Green tea at its best

"SALADA" GREEN TEA

HOSTAGE HEIRESS

By DAVID DRESSER

Janet Duane, millionaire's daughter, gives a party one night aboard her father's palatial yacht, anchored off Miami. Gregory Gascon tricks her into being left behind with him when the guests are taken ashore. The only other persons aboard are a crippled watchman and Janet's Negro maid. Meanwhile, "Dusty" Lanion, lawless adventurer, has laid plans to seize the yacht to carry arms and ammunition to Cuban revolutionists. Believing the host to be deserted, except for the watchman, who has been bribed, Dusty and his men are about to board her.

CHAPTER X.

Janet breathed a happy sigh as she entered the lounge. Dusty Lanion. She spoke aloud. She was not ashamed to hear her voice caress the syllables.

Twenty-four hours ago, she had not known such a man existed. Those who dwell outside the borders of her tight little world had not existed for her. But tonight, she felt that she would like to hug the whole world to her bosom!

Love had done that to her. She caught her breath sharply. There! It was out. She did not shrink from the word. "I love Dusty Lanion," she told herself softly. "I love Dusty Lanion." She repeated the refrain over and over again.

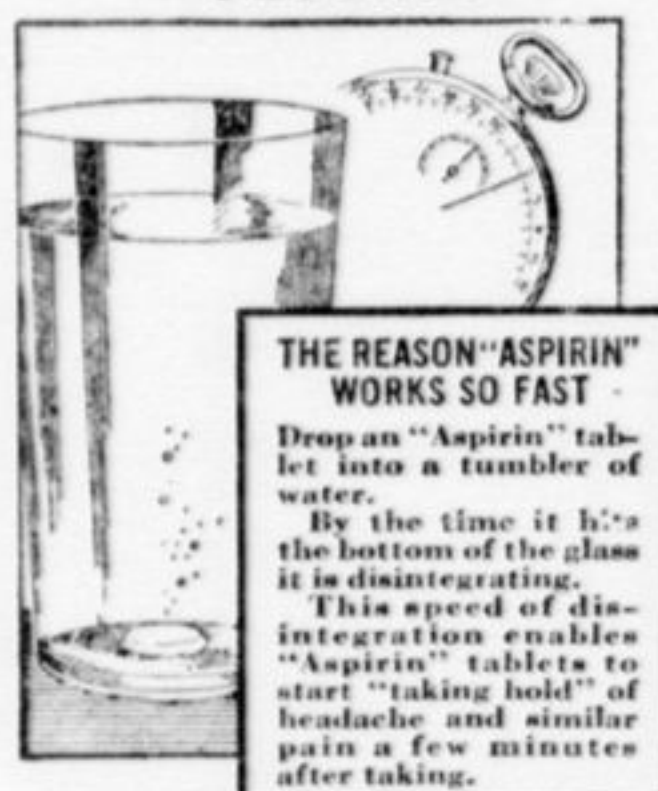

The sound of the door stealthily opening aroused her from her happy musings. She turned, then choked back a startled cry at sight of the fiendish countenance framed in the doorway.

Snifter stepped inside the lounge swiftly. His pasty face held a leering smile as he closed the door and peered about the cabin to assure himself he was alone with Janet.

She shrank away from him, and tried to scream, but the sound seemed to stick in her throat and only a little gurgle came out.

Snifter advanced slowly as she

HEADACHE REMEDY STARTS WORKING IN SECONDS

THE REASON "ASPIRIN" WORKS SO FAST
Drops an "Aspirin" tablet into a tumbler of water.
By the time it has the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating.
This speed of disintegration enables "Aspirin" tablets to start "taking hold" of headache and similar pain a few minutes after taking.

All people who suffer occasionally from headaches ought to know this way to quick relief.

At the first sign of such pain, take two "Aspirin" tablets with a half glass of water. Sometimes if the pain is unusually severe, one more tablet is necessary later, according to directions.

If headaches keep coming back we advise you to see your own physician. He will look for the cause in order to correct it.

"Aspirin" tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited, of Windsor, Ontario. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

The Art of Making Tea

To get the utmost in flavour and quality from tea is an art, but it is an art in which anyone can produce a masterpiece by following these simple directions:

Run the 'cold' tap a few seconds before filling your kettle (never use stale water or water from the 'hot' tap). See that the water is boiling furiously and not just steaming. Scald out a crockery tea-pot, measure into it a teaspoonful of good quality tea for each person and one for the pot, add the boiling water and steep for five minutes before serving.

Nothing else soothes our tired bodies or gives us the same comfort and pleasure that we get from a good cup of tea. Surely it is worth our while to make it carefully.

VINTAGE JELLY

Some New Uses

In some households it is absolutely forbidden to touch any of the preserves which the lady of the house has prepared until the weatherman says that winter has actually arrived. In others, the jars have hardly been sealed before they are opened up and used. Whichever course of action your family pursue, you will find it regret having put time and energy into the making of jams and jellies. The economy and convenience of having them on hand for use now or later in the season will be a tremendous help in preparing tasty dishes. The usual uses for jams and jellies need hardly be mentioned, since every household practically thinks of toast in terms of the jelly which they like best and some people won't even touch meat without the jelly they love.

Grape jelly, because of its beautiful colour and slightly tart flavour, has many uses and here are a few of them which will brighten your table and add a touch of elegance to your cooking.

Rice Mould With Mauve Cream Sauce

4 tablespoons rice.
1 1/2 cups hot milk
1/2 tablespoon salt
6 tablespoons granulated gelatin
3/4 cup cold milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Few drops almond extract
1/2 cup cream, whipped.
Cook rice in large amount of boiling, salted water 10 minutes. Drain. Add to hot milk in double boiler and cook one hour, or until rice is tender. Combine salt and sugar and add to rice. Soak gelatin in cold milk five minutes, and add to hot rice mixture. Stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add flavouring. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in whipped cream. Turn into ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Fill center of mold with Mauve Cream Sauce. Serves 6.

Chicken Croquettes With Jelly Garnish

4 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups hot chicken stock
2 cups cooked chicken, finely chopped.
1 egg, beaten with 3 tablespoons of milk or stock and 1-8 teaspoon salt. Sifted bread or cracker crumbs.
Add quick-cooking tapioca and salt to stock, and cook in double boiler 15 minutes, or until tapioca is clear, and stirring constantly. Add chicken and cook five minutes longer. Cool. Shape into cups, making a slight depression in top of each croquette. Chill. Dip in egg, roll in crumbs, and fry in deep fat (400 degrees F.) 1 minute, or until golden brown. Drain. Fill each depression with bit of grape jelly. Arrange on platter and garnish with slices of molded jelly and parsley. Makes 10 to 12 croquettes.
Here is a grand dessert served with a tasty grape jelly sauce.

Mauve Cream Sauce

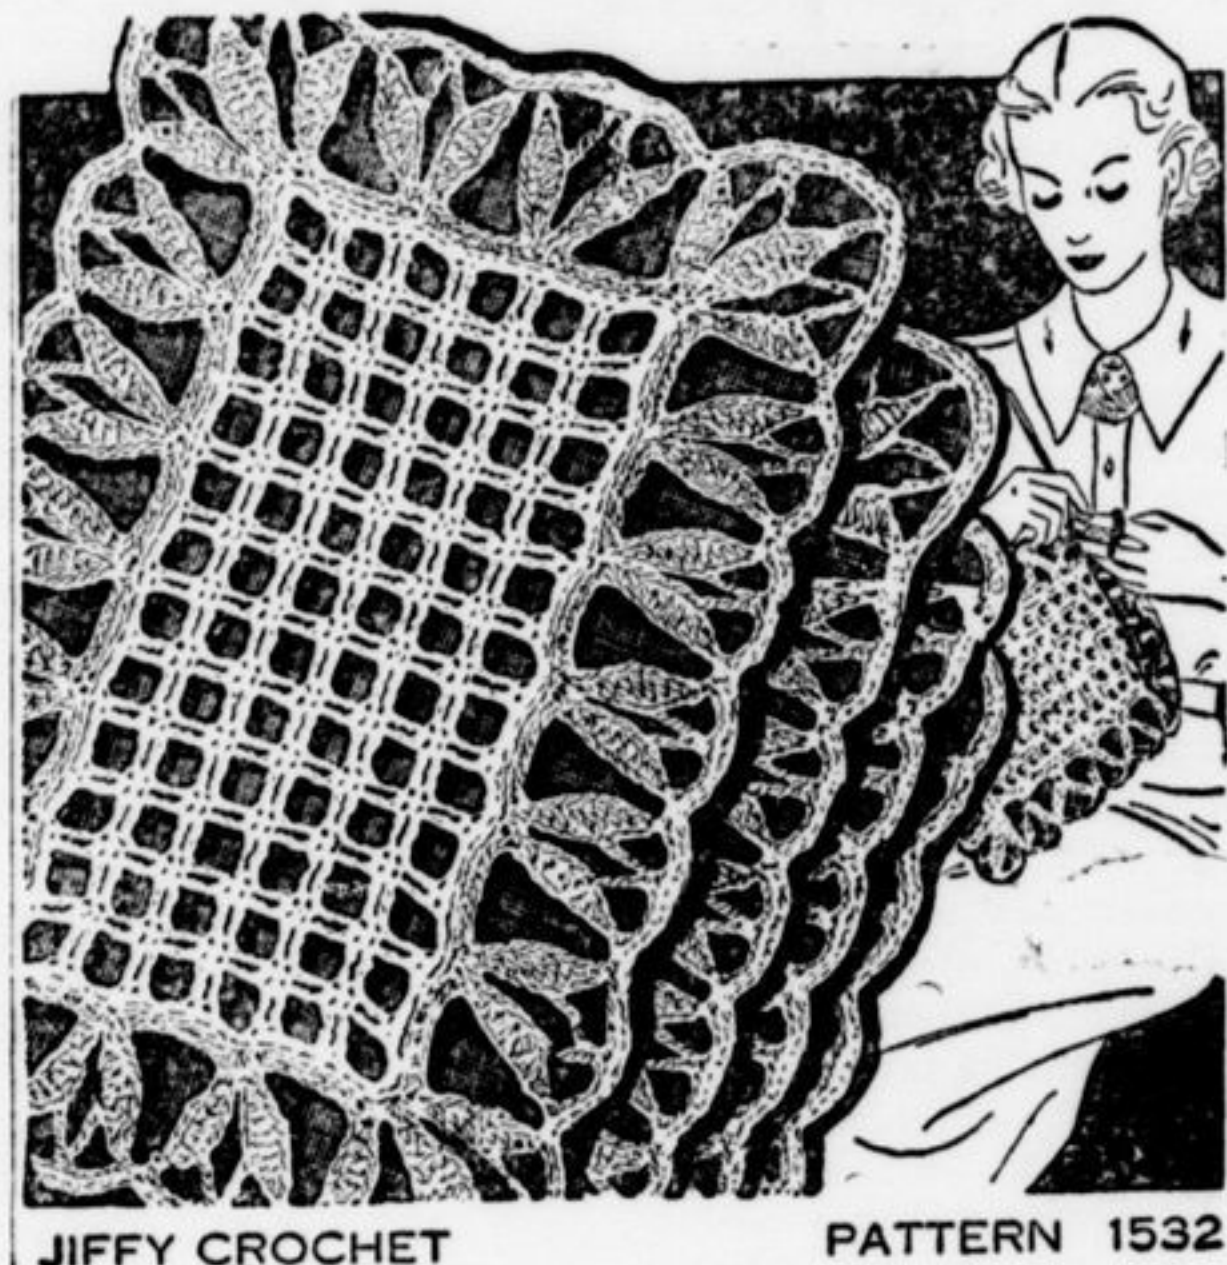

1/2 cup ripe grape jelly.
1 egg white, unbeaten
1-8 teaspoon salt
1-8 cup cream, whipped.

Place jelly in bowl and set over hot water. Add egg white and salt, and beat with rotary egg beater until the mixture is smooth and stiff enough to stand in peaks. Cool. Fold in whipped cream. Makes 2 cups sauce.

Jellied Meat Loaf

1 tablespoonful gelatine
1/2 cupful cold water
2 Oxo cubes
1 cupful boiling water
1 small onion, peeled and sliced
1 stalk celery
1/2 tablespoon Worcester sauce.
1 cupful diced cooked beef
2 tablespoonfuls pimiento (cut into strips)
1 teaspoon chopped parsley.
Soften the gelatine in the cold water for five minutes. Dissolve the Oxo cubes in the boiling water, add the onion and celery, and simmer for three minutes. Strain over the soaked gelatine and stir until dissolved. Add

"Why not?" Sakara tensed. "You heard my plan?" "Yes," she nodded. "I heard everything."
"It's foolproof if that crazy guy would come in with me. We can do anything without him."
"Why not?"
"Why... why... he holds the winning cards," Gregory grunted.

At the keyhole
"Bah!" Sakara spat venomously. "He cast away his winning card when he cast me aside."
"We can't do anything without him. He's in full command of the ship."
"So-o-o? And suppose he were to fall into the ocean. You and I then... we could do with the girl as we would."
"Good lord! You couldn't do that!"
"Sakara Pitzinoff can do anything." She drew herself up proudly. "Unless you are afraid," she hinted.
"I'm not afraid," Gregory mumbled.

"Very well," Sakara leaned forward dramatically. "He must die. He scorns Sakara. So, Don Martinez knows of course. We do not need this Dusty Lanion. I will call him to the rail. A sudden lurch. Puff!"
Gregory drew in a quick breath and avoided her eyes. Her cold-blooded plan to do away with Dusty was too much for his weak nerves.

"I... I don't know..." He paused irresolutely.
"Shh. Say nothing," Sakara whispered. Her eyes warned him as she tensed.
She arose stealthily and moved to the closed door of the cabin. With a swift motion, she jerked it open. The man who had been listening at the keyhole straightened to face her.
It was Don Martinez.

Queen Elizabeth Changes Palace

New Draperies and Wall Coverings in Pastel Shades Brighten The Interior

Crimson and dark green plush has been banished from Windsor Castle, brown and green paint has disappeared from Buckingham Palace. Queen Elizabeth who initiated these and other renovations has been busily occupied as the humblest housewife with affairs of her households since her return to London from Scotland.

New draperies and wall coverings of the Queen's favorite pastel shades were selected to brighten the old castle where Queen Victoria lived so long in secluded mourning. Windsor will now be the centre of home life for the royal family while Buckingham Palace remains the official residence.

Complete Modernization
New carpets, rugs and chair coverings at Windsor are in apple green, deep blue and soft rose. In her own rooms the Queen has had the wall and door panels picked out in gold for brightness. Heavily carved and antiquated furniture has been moved from the private quarters to other parts of the castle. Heating and lighting arrangements have been modernized.

The nursery is the only apartment to be enlarged. This has been done with the idea of accommodating Prince Edward of Kent, his baby sister, Princess Alexandra and the children of family friends who will be the Princesses' frequent visitors. Princess Elizabeth who now speaks for herself as "almost grown-up" is to have her own apartment decorated in the softest pink and gold.

Plan Own Gardens
Hours of lessons are now everyday for Elizabeth and Margaret Rose who will have additional duties to attend to this year. They have been given garden plots of their own at Windsor and must plan and plant them; they have been learning and in Scotland and the Queen is enjoying adding skating to their lessons.

Choice of subjects for study by the younger royalties is given careful consideration by the Queen. It is expected they will continue their swimming lessons at the Bath Club and that Girl Guide meetings at Buckingham Palace will be held on Wednesday afternoons as they were last year and that the dancing class—in which children of friends are invited to take part—and special needlework classes will each have their allotment of time.

Detector Hunts Mislaid Radium

Tube Valued at $4,000 Lost By Saskatchewan Hospital

Saskatoon hospital authorities pressed search this week for a tube of radium valued at $4,000, used for cancer treatment at the hospital but lost somewhere.

On the possibility that the tube was flushed through hospital plumbing the ground above sewers between the hospital and the Saskatchewan River is being covered thoroughly with a radium detector from the University of Saskatchewan. The instrument as yet has recorded no sign of proximity of the precious metal.

A Geiger tube was used in the search. The Geiger tube consists of a small bulb about the size of toy lights sold for Christmas tree decorations. There is a wire in the centre and it is surrounded by metal enclosed in the glass case. The bulb contains air at low pressure.

Listen Through Earphones
High voltage is applied between the cylinder and the wire. When a gamma ray (radiated by radium) passes through the tube the air is ionized between the cylinder and the wire so that a current passes briefly. When radium is not present the detector pulses once or twice each second due to cosmic rays or other disturbances. When near radium the number of pulses is far too high to be counted.

Pieces Letter Together

Fines Woman 5 Pounds

Harold T. Gosnell, Whitehall, (Hampshire), England, representative of the National Truck, told the magistrates that he picked up 102 pieces of paper from within a radius of four yards at Ludshott Common, a well-known beauty spot on the Hampshire-Surrey border.

He took them home, pieced them together and found that they constituted a letter and envelope addressed to Miss Margaret Stewart Gibson, of Carlton road, Hendley Down. He told a policeman, to whom Mrs. McCahon admitted tearing up the letter on the common.

She and 23 other people were each fined £5 for depositing litter.

In sports coats, the beige and gold coat with fluffy fur collar again is in the spotlight.

Cocoa as a Beverage

The demand for cocoa arises principally from the trade in cocoa butter and cocoa powder which are necessary ingredients in the manufacture of chocolate and chocolate confectionery. The largest consumer of cocoa is the United States, followed in order by the United Kingdom, Germany, Netherlands, France and Canada as the principal world importers. Europe first came to know cocoa through Cortez and the Aztecs in the 15th century, but it was not until two centuries later that cocoa as a beverage became popular in Europe and other parts of the world.
