Durham W. I. Hold Enjoyable Meeting

The Durham Branch of the Women's Institute held their April session in the home of Mrs. Albert Middleton with over sixty ladies present.

Mrs. J. T. Priest told the story of Ethelbert Nevin, a composer who was born in Pennsylvania. Early in life he showed signs of musical genius but his parents didn't encourage his talent and wanted him to take some line of work with money making as his aim.

A song in action, "The Hats of Other Days" were very well acted. Miss Leah McComb was accompanist and all the singers wore old fashioned dresses and hats of other days.

Mrs. G. Sharpe, vice-president, spoke and said there had been a wedding of great interest in the branch since the last meeting and called on the president, Mrs. T. H. Sneath, formerly Miss A. W. Renwick, and she was presented with a salad bowl by Mrs. J. F. Giles, on behalf of the organization, to which Mrs. Sneath replied.

Mrs. T. H. Sneath presided for business period, and for roll call which was answered by a favorite hymn. Supper was served by Miss Charlotte's group.
