

TELEPHONE TALKS IN THE WATSON FAMILY

"This is just like being home!"

Bill Watson occasionally gets fed up on that out-of-town job. Work is oppressive. His pals are dull. Meals are tasteless. The outlook, generally, is bilious. Good, old-fashioned homesickness, that's what it really is — and Bill has a sovereign remedy, once he has diagnosed the case: a long distance call home. And it costs so little, too, that he has decided to forestall attacks by a regular schedule of weekly calls.

Bill's ideas are right in line with the rest of the family. The Watsons have come to appreciate fully the comforts, conveniences and low cost of Long Distance. Do you realize how little it costs to telephone?

This address would not be complete without a special recognition of Mrs. Honeyman. We feel that you and we are to be congratulated on having a woman of your ability as a help mate in your work and in ours in every undertaking of our church and its societies. Every Sunday the church has been made beautiful by the flowers she has arranged, and hearts gladdened by the bouquets distributed and sent to every home. The manse has been a hospital home during your stay here and I am sure the women will not soon forget the many happy afternoons spent there; the quilts we have helped to make, the bazaars and suppers we have planned and worked for, and in all our plans your judgment was always good and work unstinted. I know I am but voicing the feeling of everyone when I say that we are deeply grateful to you, Mr. and Mrs. Honeyman, for the interest you have had in our manse property. It has been a joy to us as well as to you to see this property kept as a beauty spot. It has been a credit to the community and I do not think anyone will forget how beautiful the lawns, gardens and flowers were during the time you were here. And now that you are about to enter on a well earned time of retirement our best wishes go with you both to your new home in Durham. We hope you will come back to Amos sometime for we will miss you here. But in your new sphere we trust that God may spare you both for many years of further service. As a token of our esteem we hope you will accept these gifts from us, and may they serve to keep the bonds of friendship between you and this congregation ever secure.

—Signed on behalf of Amos congregation. Mr. Honeyman very ably and feelingly thanked his many friends on behalf of himself and his wife for the kind words and the beautiful presents given to them. The meeting closed by singing "Blest be the Tie that Binds."

HYDRO IS YOURS...USE IT!

Whether you are at home, or on the street, on trains, street cars or motor, in church or theatre—Hydro plays an essential part in your safety and the protection of your property.

Police and Fire Department signal systems render immediate service in emergency. Traffic lights permit control and safety on our streets. Wig-wag systems flash and signal the danger of approaching trains. Better lighted streets make crime difficult.

Testing and Inspection Department before it goes into your home—every piece of electrical equipment is made as free of hazard as scientific knowledge and highly-trained technicians can make them.

In addition to being an important factor in your safety, and the protection of your property, Hydro is making every effort to extend the benefits of low cost power throughout the Province of Ontario. These efforts are made in your best interests, and their success will affect your prosperity. You should, therefore, be vitally interested in Hydro and what it is doing for you.
