NOT SO BAD AFTER ALL

An Editor, says an exchange, who had his attention called to a mistake in one of his columns, didn't feel so aggrieved when he recalled that on the same day there was a letter in his post office box that did not belong to him; he called No. 98 on his telephone and got 198; he called for a spool of No. 50 thread and got a spool of No. 60; he got his milk bill and there was a mistake of ten cents in the company's favor; he felt sick and the doctor told him he was eating too much meat when he hadn't tasted meat for two months; the preacher turned in the church notes with the name of the society president misspelled and the editor got the blame for it; the garage man said his car was missing because it needed a new timer, and he cleaned the spark plugs and the flivver has run fine ever since. And no doubt you can pick out a few more that could not be blamed on the editor.
