of their own religion, they were not in the least interfering with R. C. neighbors and friends but rather with the 'system' against which the Reformation witnessed and of which Protestants must beware if we are to have a free non-partisan atmosphere in home, school and nation.

THE ROLL CALL

VICTORIA CARMOUNT

Many former patients and friends of Miss Victoria Carmount will regret to learn of her death, which took place in the Louise Marshall Hospital Mt. Forest. Fracturing her hip in her home at Mt. Forest this spring, she has since been a hospital patient there. Out of a large family of brothers and sisters, there now remain but a half brother, Adam Douglas, Galt. Miss Carmount was widely known and respected in many homes, for her capabilities as a nurse. In many homes she was more than a nurse, acting as cook and general housekeeper to a stricken family. Her sense of humor was strong and was quick to see the humorous side of a situation, that often saved the day. For a number of years she conducted a private hospital on Countess and Garatrasa Streets, but later gave it up for private nursing. Nearly fifteen years ago, she purchased a home in Mt. Forest, where her sister resided.

For several years she was a close neighbor of the Review and many pleasant memories of her neighborliness remain.

MRS ISAAC HUTTON

Death came in the light of relief to Mrs Isaac Hutton who died at her home in town on Tuesday, in her 81st year. A bedfast patient from rheumatism the past 15 years, she bore her affliction with great fortitude and patience. During these years her daughter Effie has been her constant nurse.

Previous to her marriage to her late husband in 1881, she was Sarah Cuff, born at Hutton Hill, daughter of the late Robert and Mrs Cuff. The husband and father died at their farm home in Normanby 25 years ago. On his death the removal was made to Durham, where has since been the family home. She leaves two sons, Charles Hutton of Glantworth, Sask., and William of Ann Arbor, Mich., and two daughters, (Charlotte) Mrs. Wm. Keller and Miss Effie, Durham.

One brother, John Cuff, Bentinck, and five sisters survive: Mrs. Jas. Hopkins, Bentinck; Mrs L. Reid, New Westminster; Mrs U. Hopkins, Langley Prairie, B.C.; Mrs J. Pollock, Warton and Mrs J. C. Hopkins of Tebermory.

The funeral was held Thursday, from her late residence to Durham cemetery, Rev. J. R. Thompson officiating.

NOTICE TO WATER CONSUMERS

All water consumers in Durham are urged to use no more than absolutely necessary during present hot spell, as reserve supply becomes seriously depleted. Those with lawn taps must not use them except between hours 6 and 8 a.m., and 6 and 9 p.m.
 By order, Public Utilities Com.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs D. McGill of Niagara Falls, N.Y., called on Mrs McCannel and Mrs McPherson recently.

Mrs Russell Baird and two children of Pontiac, Mich., were visitors Saturday and Mrs McPherson's.

Mr and Mrs Chas. Laundon of Winterburn, Alberta, were callers at the "Review" last Thursday, while passing through town to Warton, en route to Mrs Laundon's former home. She will be remembered by Durhamites as Nettie Lennox, who was stenographer for some years for the National Portland Company. Mr Laundon is a grain buyer for his district, and incidentally has the highest praise for the principles and ideals of Premier Aberhart.

Mr. Harold Ramage, managing editor of the Petrolia "Advertiser-Topic" was at the parental home the first of the week.

Mrs A. S. Muir (Margaret Grant) and son Grant of Ceylon were week end guests with brother and sister. Grant, the son is showing a decided lean towards the Gaelic tongue, the language of his paternal grandparent, and does not lose an opportunity to become better versed in its intricacies. His grandparent the other side of the house—the late C. L. Grant, had more than a mere smattering of this ancient language, and for an Irish-born son, was adept in its use.

Congratulations to Mr Ben Firth, who has been successful in his Normal School course. He will teach at Allan's School, Egremont, the coming year.

Miss Edith A. Edge, London spent the weekend with her sisters Mrs W. J. Ritchie and Mrs W. G. Firth. Miss Audrey Playford of Mimico is holidaying with her aunt, Mrs H. Falkingham.

Mrs Archie Clevents and little son, Terry of Tilbury are holidaying with her parents Mr and Mrs Robt. Smith.

Miss Effie Collier spent the week with friends in Princeton.

Miss Thelma Bell spent the week end in the parent's home.

Rev. R. G. Halbert, Mrs Halbert, Mrs Kelso and Master William Halbert are spending 'three weeks' vacation at New Lowell and other places.

Hon. Charles and Mrs Stewart of Ottawa spent Thursday with the latter's brother, Dr T. H. Sneath. They continued their journey to Shanty Bay to the summer home of Mrs. Stewart's sister.

Quite a number of veterans and their families attended the veterans' picnic in Holstein Park on Thursday.

Mrs O. Cluchey was operated on for appendicitis and other complications.

Mr. Arch. Wilson was overcome with the heat wave and stayed off his milk rounds for a few days.

Messrs G. C. Webster, R. Hughes and J. F. Irwin are attending the sessions of the Masonic Grand Lodge in Toronto this week.

Mr G. C. Webster of the Bank of Commerce is on his vacation and is relieved by a former accountant here, Mr. Orval Struthers of Chesley.

Mr Jas. Renwick, Westlock, Alta., is visiting his parents Mr and Mrs R. Renwick Sr.

Mr and Mrs Robert Mortley, Dorchester, are hovering over the bedside of their six year old daughter Gwyneth who is in a very weak condition resulting from mastoid trouble and subsequent operation. Little chance is given for recovery.

Entrance Results Corrections

Since last issue of Review it has come to light that a few errors crept into the official Entrance list mailed to us. Principal Noble's record shows now that 15 of his 21 pupils were successful, which is indeed a creditable showing and a worthy successor to that veteran of teachers, John A. Graham. The following names should have been added to the list: Hector Dewar (H.); Ross Greenwood; Alvin Manto. Ruth Gregory who took the highest marks in Geography is a pupil from Markdale school, not Durham.

The Review carried last week two of Durham pupils—Anna McLean and Douglas Wilson in the Durham Centre list when they should have appeared in Durham Pupils' list.

Tax Rate Fixed at 53 Mills for 1936

Durham Council, in special session Friday night, fixed a 53 mill tax rate which is 2 above last year and close to a record. The Council were loath to name such a high figure but could see no way out of it, with increases of over $1200 in County rate, $50 to Public School and $800 to High School.

Over $2,000 extra required would mean over 3 mills increased rate but a mill is being saved in reduced estimates, for street work and hospital accounts.

The council received somewhat of a shock at High school estimates being boosted from $4,200 to $5,000. However conditions are changing. In the past the County and Province were paying much more of the upkeep of the school than the Town. Now it is fairly even. The reduction in the County Maintenance grant, which at $2956.94, was over $800 lower than the year previous, was caused by a smaller attendance of pupils from outside the Town. The proportion of county pupils in the High school has been steadily decreasing annually, so that a Maintenance grant of over $6,000 six years ago, has now shrunk to less than $3,000. This lowered County Maintenance grant is the main cause of increased needs from the town to maintain the High School.

According to the Inspector's grading, the standing of Durham school is high and its efficiency is increased with the Agriculture Department recently commenced. Some expensive equipment has been procured and this subject now included in the curriculum should be a potent means of increasing attendance.
