The Modern Girl Enjoys Greater Opportunities

THE AVENGER

by Walter Forder

Synopsis
The story opens with a scene in an American music hall. "MYSTICUS", a British artist with a great gift for stage "magic," has finished his turn in his dressing-room he finds awaiting him his young brother, who is endeavouring to escape from a racket in which he has got himself involved. Mysticus offers to take him home to England, but the conversation is interrupted by the entry of three men, who, producing pistols, demand that the younger man come away with them. He refuses and the older brother intervenes, with the result that both are shot and left for dead.

Several years lapse, and the scene is changed to an old house, Owl's Craft, on the East Coast of England. It has been bequeathed by an eccentric man to his nephew, FRANK DIGBY, who, on taking possession of the neglected place, is almost scared out of his wits by what seem to be psychic happenings.

Digby enlists the help of MAXTON HUNTER, who has a reputation for private investigation, and the two take up residence at Owl's Craft, where they are attended by an elderly couple, MR. and MRS. BARLOW. The couple are unfriendly, but Digby finds that other servants he engages refuse to stay.

On the first evening of Hunter's stay in the house there are unaccountable noises and ringing of bells, and uncanny things happen to an ancient picture of a priest. Presently, footsteps are heard outside the library.

CHAPTER VI
The Call Of The Hound

"Now you are here, Cranston, stay with us for dinner — well, that is, perhaps I give it an unduly phonetic name — but I mean, we're about to eat, after a long and tiring journey from town."

The strange old man accepted Digby's invitation and Mrs. Barlow slipped away to her kitchen.

After a few common-places remarks to the visitor, Hunter turned so that he might command a view of the picture.

Covertly he had already investigated it and he observed the strange fact that the horrible crimson line of gleaming moisture around the neck of the man in the picture was fading.

This, Hunter reflected, was a subject for investigation when alone. Dig-

CHAPTER VII
Cranston's voice began in a low monotonous rumble, muttered meaningless phrases came from his lips. "Master — master — I await." A pause during which the silence was only broken by the swishing of the rain and wind at the windows. "Back, back aeons ago, yet I am passing — passing —"

The voice trailed off into a whisper, and by the dim light they saw that the medium's head had fallen forward. His chin was buried deeply in his chest.

Hunter involuntarily made a movement, but even as he did so, a shudder shook the lank form in the chair. Mr. Cranston sat bolt upright again as though vested with a new-found vigour.

"Who calls?" The voice with which he spoke was assuredly not the cracked and rasping tones of Cranston, but the clear, well-modulated voice of a man in vigorous health.

"It's another man," whispered Digby.

"Hush," cautioned Hunter beneath his breath.

Howling Of A Dog
The figure in the chair craned its head stiffly and appeared to be listening, straining to hear something above the noise of the gale.

"This night must not pass without the re-visitations of those who took a part in the mighty scenes of old. The passing of time is as of naught. The things there are which may never die; scenes there be which shall never cease to be enacted. Imperishable, they live through the ages."

Need More Women In Our Parliament

Senator Cairine Wilson Voices Views

More women are needed in Canada's Parliament, Senator Cairine R. Wilson, first Canadian woman senator, said in an interview at Vancouver last week.

Mrs. Wilson, Liberal senator from Ottawa, said women in Canada and Great Britain had contributed so much to social reforms in the past ten years that their position in public life could no longer be disputed.

Interested in Social Reform

"Women undoubtedly have devoted more attention to social reform than men," she said. "In Great Britain especially they have achieved many much-needed improvements in housing and maternity welfare—very often in the face of much unjustifiable opposition."

"In Canada women have been responsible for obtaining mother's allowance in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec."

Senator Wilson has one woman colleague in the Upper House—Senator Iva Fallis, Conservative, of Peterborough, and there are two women in the House of Commons. They are Miss Agnes Macphail (U.F.O.-Lab., Grey-Bruce), and Mrs. Martha Black (Ind., Cons., Yukon).

Cardinal Deplores Current Fashions

Calls Women's Garb "Silly and Pagan"

William Cardinal O'Connell, dean of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in the United States, last week at Boston spoke against modern fashions, dances and songs, and charged that some persons were making "millions in the corruption of our young people."

In a sermon at a communion mass of the New England Province Federation of Catholic College Clubs at Holy Cross Cathedral, he described modern fashions as "silly and pagan."

"If fashions have set out to make women ridiculous, they are certainly succeeding," he said. "In all our silly dances and perfectly stupid music—where is the art in it? Dance halls are perverting our young men and women. People today make millions in the corruption of our young people."

Cardinal O'Connell urged his listeners to make their protest heard and to stand by their standards, resisting the "corruption all about us."

How to Cook VEGETABLES

Modern dietary standards demand vegetables and still more vegetables, stressing always the vitamins, minerals, and bulk which they provide, and the particular merits of leafy greens. Granting that vegetables are a daily essential, a housewife appreciates them for still another reason—for the variety they contribute to her meals. They bring something fresh and seasonal to her table every day.

Of particular importance in serving vegetables is their cooking. Even the finest vegetables may be made utterly tasteless and unappetizing by poor cooking—usually overcooking or else slow cooking. Their natural colour and fresh flavour must be preserved to get the best value and one of first rules to achieve this is to cook them the shortest time possible—only till tender.

Here are some attractive vegetable recipes which will add variety to your meals.

Carrots Au Gratin
2 cups cooked diced carrots
1 tablespoon minced onion
1/3 cup grated cheese
1/4 teaspoon paprika
Cream sauce

Make cream sauce by using 1 1/2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons butter, and 2 tablespoons flour. Cook until thick. To this add the cheese, onion and paprika, and finally the diced carrots. Mix well, place in a buttered baking dish and cover with buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven for 25 minutes.

Baked Stuffed Onions

Select large onions. Peel and then remove core with apple corer. Fill the cavity with seasoned bread crumbs. Bake until tender.

Cauliflower A La Parmesan
1 head cauliflower, cooked
1 cup white sauce
3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs

Place cauliflower in greased casserole. Pour white sauce over cauliflower and sprinkle with cheese and bread crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until the crumbs are delicately browned. This serves 6. Canadian cheese may be substituted for Parmesan cheese, if desired.

Glazed Onions
1 pound (30) small white onions
4 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons sugar

Peel onions and cook in large amount of boiling water salted until just tender. Drain and dry on cheese-cloth. Melt butter in saucepan; add sugar. Then add onions and cook over low flame, shaking frequently until onions are glazed. Serves 6.

Baked Mushrooms
1 pound large fresh mushrooms
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
2 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons cream

Wash mushrooms and place in casserole. Season with salt and pepper. Dot with butter. Add cream, cover, and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 to 40 minutes, or until tender. Serves 4.

Spinach Ring
2 1/2 cups cooked spinach, chopped
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
Dash of marjoram
1 teaspoon scurped onion
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons melted butter

Cook spinach (3/4 peck) only until tender. Drain and chop. Add seasonings, eggs and butter, and mix very thoroughly. Turn into a well-greased ring mold. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until firm. Turn from mold and serve with Mushroom Sauce. Individual molds may be used. Serves 4.

Mushroom Sauce
1/2 pound fresh mushrooms
3 cups water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
Dash of pepper

Wash mushrooms well. Slice lengthwise through cap and stem. Cook in water 30 minutes, over medium fire. Add salt. Drain liquor and measure 1 1/2 cups. Melt butter, add flour, and blend well. Add mushroom liquor (1 1/2 cups) and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add mushrooms and pepper and cook five minutes longer. Serve with above spinach dish. This sauce may also be used to serve with chicken, veal, egg and other vegetable dishes. Makes 2 cups sauce. If desired, chicken broth or cream may be substituted for 1/2 cup mushroom stock.

Albania Holds Mass Nuptials

150 Couples Wed In Honor Of King Zog's Marriage

TRIRANA, Albania.—Lucky couples numbering 150 were united in mass weddings throughout the kingdom in honor of King Zog's wedding to the Countess Geraldine Apponyi of Hungary.

Fifty were married at the sovereign's expense and 100 at the expense of various municipalities. They were selected by local authorities.

A large crowd gathered to witness the ceremony at the Tirana City Hall where 14 couples were married. The couples were formed in line and marched through the streets singing native songs.

Gifts And Festivities
Coins and stamps bearing portraits of the king and countess were put into circulation while various towns christened streets "Queen Geraldine."

Wedding guests attended a dinner in the foreign ministry which was followed by a ball at the officers' club. A gypsy orchestra arrived from Budapest, Hungary, to add musical talent at the evening's events.

(In Berlin it was announced Chancellor Adolf Hitler sent King Zog a Mercedes-Benz automobile bearing the Albanian royal coat of arms, and also a helmet of the Albanian national hero, Skanderbeg, as wedding presents.)

"Equal Rights" Has A Real Meaning

Married Worker Teaches Husband To Cook, Mend, Darn And Sew

DURHAM, Eng. — Defending the right of married women to continue at work, Mrs. Rose Farrant, 26, clerk in the same London factory which employs her husband, told a meeting here of a 50-50 arrangement which gives her equal opportunities with her husband.

She taught him to cook, mend, darn and sew. "By this arrangement we both have opportunities for attending meetings in the evening and taking part in other activities."

Mrs. Farrant said she only wanted to work until they had enough money for her comfortably to retire and have eight children.

Lay Awake In Agony With Neuritis

Kruschen Salts Brought Lasting Relief

Ordinary headaches are bad enough, but they are as nothing compared to the awful pains of neuritis in the head, says this woman. Read how Kruschen completely banished the pain:—

"I had neuritis in the head and right arm. I suffered untold agony with my head, and I dare not think what might have happened had it continued. Everybody knows what a headache is like, but it is as nothing compared with the awful pain of neuritis in the head. I spent sleepless nights tossing with pain. I began taking Kruschen Salts, and after some months of the treatment I have effected lasting relief."—(Mrs.) L.M.

Neuritis, like rheumatism and sciatica, frequently has its roots in intestinal stasis (delay)—the unsuspected accumulation in the system of harmful waste matter, which leads to the formation of excess uric acid.

Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts have the power of dissolving uric acid crystals. Other ingredients of Kruschen assist Nature to expel these dissolved crystals through the natural channels.

Glycerine Helps Stiffen Prints

If you are one of the many camera enthusiasts who develop their own films and send prints through the mail to admiring friends, you may find that even with a protecting cardboard the pictures are sometimes damaged when they reach their destination. If you add a little glycerine to the final rinse water, the prints will be much less apt to crack or chip. The glycerine will also help make the prints lie flat.

Than the "Grande Dame" Of Other Days—Educational And Otherwise

It isn't stretching a point to say that today any woman of average intelligence can acquire—superficially, at least—the graciousness, manners and personal charm which once were the exclusive property of Great Ladies.

Never before have girls without an impressive social background had such a chance.

Even though her school days end early and her parents set a poor example, a girl with get-up-and-get can turn herself into the sort of person she would like to be, writes Ruth Mill-ett.

If she wants more education, for the confidence she thinks it will give her, she can go to night school in any city. If that is denied her, she can read, with a librarian's guidance, the same books that are on college lists.

Well-Dressed On Low Income

She need not wear the wrong clothes nor dress cheaply, even when money is very limited. Women's pages in newspapers and women's magazines have at last come down to solid facts and figures. They no longer generalize, but tell a woman just what to buy if she has so much money—and what to add if she has a little more. Today any woman can manage to look well-dressed, even on a low income.

And her actions needn't belie her looks. Practical e-lumins on etiquette, which anticipate awkward situations and tell how they can be met, practical advice on beauty and charm, which a smart girl can adapt to her own needs—all these may be found in newspapers, magazines and books.

Movies also teach her things about social behavior, style and beauty. So does radio, as well as setting an example of correct pronunciation.

They Help Themselves

There is help at every turn and if you think women are not taking advantage of it—look about you at the girls working at humble tasks—girls who knew when they were children that whatever they got out of life they would have to get for themselves, girls who, now that they are young women, work hard for small pay.

Look at them. But, of course, you've looked. They are so attractive you couldn't help yourself.

Discovers Women Less Dishonest

Government Inspectors Say They Seldom Try to Cheat

The common belief that almost all women are amateur smugglers—and that no woman thinks it a crime to cheat the government or a big corporation is disproved by the experience of government investigators, declares Greta Palmer. Quoting facts and figures, she writes in McCall's for May:

"In spite of the common belief that large numbers of women smuggle new clothes into the country, the government inspectors know that this is not true. Their own experts are trained to detect the sales slips which are unreasonably low. They know about the women who wear three dresses, one on top of the other, and about the women who sew old labels in new foreign coats. But they say that such dishonest passengers number fewer than one per cent. of the women returning from abroad.

They're Not The Crooks

"Well, you may say, women are the sex that shoplifts. They form a large section of the criminal class found guilty of theft. Oh, do they?"

"Every year the Department of Justice of the United States issues a solid, bulging book known as the Uniform Crime Reports. It lists convictions of criminals in every city and state. And in a nine-months' period of 1937, this book shows that 44,127 persons were found guilty of larceny or theft. Only 3,159 of these were women!

"The old-fashioned woman who thought it was ethical to cheat a corporation because it was so big, has disappeared—if she ever existed—along with the old-fashioned woman who had to use her fingers to count over three. If the men of America were as honest as their women are, our jails would be less crowded and our government many millions better off today."
