BENTINCK NATIVE IN TORONTO CELEBRATES 80TH BIRTHDAY

At her home, 80 Douglas Ave., Toronto, Mrs. James Sharp received friends and relatives on her 80th birthday on Jan. 4. Mrs. Sharp was born on the farm homestead of her parents Mr and Mrs Duncan Campbell, who settled on lot 7, con. 2, Bentinck, in the early fifties of the last century. She attended the log pioneer school house on con 3, Bentinck, built on the Stewart farm. Nearly all the neighbors were staunch Presbyterians and her grandfather, John McIntosh, donated the lot on which Dornoch Presbyterian church stands, having been erected over three-quarters of a century ago. In 1878 Margaret Campbell was married to James Sharp and left her childhood home to live at Limehouse, Equestrian township, Halton county. Mr. Sharp passed away several years before the World War and in 1914 Mrs. Sharp sold her old home and retired to reside at Toronto.

Though she has reached four score years Mrs. Sharp is still hale and hearty, doing all her own shopping and home managing. She keeps abreast of the times, is keenly interested in the daily press and visits with old associates in the city. During the summer she frequently visits her childhood home and Dornoch friends. Assisting Mrs. Sharp receive her guests over her 80th birthday were her daughters, Mrs. Arthur Wens, Mrs. Mary E. Sharp and Miss Colena Sharp all of Toronto; her sons, William J. and Duncan C., her grandchildren, Mrs. Russell, Thos. E. Wens of Toronto and Mrs. Jerome London of Wind or, her sisters, Mrs. John Pollock and Mrs. Thos. Campbell and Mr. E. E. Russell and Mr. J. Pollock, all of Toronto.

Nearly one hundred relatives and friends extended felicitations. A birthday cake and dainty refreshment were served. The old home in Bentinck still stands. Mrs. Sharp has four sisters, Mrs. Pollock, Toronto; Miss Colena R. Campbell and Mrs. R. Nichol, Rockwood; Mrs. T. P. Jones of Bovil, Idaho; and two brothers, William Campbell of Duluth, Minn. and James of Bovil, Idaho. A sad event of the past year was the death of a beloved brother, John in March 1936 at Cloquet, Sask. Three others, Peter, Thomas, and Duncan passed away some years ago. The family circle numbered 11 boys and girls.

SWINTON PARK

Sunday, the 10th of January—a beautiful day, and many people out to church. The minister for the day was a young man from Knox College Mr. Cochran. He took as his text: Exodus 20. 19: "And they said unto Moses, speak thou with us and we will hear, but let not God speak with us, lest we die", which he fittingly explained, showing that the people at that time as well as today, chose the men they wanted to speak, not caring to hear the word of God. Colds, with a form of flu, are quite common.

On Thursday evening last Mr. and Mrs James Hardy entertained neighbors and friends at a progressive euchre party: seven tables. The prize winners were Mrs Walter Knox and Stella McKay. Lunch was served then an hour spent in dancing, everyone enjoying themselves.

Miss Beatrice McMillan has gone to Toronto to take a position. Miss Islay Fell last Wednesday gave the first lesson in music in the school here. We hope she and pupils enjoy and profit by the course.

Mr and Mrs Jack McMeekin and son Jackie were Sunday visitors with Knoxs and Haws in the Park.

George Black almost lost a horse by drowning on Sunday. He had let them out and they ran away. This one having defective eyesight, ran in to the Saugeen in deep water, and could not make the other shore. There were wet men also before it was rescued.

We hear of some real estate deals. Andrew Wright has purchased lot 7, con. 19, from Wm. Hay. We also hear that lots 6 and 7, con. 14, (the old Henry Milliner farm) since owned by Thomas McLean, have been sold to a man from the West.

So people come and go; always hoping for better conditions. Miss McLeod, R.N., has been for the past two weeks on a case in Durham.

Rev. Mr Sutherland and son Larry of Priceville, attended church in Swinton on Sunday and had many good handshakes and renewed old acquaintance with the people here. Although still suffering from the effects of the war, he is always cheerful and ready to help.

A LITTLE COCKTAIL PARTY

Well we are going to be hypocrites no longer in Ontario! That is if the Globe and Mail can enlighten us. It used to be rather a black eye for anyone to be found in at a drinking party. But since the government has put its coat of arms, its seal of respectability on the liquor business it is now a mark of gentility and quality to have your name associated with booze. Take this item from the society page of the dear old Globe.

"Major and Mrs J. M. Baxter entertain Col. and Mrs George A. Drew at a cocktail party at the Toronto Hunt Club. Every day some such item appears among the 500 of Toronto, to Col. Drew! I wonder if he is the Col. Drew who was and is almost the white hope of the Conservative party in Ontario? Then again I wonder what kind of a party it was! Cocktail, so the dictionary says, is generally made of whiskey, champagne, gin or some such stuff with a kick to it. But then very likely this party was one which started with a fruit cocktail, a combination of cut up fresh fruits. Or it may have started with a tomato cocktail, that is some tomato juice that has got squeezed. The second course would likely be an oyster cocktail. That is an oyster that has gone off at half-cock, seasoned with a little vinegar and pepper, all topped off with a soda cocktail, a mixture of soda water and sugars and a little bitters. Surely this must be the meaning of this tall party. Because I see that Mr and Mrs Denton Massey, he who is being groomed to take Honorable R. B. Bennett's place as leader of the Conservative party in Canada and is the leader of the York Bible Class in Toronto, was present, and I hardly think that anything stronger than soda water or oyster would be becoming to him. Surely smartness in society hasn't run riot to the extent that two great leaders like Col. Drew and Mr Massey being found in at a cocktail party of anything stronger than fruit juices! If my memory serves me well the U.F.O. government was defeated largely a few years ago on a coal scuttle and a last night party. But then their cocktails, I believe must have been of "beer when fresh and foaming". That is also a dictionary definition of a cocktail. We are not sure whether it was served in the coal scuttle or at a Hunt club. But anyway, it was a party of some kind. But perhaps the whole thing was a frame-up of the Globe and Mail to bring Col. Drew and Mr. Denton Massey into disrepute. But at least it was a cocktail party and both were there. With Mr. Heppburn going strong and Col. Drew and Mr. Denton Massey in the wings it looks as if we are in for a long wet spell in Ontario.—(Mr. Candlish's column in Walkerton Herald-Times.)

NEW DRILL CONTRACT LET BY MYLAMAQUE GOLD MINES

(The Mining Appraiser)

Since the last progress report of MyLamaque Gold Mines, the diamond drills have been pressing forward with very favourable results. Outside of the $21.70 assay across 10 feet on the No. 4 hole the drills have not contracted any outstanding assays although mineralization has been very much in evidence. Several well defined quartz veins have been determined with widths varying from 5 to 22 feet and the company officials feel confident as to results when drifting can be commenced on the quartz veins encountered so far.

Number 7 and 8 drill holes are spotted to locate extension of the high values obtained on No. 4 hole and results should be forthcoming by the middle of the current month. Since freeze-up, mine manager O'Reilly has made a survey of the south and west end of the property. A mineralized vein running along the shearing was discovered on the south side and after trenching a considerable distance, a channel sample was taken which assayed $14.70. A drill will be placed on this vein as soon as possible.

To the west of centre a large granodiorite dome has been discovered, straight south of the dome on Lamaque and Sigma and Mr. O'Reilly reports the MyLamaque dome is bigger than the former two put together and it stands just as good a chance of getting big values in them as they did.

A drill is being spotted to drill both north and south on this dome and results should be known early this month.

To date the drills have concentrated on an area of about 7 1/2 acres out of 725 acres and the Directors of MyLamaque are more than pleased with results and have signed a contract for additional diamond drilling to proceed immediately.

This mine is sponsored by J. V. Gordon and Co., 815 Metropolitan Bldg., Toronto.

ONLY WOMEN CHIEF MAGISTRATE ELECTED

Canada's only woman Mayor, Mrs. Barbara Haney, who was elected for her second term of mayor of Webbwood, Northern Ontario, likes the job of running the biggest public office in the town, but re-ents being classed with Mrs. Wallis Simpson. The New York Sun had listed her with Mrs Simpson as one of the fourteen outstanding women of the year. However she still thinks her most important business is managing her home and running the town's business on the side.
