Ancient Remedies Offer Modernized

Streamlined Version of Old Boiled Tea Cure For Burns And Scalds Is Adapted to Today's Use.

Modern pharmacy researches sometimes streamline ancient remedies. Dean R. O. Hurst of the Ontario College of Pharmacy said in an address at Parkdale Collegiate in Toronto this week, pointing out that the ancient Chinese used an infusion of tea leaves for burns and scalds. Boiling six teaspoons of tea in six cups of water for ten minutes makes an infusion containing from 16 to 27 per cent. of tannin.

"This infusion used with a compress of six layers of gauze is one of the most efficacious and soothing remedies for minor burns and scalds," he said.

He added that in case of severe burns or scalds the first thing to do is call a physician. But for many minor domestic accidents of this kind a more modern form of the old remedy is available.

"Nowadays you can buy tannic acid (a powder) cheaply. One ounce of this added to a pint of water which has been boiled for ten minutes is convenient for many applications. Still more convenient is tannic acid jelly or ointment. These can be bought from any pharmacist and are recommended because they help assure cleaner healing of the burn or scald," the dean explained.

Claims Redskins Migrated From South America

North American Indian May Have Come From There To This Continent—Blenheim Minister Finds Clue In Pottery Near Clearville, Ont.

Numerous theories have been advanced as to the origin of the North American Indian but from his investigations, Rev. Hubbard Millar, of Blenheim, is convinced the redmen migrated to this continent from South America.

He has found what he believes is a definite link between the natives of Kent County and Indians of Peru.

Similar Designs Imprinted

The entire Millar theory is based on the fact that the Indians had trade-marks similar to those of business firms today. Each tribe, according to the minister, had a different mark which members used on pottery. It was in fact a piece of Peruvian pottery which first started Mr. Millar on his hobby.

A friend presented him with a huaca taken from a grave in Peru several years ago and which bore the tribal mark of the prince with whom it was buried. The marking consisted of a number of angular lines. Some time later he discovered pottery near Clearville a few miles from Blenheim, on which a similar design had been imprinted.

Sleigh Race

A horse owned by H. Koffman of the Laurentian Mountain village of Levy Nord, Que., did a neat job of "pacing" during the week-end. Frightened by the headlight of a Canadian Pacific Railway locomotive there, the horse dashed up the tracks dragging a light sleigh. Followed by the train the horse covered nine and a half miles in 35 minutes before being stopped at St. Faustin.

At St. Faustin, the station master and helpers managed to arrest the animal's flight and take it off tracks. The train, which had caught up after a few miles, had been forced to slow down behind the animal.

UNSOLVED MYSTERIES OF THE ARCTIC

By Vilhjalmur Stefansson

"The great romance of the Middle Ages was the first crossing of the Atlantic by Europeans, the unveiling of the New World. The great tragedy of the westward movement was the disappearance of 9,000 Europeans from their first American colony. The great mystery is how and why they disappeared."

On such a fascinating note does Stefansson's newest book open. You are interested at once and stay interested till the last page of "Unsolved Mysteries of the Arctic" has been turned. How was the Franklin Arctic expedition lost, and why? What happened to the Russian fliers? (Mr. Stefansson believes they may still be alive).

The author, world-famous Icelandic explorer, (born in Manitoba), seeks to solve these hitherto unanswered questions. More than any other person living today he is qualified for the task. He has spent long years in the Arctic, mapping, exploring, living with the Eskimos.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

1. What are the important things for a man to consider when selecting a business suit?
2. Please suggest what would be the most simple and sufficient main course for a guest luncheon.
3. How should one issue invitations for a motor drive or trip?
4. When the coffee or tea is very hot, isn't one permitted to use the spoon to sip it?
5. Is it rude to insist upon having the last word when conversing with others?
6. Who should select and engage the clergyman for a church wedding?

Answers
1. The cut of the suit is probably the most important feature. Loud or striking patterns should be avoided, as well as very light colors and extremes in fashion. 2. A meat, fowl, or fish, and one or two vegetables. 3. The invitation is usually given verbally, in person or by telephone. 4. No. Merely wait until the coffee or tea has cooled sufficiently. After stirring, the spoon should be placed in the saucer and remain there. 5. Yes, it is rude, and always profless. The success is never worth the effort. 6. Usually the wedding ceremony takes place in the church which the bride and her family attend.

National Aid For Students Is Advocated

Paul Martin, M.P. For Essex East, Urges a System of Scholarships For Brilliant But Needy Canadians.

The government should investigate the desirability of a system of national scholarships for outstanding students who are financially unable to continue their education, according to a resolution, sponsored by Paul Martin, Liberal, Essex East, appearing in the House of Commons today and proceedings. The scholarships would enable the students to obtain undergraduate or post graduate training in universities, agricultural colleges and technical schools.

"Help Brightest Young People"
"The important industrial nations of the world are spending large sums annually in scholarship systems to ensure that the most brilliant of their boys and girls may not be prevented, because of a lack of financial resources, from securing adequate academic training to enable them to take their proper place as thoroughly trained leaders in industrial, professional and public life of their respective countries," the resolution said.
"In this age of scientific advance in all walks of life, Canada cannot afford to ignore longer and lose the tremendous asset which it possesses in the latent ability for trained leadership of the brightest of her young people."

USES BOTH HANDS TO WRITE

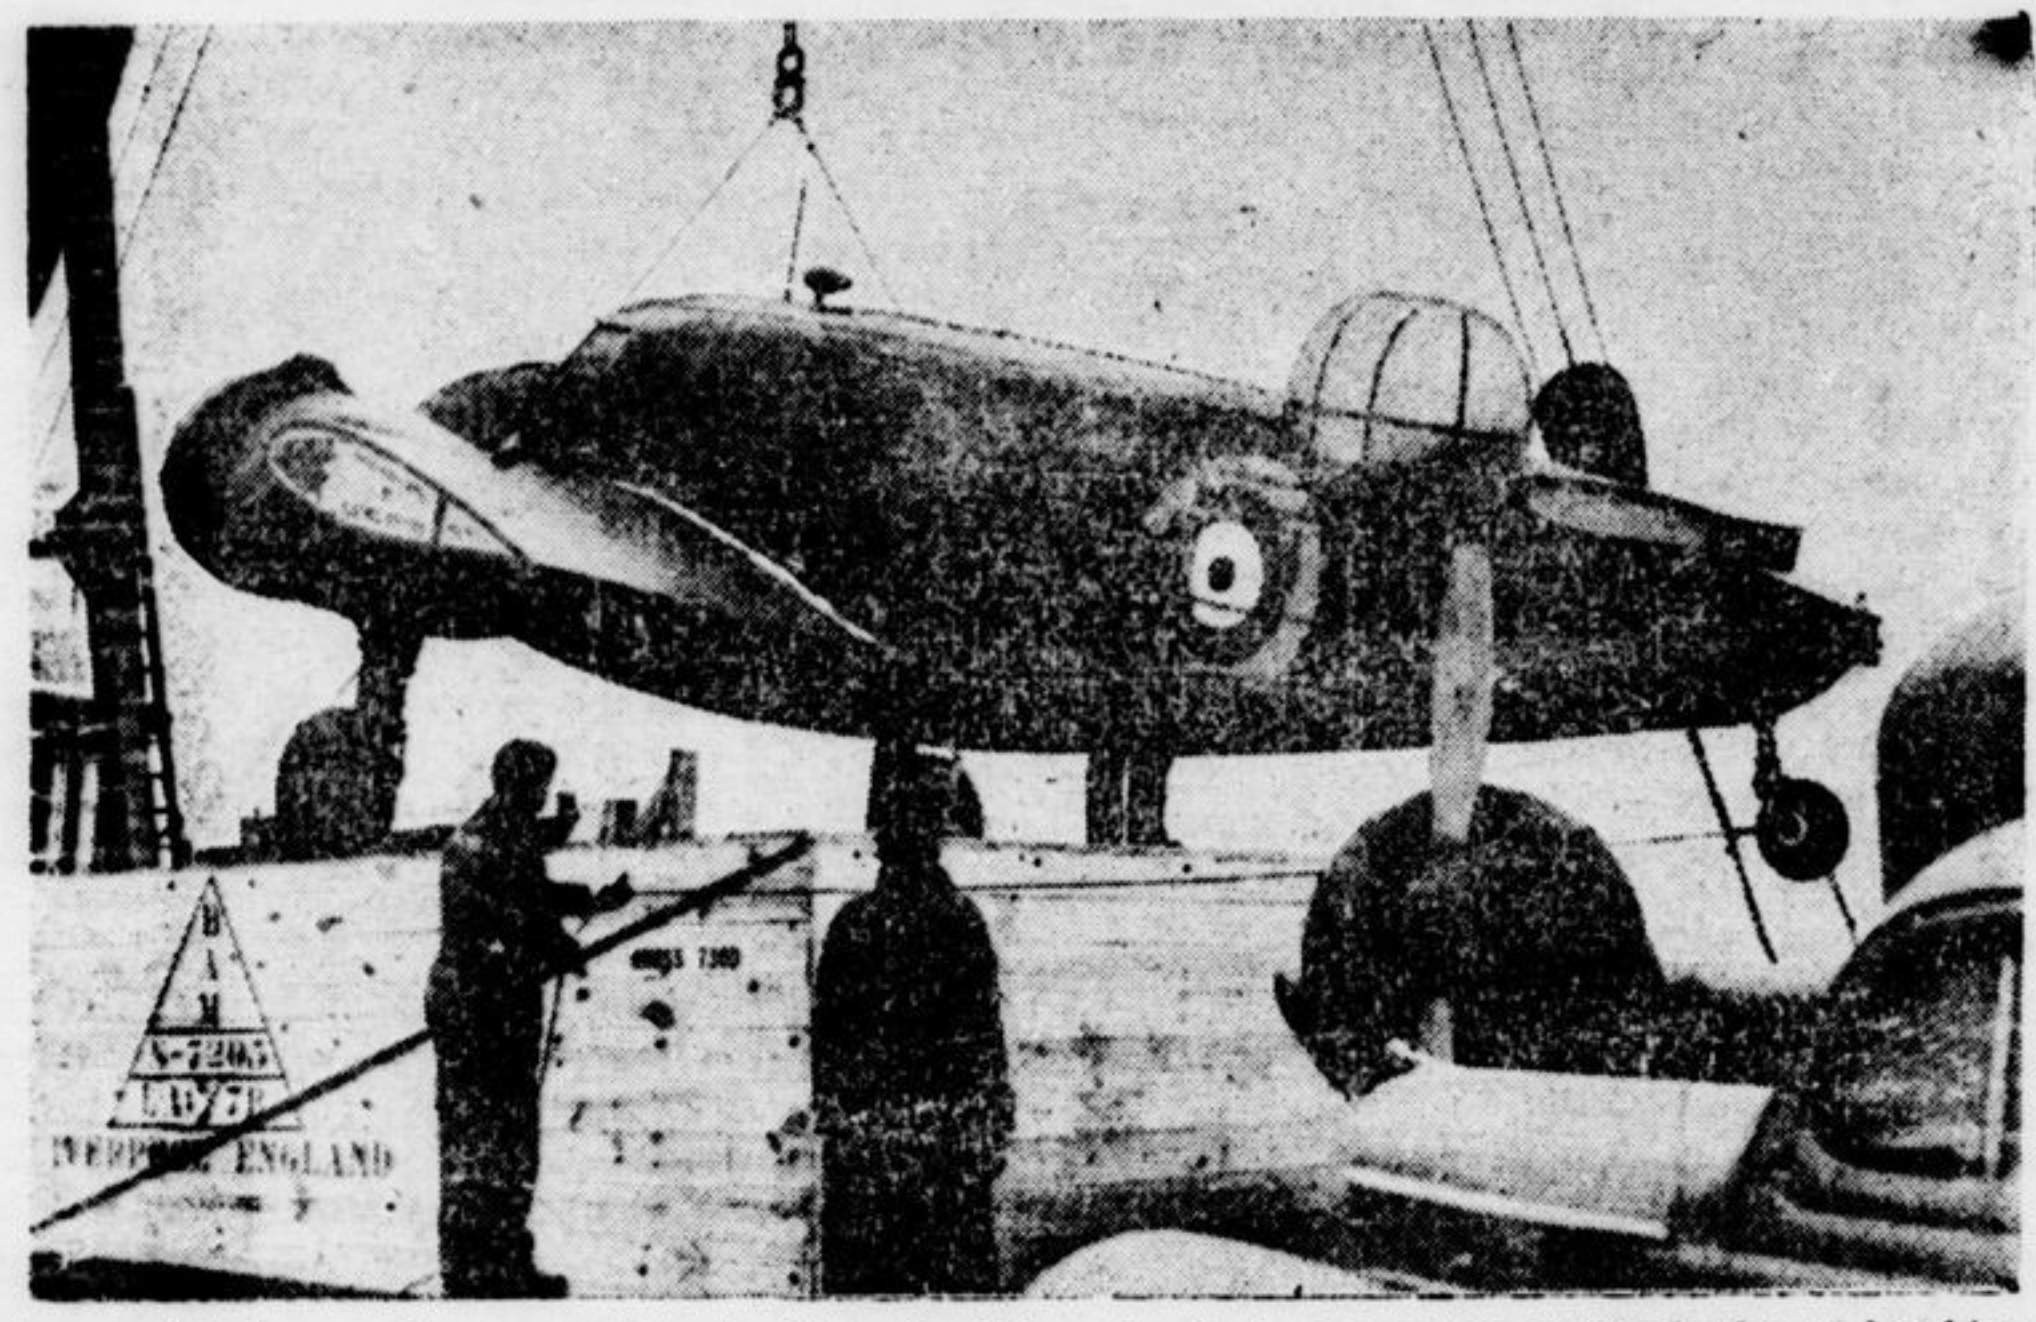

Letter From a Man of 90
He asks us to excuse his writing. We do more than that—we congratulate him on being able to write at all in his age, especially as he has been suffering from rheumatism. This is what he says in his letter:—

"Three years ago I was in bed for six weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. Since that time I have been taking Kruschen Salts, and have not had another attack. But the complaint left me with inflamed feet, and it hurt me to walk. My hands were also somewhat stiff. I took Kruschen every morning before breakfast, and shall continue to do so, because I am sure they have kept me in good shape for three years. Excuse this writing as I am ninety years old, and use both hands to write."—J.R.G.

The pain and stiffness of rheumatism are often caused by uric acid in the muscles and joints. Kruschen helps to dissolve and remove excess uric acid in a gentle way through the natural channels. Renewed health and vigour is the result.

Off to England—First of a Bumper Crop of Bombers

Its wings and tail assembly removed to facilitate handling, the first of an order of 250 Lockheed bombing airplanes, built in United States for Great Britain waits on a barge in New York harbor for the crane which will load it aboard the steamship, Andania. The shipment is particularly interesting in view of the furor raised in Washington, and in Germany and Italy, over the United States' policy of building aircraft for Britain and France.

He suggested in flight,
"What a most inconvenient mess this."

"Well, how have you been treated?" Herr Bloom asked his friend, who had just been released from a concentration camp.
"Oh, I can't complain. We had very good food, four meals a day, music on Sunday played by the S.S. Guard, clean lodgings, good treatment . . ."

"But, Fritz," said Herr Bloom, "I spoke to Ernst, who was in the same concentration camp, and he said he had a terrible time."

"Yes, but he is in again."

Hypnotic Influence

Albert Clark, of Russellville, Ky., observed that one of his chickens seemed hypnotized and would not take her eyes from an overhead light. When Clark turned off the light, the hen ran around cackling furiously. Several days later she laid a bulb-shaped egg, which Clark sent to Washington as proof.

"All the cattle were slaughtered for food, as there had been no feed for them anyway. Hay was shipped from Ireland for the starving cattle about Quebec, and it sold there for $45 per ton. Even next spring, flour was selling for $17 per barrel at Quebec and potatoes were a penny per pound."
