LOSS OF 'HIBOU' MAKES 4th LAKE TRAGEDY IN 1936

Loss of the Motorship Hibou, off Owen Sound, early Saturday morning last, brings to 46, the life toll in Great Lakes shipping disasters in the 1936 navigation season.

It brings the toll of ships since the turn of the century close to the hundred mark. Hundreds have perished as vessels went to the bottom or smashed up on rocky shoals.

The two major disasters of the 1936 season sent two sandsuckers to the bottom. On July 29, the sandsucker, 'Material Service' carried 15 men to death when she sank in Lake Michigan.

On Oct. 17, the Canadian sandsucker, 'Saud Merchant' worsted by a

Lake Erie storm, sank off Cleveland. 13 perished. On Nov 19, only a little more than a week ago, the tug, Frederick Lee, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., disappeared in Lake Huron. 5 were lost.

"I know" —said Sonny, "you're going by TELEPHONE". Today, said Daddy, "I'm going to Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Halifax, Saint John, and New York, but I'll be back in time to put you to bed tonight." "Oh-h," replied Sonny, nonplussed for the moment — then, remembering his own Long Distance talk with Granny, 300 miles away—"I know—you're going by telephone!" Which is just what Daddy intends. He's a modern business man and has found Long Distance a speedy, dependable economical business builder—the modern version of "Seven-League Boots", in fact.

THE TOUCH OF THE MASTER'S HAND. 'Twas battered and scarred, and the auctioneer thought it was scarcely worth his while. To waste his time on the old violin. But he held it up with a smile; "What an I bidden, good people," he cried, "Who'll start the bidding for me? A dollar, a dollar! now two, only two. Two dollars and who'll make it three? Three dollars once, three dollars twice; Going for three? But no! From the room far back a grey-haired man came forward and picked up the bow. Then wiping the dust from the old violin And tightening up the strings He played a melody pure and sweet, As sweet as an angel sings. The music ceased and the auctioneer With a voice that was quiet and low Said, "What an I bid for the old violin?" And he held it up with the bow. "A thousand dollars and who'll make it two? Two thousand and who'll make it three? Three thousand once, three thousand twice, And going and gone," said he. The people cheered, but some of them cried "We don't quite understand What changed its worth." Swift came the reply, "The touch of a master's hand." And many a man with life out of tune And battered and torn with sin, Is auctioned cheap to a thoughtless crowd Much like the old violin. A mess of pottage, a glass of wine, A game, and he travels on. But the Master comes and the foolish crowd Never can quite understand The worth of a soul and the change that's wrought By the touch of the Master's hand.
