HE SUFFERED AGONY IN WET WEATHER

Rheumatism Attacked Limbs and Body

He had been bothered with rheumatism for years. The pain in wet weather—to use his own expression —was "indescribable." But all that is gone now—thanks to Kruschen.
Read this letter:—
"I suffered with rheumatism for years. I dreaded wet weather, for during such periods the pain was continuous and indescribable. To begin with, it was confined to my limbs, but in time I began to suffer as much agony in my body as I did in my limbs. When I began to take Kruschen Salts, I found it did me more good than all the other medicine I had taken put together. Today, I have peace and freedom from pain, even during wet weather, and can heartily recommend Kruschen Salts to anyone who suffers from rheumatism."—N.M.

Rheumatic conditions are often the result of an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients in Kruschen Salts have the power of dissolving uric acid crystals. Other ingredients in these Salts assist Nature to expel the dissolved crystals through the natural channels.

Spanish Civil War. He was in Toledo at the time the Alcazar was being valiantly besieged by Loyalists. He was in Barcelona during Anarchist outbreaks and during the first of the terrorist bombings by Fascist planes.
"The great difference between the Loyalist side of today and that of 1936 when the revolt first broke out, is that there is perfect order and discipline with the Loyalists now," he said. "In the early months it was just chaos."

Describes Spanish Refugee Children

Writer Tells of Little Victims of Spanish Conflict—Finding Them Foster-Parents

Langdon Davies, British newspaperman and writer, who organized a camp of 200 refugee children in Spain, was in Montreal last week, the Montreal Star reports. The children are of all ages. Some are ragged, some well-clothed. Some are ill, but most are in excellent health.

Ages ago in the Spanish conflict Langdon Davies, as a member of the Duchess of Athol's Refugee Committee, organized the Children's Village of Penicook on the French border.

Parents Are Dead
"There they are, 200 of them," he said. "They are all refugees from those parts of Spain which are now held by General Franco. All have lost their parents. In some cases the parents are dead, in others they have been separated from the children.

"Well," he continued, "we teach them and look after them with a small staff of helpers. We try to arrange foster parents for them in other countries."

To a Spanish child family is tremendously important. And the knowledge that they have an adopted family in some other country helps to brave those who have lost their own people."

Langdon Davies was a news correspondent in the early days of the
rorist bombings by Fascist planes.
