Let's sweep out the last DARK CORNERS!

The present control law of Ontario is a sound law because it is founded not on restraint but on reason! Because it assumes rather than denies the citizen's control of himself!

To date it has made a great progress. Yet for the good of the Province, moderation must completely replace excess. True temperance assures liberty while it avoids excess.

Let's keep the principles clear:

Control differs from prohibition in two important points . . . It allows each citizen the greatest individual liberty of choice, while preventing him from interfering with the liberty of others!

And because it respects his liberty it can count on his co-operation!

The Industry therefore sincerely urges every open-minded citizen to join in helping the Government clean up such abuses as still exist. Assure your own freedom of choice by discouraging those of your friends who try to turn liberty into excess!
