IN MEMORIAM

STONEHOUSE - In loving memory my dear mother, Mrs. Jane Stonewho passed away May God knew that you were suffering. He knew you were in pain: He knew you would never get better, We never did, we never will In this world again.

He saw the road was getting rough, The hills were hard to climb.

PRICEVILLE SERIE

So He closed your weary eyelids, And whispered peace be thine. You left behind some aching hearts Who love you most sincere, Forget you, Mother dear .. Lovingly remembered by daughter yet whether and family.

"COUNTRY BASEBALL"

I like those country baseball teams, likewise their weekly games. When pitchers pitch for all they're worth, and competition flames: I like those crazy little stands, where all the women sit And beg the druggist's soda clerk, to make a three-base hit. The major leaguers have the skill, but dull at times they seem Compared to those Port Austin boys who work to make the team: Year after year in summer time, Bill Phelps has said to me: "Port Austin's playing Harbor Beach that's a game we ought to see:" We know the players one and all: we meet them face to face: The banker catches for the team; his clerk's on second base: The barber's on the pitching mound, the blacksmith plays at third: The shortstop is the doctor's son, and boy, is he a bird! pleases mother, too, in summer when she shops To have the town's first baseman weigh and wrap our mutton chops: fielder sells us gas; so metimes throughout the week member of the nine, we get a chance to speak. No hirelings they who every Spring, hold out for wealth and fame, But country men and country boys who really love the game. And that is country baseball played on grounds professionals would scorn Yet it's where your Ruth's and Green berg's and your schoolboy Rowe's are

That's where the leading citizens of both towns scream and shout And urge their boys to victory, un til the final out Oh, you may have your big league stuff, but Bill and I agree Port Austin playing Harbor Beach is what we want to see. -Marjorie Everist, Toronto

They may be used as the motif in wallpaper design, in rug design and for Milady's dress. The Marigold is worthy of this public esteem. With its lovely shades of gold, and stocky stem, it is able to take its place in the sun.
